T. C., when on duty or training or the temporary loan of pistols for instruction under the immediate supervision of a parent or adult instructor.

(d) Any person who by order of a circuit judge or county court judge of this State has been adjudged unfit to carry or possess a pistol, such adjudication to be made upon application by any police officer, or by any prosecuting officer of this State, or sua sponte, by the court, but any person who shall be the subject of such an application shall be entitled to reasonable notice and a proper hearing prior to any such adjudication.

(e) It shall be unlawful for any person covered in (a), (b), (c) or (d) of this section to possess or acquire pistols within this State.

(f) No person shall knowingly buy, sell, transport, pawn, receive or possess any stolen pistol or one from which the original serial number has been removed or obliterated.

Sec. 16-23-210. Definitions. When used in this article:

(a) The words "machine gun" apply to and include any weapon which shoots, is designed to shoot, or can be readily restored to shoot, automatically more than one shot, without manual reloading, by a single function of the trigger. The term shall also include the frame or receiver of any such weapon, any combination or parts designed and intended for use in converting a weapon into a machine gun, and any combination of parts from which a machine gun can be assembled if such parts are in the possession or under the control of a person.

(b) "Sawed-off shotgun" means a shotgun having a barrel or barrels of less than eighteen inches in length or a weapon made from a shotgun which as modified has an overall length of less than twenty-six inches or a barrel or barrels of less than eighteen inches in length.

(c) "Shotgun" means a weapon designed or redesigned, made or remade, and intended to be fired from the shoulder and designed or redesigned and made or remade to use the energy of the explosive in a fixed shotgun shell to fire through a smooth bore either a number of ball shot or a single projectile for each pull of the trigger. The term includes any such weapon which may be readily restored to fire a fixed shotgun shell, but does not include an antique firearm as defined in this section.

(d) "Sawed-off rifle" means a rifle having a barrel or barrels of less than sixteen inches in length or a weapon made from a rifle which as modified has an overall length of less than twenty-six inches or a barrel or barrels of less than sixteen inches in length.

(e) "Rifle" means a weapon designed or redesigned, made or remade, and intended to be fired from the shoulder and designed or redesigned and made or remade to use the energy of the explosive in a fixed cartridge to fire only a single projectile through a rifled bore for each single pull of the trigger. The term includes any such weapon which may be readily restored to fire a fixed cartridge, but does not include an antique firearm as described in this section.

(f) "Antique firearm" means any firearm not designed or redesigned for using rim fire or conventional center fire ignition with fixed ammunition and manufactured in or before 1898 (including any matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar type of ignition system or replica thereof, whether actually manufactured before or after the year 1898) and also any firearm using fixed ammunition manufactured in or before 1898, for which ammunition is no longer manufactured in the United States and is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade.

Sec. 16-23-220. Unlawful transportation of machine gun or sawed-off shotgun or rifle within State. It shall be unlawful for any person in any manner to transport from one place to another in this State or for any railroad company, express company or other common carrier or any officer, agent or employee of any of them or other person acting in their behalf knowingly to ship or to transport from one place to another in this State in any manner or by any means whatsoever, except as provided in Secs. 16-23-250 and 23-31-330, any machine gun or firearm commonly known as a machine gun, sawed-off shotgun or sawed-off rifle.

Sec. 16-23-230. Unlawful storing, keeping or possessing machine gun or sawed-off shotgun or rifle. It shall be unlawful for any person to store, keep, possess or have in possession or permit another to store, keep, possess or have in possession any machine gun or firearm commonly known as a machine gun, sawed-off shotgun, sawed-off rifle, except as provided in Secs. 16-23-250 and 23-31-330.

Sec. 16-23-240. Unlawful selling, renting or giving away of machine gun or sawed-off shotgun or rifle. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, rent, give away or participate in any manner, directly or indirectly, in the sale, renting, giving away or otherwise disposing of any machine gun or firearm commonly known as a machine gun, sawed-off shotgun, sawed-off rifle.

Sec. 16-23-250. Exceptions to application of article. The provisions of this article shall not apply to the Army, Navy or Air Force of the United States, the National Guard and organizations authorized by law to purchase or receive machine guns, or sawed-off shotguns or sawed-off rifles, from the United States or from this State and the members of such organizations. Any peace officer of the State or of any county or other political subdivision thereof, state constable, member of the highway patrol, railway policeman or warden, superintendent, head keeper or deputy of any state prison, penitentiary, workhouse, county jail, city jail or other institution for the detention of persons convicted or accused of crime or held as witnesses in criminal cases or person on duty in the postal service of the United States or any common carrier while transporting direct to any police department, military or naval organization or person authorized by law to possess or use a machine gun, or sawed-off shotgun or sawed-off rifle, may possess machine guns, or sawed-off shotguns or sawed-off rifles, when required in the performance of their duties. Nor shall the provisions hereof be construed to apply to machine guns, or sawed-off shotguns or sawed-off rifles, kept for display as relics and which are rendered harmless and not usable.

Sec. 16-23-270. Article not applicable to antique firearms. The provisions of this article shall not apply to antique firearms.

Sec. 16-23-470. Illegal possession of tear-gas gun or ammunition. It shall be unlawful for anyone except duly authorized law-enforcement officers to have in possession, use, transport, sell or buy any tear-gas machine or gun or any part thereof or any ammunition or shells or equipment that may be used in a tear-gas gun or machine. Any violation of this section shall be a misdemeanor and punishable by imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than five years or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, either or both, in the discretion of the court.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the purchase, sale, transportation or use of tear gas for the destruction of insects or rodents, provided such tear gas is not in containers or shells suitable for use in any tear-gas gun, equipment or machine and provided the purchaser has written authority for the purchase and use of such tear gas from the county agent of the county in which he resides.

Sec. 16-23-480. Manufacture or possession of article designed to cause damage by fire or other means. No person shall manufacture, cause to be manufactured, or possess any object or article which is designed to cause damage by fire or any other means to person or property either by ignition, detonation or other means, and further, no person shall possess any object or article when such object or article is possessed solely for the purpose of causing damage by fire or other means to person or property either by ignition, detonation or other means.

Sec. 23-31-10. Purchase of rifle or shotgun in contiguous state. Any resident of this State including a corporation or other business entity maintaining a place of business in this State, who may lawfully purchase and receive delivery of a rifle or shotgun in this State, may purchase a rifle or shotgun in a contiguous state and transport or receive the same in this State; provided, that the sale meets the lawful requirements of each such state, meets all lawful requirements of any Federal statute, and is made by a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed dealer, or licensed collector.

Sec. 23-31-110. Definitions. (Editor's Note: The definitions in this Article are identical to those in Section 16-23-10 above.)

Sec. 23-31-130. Retail dealers shall be licensed. No retail dealer shall sell or otherwise transfer, or expose for sale or transfer, or have in his possession with intent to sell, or otherwise transfer, any pistol without being licensed as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 23-31-140. Completion and contents of application prior to purchase of pistol; further restrictions on purchase. Prior to the purchase of a pistol, the purchaser shall complete an application in triplicate in the presence of the dealer. The application to be furnished by the Division shall contain  (that information required in 23-31-140; contact State law enforcement authorities for details)

No person shall be allowed to purchase a pistol from a dealer unless he has fully completed the application.

No person shall be allowed to purchase more than one pistol on each application and no person shall be allowed to purchase more than one pistol during each thirty-day period; provided, however, that a person whose pistol is stolen or irretrievably lost and who feels that it is essential that he immediately purchase a pistol may obtain a special permit which will enable him to purchase a pistol ***

No person shall be allowed to purchase a pistol from a dealer unless he is a resident of the State of South Carolina. For the purpose of this article, the possession of a valid South Carolina driver's license or South Carolina Highway Department Identification Card shall constitute proof of residency.

Sec. 23-31-150. Issuance, duration, conditions and forfeiture of retail dealer's license. The Division shall grant a license to any person doing business in the State not ineligible to purchase, acquire or possess a pistol or be licensed as a dealer under the provisions of this article. Licenses shall be issued on a form furnished by the Division and be effective for two years from the date of issuance. Licensees shall be authorized to sell pistols at retail as dealers within this State subject to the following conditions, for breach of any of which the license shall be forfeited:

(b) No pistol shall knowingly be sold in violation of any provision of this article nor shall any pistol be sold without clear evidence as to the identity of the purchaser being furnished to the dealer.

(c) A true record shall be made of every pistol sold on a firearm transaction record form. The firearm transaction record form which shall be furnished by the Division shall be signed by the purchaser and by the dealer effecting the sale, each in the presence of the other and shall contain such information as may be required by the Division. ***

Sec. 23-31-180. Certain pistols declared to be contraband; forfeiture and destruction of such. No licensed retail dealer shall possess in his place of business or sell any pistol or other handgun which has a die-cast frame or receiver which melts at a temperature of less than eight hundred degrees Fahrenheit.

Sec. 23-31-310. Definitions. When used in this article: (Editor's Note: The definitions in this Article are identical to those in Section 16-23-210 above.)

Sec. 23-31-320. Exceptions to application of article. The provisions of this article shall not apply to the Army, Navy or Air Force of the United States, the National Guard and organizations authorized by law to purchase or receive machine guns, or sawed-off shotguns or sawed-off rifles, from the United States or from this State and the members of such organizations. Any peace officer of the State or of any county or other political subdivision thereof, state constable, member of the highway patrol, railway policeman or warden, superintendent, head keeper or deputy of any state prison, penitentiary, workhouse, county jail, city jail or other institution for the detention of persons convicted or accused of crime or held as witnesses in criminal cases or person on duty in the postal service of the United States or any common carrier while transporting direct to any police department, military or naval organization or person authorized by law to possess or use a machine gun, or sawed-off shotgun or sawed-off rifle, may possess machine guns, or sawed-off shotguns or sawed-off rifles, when required in the performance of their duties. Nor shall the provisions hereof be construed to apply to machine guns, or sawed-off shotguns or sawed-off rifles, kept for display as relics and which are rendered harmless and not usable.

Sec. 23-31-330. Application and registration of person allowed to possess machine gun or sawed-off shotgun or rifle. Every person permitted by Sec. 23-31-320 to possess a machine gun, or sawed-off shotgun or sawed-off rifle, and any person elected to or appointed to any office or position which entitles such person to possess a machine gun, or sawed-off shotgun or sawed-off rifle, upon taking office, shall file with the State Law Enforcement Division on a blank to be supplied by the Division on request therefor an application to be properly sworn to, which shall be approved by the sheriff of the county in which the applicant resides or has his principal place of business and shall include the applicant's name, residence and business address, physical description, whether or not ever charged or convicted of any crime, municipal, state or otherwise, and where, if so charged, and when the same was disposed of. The applicant shall also give a description, including the serial number and make, of the machine gun, or sawed-off shotgun or sawed-off rifle, which he possesses or desires to possess. Thereupon, the State Law Enforcement Division shall file such application in its office, registering such applicant together with the information required in the application in a book or index to be kept for that purpose, assign to him a number and issue to him a card which shall bear the signature of the applicant and which he shall keep with him while he has such machine gun or sawed-off shotgun or sawed-off rifle in his possession. Such registration shall be made on the date application is received and filed with the State Law Enforcement Division and shall expire on December thirty-first of the year in which the license is issued.

Sec. 23-31-350. Article not applicable to antique firearms. The provisions of this article shall not apply to antique firearms.

State Law

S.D. Codified Laws

22-1-2. Definition of terms. Terms used in this title, and in other statutes which prescribe a penalty for a public offense, unless the context otherwise plainly requires, mean: ***

(7) "Controlled weapon" includes a firearm, machine gun, or short shotgun, as those terms are defined in subdivisions (16), (21) and (43) of this section;

(8) "Crime of violence," any of the following crimes or an attempt to commit, or a conspiracy to commit, any of the same: murder, manslaughter, rape, aggravated assault, riot while armed, robbery, burglary, arson, kidnapping and any other crime in the commission of which the perpetrator used force, or was armed with a dangerous weapon, or used any explosive or destructive device;

(9) "Dangerous weapon" or "deadly weapon," any firearm, knife or device, instrument, material or substance, whether animate or inanimate, which is calculated or designed to inflict death or serious bodily harm, or by the manner in which it is used is likely to inflict death or serious bodily harm; ***

(12) "Destructive device," (a) Any bomb, grenade, explosive missile, or similar device or any launching device therefor; or (b) Any breakable container which contains a flammable liquid with a flashpoint of one hundred and fifty degrees Fahrenheit or less and has a wick or similar device capable of being ignited.

Spartanburg

24-72. Same—Firearms—Pistols under twenty inches long or three pounds in weight. It shall be unlawful for any person to carry about his person in the city, whether concealed or not, any pistol less than twenty inches long and three pounds in weight. It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, sell or offer for sale, lease, rent, barter, exchange or transport for sale into the city, any pistol of less length and weight. ***

Wagener

Sec. 17-7. Pistols less than twenty inches long and three pounds in weight. It shall be unlawful for anyone to  manufacture, sell, offer for sale, lease, rent, barter, exchange or transport for sale or into the town any pistol of less [than twenty inches long and three pounds in weight] ***.

The term does not include "permissible fireworks" defined by Sec. 34-37-5; any device which is neither designed nor redesigned for use as a weapon; any device, although originally designed for use as a weapon, which is redesigned for use as a signaling, pyrotechnic, line throwing, safety or similar device; surplus ordnance sold, loaned or given by the secretary of the army pursuant to the provisions of section 4684(2), 4685, or 4696 of Title 10 of the United States Code; or any other device which is an antique or is a rifle which the owner intends to use solely for sporting purposes; ***

(15) "Firearm," any weapon from which a projectile or projectiles may be discharged by gunpowder. As used in this subdivision, the word "gunpowder" includes any propellant that upon oxidization emits heat and light and is commonly used in firearms cartridges;

(16) "Firearm silencer," any instrument, attachment, weapon or appliance for causing the firing of any gun, revolver, pistol, or other firearm to be silent, or intended to lessen or muffle the noise of the firing of any such weapon; ***

(18) "Illegal weapon," any controlled weapon listed in subdivision (7) of this section; ***

(21) "Machine gun," any firearm, whatever its size and usual designation, that automatically discharges two or more cartridges by a single function of the firing device; ***

(30) "Pistol," any firearm with a barrel less than sixteen inches in length, designed to expel a projectile or projectiles by the action of an explosive; ***

(42) "Short rifle," a rifle having a barrel less than sixteen inches long, or an overall length of less than twenty-six inches;

(43) "Short shotgun," a shotgun having a barrel less than eighteen inches long or an overall length of less than twenty-six inches; * * * * *

22-14-5. Possession of firearm with altered serial number as felony—Exception. Any person who possesses any firearm on which the manufacturer's serial number has been changed, altered, removed or obliterated is guilty of a Class 6 felony.

This section shall not apply to persons who have registered such firearms with the secretary of state as provided in sec. 23-7-42.

22-14-6. Possession of controlled weapon—Exceptions. Any person who knowingly possesses a controlled weapon is guilty of a Class 6 felony. Provided that, this section shall not apply to a person who:

(1) Is a law enforcement officer or a member of the armed forces of the United States or South Dakota national guard acting in the lawful discharge of his duties;

(2) Has a valid state or federal license issued pursuant to law for such weapon or has registered such weapon with the proper state or federal authority pursuant to law;

(3) Possesses a controlled weapon briefly after having found it or taken it from an aggressor; or

(4) Possesses a controlled weapon, except a machine gun or short shotgun, under circumstances which negate any purpose or likelihood that the weapon would be used unlawfully.

22-14-15. Possession of firearm by one with prior violent crime conviction as felony—Fifteen-year period. Any person who has been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence, who has in his possession or under his control, a firearm, is guilty of a Class 6 felony. This section does not apply to any person who was last discharged from prison, jail, probation or parole, for a crime of violence more than fifteen years prior to the commission of the principal offense.

22-14-16. Providing firearm to person with known prior violent crime conviction as felony. Any person who knows that another person is prohibited by secs. 22-14-15 from possessing a firearm, and who knowingly gives, loans, or sells a firearm to that person is guilty of a Class 6 felony.

22-14-17. Antique firearms exempt from chapter—Firearms incapable of discharge exempt—Antique firearm defined. This chapter shall not apply to antique firearms or to firearms which have been permanently altered so they are incapable of being discharged.

An "antique firearm" is: (1) Any firearm, including any firearm with a matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap or similar type of ignition system manufactured in or before 1898; and (2) Any replica of any firearm described in subdivision (1) of this section if such replica is not designed or redesigned for using rimfire or conventional centerfire fixed ammunition, or uses rimfire or conventional centerfire fixed ammunition which is no longer manufactured in the United States and which is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade.

22-14A-4. Sale, transportation, or possession of destructive devices as felony—Increased penalty for prior violent crime conviction. Any person who knowingly sells, offers for sale, transports or possesses any destructive device is guilty of a Class 4 felony. If such person has been previously convicted of a crime of violence in this state or elsewhere, he is guilty of a Class 3 felony.

23-7-1. Definition of terms. "Pistol," as used in this chapter, means any firearm with a barrel less than sixteen inches in length and designed to expel a projectile or projectiles by the action of an explosive.

"Machine gun" applies to and includes a weapon of any description by whatever name known, loaded or unloaded, from which more than five shots or bullets may be rapidly, or automatically, or semiautomatically discharged from a magazine, by a single function of the firing device.

"Crime of violence" as used in this chapter, means any of the following crimes or an attempt to commit or a conspiracy to commit any of the same, namely: murder, manslaughter, rape, mayhem, any assault prohibited by SDCL 22-18-9, 22-18-10, 22-18-11, 22-18-12 or 22-18-14, riot while armed, robbery, burglary, possession of burglary tools, house-breaking, breaking and entering, kidnapping, extortion by force or fear, and any other crime in the commission of which the perpetrator used force, or was armed with a deadly, dangerous or sharp weapon, or used any bomb, explosive or destructive device.

"Person," as used in this chapter, includes firm, partnership, association, or corporation.

23-7-2. Antique pistols excepted from chapter. This chapter shall not apply to antique pistols unsuitable for use as firearms and possessed as curiosities or ornaments.

23-7-3. Person convicted of crime of violence not to own or possess pistol—Felony—Punishment. No person who has been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence shall own a pistol or have one in his possession or under his control. ***

23-7-3.1. Delivery of pistol to person convicted of crime of violence—Misdemeanor. Any person who gives, loans or sells a pistol to a person convicted of a crime of violence in this state or elsewhere, and knows that said person has been so convicted, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

23-7-9. Delivery of pistol to purchaser—Waiting period—Wrapped and unloaded. No seller shall deliver a pistol to the purchaser thereof until forty-eight hours shall have elapsed from the time of the application for the purchase thereof, and when delivered said pistol shall be securely wrapped and shall be unloaded.

23-7-11. Regulation does not apply to sale of pistols at wholesale. Sections 23-7-9 and 23-7-10 shall not apply to sales at wholesale.

23-7-13. Transfer of pistol contrary to chapter forbidden. No person shall make any loan secured by a mortgage, deposit, or pledge of a pistol; nor shall any person lend or give a pistol to another or otherwise deliver a pistol contrary to the provisions of this chapter.

23-7-14. License required of retail dealer. No retail dealer shall sell or otherwise transfer or expose for sale or transfer, or have in his possession with intent to sell or otherwise transfer, any pistol without being licensed as provided ***.

23-7-18. Sale of pistol by retail dealer—Restrictions. No pistol shall be sold in violation of any provisions of this chapter, nor shall a pistol be sold under any circumstances unless the purchaser is personally known to the seller or shall present clear evidence of his identity.

23-7-19. Sale of pistol by retail dealer—Record in triplicate, form and contents, distribution of copies. A true record in triplicate shall be made of every pistol sold in a book kept for the purpose, the form of which may be prescribed by the secretary of state and shall be personally signed by the purchaser and by the person effecting the sale, each in the presence of the other, and shall contain the date of sale, the caliber, make, model, and manufacturer's number of the weapon, the name, address, occupation, color, and place of birth of the purchaser, and a statement signed by the purchaser that he has never been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence. One copy shall within six hours be sent by registered or certified mail to the chief of police of the municipality or the sheriff of the county of which the dealer is a resident; the duplicate the dealer shall within seven days send to the secretary of state; the triplicate the dealer shall retain for six years. * * * * *

23-7-40. Purchase of rifles and shotguns by residents of South Dakota and contiguous states—Implementation of federal provisions. The state of South Dakota herewith permits residents of contiguous states and residents of this state, not otherwise precluded by any applicable laws, to purchase, sell, trade, convey, deliver, or transport rifles, shotguns, ammunition, reloading components or firearms accessories in South Dakota and in states contiguous to South Dakota. This authorization is enacted to implement for this state the permissive firearms sales and delivery provisions in section 922 (b), (3) (A) of Public Law 90-618 of the 90th United States Congress, second session.

Mental Health Law

33-317  Supplying patient or resident [of a mental institution] with harmful substances ***.

(b)  any person who, without permission of the superintendent [of the institution], shall give or sell to any patient or resident, whether on the premises of the institution or elsewhere, knowing him to be a patient or resident, any firearms ; is guilty of a felony ***.

Criminal Offenses

39-4904. Selling or disposing of dangerous weapons. It is a misdemeanor to sell, or offer to sell, or to bring into this state for the purpose of selling, giving away, or otherwise disposing of any  prohibited weapon  [includes  a fountain pen pistol or gun, or like instrument containing a firing pin capable of shooting tear gas or pistol cartridges, or any pistol or revolver of any kind whatever, except the army or navy pistol which shall be carried openly in the hand, or any other dangerous weapon] ***.

Provided, however, any person licensed by the state of Tennessee to sell rifles or other firearms may stock and sell pistols and/or sidearms to persons desiring them for protection of their home, business, or for target practice; however, sales to aliens, persons who have been convicted of a crime of violence, fugitives from justice, persons of unsound mind, minors, drunkards, drug addicts, and persons who have been convicted of the illegal sale of alcoholic beverages, are excluded.

Any person desiring to purchase a pistol or sidearm as above provided shall certify to the seller that he is not one of the persons listed above as excluded from legal sale of such firearm, and the person having the gun for sale, whether it be a firearms dealer engaged in the business of selling firearms, new or used, or any other person, shall file with the sheriff of the county wherein such sale is to be made, and with the chief of police if the sale be within a municipality, a copy of the certificate as notice to such law enforcement officer of the pending sale. Such certificate must also show the purpose for which the gun is to be used. If, after fifteen (15) days from the time of the receipt of such notice, the sheriff and/or chief of police make no objection tending to show that such proposed purchaser is in fact excluded by law from legal purchase, as set out above, the sale may be consummated and the gun delivered to the purchaser, together with a bill of sale therefor. The fifteen (15) days' notice of pending sale provided for above must be made by registered mail and return receipt requested unless the officer or officers, as the case may be, personally acknowledge receipt of such notice. The said certificate to be filed with the law enforcement officer shall carry the right thumb print of the applicant along with the information as to race, height, weight, age, color of eyes, color of hair and sex of the applicant. Provided, however, the sheriff and/or police chief may issue a written approval of such certificate, after investigation, within the fifteen (15) day period.

The fifteen (15) day waiting period shall not apply to transactions between licensed importers, licensed manufacturers, licensed dealers, or licensed collectors who meet the requirements of the first paragraph above and certify prior to the transaction the legal and licensed status of both parties. The burden shall fall upon the transferor to determine the legality of the transaction in progress. The fifteen (15) day waiting period shall not apply to transactions or transfers between a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer and a bona fide law enforcement agency or said agency's personnel as defined under Sec. 39-4902. However, all other provisions and requirements of the preceding paragraph above must be observed. The burden of proof of the legality of such transactions or transfers shall rest upon the transferor.

Nothing in this section shall preclude any person eligible to purchase a pistol or sidearm, as set out above, from making an occasional sale of a used or second hand gun legally purchased by him without being licensed to do business as such; but whenever such sale is made, the same procedure must be followed as is provided above for persons licensed by the state of Tennessee to engage in such business.

Provided however, before any person, firm or corporation shall engage in the business of selling, offering for sale, giving away or otherwise disposing of any pistol, revolver or other hand gun, such person, firm or corporation shall obtain from the commissioner of revenue a permit to engage in such business in the state of Tennessee.

Prior to the issuance of such permit by the commissioner of revenue, the applicant shall furnish the commissioner of revenue a certificate of good moral character signed by the chief of police or the sheriff of the county in which the licensed premises shall be located. In the event the licensed premises are located in the corporate limits of a municipality, said certificate of moral character shall be signed by the chief of police. If the licensed premises are located outside the corporate limits of the municipality, the certificate of moral character shall be signed by the sheriff of the county. The certificate of moral character must state that the applicant or applicants who are to be in actual control of said business are of good moral character and are personally known to the official signing the certificate, and if the applicant be a corporation, that the executive officers of those in control are of good moral character and personally known to the official signing said certificate.

39-4905. Selling or giving weapons to minor—Penalty. Any person who sells, loans, or gives to any minor a pistol  or like dangerous weapon, except a gun for hunting, is guilty of a misdemeanor, ***.

39-4915. Purchase of rifles and shotguns in contiguous states by residents of Tennessee. Any resident of the state of Tennessee who may legally purchase a rifle or shotgun in this state may purchase a rifle or shotgun in a contiguous state provided the sale meets the legal requirements in each state, meets all legal standards of any federal statute, and is made by a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed dealer, or licensed collector.

39-4917. Prohibited firearms—Definitions. For the purposes of Secs. 39-4917—39-4920 the following terms shall have the meanings ascribed in this section:

(a) "Sawed-off shotgun" means a shotgun having a barrel or barrels of less than eighteen inches (18") in length or a weapon made from a shotgun which as modified has an overall length of less than twenty-six inches (26") or a barrel or barrels of less than eighteen inches (18") in length.

(b) "Shotgun" means a weapon designed or redesigned, made or remade, and intended to be fired from the shoulder and designed or redesigned and made or remade to use the energy of the explosive in a fixed shotgun shell to fire through a smooth bore either a number of ball shot or a single projectile for each pull of the trigger. The term includes any such weapon which may be readily restored to fire a fixed shotgun shell, but does not include an antique firearm as defined in this section.

(c) "Sawed-off rifle" means a rifle having a barrel or barrels of less than sixteen inches

(16") in length or a weapon made from a rifle which as modified has an overall length of less than twenty-six inches (26") or a barrel or barrels of less than sixteen inches (16") in length.

(d) "Rifle" means a weapon designed or redesigned, made or remade, and intended to be fired from the shoulder and designed or redesigned and made or remade to use the energy of the explosive in a fixed cartridge to fire only a single projectile through a rifled bore for each single pull of the trigger. The term includes any such weapon which may be readily restored to fire a fixed cartridge, but does not include an antique firearm as described in this section.

(e) "Machine gun" means any weapon which shoots, is designed to shoot, or can be readily restored to shoot, automatically more than one shot without manual reloading, by a single function of the trigger; the frame or receiver of any such weapon; any combination of parts designed and intended for use in converting a weapon into a machine gun; and any combination of parts from which a machine gun can be assembled if such parts are in the possession or under the control of a person.

(f) "Antique firearm" means any firearm not designed or redesigned for using rim fire or conventional center fire ignition with fixed ammunition and manufactured in or before 1898 (including any matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar type of ignition system or replica thereof, whether actually manufactured before or after the year 1898) and also any firearm using fixed ammunition manufactured in or before 1898, for which ammunition is no longer manufactured in the United States and is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade.

(g) "Unserviceable firearm" means a firearm which is incapable of discharging a shot by means of an explosive and incapable of being readily restored to a firing condition.

(h) "Manufactures any weapon" means making, putting together, altering, modifying, any combination of these, or otherwise producing a sawed-off shotgun, sawed-off rifle, or machine gun.

(i) "Sells or disposes of" means sells, offers for sale, assigns, pledges, leases, loans, gives away, transfers or otherwise disposes of.

(j) "Person" includes a corporation, firm, company, partnership or association.

39-4918. Manufacture, possession or sale of sawed-off shotgun, sawed-off rifle, or machine gun—Penalty. Any person who manufactures, imports, purchases, possesses, sells or disposes of, in this state, any weapon of the kind commonly known as a sawed-off shotgun, sawed-off rifle, or machine gun shall upon conviction thereof, for each offense, be imprisoned in the penitentiary for a term of not less than one (1) nor more than five (5) years; or in the county jail or workhouse for a term not to exceed one (1) year, or by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by both such fine and jail or workhouse sentence in the discretion of the court.

39-4919. Exceptions to firearms restrictions. The provisions of Sec. 39-4918 relating to sawed-off shotguns, sawed-off rifles, and machine guns shall not apply to or affect the following:

(a) The United States or any department, independent establishment or agency thereof; or the state of Tennessee, or any department or agency thereof, or any political subdivision thereof, or any official police organization or law enforcement agency of such government entity charged with enforcement of criminal laws or detention of persons convicted or accused of crime;

(b) The possession in the pursuit of official duty by a law enforcement, peace, police officer, or official or employee of a penitentiary, jail or other institution in the state of Tennessee for the detention of persons accused or convicted of crime, who is regularly employed and paid by the United States, this state or any political subdivision or governmental entity thereof as set forth in the preceding subsection (a);

(c) The possession by a member of the National Guard or the armed services or reserve forces of the United States who while serving therein possesses such weapon in the line of duty;

(d) Persons licensed by the state of Tennessee as manufacturers, importers, or dealers in such weapons provided that the manufacture, import, purchase, possession, sale or disposition of such weapons is authorized and incident to carrying on the business for which licensed and is for scientific or research purposes or sale or disposition to the classes designated in subsection (a) above;

(e) Any person who acquires or possesses a sawed-off shotgun, sawed-off rifle, or machine gun which is validly registered to such person under federal law in the National Firearms Registration and Transfer Records. A person who acquires or possesses a firearm registered as required by this subsection shall retain proof of registration;

(f) Any person who possesses a sawed-off shotgun, sawed-off rifle, or machine gun which is an unserviceable firearm.

Chattanooga

25-10. Dangerous weapons—Sale. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale in the city any pistol, pistol cartridges, ; provided, that this section shall not apply to the sale of regular army and navy pistols.

Greenville

5-101. Sale of firearms. Only persons, firms, or corporations licensed by the State of Tennessee to sell rifles or other firearms may stock and sell pistols and/or sidearms within the corporate limits of the Town of Greeneville. Firearms may be sold to persons desiring same for the protection of their home or business or for target practice but for no other purpose.

The sale of pistols and/or sidearms within the corporate limits of the Town of Greeneville to aliens, persons who have been convicted of a crime of violence, fugitives from justice, persons of unsound mind, minors, drunkards, drug addicts, or persons who have been convicted of the illegal sale of alcoholic beverages, is prohibited.

Any person desiring to purchase a pistol or sidearm within the corporate limits of the Town of Greeneville shall certify to the seller that he is not one of the persons hereinabove designated as being excluded from the legal sale of such firearms. The person having the gun for sale, whether it be a firearm dealer engaged in the business of selling firearms, new or used, or any other person, shall file with the chief of police of the Town of Greeneville, a copy of the certificate as notice to such law enforcement officer of the pending sale. The certificate must also show the purpose for which the gun is to be used. If, after three (3) days from the time of the receipt of such notice, the chief of police makes no objection tending to show that such proposed purchaser is excluded by this section from legal purchase as above set out, the sale may be consummated and the gun delivered to the purchaser, together with a bill of sale therefor. The three (3) day notice of the pending sale provided for above must be made by registered mail and return receipt requested unless the officer to whom such notice must be given personally acknowledges receipt of such notice.

Nothing in this section shall preclude any person eligible to purchase a pistol or sidearm, as set out above, from making an occasional sale of a used or secondhand gun legally purchased by him even though such person is not licensed to engage in such business. However, when such sale is made, the same procedure must be followed as is described above for persons licensed by the State of Tennessee to engage in such business.

Jackson

19-10.1(c)  any person licensed by the state of Tennessee to sell rifles or other firearms may stock and sell pistols and/or sidearms to persons desiring them for protection of their home, business, or for target practice; however, sales to aliens, persons who have been convicted of a crime of violence, fugitives from justice, persons of unsound mind, minors, drunkards, drug addicts, and persons who have been convicted of the illegal sale of alcoholic beverages, are excluded.

Any person desiring to purchase a pistol or sidearm as above provided shall certify to the seller that he is not one of the persons listed above as excluded from legal sale of such firearms, and the person having the gun for sale, whether it be a firearms dealer engaged in the business of selling firearms, new or used, or any other person, shall file with the Chief of Police a copy of the certificate as notice of the pending sale. Such certificate must also show the purpose for which the gun is to be used. If, after fifteen days from the time of the receipt of such notice, the Chief of Police makes no objection tending to show that such proposed purchaser is in fact excluded by law from legal purchase, as set out above, the sale may be consummated and the gun delivered to the purchaser, together with a bill of sale therefor. The fifteen days' notice of pending sale provided for above must be made by registered mail and return receipt requested unless the officer or officers, as the case may be, personally acknowledge receipt of such notice. The said certificate to be filed with the law enforcement officer shall carry the right thumb print of the applicant along with the information as to race, height, weight, age, color of eyes, color of hair and sex of the applicant. Provided, however, the Chief of Police may issue a written approval of such certificate, after investigation, within the fifteen day period.

The fifteen day waiting period shall not apply to transactions between licensed importers, licensed manufacturers, licensed dealers, or licensed collectors who meet the requirements of the first paragraph above and certify prior to the transaction the legal and licensed status of both parties. The burden shall fall upon the transferor to determine the legality of the transaction in progress. The fifteen day waiting period shall not apply to transactions or transfers between a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer and a bona fide law enforcement agency or said agency's personnel . However, all other provisions and requirements of the preceding paragraph above must be observed. The burden of proof of the legality of such transactions or transfers shall rest upon the transferor. ***

Knoxville

28-103. Firearms—Sale. (b) Any person licensed by the State of Tennessee to sell rifles or other firearms may stock and sell pistols and/or sidearms to persons desiring them for protection of their home, business, or for target practice; however, sales to aliens, persons who have been convicted of a crime of violence, fugitives from justice, persons of unsound mind, minors, drunkards, drug addicts, and persons who have been convicted of the illegal sale of alcoholic beverages, are excluded.

(c) Any person desiring to purchase a pistol or sidearm as above provided shall certify to the seller that he is not one of the persons listed above as excluded from legal sale of such firearms, and the person having the gun for sale, whether it be a firearms dealer engaged in the business of selling firearms, new or used, or any other person, shall file with the chief of police a copy of the certificate as notice to such law enforcement officer of the pending sale. Such certificate must also show the purpose for which the gun is to be used. If, after three (3) days from the time of the receipt of such notice, the chief of police makes no objection tending to show that such proposed purchaser is in fact excluded by law from legal purchase, as set out above, the sale may be consummated and the gun delivered to the purchaser, together with a bill of sale therefor.

(d) The three (3) day notice of pending sale provided for above must be made by registered mail and return receipt requested unless the officer personally acknowledges receipt of such notice.

(e) The seller shall deliver to the chief of police a legible true copy of the bill of sale showing the name of the firearm, the caliber, serial number, finish of the firearm, such as nickel.

Section 1—Definitions

(3) "Explosive weapon" means any explosive, incendiary, or poison gas: (A) bomb; (B) grenade; (C) rocket; (D) mine; (E) shell, missile, or projectile that is designed, made, or adapted for the purpose of inflicting serious bodily injury, death, or substantial property damage.

(4) "Firearm" means any weapon designed, made, or adapted to expel a projectile by the action of an explosive, or any device readily convertible to that use.

(5) "Firearm silencer" means any device designed, made, or adapted to muffle the report of a firearm.

(6) "Handgun" means any firearm with a barrel length of less than twelve (12) inches that is designed, made, or adapted to be fired with one hand.

(9) "Machine gun" means any firearm that is capable of shooting more than two (2) shots automatically, without manual reloading, by a single function of the trigger.

(10) "Rifle" means any firearm designed, made, or adapted to be fired from the shoulder and to use the energy of the explosive in a fixed metallic cartridge to fire a projectile through a rifled bore by a single function of the trigger.

(11) "Short barrel" means a barrel length of less than sixteen (16) inches for a rifle and eighteen (18) inches for a shotgun, or an overall firearm length of less than twenty-six (26) inches.

(12) "Shotgun" means any firearm designed, made or adapted to be fired from the shoulder and to use the energy of the explosive in a fixed shotgun shell to fire through a smooth-bore barrel either a number of ball shot or a single projectile by a single function of the trigger. *****

Section III—Prohibited Weapons. (a) An individual, corporation, or association commits an offense if he intentionally or knowingly possesses, manufactures, transports, repairs, or sells:

- (1) an explosive or an explosive weapon;
- (2) a device principally designed, made, or adapted for delivering or shooting an explosive weapon;
- (3) a machine gun;
- (4) a short-barrel rifle or shotgun;
- (5) a firearm silencer;
- (b) It is a defense to prosecution under this section that the actor's conduct:

(1) was incident to the performance of official duty by the armed forces or national guard, a governmental law enforcement agency, or a penal institution; or

(2) was incident to engaging in a lawful commercial or business transaction with an organization identified in subdivision (1); or

(3) was incident to using an explosive or an explosive weapon in a manner reasonably related to a lawful industrial or commercial enterprise; or

(4) was incident to using the weapon in a manner reasonably related to a lawful dramatic performance or scientific research; or

(5) was incident to displaying the weapon in a public museum or exhibition.

(c) It is an affirmative defense to prosecution under this section, which the actor must prove by a preponderance of the evidence:

(1) that his conduct was incident to dealing with the weapon solely as a curio, ornament, or keepsake, and if the weapon is a type described in subsections (a)(1)-(a)(5), that it was in a nonfunctioning condition and could not readily be made operable; or

(2) that his possession was brief and occurred as a consequence of having found the weapon or taken it from an aggressor.

(d) An offense under subsections (a)(1)-(a)(5) is a felony; and offense under subsection (a)(6) is a misdemeanor.

Section IV—Unlawful Sale of Firearm.

(a) An individual, corporation, or association commits an offense if:

(1) he intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly sells, loans, or makes a gift of a firearm to a minor; or

(2) he intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly sells a firearm or ammunition for a firearm to a person who is intoxicated;

(3) he intentionally, knowingly, recklessly, or with criminal negligence violates the provisions of Section V of this Ordinance.

(b) It is a defense to subsection (a)(1) that:

- (1) a rifle or shotgun was sold, loaned, or given to a minor for the purposes of hunting; and
- (2) the actor is not required to obtain a license under Section V of this Ordinance.

(c) For purposes of this section, "intoxicated" means substantial impairment of mental or physical capacity resulting from introduction of any substance into the body.

(d) An offense under this section is a misdemeanor.

Section V—Lawful Sale of Firearms.

(a) Only persons, firms or corporations licensed by the State of Tennessee to sell rifles or other firearms may stock and sell pistols and/or sidearms within the corporate limits of the City of Lawrenceburg. Firearms may be sold to persons desiring same for the protection of their homes or business or for target practice but for no other purpose.

(b) The sale of pistols and/or sidearms within the corporate limits of the City of Lawrenceburg to aliens, persons who have been convicted of a crime of violence, fugitives from justice, persons of unsound mind, minors, drunkards, drug addicts, or persons who have been convicted of the illegal sale of alcoholic beverages, is prohibited.

(c) Any person desiring to purchase a pistol or sidearm within the corporate limits of the City of Lawrenceburg shall certify to the seller that he is not one of the persons hereinabove designated as being excluded from the legal sale of such firearms. The person having the gun for sale, whether it be a firearm dealer engaged in the business of selling firearms, new or used, or any other person, shall file with the chief of police of the City of Lawrenceburg, a copy of the certificate as notice to such law enforcement officer of the pending sale.

(d) The certificate must also show the purpose for which the gun is to be used. If, after three (3) days from the time of the receipt of such notice, the chief of police makes no objection tending to show that such proposed purchaser is excluded by this section from legal purchase as above set out, the sale may be consummated and the gun delivered to the purchaser, together with a bill of sale therefor. The three (3) day notice of the pending sale provided for above must be made by registered mail and return receipt requested unless the officer to whom such notice must be given personally acknowledges receipt of such notice.

(e) Nothing in this section shall preclude any person eligible to purchase a pistol or sidearm, as set out above, from making an occasional sale of a used or secondhand gun legally purchased by him even though such person is not licensed to engage in such business. However, when such sale is made, the same procedure must be followed as is described above for persons licensed by the State of Tennessee to engage in such business.

Nashville—Davidson, Metro

Sec. 41-2-1. Definitions. For the purposes of this article, the following words and phrases shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them by this section:

Crime of violence. Murder; manslaughter; rape; mayhem; kidnapping; burglary; house-breaking; assault with intent to kill, commit rape or rob; assault with a dangerous weapon; or assault with intent to commit any offense punishable by imprisonment.

Firearm. Any weapon by whatever name known, which is designed to expel a projectile by the action of expanding gases.

Fugitive from justice. Any person who has fled or is fleeing from any law-enforcement officer to avoid prosecution or incarceration for a crime of violence or to avoid giving testimony in any criminal proceeding.

Manufacturer or dealer. Any person engaged in the business of manufacturing, repairing or selling firearms at wholesale or retail, or of accepting or pledging firearms as security for loans.

Pistol. Any firearm with a barrel less than twelve inches in length.

Subversive organization. Any group, committee, club, league, society, association or combination of individuals, the purpose of which, or one of the purposes of which, is the establishment, control, conduct, seizure or overthrow of the government of the United States or of the state or of the metropolitan government by the use of force, violence, military measures or threats of one or more of the foregoing.

Sec. 41-2-2. Persons to whom firearms not to be sold, loaned or otherwise transferred. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, lease, lend or otherwise transfer a firearm within the urban services district to any person whom he knows or has reasonable cause to believe has been convicted of a crime of violence or who is a fugitive from justice or who is of unsound mind or who is a drug addict or an habitual drunkard or who is a member of a subversive organization.

Sec. 41-2-3. Persons forbidden to possess firearms. It shall be unlawful for any person who has been convicted of a crime of violence in any court of the United States, the several states, territories, possessions or the District of Columbia, or who is a fugitive from justice, or is of unsound mind or is a drug addict or an habitual drunkard, to possess a firearm within the urban services district.

It shall be unlawful for any person who is a member of a subversive organization to possess a firearm within the urban services district.

Sec. 41-2-4. Stolen firearms. It shall be unlawful within the urban services district for any person to receive, conceal, store, barter, sell, lease, lend or otherwise transfer, or to pledge or accept as security for a loan, any firearm, knowing or having reasonable cause to believe the same to have been stolen.

Sec. 41-2-5. Obliteration, removal or alteration of manufacturer's identification mark or number. It shall be unlawful for any person to obliterate, remove change or alter the manufacturer's identification mark or number on any pistol. Whenever, in a trial for a violation of this section, the defendant is shown to have or have had possession of any such pistol, such fact shall be presumptive evidence that the defendant obliterated, removed, changed or altered the manufacturer's identification mark or number unless the defendant can produce a bill of sale indicating that the pistol was legally purchased and that the manufacturer's identification mark or serial number was obliterated or destroyed at the time of purchase.

Sec. 41-2-6. Firearms manufacturer's or dealer's license. (a) Application for a firearms manufacturer's or dealer's license shall be made to the metropolitan collections officer on forms prescribed and furnished by him.

Sec. 41-2-9. Sale, lease or transfer to persons under twenty-one. No person shall sell, lease or transfer a pistol, except when the relation of parent and child or guardian and ward exists, to any person under the age of twenty-one years.

Sec. 18.2-284. Selling or giving toy firearms. No person shall sell, barter, exchange, furnish, or dispose of by purchase, gift or in any other manner any toy gun, pistol, rifle or other toy firearm, if the same shall, by means of powder or other explosive, discharge blank or ball charges.

Article 5.

Uniform Machine Gun Act.

Sec. 18.2-288. Definitions. When used in this article:

(1) "Machine gun" applies to any weapon which shoots or is designed to shoot automatically more than one shot, without manual reloading, by a single function of the trigger.

(2) "Crime of violence" applies to and includes any of the following crimes or an attempt to commit any of the same, namely, murder, manslaughter, kidnapping, rape, mayhem, assault with intent to maim, disable, disfigure or kill, robbery, burglary, house-breaking, breaking and entering and larceny.

(3) "Person" applies to and includes firm, partnership, association or corporation.

Sec. 18.2-289. Use of machine gun for crime of violence. Possession or use of a machine gun in the perpetration or attempted perpetration of a crime of violence is hereby declared to be a Class 2 felony.

Sec. 18.2-290. Use of machine gun for aggressive purpose. Unlawful possession or use of a machine gun for an offensive or aggressive purpose is hereby declared to be a Class 4 felony.

Sec. 18.2-291. What constitutes aggressive purpose. Possession or use of a machine gun shall be presumed to be for an offensive or aggressive purpose:

(1) When the machine gun is on premises not owned or rented for bona fide permanent residence or business occupancy by the person in whose possession the machine gun may be found;

(2) When the machine gun is in the possession of, or used by, a person who has been convicted of a crime of violence in any court of record, state or federal, of the United States of America, its territories or insular possessions;

(3) When the machine gun has not been registered as required in Sec. 18.2-295; or

(4) When empty or loaded shells which have been or are susceptible of use in the machine gun are found in the immediate vicinity thereof.

Sec. 18.2-292. Presence prima facie evidence of use. The presence of a machine gun in any room, boat or vehicle shall be prima facie evidence of the possession or use of the machine gun by each person occupying the room, boat, or vehicle where the weapon is found.

Sec. 18.2-293. What article does not apply to. The provisions of this article shall not be applicable to:

(1) The manufacture for, and sale of, machine guns to the armed forces or law-enforcement officers of the United States or of any state or of any political subdivision thereof, or the transportation required for that purpose; and

(2) Machine guns and automatic arms issued to the national guard of Virginia by the United States or such arms used by the United States army or navy or in the hands of troops of the national guards of other states or territories of the United States passing through Virginia, or such arms as may be provided for the officers of the State Police or officers of penal institutions.

Sec. 18.2-293.1. What article does not prohibit. Nothing contained in this article shall prohibit or interfere with:

(1) The possession of a machine gun for scientific purposes, or the possession of a machine gun not usable as a weapon and possessed as a curiosity, ornament, or keepsake; and

(2) The possession of a machine gun for a purpose manifestly not aggressive or offensive.

Provided, however, that possession of such machine guns shall be subject to the provisions of Sec. 18.2-295.

Sec. 18.2-294. Manufacturer's and dealer's register; inspection of stock. Every manufacturer or dealer shall keep a register of all machine guns manufactured or handled by him. This register shall show the model and serial number, date of manufacture, sale, loan, gift, delivery or receipt of every machine gun, the name, address, and occupation of the person to whom the machine gun was sold, loaned, given or delivered, or from whom it was received. Upon demand every manufacturer or dealer shall permit any marshal, sheriff or police officer to inspect his entire stock of machine guns, parts, and supplies therefor, and shall produce the register, herein required, for inspection. A violation of any provisions of this section shall be punishable as a Class 3 misdemeanor.

Sec. 18.2-295. Registration of machine guns. Every machine gun in this State shall be registered with the Department of State Police within twenty-four hours after its acquisition. Thereafter it shall be registered annually. Blanks for registration shall be prepared by the Superintendent of State Police, and furnished upon application. To comply with this section the application as filed shall be notarized and shall show the model and serial number of the gun, the name, address and occupation of the person in possession, and from whom and the purpose for which, the gun was acquired. The Superintendent of State Police shall immediately upon registration required in this section furnish the registrant with a certificate of registration, which shall be kept by the registrant and produced by him upon demand by any peace officer. Failure to keep or produce such certificate for inspection shall be a Class 3 misdemeanor, and any peace officer, may without warrant, seize the machine gun and apply for its confiscation as provided in Sec. 18.2-296. No registered machine gun shall be transferred without the registrant notifying in writing the Superintendent of State Police the name and address of the transferee. The registration data shall not be subject to inspection by the public. Any person failing to register any gun as required by this section, shall be presumed to possess the same for offensive or aggressive purpose.

Article 6.

"Sawed-Off" Shotgun Act.

Sec. 18.2-299. Definitions. When used in this article:

(1) "Sawed-off shotgun" applies to any weapon, loaded or unloaded, originally designed as a shoulder weapon, utilizing a self-contained cartridge from which a number of ball shot pellets or projectiles may be fired simultaneously from a smooth or rifled bore by a single function of the firing device and which has a barrel length of less than eighteen inches for smooth bore weapons and sixteen inches for rifled weapons. Weapons of less than .225 caliber shall not be included.

(2) "Crime of violence" applies to and includes any of the following crimes or an attempt to commit any of the same, namely, murder, manslaughter, kidnapping, rape, mayhem, assault with intent to maim, disable, disfigure or kill, robbery, burglary, house-breaking, breaking and entering and larceny.

(3) "Person" applies to and includes firm, partnership, association or corporation.

Sec. 18.2-300. Possession or use of "sawed-off" shotgun for crime of violence. Possession or use of a "sawed-off" shotgun in the perpetration or attempted perpetration of a crime of violence is hereby declared to be a Class 2 felony.

Sec. 18.2-301. Possession or use of "sawed-off" shotgun for offensive or aggressive purpose. Unlawful possession or use of a "sawed-off" shotgun for an offensive or aggressive purpose is hereby declared to be a Class 4 felony.

Sec. 18.2-302. What constitutes offensive or aggressive purpose. Possession or use of a "sawed-off" shotgun shall be presumed to be for an offensive or aggressive purpose:

(1) When the "sawed-off" shotgun is found in the possession of an individual at the scene of a riot or civil disturbance, unless such possession is on premises owned or rented by the individual for residential, recreational or business purposes and obviously for defense of his person, family or property during such riot or civil disturbance;

(2) When the "sawed-off" shotgun is in the possession of, or used by, a person who has been convicted of a crime of violence in any court of record, state or federal, of the United States of America, its territories or insular possessions; ***

(4) When the "sawed-off" shotgun is found in the possession of an individual under circumstances indicating his preparation to participate in a riot or civil disturbance or his preparation for the commission of a crime of violence.

Sec. 18.2-303. What article does not apply to. The provisions of this article shall not be applicable to:

(1) The manufacture for, and sale of, "sawed-off" shotguns to the armed forces or law-enforcement officers of the United States or of any state or of any political subdivision thereof, or the transportation required for that purpose; and

(2) "Sawed-off" shotguns and automatic arms issued to the national guard of Virginia by the United States or such arms used by the United States army or navy or in the hands of troops of the national guards of other states or territories of the United States passing through Virginia, or such arms as may be provided for the officers of the State Police or officers of penal institutions.

Sec. 18.2-303.1. What article does not prohibit. Nothing contained in this article shall prohibit or interfere with the possession of a "sawed-off" shotgun for scientific purposes, or the possession of a "sawed-off" shotgun not usable as a firing weapon and possessed as a curiosity, ornament, or keepsake.

Sec. 18.2-304. Manufacturer's and dealer's register; inspection of stock. Every manufacturer or dealer shall keep a register of all "sawed-off" shotguns manufactured or handled by him. This register shall show the model and serial number, date of manufacture, sale, loan, gift, delivery or receipt of every "sawed-off" shotgun, the name, address, and occupation of the person to whom, the "sawed off" shotgun was sold, loaned, given or delivered, or from whom it was received. Upon demand every manufacturer or dealer shall permit any marshal, sheriff or police officer to inspect his entire stock of "sawed-off" shotguns, and "sawed-off" shotgun barrels, and shall produce the register, herein required, for inspection. A violation of any provision of this section shall be punishable as a Class 3 misdemeanor.

Sec. 18.2-309. Furnishing certain weapons to minors. If any person sell, barter, give or furnish, or cause to be sold, bartered, given or furnished to any minor a pistol,  having good cause to believe him to be a minor, such person shall be guilty of a Class 4 misdemeanor.

Sec. 58-394. Pistol dealers. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of selling pistols at retail shall pay for such privilege a special license tax of five dollars per annum.

59.1-148.1. Purchase of firearms in contiguous state. Any resident of the Commonwealth of Virginia, including a corporation or other business entity maintaining a place of business in this State, who may lawfully purchase and receive delivery of a rifle or shotgun in this State, may purchase a rifle or shotgun in a contiguous state and transport or receive the same into the Commonwealth of Virginia provided the sale meets the lawful requirements of each such state, meets all lawful requirements of any federal statute, and is made by a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed dealer, or licensed collector.

Article II

Sec. 41-7. Condition of pistol or revolver when delivered to purchaser. Every pistol or revolver sold or otherwise disposed of by a pistol or revolver dealer shall be securely wrapped and unloaded when delivered.

Sec. 41-8. Procedure for sale of pistols or revolvers; sale to certain persons prohibited. Every person desiring to purchase or otherwise acquire in the city a pistol or revolver shall sign in duplicate and deliver to the seller or person disposing thereof an application for the purchase of a pistol or revolver, [contact local authorities for required contents] ***.

 No person shall within the city deliver or otherwise dispose of a pistol or revolver until seventy-two hours shall have elapsed from the time of the application.

No person shall within the city sell or otherwise dispose of a pistol or revolver to a person whom he has reasonable cause to believe is not a fit and proper person to possess the same, is not of sound mind, is under the age of eighteen years, is a drug addict, or is a person who has been convicted of a crime of violence.

If, within the seventy-two hour waiting period required by this section, the superintendent of police or anyone designated by him shall inform the proposed seller or person proposing to dispose of a pistol or revolver that the applicant is not a fit and proper person to possess the weapon, is not of sound mind, is under the age of eighteen years, is a drug addict or is a person who has been convicted of a crime of violence, such information shall be prima facie evidence that the seller or person disposing thereof had reasonable cause to believe the applicant is so unqualified to acquire such weapon.

Sec. 41-9. Record of pistols or revolvers sold or disposed of. Every person delivering or disposing of a pistol or revolver shall make in duplicate a true record of every such weapon sold or otherwise disposed of, which record shall be personally signed by the purchaser or person receiving the weapon and also by the person making the sale or disposition in the presence of each other. ***

Division 2. Permits for Engaging In Business as Dealers.

Sec. 41-13. Required. Any person desiring to engage in the business of selling or dealing in pistols or revolvers in the city at retail shall obtain from the superintendent of police to permit to deal in such weapons. This permit shall be in addition to the revenue license required by section 58-394, of the Code of Virginia, and of any city revenue license.

Appomattox

Arlington County

Chapter 297

1. In any county having a density of population of more than one thousand a square mile, as shown by the last preceding United States census, any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of selling pistols or revolvers at retail shall, before making any such sale, register as such a dealer with the chief of police of the county and obtain from him a permit to sell such weapons to persons entitled to buy them, which permit he shall issue upon his being satisfied with the fitness of the dealer to engage in such business. Such permits shall be issued for a period of one year.

Any person desiring to buy at retail or otherwise acquire a pistol or revolver shall first apply to the chief of police, hereinafter called the Chief, for a permit so to do, and shall at the same time give to the Chief such information as he requires concerning his fitness to own and possess such weapon. The Chief may grant such permit, or refuse same or defer the application until he has made an independent investigation of the applicant; provided no permit shall be granted to any person under the age of eighteen years, nor until the Chief is satisfied that the applicant is a proper person to own and have the weapon in his possession.

No dealer holding a permit issued hereunder shall sell, give, barter, exchange or furnish a pistol or revolver to any person unless he delivers to the dealer the permit of the Chief as required in this act. Upon the delivery of any such weapon to any person by the dealer, he shall endorse on the permit the date of delivery, the name and address of the person to whom delivered, the number, and the make and calibre of the pistol or revolver, and shall return the permit to the Chief not later than the day following that on which the weapon was sold or furnished.

The Chief shall make and preserve in his office a record of all permits issued by him hereunder, showing thereon the dates when and the persons to whom issued.

Any person violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

NOTE: Arlington County, Virginia comes within the purview of the aforementioned act.

11-47. Pistol dealers. Every person selling pistols in the county shall pay for the privilege an annual license tax of twenty-five dollars, which tax shall not be prorated. Before issuing any license under the provisions of this section the Commissioner of the Revenue shall obtain from the applicant evidence that he has obtained a permit from the Chief of Police in accordance with Acts of Assembly 1944, Chapter 297.

Fairfax County

Sec. 6-1-1. Definitions. When used in this article, the following words shall have the following meanings, unless the context clearly requires a different meaning:

(2) Firearm shall mean any weapon which will, or is designed to, or may be readily converted to, expel a projectile or projectiles by the action of an explosive; provided, that stud nailing guns, rivet guns and similar construction equipment neither designed nor intended as weapons, shall not be deemed firearms.

(3) Gun shall mean and includes rifles, shotguns, pistols or other firearms, and also includes any air gun, air rifle or other similar device designed and intended to expel a projectile through a gun barrel of any length by means of explosive, expansion or release of compressed gas or compressed air.

(5) Pistol shall mean a gun having a barrel of less than sixteen (16) inches in length.

(7) Rifle shall mean a gun designed, made and intended to be fired from the shoulder and designed and made to use the energy of an explosive or compressed gas or compressed air to expel a single projectile through a rifled barrel for each pull of the trigger.

(8) Shotgun shall mean a weapon designed, made and intended to be fired from the shoulder and designed and made to use the energy of an explosive in a shotgun shell to fire through smooth bore one or a number of ball shot for each pull of the trigger.

(9) Starting pistols shall mean any device which is designed or functions to [simulate] the firing of a weapon by means of a primer or other explosive charge, but which cannot be readily converted for use as a firearm as defined in this Section.

Sec. 6-1-5. Transfer, etc., of guns to minors prohibited; exceptions. It shall be unlawful for any person to give, sell, rent, lend or otherwise transfer any gun or starting pistol as defined by section 6-1-1, or any projectile therefor within the county to a minor under the age of eighteen (18) years, except where the relationship of parent and child, guardian and ward or adult instructor and pupil exists between such person and the minor.

Sec. 6-3-1. Definitions. The following terms, whenever used in this article, shall have the meanings respectively set forth in this section unless a different meaning is clearly required by the context:

(1) Chief of police. The chief of the county police department or his designated agent.

(2) Crime of violence. Any of the following crimes or an attempt to commit any of the same: Murder, voluntary manslaughter, rape, robbery, burglary, kidnapping and assault.

(3) Habitual drunkard. Any person who has been convicted of being drunk in public three or more times within a period of one year.

(4) Fixed ammunition. Any ammunition composed of a projectile or projectiles, a casing and a primer, all of which shall be contained as one unit.

(5) Licensed dealer. Any person engaged in the business of selling at retail or renting pistols in the county who is either licensed or required to be licensed as such under state or federal law.

(6) Pistol. Any firearm with a barrel less than sixteen inches in length that uses fixed ammunition.

Sec. 6-3-2. Registration of dealers—Required; application;  (a) Any person, before engaging in the business of selling at retail or renting pistols in the county, shall be required to register with the chief of police on application forms furnished by the chief of police.

Sec. 6-3-3. Dealer's registration certificate required; . (a) It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in the business of selling at retail or renting pistols without having in force a registration statement endorsed by the chief of police as hereinbefore provided. ***

Sec. 6-3-5. Sale of pistols to minors, drug addicts, habitual drunkards, and others prohibited. (a) No licensed dealer shall sell, barter, give or furnish or cause to be sold, bartered, given or furnished to any minor under eighteen (18) years of age a pistol, having good cause to believe him to be a minor under eighteen (18) years of age, nor shall any licensed dealer sell, lend, rent or otherwise transfer any pistol to any person whom such dealer has reasonable cause to believe has been convicted of a crime of violence or is a drug addict or is an habitual drunkard or is a fugitive from justice or is of unsound mind nor to any person who has validly been denied the right to purchase, borrow, rent or otherwise acquire a pistol by the chief of police under the provisions of this article.

Sec. 6-3-6. Application for acquisition of pistol. Any person desiring to purchase, borrow, rent or otherwise acquire a pistol from a licensed dealer shall make application on forms provided by the chief of police, which shall be signed in duplicate by such person [contact local authorities for required contents] ***.

Sec. 6-3-7. Waiting period prior to delivery of pistol to purchaser—Required. No licensed dealer shall deliver any pistol to the purchaser thereof until seventy-two hours, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, shall have elapsed from the time the application has been received by the chief of police. The chief of police shall cause a postal card to be mailed to the dealer on the same day the application is received in his office stating the time and date the application was received.

Sec. 6-3-8. Same—Grounds for prohibiting delivery; notice to dealer of prohibition. If, within the seventy-two hour period, the chief of police shall inform, in writing, which shall not be privileged, the licensed dealer who proposes to sell the pistol that the applicant to purchase such pistol is (1) under the age of eighteen years, (2) a person who has been committed to an institution for treatment of mental illness or drug addiction and has not been discharged therefrom for a period of three years preceding the date of such application, (3) has been convicted of a crime of violence or (4) is an habitual drunkard, it shall be unlawful for the dealer to deliver the pistol to the applicant.

Falls Church

Sec. 40-1. Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter, the following words and phrases shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them by this section:

Crime of violence. Any of the following crimes, or any attempt to commit any of the same: Murder, manslaughter; rape; mayhem; maliciously disfiguring another; abduction; kidnapping; burglary; house-breaking; larceny; any assault with intent to kill, commit rape or robbery; assault with a dangerous weapon; or assault with intent to commit any offense punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Machine gun. Any weapon which shoots, or is designed to shoot, automatically or semi-automatically, more than one shot, without manually reloading, by a single function of the trigger, but not a shotgun or twenty-two calibre rifle.

Pistols. Any firearm with a barrel less than twelve inches in length.

Sawed-off shotgun. Any shotgun with a barrel less than twenty inches in length.

Sell and purchase. Includes letting or hiring and similar forms of transferring.

Sec. 40-3. Unlawful possession of pistol. (a) No person shall own or keep a pistol, or have a pistol in his possession or under his control, within the city if:

- (1) He is a drug addict.
- (2) He has been convicted in the city or elsewhere of a felony.
- (3) He has been convicted of soliciting for prostitution, vagrancy or keeping a bawdy or disorderly house.

(4) He is not licensed under section 40-10 to sell weapons, and he has been convicted of violating section 40-2.

(5) He is a habitual drunkard.

(b) No person shall keep a pistol for, or intentionally make a pistol available to, such a person, knowing that he has been so convicted or that he is a drug addict or a habitual drunkard. Whoever violates this section shall be punished as provided in this Code, unless the violation occurs after he has been convicted of a violation of this section, in which case he shall be confined for not more than one year in jail.

Sec. 40-7. Sales of pistols to certain persons prohibited. No person shall within the city sell any pistol to a person who he has reasonable cause to believe is not of sound mind, or is forbidden by section 40-3 to possess a pistol, or, except when the relation of parent and child or guardian and ward exists, is under the age of twenty-one years.

Sec. 40-8. Transfers of firearms regulated. No seller shall within the city deliver a pistol to the purchaser thereof until seventy-two hours shall have elapsed from the time of the application for the purchase thereof; except, that the chief of police, in his discretion, may authorize in writing the seller to deliver a pistol to the purchaser during the seventy-two hours period, and, when delivered, the pistol shall be securely wrapped and shall be unloaded.  The seller shall, within six hours after such application, or not later than 10:00 A.M. on the succeeding day, sign and attach his address and deliver one copy to such person as the chief of police of the city may designate, and shall retain the other copy for six years. The chief of police or his designate shall, upon receipt of an application to purchase a pistol, make such investigation of the applicant and file an information report with the seller stating whether or not the applicant is, in his opinion, prohibited by section 40-3 or 40-7 from purchasing a pistol. No machine gun, sawed-off shotgun or blackjack shall be sold to any person other than the persons designated in section 40-14 as entitled to possess the same and then only after permission to make such sale has been obtained from the chief of police of the city. This section shall not apply to sales at wholesale to licensed dealers.

Sec. 40-9. Weapon dealer's license—Required. No retail dealer shall, within the city, sell or expose for sale or have in his possession with intent to sell, any pistol, machine gun, sawed-off shotgun or blackjack without being licensed as provided in section 40-10. No wholesale dealer shall, within the city, sell, or have in his possession with intent to sell, to any person other than a licensed dealer, any pistol, machine gun, sawed-off shotgun, or blackjack.

Sec. 40-10. Same—Issuance; conditions; records. The city council may, in their discretion, grant licenses and may prescribe the form thereof, effective for not more than one year from date of issue, permitting the licensee to sell pistols, machine guns, sawed-off shotguns and blackjacks at retail within the city subject to the following conditions, in addition to those specified in section 40-9 for breach of any of which the licensee shall be subject to forfeiture and the licensee subject to the punishment as provided in this Code:

- (1) The business shall be carried on only in the building designated in the license.
- (2) The license or a copy thereof, certified by the issuing authority, shall be displayed on the premises where it can be easily read.
- (3) No pistol shall be sold (a) if the seller has reasonable cause to believe that the purchaser is not of sound mind or is forbidden by section 40-3 to possess a pistol or is under the age of twenty-one years, and (b) unless the purchaser is personally known to the seller or shall present clear evidence of his identity. No machine gun, sawed-off shotgun, or blackjack shall be sold to any person other than the person designated in section 40-14 as entitled to possess the same, and then only after permission to make such sale has been obtained from the chief of police of the city.

(4) A true record shall be made in a book kept for the purpose [contact local authorities for required contents] ***

(5) A true record in duplicate shall be made of every pistol, machine gun, sawed-off shotgun and blackjack sold, such record to be made in a book kept for the purpose [contact local authorities for required contents] ***

(6) No pistol or imitation thereof or placard advertising the sale thereof shall be displayed in any part of the premises where it can readily be seen from the outside. No license to sell at retail shall be granted to anyone except as provided in this section.

Sec. 40-11. False information forbidden in sale of weapons. No person shall, in purchasing a pistol or in applying for a license to carry same, or in purchasing a machine gun, sawed-off shotgun or blackjack within the city, give false information or offer false evidence of his identity.

Sec. 40-12. Alteration of identifying marks of weapons. No person shall within the city, change, alter, remove or obliterate the name of the maker, model, manufacturer's number or other mark of identification on any pistol, machine gun or sawed-off shotgun. Possession of any pistol, machine gun or sawed-off shotgun upon which any such mark shall have been changed, altered, removed or obliterated shall be prima facie evidence that the possessor has changed, altered or obliterated the same within the city; provided, that nothing contained in this section shall apply to any officer or agent of any of the departments of the United States or the city engaged in experimental work.

Sec. 40-14. Possession of certain dangerous weapons prohibited. (a) No person shall, within the city, possess any machine gun, sawed-off shotgun  nor any instrument, attachment or appliance for causing the firing of any firearm to be silent or intended to lessen or muffle the noise of the firing of any firearms; provided, that machine guns or sawed-off shotguns, and blackjacks may be possessed by the members of the Army, Navy or Marine Corps of the United States, the National Guard or organized reserves when on duty, the Post Office Department or its employees when on duty, marshals, sheriffs, prison or jail wardens, or their deputies, policemen, or other duly-appointed law enforcement officers, officers or employees of the United States duly authorized to carry such weapons, banking institutions, public carriers who are engaged in the business of transporting mail, money, securities or other valuables, wholesale dealers and retail dealers licensed under section 40-10.

Virgin Islands

V.I. Code

Title 23

Sec. 451. Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context clearly requires otherwise—

(a) "Ammunition" means any bullet, cartridge, projectile, buckshot, or any load placed or which may be placed in a firearm to be discharged.

(b) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of Public Safety of the Virgin Islands.

(c) "Department" means the Department of Public Safety of the Virgin Islands.

(d) "Firearm" means any device by whatever name known, capable of discharging ammunition by means of gas generated from an explosive composition, including any air, gas or spring gun or any "BB" pistols or "BB" guns that have been adapted or modified to discharge projectiles as a firearm.

(e) "Crime of violence" means any of the following crimes, or an attempt to commit any of the same, namely: Murder in any degree, voluntary manslaughter, rape, arson, mayhem, kidnapping, assault in the first degree, assault with or by means of a deadly or dangerous weapon, assault to do great bodily harm, robbery, burglary, housebreaking, breaking and entering and larceny.

(f) "Dealer in firearms and/or ammunition" means any person engaged in the business of selling firearms and/or ammunition, for a profit or gain.

(g) "Gunsmith" means any person who engages in the business of repairing, altering, cleaning, polishing, engraving, blueing or performing any mechanical operation on any firearm on an individual order basis.

(h) "Machine gun" means any firearm which shoots automatically or semi-automatically more than 12 shots without reloading * * *

Sec. 452. Applicability of chapter. No person shall have, possess, bear, transport or carry a firearm within the Virgin Islands, or engage in the business of dealer in firearms and/or ammunition or the business of gunsmith, except in compliance with the provisions of this chapter.

Sec. 453. Persons who may lawfully carry firearms. (a) The following persons, in the discharge of their official duties, and in accordance with and subject to the conditions and restrictions imposed by the laws and regulations applicable to their conduct, may lawfully have, possess, bear, transport and carry firearms in the Virgin Islands:

(1) Members of the Armed Forces of the United States or of the organized reserves.

(2) Officers and employees of the United States duly authorized by Federal law to carry firearms.

(3) Persons employed in fulfilling defense contracts with the United States Government or agencies thereof where possession or use of firearms is necessary under the provisions of such contracts.

(4) Members of the police force of the Virgin Islands, marshals, or other duly authorized peace officers.

(5) Penitentiary and jail wardens and guards.

(b) The persons authorized by subsection (a) of this section lawfully to have, possess, bear, transport and carry firearms shall obtain such weapons and ammunition therefor only through the duly authorized officers or heads of their respective services or departments.

Sec. 454. Persons who may be licensed to carry firearms. A firearm may be lawfully had, possessed, borne, transported or carried in the Virgin Islands by the following persons, provided a license for such purpose has been issued by the Commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this chapter:

(1) An officer or employee of the Government of the Virgin Islands in cases where such license, in the judgment of the Commissioner, should be issued to such officer or employee by reason of the duties of his position;

(2) An agent, messenger or other employee of a common carrier, bank or business firm, whose duties require him to protect money, valuables or other property in the discharge of his duties; And provided, That the employer of such person shall have justified to the satisfaction of the Commissioner the need for the issuance of the license;

(3) A person having a bona fide residence or place of business within the Virgin Islands, who established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he has good reason to fear death or great injury to his person or property, or who establishes any other proper reason for carrying a firearm, and the circumstances of the case, established by affidavit of the applicant and of at least two credible persons, demonstrate the need for such license;

(4) A person licensed to and actively engaged in the business of manufacturing, repairing or dealing in firearms in the Virgin Islands, or the agents or representatives of any such person, having necessity to handle or use firearms in the usual or ordinary course of business;

(5) With respect to a rifle or a shotgun a person possessing a valid and current Virgin Islands hunting license.

Sec. 461. License to sell firearms and/or ammunition; gunsmiths; report of transactions; private transfer sales to minors or aliens. (a) No person may engage in the business of dealer in firearms and/or ammunition or as a gunsmith without holding a license therefor issued by the Commissioner of Finance upon favorable report of the Commissioner of Public Safety.

(d) No person licensed or otherwise, may sell or furnish firearms or ammunition to a minor, except that a shotgun or rifle of such type or caliber as the Commissioner may prescribe or ammunition therefor, may be sold or furnished by a licensed dealer to a minor who displays a hunting or sporting license issued him in accordance with the laws of the Virgin Islands, and who further displays the written consent of his parent, guardian, or other responsible person acting in their absence and interest, in which such sale or delivery has been authorized.

Sec. 463. Qualifications of dealer or gunsmith. No license to engage in the business of gunsmith or of dealer in firearms and/or ammunition shall be issued to a person not over 21 years of age, and not a resident of the Virgin Islands and a citizen of the United States.

When the applicant is a corporation, it shall be organized under the laws of the Virgin Islands, and if a partnership, all partners shall be residents of the Virgin Islands and citizens of the United States.

Sec. 465. Conditions for dealers' operations * * * Any person, to whom a license has been issued under section 461 of this chapter may engage in the business of gunsmith or of dealer in firearms and/or ammunition under the following conditions.

(3) Under no circumstance shall a weapon or shall ammunition be sold unless the vendor is personally acquainted with the buyer or the latter clearly establishes his identity.

Sec. 466. Sales of weapons and ammunition without licenses prohibited; sales slips. No dealer in firearms or ammunition shall deliver a firearm to a purchaser without the latter's handing over to him a license to have and possess a firearm, duly issued in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and unless said license contains an authorization for the purchase of such firearm, and said dealer shall not sell to such purchaser any other weapon than the one described in said license. The dealer in firearms and ammunition shall separate from such license and keep the dealer's coupon, and shall return the license to the purchaser. No weapon shall be sold to the holder of a license from which the coupon has been removed, and in no case shall a pistol, revolver, or other firearm be delivered to the purchaser thereof until after forty-eight (48) hours have elapsed from the time he applies for the purchase and the same shall be delivered to him unloaded and securely wrapped.

No dealer in firearms or ammunition shall sell any quantity of ammunition to any person failing to present a firearm license.

Sec. 467. Selling firearms without a license. Whoever, without being licensed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, sells, has in his possession with the intent to sell, exposes for sale, or advertises for sale, any firearm or ammunition, or without being so licensed engages in the business of a gunsmith, shall be punished [as prescribed by law] * * *.

Sec. 476. Collections of antique firearms; certificates of uselessness. No provision hereof shall prevent that private collections of antique firearms, which may not be used as weapons, be preserved and maintained and that their owners possess them as ornaments or as matters of curiosity, nor the collections of firearms kept as relics, but for the preservation of any weapon of those included in this section the prior inspection thereof and approval therefor by the Commissioner shall be necessary and he shall render such firearms useless, so that the same may not be used as such. The Commissioner shall issue a certificate of uselessness of all the weapons possessed under the provisions of this section, and the possession of any firearm not included in said certificate shall be subject to all the provisions hereof.

Washington

State Law

Wash. Rev. Code Ann.

Title 9

9.40.110 "Fire bombs"—Definitions. For the purposes of RCW 9.40.110 through 9.40.130, as now or hereafter amended, unless the context indicates otherwise:

(1) "Disposes of" means to give, give away, loan, offer, offer for sale, sell, or transfer.

(2) "Incendiary device" means any material, substance, device, or combination thereof which is capable of supplying the initial ignition and/or fuel for a fire and is designed to be used as an instrument of wilful destruction. However, no device commercially manufactured primarily for the purpose of illumination shall be deemed to be an incendiary device for purposes of this section.

9.40.120—Penalty. Every person who possesses, manufactures, or disposes of an incendiary device knowing it to be such is guilty of a felony, and upon conviction, shall be punished by imprisonment in a state prison for a term of not more than twenty-five years.

9.40.130—Exceptions. RCW 9.40.120, as now or hereafter amended, shall not prohibit the authorized use or possession of any material, substance, or device described therein by a member of the armed forces of the United States or by firemen, or peace officers, nor shall these sections prohibit the use or possession of any material, substance, or device described therein when used solely for scientific research or educational purposes or for any lawful purpose. RCW 9.40.120, as now or hereafter amended, shall not prohibit the manufacture or disposal of an incendiary device for the parties or purposes described in this section.

Chapter 9.41—Firearms and Dangerous Weapons

9.41.010 Terms defined.

"Short firearm" or "pistol" as used in RCW 9.41.010 through 9.41.160 means any firearm with a barrel less than twelve inches in length.

"Crime of violence" as used in RCW 9.41.010 through 9.41.160 means any of the following crimes or an attempt to commit any of the same: Murder, manslaughter, rape, riot, mayhem, first degree assault, second degree assault, robbery, burglary and kidnapping.

9.41.040. Certain persons forbidden to possess arms. No person who has been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence, shall own a pistol or have one in his possession or under his control. Such person upon being convicted of a violation of this section shall be guilty of a felony and punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than ten years.

9.41.080. Delivery to minors and others forbidden. No person shall deliver a pistol to any person under the age of twenty-one or to one who he has reasonable cause to believe has been convicted of a crime of violence, or is a drug addict, an habitual drunkard, or of unsound mind.

9.41.090. Sales regulated—Application to purchase—Grounds for denial. In addition to the other requirements of RCW sections 9.41.010 through 9.41.150 as now or hereinafter amended, no seller shall deliver a pistol to the purchaser thereof until seventy-two hours shall have elapsed from the time of the application for the purchase thereof as provided herein, and, when delivered, said pistol shall be securely wrapped and shall be unloaded.

At the time of applying for the purchase of a pistol the purchaser shall sign in duplicate and deliver to the seller an application containing his full name, address, occupation, place of birth, and the date and hour of the application; and a description of the weapon including, the make, model, caliber and manufacturer's number; and a statement that he has never been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence, drug addiction or habitual drunkenness, or is legally judged to be of unsound mind. The seller shall, by the end of the business day, sign and attach his address and deliver the original of such application to the chief of police of the municipality or the sheriff of the county of which the seller is a resident. The seller shall deliver the pistol to the purchaser following seventy-two hours thereafter unless the seller is notified in writing by the chief of police of the municipality or the sheriff of the county, whichever is applicable, denying the purchaser's application to purchase and the grounds thereof. The application shall not be denied unless the purchaser has been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence, drug addiction, or habitual drunkenness, or is legally judged to be of unsound mind. The chief of police of the municipality or the county sheriff shall maintain a file containing the original of the application to purchase a pistol.

9.41.093. Exemptions. The following shall be exempt from the provisions of section 9.41.090 RCW as now or hereinafter amended: sales by wholesalers to dealers; and the sale of antique pistols exempted by the provisions of RCW 9.41.150, as amended.

9.41.110. Dealer's licenses, by whom granted and conditions thereof—Wholesale sales excepted—Permits prohibited. The duly constituted licensing authorities of any city, town, or political subdivision of this state shall grant licenses in forms prescribed by the director of licenses effective for not more than one year from the date of issue permitting the licensee to sell pistols within this state subject to the following conditions, for breach of any of which the license shall be forfeited and the licensee subject to punishment as provided in RCW 9.41.010 through 9.41.160.

(1) The business shall be carried on only in the building designated in the license.

(2) The license or a copy thereof, certified by the issuing authority, shall be displayed on the premises where it can easily be read.

(3) No pistol shall be sold (a) in violation of any provisions of RCW 9.41.010 through 9.41.160, nor (b) shall a pistol be sold under any circumstances unless the purchaser is personally known to the seller or shall present clear evidence of his identity.

(4) A true record in triplicate shall be made of every pistol sold, in a book kept for the purpose, the form of which may be prescribed by the director of licenses and shall be personally signed by the purchaser and by the person effecting the sale, each in the presence of the other, and shall contain the date of sale, the caliber, make, model and manufacturer's number of the weapon, the name, address, occupation, and place of birth of the purchaser and a statement signed by the purchaser that he has never been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence. * * *

(5) This section shall not apply to sales at wholesale.

(6) The dealer's licenses authorized to be issued by this section are general licenses covering all sales by the licensee within the effective period of the licenses.

(7) Except as provided in RCW 9.41.090 as now or hereinafter amended, every city, town and political subdivision of this state is prohibited from requiring the purchaser to secure a permit to purchase or from requiring the dealer to secure an individual permit for each sale.

The fee paid for issuing said license shall be five dollars which fee shall be paid into the state treasury.

9.41.140. Alteration of identifying marks—Exceptions. No person shall change, alter, remove, or obliterate the name of the maker, model, manufacturer's number, or other mark of identification on any pistol. Possession of any pistol upon which any such mark shall have been changed, altered, removed, or obliterated, shall be prima facie evidence that the possessor has changed, altered, removed, or obliterated the same. This shall not apply to replacement barrels in old revolvers, which barrels are produced by current manufacturers and therefore do not have the markings on the barrels of the original manufacturers who are no longer in business.

9.41.150. Exemptions. RCW 9.41.010 through 9.41.160 shall not apply to antique pistols and revolvers manufactured prior to 1898 and held as collector's items.

9.41.170. Alien's license to carry firearms. It shall be unlawful for any person who is not a citizen of the United States, or who has not declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, to carry or have in his possession at any time any shotgun, rifle, or other firearm, without first having obtained a license from the director of motor vehicles, and such license is not to be issued by the director of motor vehicles except upon the certificate of the consul domiciled in the state and representing the country of such alien, that he is a responsible person and upon the payment for the license of the sum of fifteen dollars: PROVIDED, That this section shall not apply to Canadian citizens resident in a province which has an enactment or public policy providing substantially similar privilege to residents of the state of Washington and who are carrying or possessing weapons for the purpose of using them in the hunting of game while such persons are in the act of hunting, or while on a hunting trip, or while such persons are competing in a bona fide trap or skeet shoot or any other organized contest where rifles, pistols, or shotguns are used as to weapons used in such contest. Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow aliens to hunt or fish in this state without first having obtained a regular hunting or fishing license. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

9.41.190. Machine guns prohibited. That it shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, own, buy, sell, loan, furnish, transport, or have in possession, or under control, any machine gun, or any part thereof capable of use or assembling or repairing any machine gun: Provided, however, That such limitation shall not apply to any peace officer in the discharge of official duty, or to any officer or member of the armed forces of the United States or the state of Washington.

9.41.200. Machine gun defined. For the purpose of RCW 9.41.190 through 9.41.220 a machine gun is defined as any firearm or weapon known as a machine gun, mechanical rifle, submachine gun, and/or any other weapon, mechanism, or instrument not requiring that the trigger be pressed for each shot and having a reservoir clip, disc, drum, belt, or other separable mechanical device for storing, carrying, or supplying ammunition which can be loaded into such weapon, mechanism, or instrument, and fired therefrom at the rate of five or more shots per second.

9.41.240. Use of firearms by minor. No minor under the age of fourteen years shall handle or have in his possession or under his control, except while accompanied by or under the immediate charge of his parent or guardian or other adult approved for the purpose of this section by the parent or guardian, or while under the supervision of a certified safety instructor at an established gun range or firearm training class, any firearm of any kind for hunting or target practice or for other purposes. Every person violating any of the foregoing provisions, or aiding or knowingly permitting any such minor to violate the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

mental institution shall own a pistol or have one in his possession or under his control.

10.20.070. Delivery to minors and certain others forbidden. No person shall deliver a pistol to any person under the age of 21 or to one whom he has reasonable cause to believe has been convicted of a crime of violence or of drug addiction or of habitual drunkenness or has been confined to a mental institution.

10.20.080. Pistol Sales Regulated. A. No pistol shall be sold:

1. In violation of any provision of RCW 9.41.010 through 9.41.160; nor

2. Shall a pistol be sold under any circumstances unless the purchaser is personally known to the sellers or shall present clear evidence of his identity.

B. No seller shall deliver a pistol to the purchaser thereof until seventy-two hours shall have elapsed from the time of the application for the purchase thereof as provided herein, and when delivered, the pistol shall be securely wrapped and unloaded.

C. At the time of applying for the purchase of a pistol the purchaser shall sign in duplicate and deliver to the seller an application  and a statement  [contact local authorities for required contents]. The seller shall, by the end of the business day, sign and attach his address and deliver the original of such application to the chief of police ***.

10.20.090. Pistol dealers to be licensed. No retail dealer shall sell or otherwise transfer, or expose for sale or transfer, or have in his possession with intent to sell, or otherwise transfer any pistol without being licensed as provided by law under the requirements of RCW 9.41.110.

10.20.120. False information in obtaining pistol. No person shall in purchasing or otherwise securing delivery of a pistol or in applying for a license to carry the same give false information or offer false evidence of his identity.

10.20.140. Machine guns prohibited. It is unlawful for any person to manufacture, own, buy, sell, loan, furnish, transport, or to have in possession, or under control, any machine gun, or any part thereof capable of use or assembling or repairing any machine gun; provided, however, that such limitation shall not apply to any police officer in the discharge of official duty, or to any officer or member of the armed forces of the United States or the State of Washington.

10.20.150. Machine gun defined. For the purpose of this chapter a machine gun means any firearm or weapon known as a machine gun, mechanical rifle, submachine gun, and/or any other weapon, mechanism or instrument not requiring that the trigger be pressed for each shot and having a reservoir clip, disc, drum, belt or other separable mechanical device for storing, carrying or supplying ammunition which can be loaded into such weapon, mechanism or instrument and fired therefrom at a rate of five or more shots per second.

10.20.160. Machine guns or parts contraband. All machine guns, or parts thereof, illegally held or possessed are hereby declared to be contraband, and it shall be the duty of all police officers to seize said machine gun, or parts thereof, wherever and whenever found.

10.20.270 Application. It shall be unlawful for any merchant or secondhand dealer, or any clerk, agent or employee of any merchant or secondhand dealer, to sell, give away or dispose of any pistol to any person at retail, unless such person is personally known to the seller or presents clear evidence of his identity, nor without completing a true record in triplicate of every pistol sold or disposed of. Such record shall be personally signed by the purchaser and by the person effecting the sale, each in the presence of the other and shall contain  a statement signed by the purchaser [contact local authorities for required contents] . One copy shall within six hours be sent by registered mail to the chief of police of the city who shall, within, seventy-two hours, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, investigate the information contained in the record and report his findings to the merchant or secondhand dealer.

10.20.280 Delivery. It is unlawful for any merchant or secondhand dealer or any clerk, agent or employee of any merchant or secondhand dealer to deliver any pistol to any purchaser until said merchant or secondhand dealer has received a report from the chief of police that the purchaser is not a fugitive from justice and that the purchaser has never been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence, or of drug addiction or of habitual drunkenness and has never been confined to a mental institution; provided, that if such merchant or secondhand dealer does not receive such report from the chief of police within seventy-two hours, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, after he has mailed a copy of the record to the chief of police as required by Section 10.20.270, then such merchant or secondhand dealer may deliver the pistol to the purchaser; provided further, that this section shall not apply to sales at wholesale, or to sales to persons exhibiting a valid license to carry a pistol concealed issued pursuant to RCW 9.41.070, or to sales to law enforcement officers.

10.28.290 Prohibited transactions. It is unlawful for any person who is a fugitive from justice or who has been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence, or of drug addition or of habitual drunkenness or has been confined to a mental institution, to purchase a pistol in this city, and it is further unlawful for any person to fail to disclose

6-146: Dealers to be licensed: No retail dealer shall sell or otherwise transfer, or expose for sale or transfer, or have in his possession with intent to sell or otherwise transfer, any pistol without being licensed as provided by law.

6-147: Certain transfers forbidden: No person other than a duly licensed dealer shall make any loan secured by a mortgage, deposit or pledge of a pistol. Any licensed dealer receiving a pistol as a deposit or pledge for a loan shall keep such records and make such reports as are provided by law for pawnbrokers and second-hand dealers in cities of the first class. A duly licensed dealer may mortgage any pistol or stock of pistols but shall not deposit or pledge the same with any other person. No person shall lend or give a pistol to another or otherwise deliver a pistol contrary to the provisions of this Chapter.

6-148: False information forbidden: No person shall, in purchasing or otherwise securing delivery of a pistol or in applying for a license to carry the same, give false information or offer false evidence of his identity.

6-150: Exceptions: This Chapter shall not apply to antique pistols unsuitable for use as firearms and possessed as curiosities or ornaments.

6-151: Machine guns; prohibited: That it shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, own, buy, sell, loan, furnish, transport or have in possession or under control, any machine gun or any part thereof capable of use or assembling or repairing any machine gun; provided, however, that such limitation shall not apply to any police officer in the discharge of official duty, or to any officer or member of the armed forces of the United States or the State of Washington.

6-152: Machine gun defined: For the purpose of this Chapter a machine gun is defined as any firearm or weapon known as a machine gun, mechanical rifle, submachine gun, and/or any other weapon, mechanism, or instrument not requiring that the trigger be pressed for each shot and having a reservoir clip, disc, drum, belt or other separable mechanical device for storing, carrying or supplying ammunition which can be loaded into such weapon, mechanism or instrument, and fired therefrom at the rate of five or more shots per second.

6-153: Machine guns or parts contraband: All machine guns, or parts thereof, illegally held or possessed are hereby declared to be contraband and it shall be the duty of all police officers to seize said machine gun or parts thereof, wherever and whenever found.

Seattle

Section 12A.17.010 Definitions. The following definitions apply in this chapter.

(1) "pistol" means any firearm or other weapon for the purpose of discharging a projectile by means of compressed air, chemical, combustion, or otherwise and having a barrel less than twelve inches in length.

(2) "Fugitive from justice" means a person who, having committed a crime, flees from the jurisdiction where it was committed to evade arrest.

(5) "gas pen," "gas pencil," "gas bomb" and "gas pistol" mean any pen, pencil, bomb, pistol or other device which is capable of containing and emitting tear gas or any noxious liquid, gas or substance.

Section 12A.17.080 Unlawful sale of pistol. It is unlawful for any merchant or secondhand dealer or any clerk, agent or employee of any merchant or secondhand dealer, to knowingly sell, give away or dispose of any pistol to any person at retail, unless such person is personally known to the seller or shall present clear evidence of his identity, or without completing a true record in triplicate of every pistol sold or disposed of. Such record, which shall be in the form of an application for purchase, shall be personally signed by the purchaser and by the person effecting the sale, each in the presence of the other [contact local authorities for required contents] * * *. One copy shall within six hours be sent by registered mail to the chief of police of the city of Seattle who shall, within seventy-two hours, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, investigate the information contained in the record and report in writing his findings to the merchant or secondhand dealer, and if the chief of police denies such application to purchase, he shall in such report so notify said merchant or secondhand dealer stating the grounds for such denial; provided, that such application shall not be denied unless the purchaser has been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence, drug addiction, or habitual drunkenness, or is legally judged to be of unsound mind; provided further, that this section and Section 12A.17.100 shall not apply to sales by wholesalers to dealers, or to the sale of antique pistols or revolvers manufactured prior to 1898 and held as collector's items.

Section 12A.17.100 Unlawful delivery to purchaser. It is unlawful for any merchant or secondhand dealer or as any clerk, agent, or employee of any merchant or secondhand dealer to knowingly deliver any pistol to any purchaser until seventy-two hours, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, shall have elapsed from the time of application for the purchase thereof as provided in Section 2 hereof; and it is further unlawful for any merchant or secondhand dealer, or any such clerk, agent or employee to knowingly deliver any pistol to any purchaser whose application to purchase has been denied by the chief of police and the merchant or secondhand dealer so notified in writing as provided in Section 2 hereof within such seventy-two hour period. * * *. Provided, that if such merchant or secondhand dealer does not receive such report from the chief of police within seventy-two hours, exclusive of Sundays and holidays, after he has mailed a copy of the record to the chief of police as required by Section 12A.17.080, then such merchant or secondhand dealer may deliver the pistol to the purchaser; provided further, that this section shall not apply to sales at wholesale, or to sales to persons exhibiting a valid license to carry a pistol concealed issued pursuant to RCW 9A.1070 or 12A.17.040 of this title or to sales to peace officers.

Section 12A.17.120 Unlawful purchases—False statements. It is unlawful for any person who has been convicted in this state or elsewhere of a crime of violence, or of drug addiction or of habitual drunkenness or who is legally judged to be of unsound mind to purchase a pistol in this city, and it is further unlawful for any person to knowingly make any false statement in his application to purchase a pistol.

Section 12A.24.040 Unlawful purchase, acquisition, possession or use of arms. A person is guilty of unlawful purchase, acquisition, possession or use of arms if he is under the age of eighteen (18) years and knowingly purchases, attempts to purchase, acquires, possesses or uses any firearm of any kind or any spring gun, air gun or slingshot, or any ammunition for any such firearm or gun, except while accompanied by or under the immediate charge of his parent or legal guardian or other adult approved for the purpose of this section by such parent or guardian, or while under the supervision of a certified safety instructor at an established gun range or firearm training class.

Section 12A.24.050 Unlawful aiding the purchase, acquisition, possession or use of arms. A person is guilty of unlawfully aiding the purchase, acquisition, possession or use of arms if he knowingly aids in a violation of or permits any person to violate the provisions of Section 12A.24.040.

Section 12A.24.060 Unlawful furnishing, purchase, acquisition, possession or use of pistol. Notwithstanding the provisions of 12A.24.040 and 12A.24.050 a person is guilty of unlawful furnishing, purchase, acquisition, possession or use of a pistol if he is under the age of eighteen (18) years and knowingly purchases, attempts to purchase, acquires, possesses or uses a pistol as defined by Section 12A.17.010(1), or if he is a person who knowingly sells, gives, furnishes or causes to be furnished or permits to be sold, given or furnished a pistol to any person under the age of eighteen (18) years, or if he is a person who knowingly permits a person under the age of eighteen (18) years to possess or use a pistol.

State Law

Wisc. Stat. Ann.

164.01 Definitions. (1) "Machine gun" applies to and includes a weapon of any description by whatever name known from which more than two shots or bullets may be discharged by a single function of the firing device.

(2) "Crime of violence" applies to and includes any of the following crimes or an attempt to commit any of the same, namely, murder, manslaughter, kidnapping, rape, mayhem, assault to do great bodily harm, robbery, burglary, housebreaking, breaking and entering, and larceny.

(3) "Person" applies to and includes firm, partnership, association or corporation.

164.03 Possession for aggressive purpose. Possession or use of a machine gun for offensive or aggressive purpose is hereby declared to be a crime punishable by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for a term of not less than 10 years.

164.04 Possession when presumed for aggressive purpose. Possession or use of a machine gun shall be presumed to be for offensive or aggressive purpose:

(1) When the machine gun is on premises not owned or rented, for bona fide permanent residence or business occupancy, by the person in whose possession the machine gun may be found; or

(2) When in the possession of, or used by, an unnaturalized foreign-born person, or a person, who has been convicted of a crime of violence in any court of record, state or federal, of the United States of America, its territories or insular possession; or

(3) When the machine gun is of the kind described in section 164.08 and has not been registered as in said section required; or

(4) When empty or loaded pistol shells of 30 (.30 in. or 7.63 mm.) or larger caliber which have been used or are susceptible of use in the machine gun are found in the immediate vicinity thereof.

164.06 Exceptions. Nothing contained in this chapter shall prohibit or interfere with the manufacture for, and sale of, machine guns to the military forces or the peace officers of the United States or of any political subdivision thereof, or the transportation required for that purpose; the possession of a machine gun for scientific purpose, or the possession of a machine gun not usable as a weapon and possessed as a curiosity, ornament, or keepsake; the possession of a machine gun other than one adapted to use pistol cartridges of 30 (.30 in. or 7.63 mm.) or larger caliber, for a purpose manifestly not aggressive or offensive.

164.07 Manufacturer to register machine guns. Every manufacturer shall keep a register of all machine guns manufactured or handled by him. This register shall show the model and serial number, date of manufacture, sale, loan, gift, delivery or receipt, of every machine gun, the name, address, and occupation of the person to whom the machine gun was sold, loaned, given or delivered, or from whom it was received; and the purpose for which it was acquired by the person to whom the machine gun was sold, loaned, given or delivered, or from whom received. Upon demand every manufacturer shall permit any marshal, sheriff or police officer to inspect his entire stock of machine guns, parts, and supplies therefor, and shall produce the register, herein required, for inspection. A violation of any provision of this section shall be punishable by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars.

164.08 Owner to register machine gun. Every machine gun now in this state adapted to use pistol cartridges of 30 (.30 in. or 7.63 mm.) or larger caliber shall be registered by the owner in the office of the secretary of state on May 15, 1933 and annually thereafter. If acquired hereafter it shall be registered within 24 hours after its acquisition. Blanks for registration shall be prepared by the secretary of state, and furnished upon application. To comply with this section the application as filed must show the model and serial number of the gun, the name, address and occupation of the person in possession, and from whom and the purpose for which, the gun was acquired. The registration data shall not be subject to inspection by the public. Any person failing to register any guns, as required by this section, shall be presumed to possess the same for offensive or aggressive purpose.

164.20 Machine guns and other weapons; use in certain cases; penalty. (1) No person shall sell, possess, use or transport any machine gun or other full automatic firearm, nor shall any person sell, possess, use, or transport any bomb, hand grenade, projectile, shell or other container of any kind or character into which tear gas or any similar substance is used or placed for use to cause bodily discomfort, panic, or damage to property.

(2) Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than one year nor more than three years.

(3) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the sale, possession, use or transportation of any such weapons or containers to or by any national guardsman in line of duty, any civil enforcement officer of the state or of any city or county, or any person duly authorized by the chief of police of any city or the sheriff of any county to sell, possess, use or transport such weapons or containers; nor shall the restriction on transportation apply to common carriers.

175.30 Purchase of firearms in contiguous states permitted. It is lawful for a resident of this state or a corporation or other business entity maintaining a place of business in this state to purchase or otherwise obtain a rifle or shotgun in a state contiguous to this state if the transfer complies with federal law and the laws of both states.

175.35 Waiting period for purchase of handguns. (1) In this section, "handgun" means any weapon designed or redesigned, or made or remade, and intended to be fired while held in one hand and to use the energy of an explosive to expel a projectile through a smooth or rifled bore.

(2) (a) No firearms dealer licensed by the U.S. department of the treasury may transfer possession of any handgun to any person for 48 hours following purchase of such handgun.

(b) This section shall not apply to the transfer of any handgun classed as an antique by regulations of the treasury department or to transfers between licensed firearms dealers or between wholesalers and dealers.

939.22 Words and phrases defined. In the criminal code, the following words and phrases have the designated meanings unless the context of a specific section manifestly requires a different construction:

(10) "Dangerous weapon" means any firearm, whether loaded or unloaded, or any device designed as a weapon and capable of producing death or great bodily harm, or any other device or instrumentality which, in the manner it is used or intended to be used, is calculated or likely to produce death or great bodily harm.

941.22 Possession of pistol by minor. (1) Any minor who goes armed with a pistol or any person who intentionally sells, loans or gives a pistol to a minor may be fined not more than $500 or imprisoned not more than one year in county jail or both.

30-51. Definitions. For the purposes of this article, the following words and phrases shall have the meanings respectively ascribed to them by this section:

Dealer: Any person engaged in the business of selling firearms at wholesale or retail or of accepting pledges of pistols as security for loans.

Firearm: Any weapon which is designed to expel a projectile by the action of expanding gases.

30-52. Exceptions. This article shall not apply to duly appointed officers of the city, county or state or of the United States in the lawful discharge of their duties as such officers, nor to transactions in which delivery is made of a pistol by mail or other common carrier to a destination not within the city.

30-56. Possession of firearms—Criminals, drug addicts, etc. No person who has been convicted of a crime of violence in any court of the United States, the several states, territories, possessions or the District of Columbia or who is a fugitive from justice or is of unsound mind or is a drug addict or an habitual drunkard or is a member of a subversive organization shall possess a firearm within the city.

Arrests, without a warrant, and searches and seizures pursuant thereto, may be made for violations of this section by police officers, as in the case of a felony, upon probable cause that the person arrested is carrying a pistol in violation of this section at the time of arrest.

30-57. Same—Minors. No person under the age of eighteen (18) years shall possess a firearm. This section shall not apply to the issuance of pistols to members of the state militia, ROTC, or the armed forces of the United States for training or active duty or to temporary loans of pistols for instruction under the immediate supervision of a parent or guardian.

30-58. Sale, possession, etc., of firearms without manufacturer's identification mark prohibited. No person shall receive, possess, sell, lease or otherwise transfer any firearm from which the manufacturer's identification mark or serial number has been removed.

30-65. License—Required. No person shall sell any firearm at wholesale or retail or shall lease, pledge or accept any firearm as security for a loan without obtaining a license therefor. ~

30-69. Pistols—Sale and delivery. When any sale of a pistol, the overall length of which is less than six (6) inches, is made under this article, forty-eight (48) hours must elapse between the time of the sale and the time of delivery to the purchaser. All pistols shall be securely wrapped and unloaded when delivered to the purchaser.

30-71. Sales, etc., to criminals, dope addicts, etc. No person shall sell, lease, lend or otherwise transfer a firearm to any person whom he knows or has reasonable cause to believe has been convicted of a crime of violence or is a fugitive from justice or is of unsound mind or is intoxicated or is a drug addict or an habitual drunkard or is a member of a subversive organization.

30-72. Sales, etc., to minors. No dealer shall sell, lease, lend or otherwise transfer a firearm to any minor except as provided in section 30-57.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Office of the Secretary

VOLUNTARY CONSUMER PRODUCT
INFORMATION LABELING PROGRAMProposed Specification for Labeling of Thermal Insulation for Homes

AGENCY: Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Science and Technology, Commerce.

ACTION: Proposed performance information labeling specification.

SUMMARY: Pursuant to the procedures for a voluntary consumer product information labeling program, as amended (15 CFR Part 16; 42 FR 26647, dated May 25, 1977; 42 FR 57686, dated November 4, 1977; and 43 FR 8254, dated March 1, 1978), this notice announces the Department's proposed performance information labeling specification for the labeling of thermal insulation for homes under the program and invites interested persons to comment thereon. The proposed specification includes a description of the product and the performance characteristics covered, identification of product test methods to be used, label designs and label display requirements, and requirements for participation in the program with respect to thermal insulation for homes.

A separate notice is also being published in this issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER announcing the Secretary's intention to suspend fees for participation in this program with respect to thermal insulation for homes.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before July 14, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION
CONTACT:

Dr. Howard I. Forman, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Product Standards, Room 3876, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, 202-377-3221.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On December 14, 1977, the Department announced in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 62946-62949) a finding of need to label thermal insulation for homes under the voluntary consumer product information labeling program and further announced that a performance information labeling specification (specification) was being developed for such insulation. These actions were taken in response to requests that thermal insulation for homes be labeled and were in accordance with §16.4(d) of the Department's published Procedures for a voluntary consumer product information labeling program as amended (15 CFR Part 16; 42 FR 26647 at 26649, dated May 25, 1977; 42 FR 57686, dated November 4, 1977; and 43 FR 8254, dated March 1, 1978) (procedures). The effort to develop the specification has resulted in this notice, which is hereby presented for public comment in accordance with §16.5(a) of the procedures.

Under §16.2(b) of the procedures, the Department of Commerce may include on product performance labels information on product performance characteristics also covered by labeling programs of other Federal agencies, provided the other Federal agencies agree to such inclusion. The Department is cognizant of other Federal agency requirements and proposed requirements for labeling of thermal insulation for homes. Efforts have been made to coordinate the proposed specification with those requirements of other agencies so as to avoid the need for separate labels to meet differing agency requirements. These coordination efforts will continue as the final specification is written.

Interested persons desiring to comment on the proposed specification set out below are invited to submit such comments on or before July 14, 1978, to the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology, Room 3862, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Any person desiring to express his or her views relative to the proposed specification in an informal hearing may do so by communicating that desire in writing, on or before June 14, 1978, to the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology at the address shown in the preceding paragraph. Upon receipt of such request informal hearings will be held so as to give all interested persons an opportunity for the oral presentation of data, views, or arguments in addition to the opportunity to make written submissions. Notice of such hearings will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Upon receipt of the comments submitted in response to this notice, including the testimony of individuals at any hearings that may be held in conjunction therewith, a complete evaluation of such comments and testimony will be made. Upon completion of that evaluation a notice will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER either (1) giving the complete text of a final specification, (2) stating that the proposed specification will undergo further development before final publication, or (3) withdrawing the proposed specification from further consideration.

Being published simultaneously in this issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER with this notice is a separate notice announcing that pursuant to §§16.6 (a) and (d) of the procedures the Secretary intends, at such time as a final specification for the labeling of thermal insulation for homes is issued, to suspend all fees and charges for participation in the program with respect to thermal insulation for homes.

Issued: May 23, 1978.

JORDAN J. BARUCH,
Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology.

The following is the proposed specification under consideration for the labeling of thermal insulation for homes:

APPENDIX A. Form for Notification of Desire To Participate in Program.

1.0 Purpose

The purpose of this Performance Information Labeling Specification is to establish procedures for the testing and labeling of thermal insulation for homes in accordance with the Procedures for a Voluntary Consumer Product Information Labeling Program, as amended (15 CFR Part 16; 42 FR 26647, dated May 25, 1977; 42 FR 57686, dated Nov. 4, 1977; and 43 FR 8254, dated Mar. 1, 1978) and to define requirements for participation in that program with respect to such insulation.

2.0 Scope

2.1 This Specification shall apply to the product class consisting of all insulation as defined in §3.9 of this Specification.

2.2 Insulation covered by this Specification shall be labeled with respect to its material, form, recommended application, R value, area covered, pricing factor, resistance to surface flame spread, resistance to smoldering, FSC number, and corrosiveness.

3.0 Definitions

3.1 The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of Commerce or her designee.

3.2 The term "participant" means a manufacturer, assembler or private brand labeler of insulation, or an importer of insulation for resale, who participates in the Program with respect to insulation.

3.3 The term "designated agent" means a person, as defined in §16.3(e) of the Procedures, who has been designated by the Secretary to carry out appropriate operational procedures on behalf of more than one participant in accordance with §16.9 of the Procedures.

3.4 The term "Program" means the Voluntary Consumer Product Information Labeling Program.

3.5 The term "Procedures" means the Procedures for a Voluntary Consumer Product Information Labeling Program, as amended (15 CFR Part 16; 42 FR 26647, dated May 25, 1977; 42 FR 57686, dated Nov. 4, 1977; and 43 FR 8254, dated Mar. 1, 1978).

3.6 The term "Specification" means the Performance Information Labeling Specification for Thermal Insulation for Homes.

3.7 The term "Label" means printed matter affixed to or otherwise provided with insulation and meeting the requirements of §14.0 of this Specification.

3.8 The term "Department of Commerce Mark" means the mark indicated in Figures 1 and 2, which is registrable in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office under 15 U.S.C. 1054.

3.9 The term "insulation" means thermal insulation intended for use in the ceiling, walls, floors, or other structural elements of private dwellings and customarily available to consumers for their use in the retrofitting of existing buildings or in the initial fitting of new buildings. The term includes loose-fill, batt, blanket, and board type insulation consisting of either organic or mineral materials in either cellular or fiber form.

3.10 The terms "ASTM Standard Test Method" and "ASTM Standard Recommended Practice," when used as references to specific documents and when used without identifying dates, means the current version of the specific American Society for Testing and Materials standard test method or standard recommended practice referenced. Copies of these documents may be obtained from the American Society for Testing and Materials, 1916 Race Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19103.

3.11 The term "Proposed Federal Specification" means the proposed version of the designated Federal purchase specification published by the Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration, for the use of all Federal agencies. The referenced portions of Proposed Federal Specifications may be obtained from the National Bureau of Standards, Division 761, Washington, D.C. 20234.

4.0 Initiation and Termination of Participation in Program

4.1 Any manufacturer, assembler, or private brand labeler of insulation, or importer of insulation for resale, desiring to participate in the Program with respect to insulation will notify the Secretary. The notification shall list the brand name(s) for which the prospective participant proposes to use Labels and the proposed date of entry into the Program for each brand name. The notification shall also include a statement that if accepted as a participant in the Program the prospective participant will (1) abide by all conditions imposed by the Procedures, (2) abide by all conditions imposed by this Specification, and (3) desist from using the Department of Commerce Label and Mark if its participation in the Program is terminated. The notification shall be addressed to the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology, Room 3862, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230. The notification may be in the form shown in Appendix A.

4.2 The Secretary shall act expeditiously on all requests to participate in the Programs and shall notify each prospective participant of her decision in writing. In those instances where the Secretary declines a request, she shall state the reasons for so declining.

4.3 If a prospective participant seeking to participate in the Program is notified by the Secretary that she proposes to deny that prospective participant the right to participate, that prospective participant shall have 30 days from the receipt of such notification to request a hearing under the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 556. The Secretary's proposed denial shall become final through the issuance of a written decision to such prospective participant in the event that he does not appeal such notification by the end of the 30-day period. If, however, such prospective participant requests a hearing within that 30-day period, the Secretary's proposed denial shall be stayed pending the outcome of the hearing held pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 556.

4.4 A participant may at any time terminate his participation and responsibilities under this Program with respect to a given brand of insulation by giving written notice to the Secretary that he has discontinued use of the Department of Commerce Label and Mark for all insulation of that brand.

4.5 The Secretary, upon finding that a participant is not complying with the conditions set out in the Procedures or in this Specification, may terminate upon 30 days' notice the participant's right to continue his participation in the Program with respect to insulation: Provided, That the participant shall first be given an opportunity to show cause why the participation should not be terminated.

4.6 Upon receipt from the Secretary of a notice of proposed termination of participation, which notice shall set forth the reasons for such proposed termination, the participant shall have 30 days from the date of receipt of such notification to request a hearing under the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 556. The Secretary's proposed termination shall become final through the issuance of a written decision to the participant in the event such participant does not appeal the proposed termination within the 30-day period. If, however, the participant requests a hearing within the 30-day period, the Secretary's proposed termination shall be stayed pending the outcome of the hearing held pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 556.

5.0 General Conditions for Participation

5.1 Prior to the use of a Label participants shall make or have made the tests and ratings and the identifications required under §§6.0 through 13.0 of this Specification and shall retain adequate records of the tests and computations involved. Such records shall be kept on file by the participant or his agent for three years and shall, if requested by the Secretary within that three-year period, be forwarded to the Secretary within 30 days of such request.

5.2 Participants should make or have made tests on sufficient samples of insulation to provide a valid basis for determining ratings and should maintain such quality control programs, to include testing, as are necessary to insure that no insulation having a Label is mislabeled.

5.3 Participants shall enter product ratings and other information on their Labels, and shall display their Labels in accordance with the requirements of §14.0 of this Specification.

5.4 Each participant shall be identified on Labels used by that participant as the organization certifying the accuracy of ratings on the Labels.

5.5 In addition to the testing referred to in §§5.1 and 5.2 of this Specification, participants shall, if requested by the Secretary in accordance with §16.7(d)4 of the Procedures, make or have made at their expense further tests or provide samples of insulation for further testing to determine whether testing has been done according to this Specification. The results of the requested tests, or the requested samples, shall be provided to the Secretary as soon as practicable, preferably within 30 days of receipt of such requests. This requirement does not preclude the Department of Commerce from testing or having tested any insulation at its own expense.

5.6 The requirement in §§5.1 and 5.5 of this Specification and the recommendation in §5.2 of this Specification that participants "make or have made" tests of insulation may be fulfilled through the use of in-house testing, testing by other laboratories, testing associated with certification programs, or a combination of these three types of testing. However, for the purposes of this Program, accountability shall remain with the participant for information entered on Labels by that participant.

5.7 Participants may reproduce or may authorize non-participants such as retail sales organizations to reproduce Labels, including the Department of Commerce Mark, in the advertising of insulation labeled under the Program: Provided, That the requirements in §15.0 of this Specification are satisfied.

5.8 Participants may utilize the services of designated agents who have been designated by the Secretary under §16.9 of the Procedures to carry out specified operational procedures on behalf of participants in the Program with respect to insulation.

6.0 Identification of Material, Form, and Recommended Application

6.1 Insulation shall be identified with respect to its basic material through the use of the most appropriate of the following descriptive terms on Labels: mineral wool, cellular glass, perlite, vermiculite, cellulose, polystyrene, polyurethane, polyisocyanurate. If none of the above terms is appropriate, a descriptive term provided and published by the Secretary under §6.4 of this Specification shall be used.

6.2 Insulation shall be identified with respect to its basic form through the use of the most appropriate of the following terms on Labels: board type, board type with vapor barrier, blanket type, blanket type with vapor barrier, batt-type, batt type with vapor barrier, loose fill type for pouring, loose fill type for blowing, loose fill type for pouring or blowing. If none of the above terms is appropriate, a descriptive term provided and published by the Secretary under §6.4 of this Specification shall be used.

6.3 Insulation shall be identified with respect to its recommended application by checking one or more of the following descriptive terms on Labels: attic floors, basement ceilings, floors over crawl spaces, enclosed walls, open walls. If none of the above terms is appropriate, one or more descriptive terms provided and published by the Secretary under §6.4 of this Specification shall be used.

6.4 Participants or potential participants desiring to describe on Labels an insulation with respect to its material, form, or recommended application, for which insulation the descriptive terms listed in § 6.1, 8.2, or 8.3 of this Specification are not appropriate, should notify the Secretary of the need for additional descriptive terms. Any such notification shall describe the material, form, and recommended application of the subject insulation and shall include proposed additional descriptive terms. Such notifications shall be addressed to the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology, Room 3862, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230. The Secretary shall provide additional descriptive terms if needed, or shall inform the submitter of the notification as to which of the previously listed descriptive terms should be used for the subject insulation, within 30 days of receipt of the notice. When additional descriptive terms are provided to the submitter, the Secretary shall also, as soon as practicable, publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER a notice of such provision.

6.5 Insulation shall be considered mislabeled if the material or form of the insulation is different from the approved descriptive terms for material and form listed on the Label, or if the insulation is deemed by the Secretary to be inappropriate for one or more of the approved recommended applications checked on the Label.

7.0 Testing and Rating for Area Covered

7.1 For loose fill type insulation, area covered shall be computed using the relationship $A = M/(D \cdot t/12)$, where A is the area covered, in square feet; M is the weight of insulation in a package, in pounds; D is the settled density in pounds per cubic foot determined in accordance with section 4.5.1 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-515D, Insulation, Thermal (Loose Fill for Pneumatic or Poured Applications); Cellulosic or Wood Fiber, as proposed November 4, 1977, or section 4.5.1 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-1030B, Insulation, Thermal (Mineral Fiber, for Pneumatic or Poured Application), as proposed November 4, 1977, as appropriate; and t is the settled thickness of the installed insulation, in inches. (See section 3.1.1 of this Specification.) Area covered shall be computed for settled thicknesses of 1.0, 3.5, and 5.5 inches, and for the settled thicknesses in inches corresponding to R values of R = 30 and R = 40 as determined under section 8.1 of this Specification. Area covered values of less than 50-square feet shall be expressed in tenths of a unit and area covered values of 50-square feet or more shall be expressed in whole numbers on Labels.

7.2 For blanket and batt type insulation, area covered shall be computed using the relationship $A = W \cdot L$, where A is the area covered in square feet and W and L are the width and total length in feet of the package piece or pieces, measured on a flat horizontal surface in as-installed condition. Measurements of W and L may be made with any measuring device of suitable accuracy but care must be taken not to distort the insulation in the measurement process. During the measurement process, normal installed thickness in inches shall also be determined in accordance with section 4.1.1 of ASTM C 167, Standard Test Methods for Thickness and Density of Blanket or Batt Type Thermal Insulating Materials. Area covered values of less than 50-square feet shall be expressed in tenths of a unit and area covered values of 50-square feet or more shall be expressed in whole numbers on Labels.

7.3 For board type insulation, the area covered shall be computed using the relationship $A = W \cdot L$, where A is the area covered in square feet and W and L are the width and total length of the packaged piece or pieces, in feet. Measurements may be made with any measuring device of suitable accuracy. During the measurement process, normal installed thickness in inches shall also be determined. Area covered values of less than 50-square feet shall be expressed in tenths of a unit and area covered values of 50-square feet or more shall be expressed in whole numbers on Labels.

7.4 When tests to determine if insulation is mislabeled are conducted in accordance with section 7.1, 7.2, or 7.3 of this Specification and any value for area covered so determined is found to be less than the value shown on the Label for the same thickness of insulation by 0.2-square foot or 3 percent of the labeled value, whichever is greater, the insulation shall be considered mislabeled.

8.0 Testing and Rating for R Value

8.1 For loose fill type insulation, R value (thermal resistance) shall be determined in accordance with ASTM C 687, Standard Recommended Practice for Determination of the Thermal Resistance of Low-Density Fibrous Loose Fill Type Building Insulation. R values shall be determined at a mean temperature of 75°F for the settled density as determined under section 7.1 of this Specification. R values shall be computed for settled thicknesses of 1.0, 3.5, and 5.5 inches, and the settled thicknesses in inches corresponding to R values of R = 30 and R = 40 shall also be computed. R values shall be given in "F · h · ft²/Btu where "F means temperature difference in degrees Fahrenheit, h means hours, ft² means square feet, and Btu means British thermal units. R values of less than 10 shall be expressed in tenths of a unit and R values of 10 or more shall be expressed in whole numbers on Labels.

8.2 For blanket and batt type insulation, R value shall be determined in accordance with ASTM C 653, Standard Recommended Practice for Determination of the Thermal Resistance of Low-Density Mineral-Fiber Blanket-Type Building Insulation. R value shall be determined at a mean temperature of 75°F for the normal installed thickness as determined under section 7.2 of this Specification. R value shall be given in "F · h · ft²/Btu, where "F means temperature difference in degrees Fahrenheit, h means hours, ft² means square feet, and Btu means British thermal units. R values of less than 10 shall be expressed in tenths of a unit, and R values of 10 or more shall be expressed in whole numbers on Labels.

8.3 For board type insulation, R value shall be determined in accordance with either ASTM C 177, Standard Test Method for Thermal Conductivity of Materials by Means of the Guarded Hot Plate; ASTM C 236, Standard Test Method for Thermal Conductance and Transmittance of Built-Up Sections by Means of the Guarded Hot Box; or ASTM C 518, Standard Test Method for Steady State Thermal Transmission Properties by Means of the Heat Flow Meter. Measurements shall be made at a mean temperature of 75°F on aged test specimens representative of the density and thickness of the labeled insulation. R value shall be computed for the installed thickness as determined under section 7.3 of this Specification and shall be given in "F · h · ft²/Btu, where "F means temperature difference in degrees Fahrenheit, h means hours, ft² means square feet, and Btu means British thermal units. R values of less than 10 shall be expressed in tenths of a unit and R values of 10 or more shall be expressed in whole numbers on Labels.

8.4 Since in sections 8.1 and 8.2 of this Specification the referenced recommended practices provide alternative test methods for determining R value, and since in section 8.3 of this Specification alternative test methods are also provided, then in all cases where an R value rating comes into dispute the following order of precedence shall be held to prevail: R values determined in accordance with ASTM C 177, Standard Test Method for Thermal Conductivity of Materials by Means of the Guarded Hot Plate, shall prevail over R values determined in accordance with other methods, and R values determined in accordance with ASTM C 236, Standard Test Method for Thermal Conductance and Transmittance of Built-Up Sections by Means of the Guarded Hot Box, shall prevail over R values determined in accordance with ASTM C 518, Standard Test Method for Steady State Thermal Transmission Properties by Means of the Heat Flow Meter.

8.5 When tests to determine if insulation is mislabeled are conducted in accordance with section 8.1, 8.2, or 8.3 of this Specification and any R value so determined is found to be less than 95 percent of the R value shown on the Label for the same thickness of insulation, the insulation shall be considered mislabeled.

9.0 Rating for Thermal Coverage and Pricing Factor

9.1 For loose fill, blanket, batt and board type insulation, a thermal coverage rating shall be computed using the relationship $TCR = R \cdot A$ where TCR is the thermal coverage rating, R is the R value determined under § 8.1, 8.2, or 8.3 of this Specification and A is the area covered value, corresponding to this R value, determined under § 7.1, 7.2, or 7.3 of this Specification. For loose fill type insulation TCR shall be computed using the R value and area covered value corresponding to a settled thickness of one inch. For batt, blanket and board type insulation, TCR shall be computed for the R value and area covered corresponding to the installed thickness.

9.2 For display on the Label, a pricing factor shall be calculated using the relationship $PF = 1000/TCR$, where PF is the pricing factor and TCR is the thermal coverage rating determined in accordance with § 9.1 of this Specification. Pricing factor shall be expressed in hundredths of a unit on Labels.

9.3 When ratings to determine if insulation is mislabeled are made in accordance with §§ 9.1 and 9.2 of this Specification and the pricing factor so determined is found to be not in agreement with the pricing factor shown on the Label, the insulation shall be considered mislabeled.

10.0 Testing and Rating for Resistance to Surface Flame Spread

10.1 For loose fill, blanket, batt, and board type insulation, resistance to surface flame spread shall be determined in accordance with the surface flame spread test referenced in the following three specifications: § 4.5.7 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-515D, Insulation, Thermal (Loose Fill for Pneumatic or Poured Applications); Cellulosic or Wood Fiber, as proposed November 4, 1977; § 4.5.8 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-1030B, Insulation, Thermal (Mineral Fiber, for Pneumatic or Poured Applications), as proposed November 4, 1977; and § 4.7.8 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-521F, Insulation Blankets, Thermal (Mineral Fiber, for Ambient Temperatures), as proposed November 9, 1977. (See § 3.1.1 of this Specification.) However, the following requirements shall apply to the testing of insulation having a vapor barrier or other membrane: Insulation having a vapor barrier or other membrane shall be tested both with the membrane exposed to the radiant panel and with the membrane either removed from the insulation or intact but not exposed, and the lower of the resulting values of resistance to surface flame spread shall be shown on Labels: Except That insulation which is clearly and conspicuously marked on the membrane that an exposed membrane may present a fire hazard and should not be installed so as to expose said membrane may be tested only with the membrane intact but not exposed to the radiant panel and the resulting value of resistance to surface flame spread shown on Labels. Resistance to surface flame spread shall be determined at the density used in the determination of R value under § 8.1, 8.2, or 8.3 of this Specification. Resistance to surface flame spread shall be given as the critical radiant flux in watts per square centimeter, shall be expressed in hundredths of a unit, and indicated at the appropriate position on the resistance to surface flame spread scale on Labels.

10.2 When tests to determine if insulation is mislabeled are conducted in accordance with § 10.1 of this Specification and the resistance to surface flame spread so determined is found to be less than 95 percent of the resistance to surface flame spread shown on the Label, the insulation shall be considered mislabeled.

11.0 Testing and Rating for Resistance to Smoldering

11.1 For loose fill, blanket, batt, and board type insulation, resistance to smoldering shall be determined in accordance with the smoldering test referenced in the following three specifications: § 4.5.8 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-515D, Insulation, Thermal (Loose Fill for Pneumatic or Poured Application); Cellulosic or Wood Fiber, as proposed November 4, 1977; § 4.5.9 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-1030B, Insulation, Thermal (Mineral Fiber, for Pneumatic or Poured Applications), as proposed November 4, 1977; and § 4.7.7 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-521F, Insulation Blankets, Thermal (Mineral Fiber, for Ambient Temperatures) as proposed November 9, 1977. (See § 3.1.1 of this Specification.) For board type insulation, the hole for insertion of the ignition source may be formed by drilling with an 8-mm drill. Resistance to smoldering shall be determined at the density used in the determination of R value under § 8.1, 8.2, or 8.3 of this Specification. Resistance to smoldering shall be computed as (100-weight loss in percent)/10 and shall be expressed in halves of a unit and indicated at the appropriate position on the resistance to smoldering scale on Labels.

11.2 When tests to determine if insulation is mislabeled are conducted in accordance with § 11.1 of this Specification and the resistance to smoldering so determined is found to be less than the resistance to smoldering shown on the Label by more than one-half unit, the insulation shall be considered mislabeled.

12.0 Testing and Rating for FSC Number

12.1 For loose fill, blanket, batt, and board type insulation, FSC number (Flame Spread Classification) shall be determined in accordance with ASTM E 84, Standard Test Method for Surface Burning Characteristic of Building Materials. However, the following requirements shall apply to the testing of insulation having a vapor barrier or other membrane: Insulation having a vapor barrier or other membrane shall be tested both with the membrane exposed and with the membrane either removed from the insulation or intact but not exposed, and the higher of the resulting FSC numbers shall be shown on Labels: Except That insulation that is clearly and conspicuously marked on the membrane that an exposed membrane may present a fire hazard and should not be installed so as to expose said membrane may be tested only with the membrane intact but not exposed and the resulting FSC number shown on Labels. FSC number shall be determined at the density used in the determination of R value under § 8.1, 8.2, or 8.3 of this Specification. FSC numbers (Flame Spread Classification) shall be expressed in whole numbers evenly divisible by five on Labels.

12.2 When tests to determine if insulation is mislabeled are conducted in accordance with § 12.1 of this Specification and the FSC number so determined is found to be more than five numbers greater than the FSC number shown on the Label, the insulation shall be considered mislabeled.

13.0 Testing and Rating for Corrosiveness

13.1 For loose fill, blanket, batt, and board type insulation, corrosiveness shall be determined in accordance with both § 4.5.5 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-515D, Insulation, Thermal (Loose Fill for Pneumatic or Poured Application); Cellulosic or Wood Fiber, as proposed November 4, 1977, and § 4.5.6 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-1030B, Insulation, Thermal (Mineral Fiber, for Pneumatic or Poured Application), as proposed November 4, 1977, with the further provision that all metal specimens shall be degreased before testing by washing with 1.1.1 trichloroethane or trichloroethylene until completely free of water breaks. (See § 3.1.1 of this Specification.) Degreased specimens shall be handled only with clean forceps. In making tests in accordance with HH-1-1030B, contact between the metal specimen and the stainless steel woven wire cloth shall be avoided. Corrosive effects to be noted shall be those listed in § 3.1.9 of Proposed Federal Specification HH-1-515D and § 3.2.8 of proposed Federal Specification HH-1-1030B. When the specified corrosive effects are noted with respect to the aluminum, copper, steel, or galvanized steel corrosion test specimens, the affected metals shall be checked on Labels. If the specified corrosive effects are not noted, the phrase "none of these" shall be checked on Labels.

13.2 When tests to determine if insulation is mislabeled are conducted in accordance with § 13.1 of this specification and the affected metals so determined are found to be not checked on the Label, the insulation shall be considered mislabeled.

14.0 Product Labeling

14.1 The size and design of Labels shall be as shown in figure 1 for loose fill type insulation and Figure 2 for batt, blanket, and board type insulation, except that proportional reproductions of Labels from a minimum size of one half the indicated dimensions to a maximum size of 1.5 times the indicated dimensions may be used. The size of the Label shall be such as to clearly and conspicuously display the labeled information. All information and ratings called for in Figure 1 or 2 shall be shown on Labels, and no information or marks other than those indicated in Figures 1 and 2 shall be shown within the borders of Labels.

14.2 The Secretary shall provide each participant with camera-ready art suitable for use in printing Labels, except that such art will not contain numerical product ratings or other individualized information that is to be developed and provided by participants. Labels shall be based on accurate reproductions of the camera-ready art provided. However, participants may apply for permission to make minor variations in Label appearance, such as variations made necessary by the use of special printing techniques. Permission for such variations may be requested by application to the Assistant Secretary for Science and Technology, Room 3862, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230. Applications shall be accompanied by an example of the proposed variation.

14.3 Labels may be printed separately, printed on a container or wrapping that contains insulation and is conveniently visible to consumers before sale, or may be printed directly on the insulation if the insulation is clearly visible to consumers before sale. The Label lettering and the Label background shall be of contrasting colors. Separately printed Labels may be fastened with adhesive, attached as hang-tags, or affixed by any other secure means that does not detract from their visibility.

14.4 Labels shall be printed on or affixed to a conspicuous portion of each insulation package or other sales unit of insulation offered for sale to consumers. When Labels are printed or affixed along with other information, the Labels shall appear clearly distinct from the other information so that the Department of Commerce Mark on the Label cannot reasonably be considered to be associated with the other information.

14.5 Except for those packages or other sales units of insulation exported from the United States, every package or other sales unit of a labeled brand name of insulation that is listed in accordance with § 4.1 of this Specification shall carry a Label. However, participants utilizing more than one brand name may label some or all of those brand names of insulation in accordance with this Specification.

15.0 Use of Program Information in Advertising

15.1 Participants may reproduce Labels, including the Department of Commerce Mark, in the advertising of insulation labeled under the Program: Provided, That entire Labels, complete with all information required to be displayed at the point of retail sale, are shown legibly and are not combined or associated directly with any other mark or logo. However, the use of such reproductions, which may be of any legible size, shall not be a substitute for labeling of insulation in accordance with this Specification.

15.2 Participants may authorize non-participants, such as retail sales organizations, to reproduce Labels, including the Department of Commerce Mark, in the advertising of insulation labeled under the Program: Provided, That the requirements in § 15.1 of this Specification are satisfied.

16.0 Amendment

This Specification is subject to amendment or revision as provided in § 16.11 of the Procedures, except that new descriptive terms may be provided by the Secretary and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as provided in § 6.4 of this Specification without first publishing notice of the proposed change in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Amendments and revisions shall not apply to insulation manufactured prior to the effective date of the amendment or revisions.

Loose Fill for Blowing

For use in:
☒ Attic floors
☐ Basement ceilings
☐ Floors over crawl spaces
☐ Open walls
☒ Enclosed walls

CAUTION: Follow instructions. Proper installation is necessary for safety and effectiveness.

The contents of this package will provide:

An R value* of	And will cover (square feet)	To give a settled thickness of (inches)
3.8	186	1.0
21	33.8	5.5
30	23.6	7.9
40	17.7	10.5

*NOTE: A higher R value means less energy loss. Find the best R value for your location and home. For the best dollar value, compare fuel savings to insulation cost.

Price Comparison
 The Price Comparison Numbers should be used to find your best value. To find the Price Comparison Number for this package, multiply 1.41 by the price per package.
1.41 × Price of this Package = PRICE COMPARISON NUMBER

The smaller the Price Comparison Number, the less your cost for insulation.

Fire Resistance Ratings
 Resistance to Surface Flame Spread: 43
 The higher the number, the more resistant to burning. Remember, any material might burn under extreme conditions.

Resistance to Smoldering: 6
 The higher the number, the more resistant to burning. Remember, any material might burn under extreme conditions.

Building Code Compliance
 Some building codes and other regulations require that the FSC number not exceed a certain value. Check with your local authorities. The FSC number for this package is 45.

Suspension of Fees for Participation

In a separate notice appearing in this issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER the Department of Commerce announces for public comment a proposed Performance Information Labeling Specification for thermal insulation for homes (Specification) under the procedures for a Voluntary Consumer Product Information Labeling Program, as amended (15 CFR Part 16; 42 FR 26647, dated May 25, 1977; 42 FR 57686, dated November 4, 1977; and 43 FR 8254 dated March 1, 1978) (Procedures). Under section 16.6 of the Procedures the Secretary must announce simultaneously with the publication of the notice of the proposed Specification her intention with respect to fees and charges for participation in the program for thermal insulation for homes.

Accordingly, pursuant to § 16.6(d) of the Procedures notice is hereby given that the Secretary intends, at such time as a final Performance Information Labeling Specification for thermal insulation for homes is issued, to suspend all fees and charges for participation in the program with respect to thermal insulation for homes.

This notice is furnished for information and guidance purposes only in order that the public may evaluate the proposed Specification in light of the Secretary's intention announced above.

Issued: May 23, 1978.

Title 10—Energy

CHAPTER II—DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

PART 475—ELECTRIC AND HYBRID VEHICLE RESEARCH, DEVELOPMENT, AND DEMONSTRATION PROJECT

Performance Standards for Demonstrations

AGENCY: Department of Energy.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This rule prescribes minimum performance standards for electric and hybrid vehicles to be purchased or leased for the first phase of a demonstration program under the Electric and Hybrid Vehicle Research, Development, and Demonstration Act of 1976.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 3, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles E. Pax, Office of Assistant Secretary, Conservation and Solar Applications, 20 Massachusetts Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20545, 202-376-4893.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

BACKGROUND

On February 6, 1978, the Department of Energy (DOE) issued proposed regulations (43 FR 5841, February 10, 1978) to establish minimum performance standards for electric and hybrid vehicles which are to be purchased or leased for the first phase of a demonstration program as required under section 4 of the Electric and Hybrid Vehicle Research, Development, and Demonstration Act of 1976 (Pub. L. 94-413) (Act). The proposed regulations, issued as Part 1010 of Chapter X, Title 10, of the Code of Federal Regulations, followed an earlier request for comment on standards recommended by contractors (42 FR 53630, October 3, 1977). The scheduled public hearing on the proposal was canceled since only two respondents requested an opportunity to make an oral presentation and both subsequently elected to submit their comments in writing.

DISCUSSION OF COMMENTS

Twenty-five written comments were received by DOE. Several contended that no performance standards should be set. However, the Act requires that minimum performance standards be promulgated by rule for both personal-use vehicles and commercial vehicles.

A number of comments recommended easing specific minimum performance levels, citing the low level of maturity of available technology, while other comments recommended raising these levels to avoid the adverse effects of demonstrating vehicles of disappointing or marginal capability. A considerable amount of judgment was involved to determine a reasonable common ground among these differing approaches. As discussed in particular below, the regulations issued today meet several of the concerns expressed in the comments and define some of the specific standards with greater clarity.

1. General—Establish a single set of standards applicable to commercial and personal-use vehicles. Some comments suggested making a single set of performance standards applicable to both vehicle classifications. Section 7(b)(2) of the Act, however, requires that "[s]eparate performance standards shall be established . . . with respect to (A) electric or hybrid vehicles for personal use, and (B) commercial electric or hybrid vehicles." In many instances the minimum performance standard for a particular category is identical for both commercial and personal-use vehicles. For other categories it has been judged appropriate to select different performance standards for the two vehicle types in view of differences in use and in consideration of constraints imposed by the available technology.

2. Section 475.2 Definitions—Commercial vehicle and personal-use vehicle. A suggestion was made to limit personal-use vehicles to those designed for six passengers or less. There are, however, in use a number of vehicles capable of transporting up to 10 passengers, which vehicles are used primarily as personal automobiles, with similar performance demands, rather than as commercial buses. Therefore, vehicles designed to carry up to 10 passengers may be personal vehicles under the regulations.

Another comment suggested that a commercial vehicle be defined as designed primarily to transport material. However, the performance demanded of a large personal carrier (such as a bus) may be considerably different from that of a smaller passenger vehicle, and such a vehicle is judged to be more appropriately considered as a commercial vehicle.

Comments also suggested that the commercial vehicle definition permit various performance standards based on rated gross vehicle mass or vehicle purpose. There are, indeed, numerous subdivisions which could be made in the commercial vehicle standards. However, it is not the intent of these minimum performance standards to regulate the product development, performance specifications or design goals of industry. It is also not intended that the demonstration conducted under the Act impose a limit on industry's scope of development or preclude interaction between industry and consumers to explore other vehicle types and performance levels. The definitions of commercial vehicles and personal-use vehicles are, therefore, unchanged.

3. Section 475.2—Electric vehicle should be defined as requiring 100 percent wall-plug energy. This suggestion is not accepted since there may be considerable advantage in permitting non-electric fueling of accessories, such as a heater having a high peak power demand but overall low annual energy demand. Nonelectric energy use for other than accessories on the electric vehicle is limited by sections 475.10(h)(1) and 475.11(h)(1) of the regulations which both state "[f]or an electric vehicle, the maximum amount of nonelectrical energy consumed shall be that used for operation of the accessories only."

4. Section 475.2—Redefine vital accessories to include heater blowers only if the vehicle is equipped with a heater. It was suggested that since a heater was required to be available only if selected by the user, heater blowers should be required as vital accessories only if the vehicle was equipped with a heater. DOE agrees with this comment, and this suggestion has been adopted.

5. Section 475.10(a) and 475.11(a)—Acceleration. Several comments requested relaxing the proposed acceleration standards and other comments indicated that the proposed acceleration standards were already too lenient. After considering these comments, DOE has determined that the proposed acceleration standard for commercial vehicles appropriately reflects consideration of consumer preference, what technology can presently provide at a reasonable cost, and existing time constraints; and promotes the acquisition and use of such vehicles as required for the initial standards by section 7(b)(2) of the Act. The commercial vehicle acceleration standard is, therefore, adopted as proposed. In order to enhance the opportunity for obtaining a cross section of personal-use vehicles in the demonstrations, as required by section 7(c)(1) of the Act, as amended by section 601 of Pub. L. 95-238, the suggestion to lower the personal-use minimum performance standard for 0 to 50 km/hr acceleration time from 12 seconds to 15 seconds is accepted. Although the technology currently exists for achieving the more stringent acceleration, time constraints may prohibit the technology from being effectively utilized in the first vehicle purchase. However, subsequent purchases may not be subject to the same limitations.

6. Section 475.10(b) and 475.11(b)—Gradeability at speed. Several comments recommended relaxing the performance standard for gradeability at speed due to the level of available technology. This recommendation is also adopted to ensure a reasonable cross section of vehicles in the first phase of the demonstration. The standards for gradeability at speeds for both personal-use vehicles and commercial vehicles are therefore set at 25 km/hr on a 10 percent grade.

7. Section 475.10(c) and 475.11(c)—Gradeability limit. Several comments recommended relaxing the steepness or the duration of the gradeability limit to reduce the difficulty of compliance. These recommendations were not accepted since it was judged from available test data that sufficient capability existed to meet this standard, and this capability was considered important to a successful demonstration.

8. Section 475.10(d) and 475.11(d)—Forward speed capability. Comments were received which recommended relaxing the forward speed capability standard due to the level of technology available. Comments were also received which recommended raising the forward speed capability performance due to user requirements.

Lowering this forward speed capability standard is considered tolerable provided the use environment of the initial demonstration vehicles is selected carefully. To permit more latitude in manufacturer trade-offs for vehicles in the initial demonstrations, as discussed above in comments (5) and (6), the minimum performance standards for forward speed capability are reduced to 80 km/hr for personal-use vehicles and 70 km/hr for commercial vehicles.

9. Section 475.10(e) and 475.11(e)—Range. A few comments recommended lower electric vehicle range standards on the basis of vehicle capabilities, and several comments recommended higher electric vehicle range standards to satisfy more user needs. No comments were received on proposed hybrid vehicle range standards. User data indicate a strong desire for range improvement beyond that achievable by state-of-the-art electric vehicles. The levels for the minimum standards for range previously proposed by DOE are judged to be achievable by good application of state-of-the-art technology, allow some latitude for trade-offs and are capable of fulfilling initial demonstration vehicle needs. Therefore, the range standards are adopted as proposed.

10. Section 475.10(f) and 475.11(f)—Battery recharge time. In response to several comments which recommended clarification of the initial and final battery condition associated with this standard, the wording of the final standard has been clarified. Several comments also recommended longer recharge times and deleting the requirement of an onboard charger for personal-use vehicles. DOE has determined that sufficient types of vehicles are available which meet these standards and, therefore, such changes are unnecessary to obtain an appropriate cross section of vehicles and would impose undesirable restrictions on users of the demonstration vehicles.

11. Section 475.10(g) and 475.11(g)—Recharge control. A few comments indicated confusion as to which requirements of energy, life, maintenance, and safety were involved. The standard has accordingly been clarified to read as follows: "The vehicle shall have a recharge control which is adequate to meet the requirements of energy, life, and safety as such requirements are stated by these performance standards." Since no performance standards specifically for vehicle maintenance are being promulgated at this time, the reference to maintenance has been deleted.

12. Section 475.10(i) and 475.11(i)—Battery life. A considerable amount of comment was received on the standard for battery life. Several comments recommended lowering the standard on the basis that it was beyond the current state-of-the-art and that batteries would not give a year of service before replacement, as required by the proposed standard. Other comments recommended the standard be adopted as proposed or made more demanding to provide a more satisfactory demonstration. Several comments noted the difficulty of determining compliance with battery life standards considering the time constraints, and recommended replacing the proposed standard with a warranty by the vehicle manufacturer.

The DOE considers it important to the success of the demonstration that the vehicles continue to perform at or above certain levels for some minimum duration of use. The battery life standard has been modified to require repair and replacement of the batteries by the vehicle manufacturer if necessary to continue vehicle performance at or above certain levels. This takes into account possible failure or degradation of batteries, permits achieving the limits of the state-of-the-art at low risk while providing incentive for vehicle operation at high performance levels without battery failures, and overcomes the difficulty of determining compliance with the battery life standard within the time constraints of the program.

13. Section 475.10(j) and (k) and 475.11(j) and (k)—State-of-charge meter and odometer. Several comments recommended requiring more instrumentation on vehicles, but DOE considers it appropriate that any instrumentation, other than a certain minimum, be determined by interaction between manufacturers and users and not be mandated by DOE.

A comment recommended clarification of the term "state-of-charge" in these sections and this has been done.

14. Section 475.10(l) and 475.11(l)—Heater. A comment recommended making the heater mandatory, but DOE has not adopted this recommendation due to the additional cost which could be involved and the possibility of users not needing the heater in some climates.

15. Section 475.10(o) and 475.11(o)—Safety. A comment recommended that although the Department of Transportation has granted exceptions to safety standards in the past, the Department of Energy should specify that no exceptions from basic safety standards will be accepted because this would threaten the life and health of vehicle owners. This recommendation has not been adopted since the Department of Transportation is considering the appropriate body for determining the applicability of its safety standards to electric and hybrid vehicles.

Several comments recommended a clarification of the term "explosive proof" in paragraph (o)(2)(iii). Therefore, this section has been revised to read as follows: "Vehicles with battery caps or battery vents shall have flame barrier provisions to inhibit battery explosions."

A comment recommended modification to avoid vagueness of the term "system malfunction" in paragraph (o)(2)(iv) by substituting the term "maintenance." This has been adopted by DOE.

A few comments recommended deletion or modification of paragraph (o)(2)(v) for positive battery disconnect. However, DOE considers this standard an important safety feature and is issuing the standard as proposed.

Several comments questioned whether paragraph (o)(2)(vi) required specific dynamic performance levels over the expanded temperature range of -25° C to 50° C. Specific minimum dynamic performance levels are required only within the temperature range specified by § 475.3. Paragraph (o)(2)(vi) has been restated for clarity.

FINAL REGULATIONS

The regulations are adopted as proposed except for modifications described above.

These performance standards only specify the minimum criteria for the selection of vehicles to be leased or purchased for the demonstration projects to be conducted by DOE under section 7 of the Act. As part of its solicitation and selection process, DOE may specify varying priorities for increased performance levels and additional considerations within and among the designated categories in order to provide a broad spectrum of vehicles that best meet the needs of the demonstration program. Those vehicles meeting the minimum performance standards will be eligible to be considered for selection using criteria which may include user needs and preferences, reliability, durability, ease of maintenance, safety, passenger and cargo capability, energy use, noise, costs, warranties and other qualitative factors which will provide the project, to the extent practicable, pursuant to section 7(c)(1) of the Act, as amended, with demonstration vehicles which represent a cross section of available technologies and of actual or potential vehicle use.

The performance standards issued today are the initial standards to be used by DOE. These standards, as required by section 7(b)(3) of the Act, as amended, will be revised periodically as the state-of-the-art improves. It is expected that vehicles procured for demonstration subsequent to the initial procurements would be required to meet progressively more stringent minimum performance standards.

In consideration of the foregoing, Chapter II of Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations is amended by establishing Part 475, as set forth below.

Issued in Washington, D.C., May 24, 1978.

WILLIAM P. DAVIS,
Deputy Director of Administration.

Chapter II of Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations, is amended by establishing Part 475 as follows:

Subpart A—General Provisions

- Sec.
475.1 Purpose and scope.
475.2 Definitions.
475.3 Test conditions and procedures.
475.4 Units.

Subpart B—Minimum Levels of Performance

- 475.10 Minimum levels of performance for personal-use vehicles.
475.11 Minimum levels of performance for commercial vehicles.

AUTHORITY: Electric and Hybrid Vehicle Research, Development, and Demonstration Act of 1978, Pub. L. 94-413, as amended by Department of Energy Act of 1978—Civilian Applications, Pub. L. 95-238; Energy Reorganization Act of 1974, Pub. L. 93-438; Department of Energy Organization Act, Pub. L. 95-91.

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 475.1 Purpose and scope.

This part contains performance standards for electric and hybrid vehicles required to be prescribed by the Department of Energy pursuant to section 7(b)(1) of the Act.

§ 475.2 Definitions.

As used in this part:

"Act" means the Electric and Hybrid Vehicle Research, Development, and Demonstration Act of 1978 (Pub. L. 94-413, 90 Stat. 1263 et seq.), as amended by Department of Energy Act of 1978—Civilian Applications (Pub. L. 95-238; 92 Stat. 47, 91-94).

"Commercial vehicle" means a vehicle other than a personal-use vehicle.

"Electric vehicle" means a vehicle which is powered by an electric motor drawing current from rechargeable storage batteries, fuel cells, or other portable sources of electrical current, and which may include a nonelectrical source of power designed to charge batteries and components thereof.

"Hybrid vehicle" means a vehicle propelled by a combination of an electric motor and an internal combustion engine or other power source and components thereof.

"Personal-use vehicle" means a vehicle designed to carry 10 persons or less and which is designed and primarily used for transporting the vehicle operator and passengers.

"Vehicle" means an electric or hybrid vehicle.

"Vital accessories" means headlights, taillights, windshield wipers, windshield defroster and defroster blowers. Heater blowers also shall be considered as vital accessories if the vehicle is equipped with a heater.

§ 475.3 Test conditions and procedures.

The conditions and procedures in Electric Vehicle Test Procedure—SAE J227a, as revised February 1976, of the Society of Automotive Engineers, shall be used to determine the levels of performance of vehicles for those categories for which minimum levels of performance are prescribed in Subpart B.

§ 475.4 Units.

The units and unit symbols and abbreviations used in this part are those of the International System of Units (Système International) or SI as established by the General Conference of Weights and Measures in 1960 and interpreted and modified for the United States pursuant to the U.S. Department of Commerce notice on the Interpretation and Modification of the International System of Units for the United States (41 FR 54018, December 10, 1976).

§ 475.10 Minimum levels of performance for personal-use vehicles.

The following minimum levels of performance are required with respect to any personal-use vehicles purchased or leased pursuant to section 7(c) of the Act.

(a) Acceleration. The time required to accelerate from rest to 50 km/h shall not exceed 15s.

(b) Gradeability at speed. The grade which can be traversed up at 25 km/h shall be at least 10 percent.

(c) Gradeability limit. The grade on which the vehicle can start and climb for 20s either backward or forward shall be no less than 20 percent.

(d) Forward speed capability. The speed which can be maintained for 5 minutes shall be 80 km/h.

(e) Range. The distance which the vehicle can be operated with vital accessories on or equivalent shall be:

(1) For an electric vehicle, at least 50 km on the SAE J227a/C cycle, and

(2) For a hybrid vehicle, at least 200 km on the SAE J227a/C cycle.

(f) Battery recharge time. The vehicle shall be capable of satisfying the range requirement of § 475.10(e) above, after being recharged for no more than 10 hours by use of an on-board charger. At the start of this recharge the vehicle shall have 80 percent discharged batteries as specified by the vehicle test conditions and procedures of § 475.3. The onboard charger shall be compatible with an electric power outlet of 110V or 220V AC, as specified by the vehicle manufacturer.

(g) Recharge control. The vehicle shall have a recharge control which is adequate to meet the requirements of energy, life, and safety as such requirements are stated by these performance standards.

(h) Energy consumption. (1) For an electric vehicle, the maximum amount of nonelectrical energy consumed shall be that used for operation of the accessories only.

(2) For a hybrid vehicle, nonelectrical energy consumed shall not exceed 1.3 MJ/km and shall also not exceed 75 percent of total energy consumed for propulsion and vital accessories, based on being fully loaded on a driving schedule of 33 km on SAE J227 a/C cycle plus 33 km at 75 km/h (higher heating value of gasoline taken as 32.7 MJ/L) and with vital accessories on.

(i) Battery life. (1) The vehicle shall be capable of at least 75 percent of the range specified in § 475.10(e) after 12 months or 15,000 km of normal use, whichever occurs first.

(2) The vehicle shall be capable of 100 percent of the acceleration and gradeability specified in § 475.10 (a), (b), and (c), for all test conditions and procedures specified by § 475.3, for 12 months or 15,000 km of normal use, whichever occurs first.

(3) The batteries shall, if necessary, be repaired or replaced by the vehicle manufacturer at no cost to the user of the vehicle in order to meet requirements of (1) and (2) of § 475.10(i).

(j) State-of-charge meter. The vehicle shall have a state-of-charge meter for the propulsion battery system or other means of providing an indication of remaining range.

(k) Odometer. The vehicle shall have an odometer.

(l) Passenger comfort heater. The vehicle shall have a passenger comfort heater available as an option.

(m) Documentation. Adequate user manuals, maintenance (service) manuals and parts lists shall be provided.

(n) Emissions. The vehicle shall comply with all applicable Federal emissions regulations for motor vehicles.

(o) Safety, crashworthiness, damageability, crash avoidance and hazards. (1) The vehicle shall comply with all applicable Federal regulations for motor vehicles concerning safety, crashworthiness, damageability, crash avoidance and hazards, unless a waiver or modification is obtained from the Department of Transportation.

(2) Until the Department of Transportation issues regulations which cover the same subjects, the vehicle shall also have the following performance characteristics:

(i) The electric propulsion circuit shall be electrically isolated from other conductive portions of the vehicle.

(ii) The vehicle shall be capable of undergoing the test procedure of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards 208 and 301 with all battery materials remaining outside the passenger compartment.

(iii) Vehicles with battery caps or battery vents shall have flame barrier provisions to inhibit battery explosions.

(iv) Ventilation shall be adequate within the battery compartment to maintain the concentration of hydrogen below 4 percent by volume during vehicle operation (including charging and maintenance).

(v) The vehicle shall have a device which provides for the positive disconnection of the battery and which is operable from the normal operator position.

(vi) The vehicle shall be capable of being parked for up to 8 hours in temperatures of -25° C to 50° C and subsequently operated at any temperature within this temperature range without damage to the vehicle or hazard to persons.

§ 475.11 Minimum levels of performance for commercial vehicles.

The following minimum levels of performance are required with respect to any commercial vehicles purchased or leased pursuant to section 7(c) of the Act.

(a) Acceleration. The time required to accelerate from rest to 50 km/h shall not exceed 15s.

(b) Gradeability at speed. The grade which can be traversed up at 25 km/h shall be at least 10 percent.

(c) Gradeability limit. The grade on which the vehicle can start and climb for 20s either backward or forward shall be no less than 20 percent.

(d) Forward speed capability. The speed which can be maintained for 5 minutes shall be 70 km/h.

(e) Range. The distance which the vehicle can be operated with vital accessories on or equivalent shall be:

(1) For an electric vehicle, at least 50 km on the SAE J227a/B cycle, and

(2) For a hybrid vehicle, at least 200 km on the SAE J227a/B cycle.

(f) Battery recharge time. The vehicle shall be capable of satisfying the range requirement of § 475.11(e) above, after being recharged for no more than 10 hours. At the start of this recharge the vehicle shall have 80 percent discharged batteries as specified by the vehicle test conditions and procedures of § 475.3.

(g) Recharge control. The vehicle shall have a recharge control which is adequate to meet the requirements of energy, life, and safety as such requirements are stated by these performance standards.

(h) Energy consumption. (1) For an electric vehicle, the maximum amount of nonelectrical energy consumed shall be that used for operation of the accessories only.

(2) For a hybrid vehicle, nonelectrical energy consumed shall not exceed 9.8 kJ/kmkg of cargo and shall also not exceed 75 percent of total energy consumed for propulsion and vital accessories, based on being fully loaded on a driving schedule of 100 km on SAE J227a/B cycle, the cargo not including the operator, and with vital accessories on.

(i) Battery life. (1) The vehicle shall be capable of at least 75 percent of the range specified in § 475.11(e) after 12 months or 15,000 km of normal use, whichever occurs first.

(2) The vehicle shall be capable of 100 percent of the acceleration and gradeability specified in § 475.11 (a), (b), and (c), for all test conditions and procedures specified by § 475.3, for 12 months or 15,000 km of normal use, whichever occurs first.

(3) The batteries shall, if necessary, be repaired or replaced by the vehicle manufacturer at no cost to the user of the vehicle in order to meet requirements of (1) and (2) of § 475.11(i).

(j) State-of-charge meter. The vehicle shall have a state-of-charge meter for the propulsion battery system or other means of providing an indication of remaining range.

(k) Odometer. The vehicle shall have an odometer.

(l) Passenger comfort heater. The vehicle shall have a passenger comfort heater available as an option.

(m) Documentation. Adequate user manuals, maintenance (service) manuals and parts lists shall be provided.

(n) Emissions. The vehicle shall comply with all applicable Federal emissions regulations for motor vehicles.

(o) Safety, crashworthiness, damageability, crash avoidance and hazards. (1) The vehicle shall comply with all applicable Federal regulations for motor vehicles concerning safety, crashworthiness, damageability, crash avoidance and hazards, unless a waiver or modification is obtained from the Department of Transportation.

(2) Until the Department of Transportation issues regulations which cover the same subjects, the vehicles shall also have the following performance characteristics:

(i) The electric propulsion circuit shall be electrically isolated from other conductive portions of the vehicle.

(ii) The vehicle shall be capable of undergoing the test procedure of Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standards 208 and 301 with all battery materials remaining outside the passenger compartment.

(iii) Vehicles with battery caps or battery vents shall have flame barrier provisions to inhibit battery explosions.

(iv) Ventilation shall be adequate within the battery compartment to maintain the concentration of hydrogen below 4 percent by volume during vehicle operation (including charging and maintenance).

(v) The vehicle shall have a device which provides for the positive disconnection of the battery and which is operable from the normal operator position.

(vi) The vehicle shall be capable of being parked for up to 8 hours in temperatures of -25° C to 50° C and subsequently operated at any temperature within this temperature range without damage to the vehicle or hazard to persons.

Title 29—Labor

Subtitle A—Office of the Secretary of Labor

PART 94—GENERAL PROVISIONS FOR PROGRAMS UNDER THE COMPREHENSIVE EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ACT

PART 97—SPECIAL FEDERAL PROGRAMS AND RESPONSIBILITIES UNDER THE COMPREHENSIVE EMPLOYMENT AND TRAINING ACT

Youth Incentive Entitlement Pilot Projects; Correction and Clarification

AGENCY: Department of Labor.

ACTION: Corrections and clarifications to final rules.

SUMMARY: On December 9, 1977, the Department of Labor published in the FEDERAL REGISTER final regulations to implement the Youth Incentive Entitlement Pilot Projects under the Youth Employment and Demonstration Projects Act of 1977 (YEDPA). The purpose of this publication is to amend those final regulations by correcting typographical and compilation errors and by clarifying policy. Many of these changes were made as a result of comments received.

DATE: Effective date; June 29, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Robert Taggart, Administrator, Office of Youth Programs, U.S. Department of Labor, 601 D Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20213.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

SUMMARY OF CHANGES

The Youth Employment and Demonstration Projects Act (YEDPA) of 1977, Pub. L. 95-93, became effective on August 5, 1977. It amended the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) of 1973 by adding several new programs for youth. The purpose of these new programs is to employ and increase the future employability of young persons, to help coordinate and improve existing career development, employment and training programs, and to test different approaches in solving the employment problems of youth.

In order to move as rapidly as possible to implement YEDPA, the Department found it to be in the public interest to publish the Youth Incentive Entitlement Pilot Project regulations in final form so that program implementation may rapidly respond to the critical employment needs of youth.

This finding constituted a waiver of the Department's regulation 29 CFR 2.7. Nevertheless, in keeping with the spirit of 29 CFR 2.7, comments were accepted during the 30-day period subsequent to the publication date.

At this time the Department is making revisions and corrections to these regulations primarily as a result of the comments which were received. The regulations are reprinted in their entirety for the convenience of the public.

The following sections include revisions or typographical corrections: Sections 94.3, 97.501(b), 97.505, 97.507(g)(1)(i), 97.507(i)(1), 97.507(j)(1)(i), 97.507(j)(1)(iv), 97.515(f), 97.515(g), 97.516(a)(1), 97.516(a)(4), 97.516(a)(5)(ii), 97.516(g), 97.516(h), 97.522, 97.523, and 97.524.

The major revisions which are being made in order to clarify program requirements are as follows:

In § 97.507, Preapplication specifications, Paragraph (i)(1)(ii) and in § 97.516 Eligibility of participants, Paragraph (a)(5)(ii), corrections were made to show that youth may participate in an approved or certified GED program rather than only in a State-certified GED program. As originally published, this requirement was more restrictive than intended, since many States do not have a process for certifying GED programs.

In § 97.507, Preapplication specifications, Paragraph (i)(1)(iv) has been clarified to reference the definition of job restructuring at § 97.702(g)(1) of this Part as applicable to the Entitlement program.

In paragraph (j)(1)(i) a correction was made to identify that the amount of paid program time during the school year is a maximum of 20 hours per week for a youth in the Entitlement program.

In § 97.516, Eligibility of participants, Paragraph (a)(4) was corrected to show that this paragraph contains the definition of economically disadvantaged which applies to the Entitlement program.

In paragraph (g) a sentence has been added to clarify that for projects serving youth ages 19-25, the requirements of this paragraph apply to youths reaching 26 years of age.

Section 97.522 has been changed to Maintenance of effort, which was moved from § 97.523. A clarification has been made in the Maintenance of effort section to identify that § 97.720 of this Part applies to the Entitlement program.

The provisions regarding limitations on use of funds have been moved from § 97.522 to paragraphs (d) and (e) of § 97.523.

Section 97.523 has been changed to Administrative provisions; Hearing provisions; and Limitations on use of funds. Paragraphs (b) and (c) have been added to state that due to the Congressional intent that Entitlement must be rigorously tested, the applicability of the regulations contained in Part 98 of this title are limited to the extent that the research, demonstration, and informational requirements of this subpart do not conflict with Part 98. In such cases, the regulations of the subpart prevail.

In paragraph (d) a sentence has been added to state that the minimum paid program time guaranteed for each employed youth shall be 10 hours per week during the school year and 30 hours per week during the summer. This addition was made to maintain the Congressional intent of providing meaningful work experience to youths in the Entitlement program. This document has been prepared under the direction and control of Robert Taggart, Administrator, Office of Youth Programs.

Accordingly, Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended as follows:

§ 94.3 [Amended]

1. In § 94.3, Consolidated table of contents for Parts 94-99; the table of contents for Part 97, Subpart F is revised to read as follows:

AUTHORITY: Sec. 702(a), Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, as amended, unless otherwise noted.

Subpart F—Youth Incentive Entitlement Pilot Projects

§ 97.500 Scope and purpose of subpart.

(a) This subpart contains the regulations governing the Youth Incentive Entitlement Pilot Projects (Entitlement Projects) under Title III, Part C, Subpart I of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act. The Youth Incentive Entitlement Pilot Projects were established by Title II of the Youth Employment and Demonstration Projects Act (YEDPA) of 1977.

(b) The basic purpose of the Entitlement Projects is to test the experimental idea of guaranteeing jobs, or in some cases a combination of jobs and training, to economically disadvantaged youth. The program will operate only in certain prime sponsor areas, or portions of prime sponsor areas, chosen by the Department of Labor. Within those areas during the school-year, otherwise unavailable part-time employment, or a combination of part-time employment and training, will be guaranteed to those economically disadvantaged youth, between the ages of 16 to 19 inclusive, who are in secondary school or who are in a program leading to a certificate of high school equivalency. In addition, in those same areas during the summer, otherwise unavailable full-time employment, or a combination of part-time employment and training, will be guaranteed to economically disadvantaged youth, between the ages of 16 to 19 inclusive, who are in a secondary school or who are in a program leading to a certificate of high school equivalency. (Sec. 325(a)).

(c) Congress mandated that the entitlement approach be rigorously tested under varying geographic, economic, and other circumstances. Because of the high cost of guaranteeing year-round jobs to all in-school disadvantaged youths, only a limited number of demonstrations can be undertaken with available funds. In order to test whether jurisdictions can feasibly implement substantial programs, only a limited number of Tier I projects will be implemented. These will cover entire jurisdictions or neighborhoods. In order to test a number of innovative approaches authorized by the Act and to get a wider geographic spread, a somewhat larger number of Tier II projects will be funded, demonstrating specific innovative entitlement approaches. These projects might cover only the area served by a particular school or small school district.

(d) To make sure that Entitlement Projects would be selected and operated as a national experiment, with the necessary flexibility to develop and test new and improved ideas, Congress did not authorize the Secretary to allocate funds to CETA prime sponsors by formula. Instead, the Secretary of Labor is required to determine how many Entitlement Projects are to be established and where they should be located.

§ 97.501 Regulations governing entitlement projects; definitions.

(a) The regulations governing Entitlement Projects shall be those in this subpart. The regulations at Part 98 of this title shall also apply to Entitlement Projects. However, to the extent a regulation in this subpart conflicts with a regulation at Part 98 of this title, the regulations in this subpart shall prevail.

(b) Definitions for terms used in this subpart may be found at § 94.4 of this title, except as stated within this subpart.

§ 97.502 Funding of entitlement projects.

(a) Of the funds available under this subpart, the Secretary shall reserve a portion of the funds for research, technical assistance, consultants, and other appropriate purposes.

(b) The Secretary shall use the remaining funds under this subpart to fund selected Entitlement Projects.

§ 97.503 Eligibility for funds.

All prime sponsors under Title I of the Act shall be eligible to apply for Entitlement Project funds.

§ 97.504 Entitlement project application process (general).

(a) The Entitlement Project application shall consist of two steps, a pre-application procedure and a final application procedure.

(b) Selected projects will be financed to operate during the 18-month period from January 1978 through June 1979.

It is anticipated that youth participation will generally coincide with the start of the second (or winter) semester of the 1977-78 school year, and that project completion will generally take place at the close of the 1978-79 school year.

§ 97.505 Entitlement project application schedule.

(a) Letter of Intent. By September 16, 1977, it is requested that prime sponsors under Title I of the Act who plan to apply for an Entitlement Project submit a letter indicating such intent.

(b) Preapplication.—(1) By October 3, 1977, 5 p.m. e.d.t., preapplication submissions must be received in the ETA national office to be considered for funding.

(2) By October 26, 1977, a group of the more promising proposed Tier I and Tier II projects will be selected by the Department. Planning grants will be provided shortly thereafter.

(c) Final Application.—(1) By December 14, 1977, 5 p.m., e.s.t., final application submissions must be received for consideration for full funding.

(2) By January 10, 1978, projects to be funded will be selected.

(3) After January 10, 1978, project grants will be awarded for the period of January 1978 through June 1979.

§ 97.506 Submittal of preapplications.

(a) Prime sponsors planning to submit a preapplication for an Entitlement Project are requested to send a letter of such intent to the Employment and Training Administration (ETA) national office. A copy of the letter shall be sent to the appropriate Regional Administrator.

(b) The prime sponsor's preapplication is to be submitted as follows:

(1) Five copies are to be sent to the Regional Administrator of the appropriate ETA regional office (none need to have original signatures).

(2) One signed original and 14 copies are to be sent to the ETA national office.

§ 97.507 Preapplication specifications.

This section sets forth the types of information and data to be provided in the prime sponsor's preapplication. The preapplication should clearly indicate whether it is for a Tier I or Tier II project.

(a) The following information, which may be obtained from the approved Prime Sponsor Agreement, shall be provided with respect to the prime sponsor:

- (i) Geographic and political boundaries;
- (ii) Most recent population survey data, by age, race, and sex;
- (iii) Most recent data on poverty levels in the area, by age, race, and sex;

(iv) Labor force data including employment and unemployment figures by age, race, and sex; and

(v) Principal characteristics of the labor market (size of major industries, growth, trends, etc.)

(2) Information on the following items should be based on the prime sponsor's best estimates using the 1970 census and updates, the Office of Education Survey of Income and Education, and local school data.

(i) The size of the eligible youth population (16-19 years old, economically disadvantaged with no high school diploma or equivalent.)

(ii) Breakdown of the eligible youth population showing those currently in-school and out-of-school, and, for each of these groups, the total employed (part-time, full-time), unemployed, and not in the labor force.

(b) Proposed Entitlement Area.—(1) General. (i) Preapplications must identify the geographic area to be designated as the Entitlement Area. The Entitlement Area must be a discrete geographic area which can be delineated by a single set of boundaries on a map.

(ii) The Entitlement Area for Tier I projects must contain at least 3,500 and no more than 12,000 eligible youth. For Tier II projects, the Entitlement Area must include 1,500 or less eligible youth. Prime sponsors may propose to administer an Entitlement Project under Tier I in an area with more than 12,000, or under Tier II in an area with more than 1,500, eligible youth provided they promise to finance 100 percent of the extra costs.

(iii) For Tier I projects, it is preferable that the geographic boundaries of the Entitlement Area coincide with the boundaries of the public secondary school system or an identifiable subpart of that system to minimize the number of eligible youth residing in the Entitlement Area who attend public schools located outside the Entitlement Area.

(iv) In designating the Tier I Entitlement Area, prime sponsors should consider locating jobs primarily in that area, for example, by including low-residential commercial districts as part of the Entitlement Area.

(2) Information requested. If the Entitlement Area is different from the prime sponsor's jurisdictional area, the information requested in paragraph (a) of this section should also be submitted for the Entitlement Area.

(c) Estimated Job Demand in the Entitlement Area.—(1) General. Since employment opportunities must be provided to all eligible youth in the Entitlement Area, it is critically important to estimate the number of eligible youth who will seek jobs. The estimate must consider not only unemployed in-school youth, but those not looking for jobs who would take them if available, those who would choose in-school project jobs over possible employment alternatives, and those not currently in school who would return.

(2) Information Requested. Estimate, by the best available data, the number of youth who will seek entitlement jobs. Describe the estimation methodology.

(d) Schools in Entitlement Area.—(1) General. The pre-application shall describe the public and private secondary school systems attended by project eligible youth residing in the proposed Entitlement Area.

(2) Information Requested. For each public and private school system, provide:

(i) A description of the organization and administration of the secondary school system;

(ii) An identification of the proportion of the Entitlement Area's eligible secondary school population who are attending schools in the Entitlement Area;

(iii) A list of the names and addresses of the secondary schools (Grades 9-12) located in the Entitlement Area, and for each such secondary school:

(A) Identification of the most recent and reliable data on total pupil population, total pupil population of youths eligible for the Entitlement Project, and school dropout rates. The information on dropout rates should be as detailed as possible and describe the method by which these rates were calculated;

(B) A description of current formalized workstudy, cooperative and special career-education programs, and the numbers enrolled; and

(C) A description of notable special programs already being undertaken for economically disadvantaged youth to promote retention in, return to, and completion of school, including alternative education and programs; and

(iv) One or more maps of the proposed Entitlement Area which are marked to clearly:

(A) Delineate the geographic boundaries for each school system in the Entitlement Area;

(B) Identify the street location of each public and private secondary school in that area; and

(C) Show the attendance zone for each public secondary school.

(e) Description of Existing Youth Programs. Each pre-application shall:

(1) Describe the prime sponsor's existing Title I and Title II programs for the 16-19 year old youth population. The description should include funding levels and numbers of participating youth, separately calculated for each of the program activities listed below. To the extent possible, actual funding levels and numbers of youth served should be provided for Fiscal Year 1977 and planned figures for Fiscal Year 1978. Where applicable, the number of youth being served in each category should be broken out between in-school and out-of-school participants:

- (i) Classroom training;
- (ii) On-the-job training;
- (iii) Public Service employment;
- (iv) Work experience; and
- (v) Summer Youth program.

(2) To the degree possible, also describe the programs to be funded and number of youth to be served under the Youth Community Conservation and Improvement Projects, and Youth Employment and Training Programs.

(3) Provide the best possible dollar estimates of CETA youth program operations in the Entitlement Area in Fiscal Year 1977 and the level in Fiscal Year 1978 not counting Entitlement funds.

(4) Describe how current CETA youth programs will complement and be integrated with the Entitlement project; and

(5) Describe any innovative or model program in the prime sponsor area which would indicate a unique capacity to fulfill responsibilities under the Entitlement Project.

(f) Innovative Approaches.—(1) General. (i) Prime sponsors may test a variety of innovative employment and training approaches within the larger context of the Entitlement program. These approaches should not cover an entire Tier I project, of which the basic purpose is to test the Entitlement notion itself, but may be used as a component of Tier I projects Tier II projects should include one or more of the following innovative approaches:

(A) The use of subsidies to private for-profit employers to encourage such employers to provide employment and training opportunities;

(B) Arrangements with unions to enable eligible youth to enter into apprenticeship training as part of the employment entitlement;

(C) Inclusion of economically disadvantaged youth between the ages of 19 and 25 inclusive who have not received their high school diploma or equivalent;

(D) Inclusion of occupational and career counseling, outreach, career exploration, and on-the-job training as part of the employment entitlement;

(E) Inclusion of youth under the jurisdiction of the juvenile or criminal justice system with the approval of the appropriate authorities.

(ii) The Department of Labor is especially interested in receiving proposals concerning the use of Entitlement funds to promote completion of high school by young unwed mothers.

(iii) Prime sponsors may propose to undertake other innovative approaches provided adequate justification is provided in their pre-applications.

(2) Information Requested. Pre-applications shall describe innovative approaches, identify how these will be implemented and administered, describe the area in which these would be implemented, and estimate the size of the eligible population that would be involved.

(g) Project Organization and Administration.—(1) General. (i) Because of the size and complexity of the Entitlement Projects, a single governmental, private nonprofit, or educational agency should be designated to assume overall management responsibility for program operations, including coordinating participant recruitment, work site development, operational relationships among schools, training activities and support services, program monitoring, report preparation, and maintenance of management information. The prime sponsor may delegate this responsibility.

(ii) For the Entitlement Project, the entire youth participant payroll shall be centrally administered by the prime sponsor or its delegatee management agency. Finally, since this is a demonstration project, extensive research, monitoring, and evaluation must be carried out by the prime sponsor under the supervision of the Department of Labor.

(2) Information Requested. (i) Identify the responsible management agency and describe its proposed staffing structure for the Entitlement Project, its previous experience with employment and training programs, its specific capabilities for managing the Entitlement Project, and, if other than the prime sponsor, its relationship to the prime sponsor.

(ii) Indicate whether the prime sponsor or a management agency will administer the payroll and explain the rationale for the choice.

(iii) Indicate procedures which will be used for monitoring program operations.

(iv) Provide an assurance from the prime sponsor that it will cooperate fully in the design, implementation, and evaluation of the Entitlement Project.

(h) Recruitment.—(1) General. The "Entitlement" concept can only be meaningfully tested if eligible youth are aware of the program. Therefore, prime sponsors shall provide information and do active outreach with respect to potential participants.

(2) Information Requested. The procedures for informing, referring, recruiting, and determining eligibility of participants (both in-school and out-of-school) should be detailed, including identification of the private and/or public agencies to be utilized for this purpose. Particular reference should be made to the proposed role of the State Employment Service with respect to these functions.

(i) Work-Site Development.—(1) General. (i) The employment or combination of employment and training guaranteed under this program is intended to be year-round with no limitation on the period of enrollment. However, this guarantee shall not exceed 20 hours per week for each youth employed during the school year nor 40 hours per week during the summer. During the school year, the guarantee must extend for at least 6 months and during the summer for at least 8 weeks. This guarantee shall not be provided to each youth for less than 10 hours per week during the school year and not less than 30 hours per week during the summer.

(ii) The opportunities guaranteed may take any of the forms specified in Section 326 of the Act, and are guaranteed to an eligible youth only so long as the youth remains enrolled in high school or in a certified or approved high school equivalency program. Out-of-school youth must return to school or enter an equivalency program in order to be eligible for the employment guarantee.

(iii) Based on estimates of the number of eligible youth who will seek employment in the Entitlement Project, the prime sponsor should plan for a larger number of jobs as a cushion in case the estimates are too low. The concept of an entitlement must be maintained; therefore, make work jobs for unexpected numbers of applicants are not permissible. In Tier I projects, jobs must be primarily located in the Entitlement Area.

(iv) Emphasis in work site development shall be placed on jobs having careful supervision and which provide youth with structured, productive work settings. Jobs shall be designed to introduce youth to the habits of successful work life and entry level or preparatory skills. Prime sponsors should make every effort to create new and different job classifications, occupations, and restructured jobs (as defined in § 97.702(g)(1)). (Sec. 327(a)(3).)

(2) Information Requested. (i) The types and locations of jobs;

(ii) What phase-in, if any, would be necessary;

(iii) Anticipated work site (hiring agent) administration and supervisory structure for its role in Entitlement;

(iv) Types of hiring agencies (government, nonprofit, education institution, private); and

(v) Procedures to assure that restructured job proposals will be discussed with appropriate labor organizations, and that jobs will not be substituted for existing jobs.

(j) Training Support Services.—(1) General. (i) The basic intent of Entitlement Projects is to provide employment. Training and support services, however, may be provided. For the purpose of planning, it should be assumed that a participant will spend most of paid program time (a maximum of 20 hours per week during the school year, 40 hours during the summer) engaged in direct job performance at the work site.

(ii) Any training that is conducted during paid program time should be directly related to the participant's specific work assignment.

(iii) Participants are to be paid for time spent in training in accordance with § 97.519.

(iv) Participants shall not be paid for time spent in supportive services (as defined in § 94.4(eee) of this title).

(v) Prime sponsors are discouraged from paying for staff and overhead costs for training and support services out of Entitlement funds. Prime sponsors should use funds from other sources to cover these costs.

(2) Information Requested. Identify and describe the nature and extent of any proposed training and services, how these will relate to the proposed jobs, and the organizations and funds that will provide them.

(k) Entitlement Project-School Relationship. Each pre-application shall: (1) Describe planned cooperation between public and private secondary school system officials and the prime sponsor. At a minimum, the application should include written statements from school officials indicating their agreement to:

(i) Assist in participant (including dropout) recruitment and eligibility determinations;

(ii) Cooperate in the ongoing monitoring of enrollment and academic and attendance requirements; and

(iii) Provide necessary information for effective project management and evaluation;

(2) Describe special procedures and actions that will be taken to facilitate the return of school dropouts.

(3) Identify area agencies which offer high school equivalency programs and provide agreements comparable to those described above for school systems.

(l) Commitment of Local Institutions and Organizations.—(1) General. (i) Prime sponsors shall consult with the appropriate labor organizations in developing restructured and/or newly classified jobs during the pre-application stage.

(ii) Sec. 327(a)(4)(D) of the Act also requires that prime sponsors consult and work with a number of other local institutions and organizations in planning and implementing Entitlement Projects, including law enforcement and judicial agencies, youth groups, community-based organizations, the private sector, and the State Employment Service. Arrangements should be made with all appropriate groups during the pre-application period to obtain their assistance in implementing the program.

(2) Information Requested. The pre-application should contain letters of intent to cooperate from appropriate labor organizations, government officials, the State Employment Service, and other local organizations, associations or agencies involved with the eligible youth population.

(m) Data Collection Systems.—(1) General. It is anticipated that the national evaluation of Entitlement Projects will rely heavily on existing CETA and school system data collection systems. Effectively operating systems, therefore, are of great importance.

(2) Information Requested. (i) Describe the currently operating prime sponsor data collection and processing systems, indicating whether the system is automated or manual, the types and availability of information kept on individual participants, and the typical lag-time between a participant's enrollment or status change and the availability of that information in the data system.

(ii) Describe data system reports, if any, which may be appropriate for the Entitlement program that are used for prime sponsor management purposes, but which differ from the regular reports on program and financial performance required by the CETA regulations for other CETA programs; indicate the frequency of their production.

(iii) Describe the currently operating data collection systems used by the secondary school systems in the proposed Entitlement Area with respect to student enrollment, attendance, performance and dropouts.

(n) Budget.—(1) General. Costs shall be estimated for the period January 1978, through June 1979 (or the end of the 1978-79 school year, whichever comes first). Prime sponsors should commit funds available under other programs (in particular, funds under Titles I and III of the Act) to the Entitlement Project.

(2) Information Requested. The pre-application shall specify separately the amount of Entitlement funds and non-Entitlement funds proposed to be used, broken down by the following cost categories:

- (i) Administration:
 - (A) Personnel; and
 - (B) Nonpersonnel;
- (ii) Allowances;
- (iii) Wages;
 - (A) School year; and
 - (B) Summer;
- (iv) Fringe benefits;
- (v) Work site supervisor salaries:
 - (A) School year; and
 - (B) Summer;
- (vi) Work site expenses:
 - (A) Equipment; and
 - (B) Supplies;
- (vii) Training; and
- (viii) Services

§ 97.508 Selection of final applicants.

(a) Pre-Application review criteria. (1) The following basic criteria shall be used to evaluate both Tier I and Tier II pre-applications:

(i) Quality and thoroughness of documentation required by § 97.507;

(ii) Managerial, administrative, operating, and fiscal capability of the prime sponsor and, if applicable, the designated management agency.

(iii) Level of commitment of other resources to the Entitlement Project, especially funds under Title I and Sec. 304(a) (1), (2) and (3) of the Act;

(iv) Degree to which the Entitlement project will be integrated with local education, career development, and employment and training programs for economically disadvantaged youth;

(v) Commitment of cooperation and participation from local school systems, labor organizations, and other local groups;

(vi) The prime sponsor's and, if applicable, the managing agency's previous experience in administering in-school employment programs and career education and special programs for dropouts;

(vii) Proposed total cost, unit cost, and cost structure; and

(viii) Commitment and ability to satisfy the data needs required by the research and demonstration character of the Entitlement program;

(2) The following criteria shall be used to evaluate all pre-applications but shall have greater importance for Tier I pre-applications:

(i) Estimated rate of eligible youth participation within the proposed Entitlement Area; and

(ii) Capability of proposed local worksites to provide employment and training opportunities of sufficient quantity and quality to satisfy the objectives of the Entitlement program;

(3) The following criteria shall be used to evaluate all pre-applications but shall have greater importance for Tier II pre-applications:

(i) The extent to which quality work sites are proposed which include new and different job classifications, occupations, or restructured jobs; and

(ii) The quality and feasibility of proposed innovative approaches such as those listed in Section 327(b) of the Act.

(b) Each ETA regional office shall review pre-applications submitted by prime sponsors in its region, particularly those parts of the pre-applications which deal with managerial and administrative capability and fiscal and operational effectiveness. In making this review, each regional office shall take into account the prime sponsor's past performance with respect to other CETA programs.

(c) After regional office review, the Assistant Secretary for Employment and Training may make use of an impartial Review Panel to review each pre-application and the comments of the regional offices in accordance with the criteria set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, and to make recommendations to the Assistant Secretary for Employment and Training.

(d) The Assistant Secretary will review all the pre-applications and shall select final applicants based on the criteria set forth in paragraph (a) of this section taking into account any Review Panel recommendations and/or regional office comments. The Assistant Secretary shall select final applicants from areas with different socio-economic and regional circumstances such as different unemployment rates, school dropout rates, urban and rural variations, size and other such factors designed to test the efficacy of a youth job entitlement in a variety of different locations and circumstances (Sec. 327(a)(1)). Pre-applicants not selected shall be notified in writing of their nonselection, the reasons therefor, and that further documentation on their nonselection will be made available to them on written request.

§ 97.509 Planning grants.

(a) The Assistant Secretary shall notify selected final applicants in writing of the reasons for their selection, emphasizing the particular experimental aspects of their pre-applications which the Assistant Secretary judged especially meritorious.

(b) The Assistant Secretary shall award planning grants to the final applicants so that they can develop their grant applications along the lines initially set out in the approved pre-application.

(c) If, at the time of the planning grant, or during the planning phase, the final applicant determines that it is unable to develop its final application along the authorized lines, the final applicant shall notify the Assistant Secretary in writing immediately.

§ 97.510 Final application process.

(a) By 5 p.m., e.s.t., December 14, 1977, final applicants shall submit one signed original and 14 copies of their final applications to the Assistant Secretary or to any Review Panel designated by the Assistant Secretary. Two copies shall also be sent to the appropriate Regional Administrator.

(b) Every final application shall contain, in detail, the information required by §§ 97.511-97.514.

(c) Only those prime sponsors which are selected to receive planning grants under § 97.509 shall be eligible to submit final applications.

§ 97.511 Program operation-related documentation.

Each final application shall describe: (a) All additions, changes, and clarifications to the materials submitted in the preapplication, especially those materials requested by ETA as a result of its review of the preapplication;

(b) (1) Which of the following groups of youth, if any, will be considered by the prime sponsor to "reside" in the Entitlement Area and therefore be eligible (if otherwise eligible) for program participation:

(i) Youths confined in prisons or other correctional institutions in the area;

(ii) Youths in area hospitals, drug rehabilitation centers, half-way houses, etc.; and

(2) How the enrollment eligibility criteria and procedures will be applied to any of these or other groups of youth in institutional "residences" selected to be included in the program. Each such institutional "residence" included in the program shall be listed and briefly described;

(c) The procedures for verification and reverification of eligibility criteria and the method by which these will be implemented, and how the eligibility criteria and verification procedures will be explained to participants at the time of enrollment;

(d) Proposed policies for defining good cause for the rejection of a job or other nonparticipation by a participant; proposed procedures and timetables for making another job offer in such cases; and proposed procedures for the resolution of grievances.

(e) In detail, proposed standards for determining satisfactory performance including policies on attendance and lateness on the job or at training, suspension and termination policies and procedures, and the procedures and staff responsibilities for monitoring program performance.

(f) And attach agreements obtained from participating schools and high school equivalency (GED) programs indicating their willingness to provide a monthly status report for each participant certifying the participant's compliance or noncompliance with the school's or GED program's minimum academic and attendance requirements, including, from each participating secondary school and GED program, a description of the standards and policies for determining its minimum academic and attendance requirements;

(g) All worksites, proposed wages, and proposed employment and training opportunities.

(h) Proposed procedures for complying with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act; include agreements with school systems with respect to this item; and

(i) (1) Payroll, audit, and other fiscal procedures;

(2) The current prime sponsor accounting and reporting system, with attention to the requirements of this subpart; and the current system for allocating personnel charges to multiple funding sources;

(3) The system used to requisition for periodic advances or reimbursements used for existing DOL funded programs. If the system is a Letter of Credit, indicate the average number and amounts of cash requests for the last 6 months; and

(4) The fiscal organization and staffing, internal controls, and other procedures for fiscal integrity and accountability. Attach:

(i) A copy of any Management Agency's last Certified Financial Statement;

(ii) A copy of the last DOL audit of the Prime Sponsor, along with response and further documentation regarding the outcome of open items; and

(iii) Copies of payroll, accounting and financial forms relevant to the Entitlement program.

§ 97.512 Program budget: Estimated costs.

Each final application shall describe program expenses whether proposed to be paid from Entitlement, other CETA, or other funds in sufficient detail and with sufficient justification to show the basis and rationale for the estimates and calculations. All budgetary material shall be organized by four categories of expense: Program Management, Participant Costs (wages and allowances), Work Site Supervision and Expenses and Training. Each of these major categories shall be subdivided into personnel and nonpersonnel costs. With respect to each major category and subcategory, the final application shall indicate which of the estimated costs are to be paid directly by the Prime Sponsor or its designee management agency, and which are to be paid under agreements with subcontractors and vendors.

§ 97.513 Agreements.

Each final application shall include all agreements which the prime sponsor has entered into for the purpose of the Entitlement program. These agreements shall include:

(a) All wage agreements entered into pursuant to § 97.519(a);

(b) An agreement with the State Employment Service agency;

(c) Agreements with every public, private nonprofit, and private-for-profit school in the Entitlement project area which is attended by eligible youths, and, to the extent feasible and appropriate, with every such school outside the Entitlement Project area which eligible youths from the Entitlement Project area attend;

(d) Agreements with all agencies, schools, and institutions in the Entitlement Project area which will offer, under the program, courses which result in a certificate of high school equivalency, and, to the extent possible and appropriate, with similar entities outside the Entitlement Project area which are open to eligible youths from the Entitlement Project area;

(e) All on-the-job training, employment guarantee and other agreements entered into with private nonprofit and for-profit employers;

(f) Any agreements with unions with respect to apprenticeship training; and

(g) Any other agreements entered into in order to run the Entitlement program.

97.514 Assurances and certifications.

Each application shall contain an assurance that the prime sponsor, in operating its Entitlement Project, will comply with the Prime Sponsor Agreement (PSA) including assurances and Certifications in the PSA and with the following additional assurances:

(a) Compliance with Title III, Part C, Subpart 1 of the Act, with other applicable provisions of the Act, and with the regulations in this subpart; and

(b) Compliance with the Hazardous Occupations Orders issued pursuant to the Fair Labor Standards Act and set forth at 29 CFR 570.50 et seq. with respect to the employment of youths under 18 years of age.

§ 97.515 Review of final applications; Selection of Projects.

(a) The review of final applications will take into account the requirement of sec. 327(a)(1) of the Act that prime sponsors selected to operate Entitlement projects be "from areas with differing socioeconomic and regional circumstances such as differing unemployment rates, school dropout rates, urban and rural variations, size, and other such factors . . ."

(b) (1) To implement sec. 327(a)(1), the Tier I final applications shall be separated into three classifications:

(i) Classification No. 1—Metropolitan cities or counties where the Entitlement Area encompasses only a portion of one or more local political jurisdictions (units of general local government)

(ii) Classification No. 2—Non-metropolitan areas (primarily rural areas) where the Entitlement Area encompasses a number of complete local political jurisdictions (units of general local government)

(iii) Classification No. 3—Metropolitan cities or counties where the Entitlement Area encompasses one or more complete local political jurisdictions (units of general local government).

(2) Each Tier I final application shall be reviewed only in competition with others within its classification. Within each classification, each application will be ranked against the others in the classification with respect to each of the Tier I project criteria described in paragraph (d) of this section.

A composite of the separate rankings with respect to each criterion shall be used to determine the final overall ranking of applications in each classification.

(c) Overall ranking will be made of all Tier II final applications using the Tier II project criteria described in paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Final applications shall be reviewed against the following criteria. The first four criteria, equally weighted, shall be used to review Tier I projects. All five criteria, equally weighted, shall be used to review Tier II projects.

(1) Management capability, feasibility and commitment. This criterion will take into account:

(i) Managerial, administrative, and operating capability of the designated management agency;

(ii) Operational and management feasibility of the proposed Entitlement Area;

(iii) Commitment of cooperation and participation from local schools, GED programs, labor organizations, and other interested local groups.

(2) Operational plans. This criterion will take into account:

(i) Prime sponsor's estimated youth participation rate and plans for recruiting the eligible population, including procedures for verifying eligibility criteria;

(ii) Nature and quality of work sites, including proposed supervisory structure;

(iii) Procedures for review, control, and coordination of all operational components.

(3) Financial system and program data system quality and commitment. This criterion will take into account:

(i) Quality of procedures and systems to be used to comply with payroll, fiscal and accounting requirements;

(ii) Commitment and ability to satisfy data collection and reporting needs required by the research demonstration character of the Entitlement program.

(4) Quality of budget and resource commitment. This criterion will take into account:

(i) Analysis of proposed budget in terms of total cost, unit cost, and cost structure;

(ii) Level and nature of commitment of other local resources to the program, including the degree to which the Entitlement program will be integrated with existing local programs.

(5) Innovative features. This criterion will take into account the quality and feasibility of the innovative approaches of the Tier II Entitlement projects.

(e) Each ETA regional office shall review the final applications submitted by prime sponsors in its region to identify (1) any inaccuracies in estimates concerning planned use of other local funding resources, and (2) any mistakes of fact.

(f) The Assistant Secretary for Employment and Training may utilize a review panel to consider the Tier I and Tier II final applications, the results of onsite reviews and regional office assessments. If a panel is used, the panel shall provide rankings to the Department of Labor as described in this section, and shall make Entitlement project recommendations to the Assistant Secretary based on these rankings and the requirements of sec. 327(a)(1) of the Act.

(g) The Assistant Secretary shall make final selection of Entitlement projects on January 10, 1978, based on the specifications set forth in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section and on the recommendations of the panel. Final Tier I selections will include not more than two Classification No. 1 areas, one Classification No. 2 area, and two or three (depending on available resources) Classification No. 3 areas as described in paragraph (b) of this section. The number of final Tier II selections will depend on the cost of selected projects in relation to the available resources. Applicants shall be notified in writing of their selection. Those who have not been selected shall also be notified and justification for nonselection will be available upon request.

§ 97.516 Eligibility of participants.

(a) Every youth who resides in the geographic area of the Entitlement Project shall be entitled to participate in the program provided that, at the time of application and selection, the youth provides documented evidence which shows that:

(1) The youth is aged 16-19 inclusive, unless the Department has authorized the prime sponsor to administer an Entitlement Project for youths between 19 and 25 years of age inclusive;

(2) The youth has not received a high school diploma or certificate of high school equivalency;

(3) The youth has resided in the Entitlement Project area for 30 days. Newly discharged veterans however, are exempt from the 30 day residency requirement;

(4) The youth is economically disadvantaged. For purposes of this subpart, economically disadvantaged shall mean that the youth:

(i) Either constitutes a family of one, or is a member of a family,

(ii) And receives cash welfare payments under a Federal, State or local program, or whose income is at or below the poverty level as determined by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

For the purposes of this paragraph, a "family" is as defined in § 94.4(v) of this title, and the term "family income" is as defined in § 94.4(xxx) of this title. Family income shall be computed pursuant to § 94.4(s)(2) (i) and (ii) of this title. In the case of newly discharged veterans, income received while in military service shall be disregarded in computing family income; and

(5) The youth is:

(i) Enrolled in and attending a State-certified secondary school program leading to a high school diploma, or enrolled in such a program scheduled to begin within 30 days of the Youth's Entitlement program enrollment; or

(ii) Enrolled in and attending a certified or approved program leading to a certificate of high school equivalency (GED), or enrolled in such a program scheduled to begin within 30 days of the Youth's Entitlement program enrollment.

(b) If the youth is under the juvenile or criminal justice system, the appropriate authorities must approve the youth's participation or continued participation in writing.

(c) The citizenship provisions of § 95.32(d) of this title shall apply to the Entitlement program.

(d) (1) No otherwise eligible youth shall be excluded from participation because of any mental or physical handicap unless a qualified physician or psychologist certifies that the youth is mentally or physically incapable of obtaining a high school diploma or certificate of high school equivalency.

(2) All otherwise eligible mentally or physically handicapped youths, who are not certified as provided in paragraph (d)(1) of this section, are entitled to participate in the program. The prime sponsor must take every step necessary to insure that such youths can participate. The prime sponsor may not segregate such youths from regular program activities, but must redesign these activities to ensure participation.

(e) Section 327(a)(4)(I) of the Act prohibits a youth from taking a job under this subpart if his or her relative has responsibility for hiring persons into that job. Therefore, prime sponsors shall assure that eligible youths are not placed in jobs by their relatives.

(f) Since jobs during the school year must last at least 6 months, and jobs in the summer must last at least 8 weeks, no youth may be enrolled in the program if the grant will end before the youth can complete the required period of employment. No youths may be enrolled in the program after December 31, 1978.

(g) A participant reaching 20 years of age while in the program may remain in the program only until the participant completes either 8 weeks of full-time summer employment or 6 months part-time school-year employment. If upon reaching the 20th birthday the participant has already completed either 8 weeks of full-time summer employment or 6 months of part-time school-year employment, the participant shall be immediately terminated from the program. For projects that are serving youth 19-25, this requirement applies to youth reaching 26 years of age.

(h) A participant must continue to be economically disadvantaged as defined in § 97.516(a)(4) and to reside within the Entitlement Area or be terminated from the program. The prime sponsor shall re-verify participant economically disadvantaged status and residency after every 6 months of enrollment. In re-verifying economically disadvantaged status, however, wages and allowances received under the Entitlement program shall not be included when computing family income.

(i) A participant must meet minimum academic and attendance requirements of the secondary school or high school equivalency program in which the participant is enrolled or be terminated from the Entitlement program. The secondary school or GED program must provide monthly assurances that the participant is meeting minimum academic and attendance requirements.

(j) A participant who receives a high school diploma or a certificate of high school equivalency while in the program may remain in the program until the completion of either 8 weeks of full-time summer employment or 6 months of part-time school-year employment.

(k) A participant who has been found by the prime sponsor, after notice and an opportunity for a hearing, to have refused a job or to be otherwise refusing to participate in the program without good cause, shall be terminated from the program. The participant shall be given a termination notice which states that the participant may appeal the termination to the appropriate ETA regional office. Upon receipt of such an appeal the regional office shall process it as a formal allegation pursuant to Part 98 of this title.

(l) Any participant who has been terminated from the Entitlement program may re-enroll at any time provided the participant meets the eligibility criteria in this section, except that participants who have been terminated for failure to participate without good cause must wait 60 days before they may apply for re-enrollment.

§ 97.517 Work sites.

(a) Work sites shall:

(1) Not detract from or interfere with the educational curriculum of the participants and, whenever possible, shall complement that curriculum;

(2) Be primarily in the Entitlement Area or easily accessible, and in reasonable proximity to the residences of eligible youth;

(4) Maintain a cooperative relationship with local business, union and community group interests;

(5) Provide monitorable attendance and productivity standards, and capable on-site supervision; and

(6) Be developed and committed in such numbers and in such a way as to minimize the time between enrollment and assignment to a work site of any participant.

(b) Participants shall spend a majority of paid program time on the work site engaged in direct job performance. Training may be provided during the remaining time, provided the training is directly related to the specific work assignment.

§ 97.518 Allowable activities.

The Entitlement project may include any type of employment or training activity authorized under Title I of the Act.

§ 97.519 Participant benefits.

(a) The wage provisions of § 97.718 shall apply to the Entitlement program. In addition:

(1) In Entitlement projects in which the subsidization of private-for-profit employers is authorized, up to 100 percent of the wages may be paid. However, in the case of participants working at jobs and/or engaged in training provided by private-for-profit organizations, wages (and/or allowances) shall be paid, as in all cases, by the central payroll facility required by § 97.507(g)(1)(ii). No additional subsidies shall be provided by the Entitlement program to any such for-profit organization.

(2) Each participant shall spend the majority of his/her paid time in the Entitlement program in either work or training which is directly related to the assignment. Consequently, participants should be paid wages for both work time and training time, except when more than 50 percent of scheduled program time is spent in training. In such cases, allowances shall be paid in accordance with § 95.34 of this title for the period spent in training.

(b) Each participant, while in on-the-job training, work experience, or public service employment, shall be assured of the general benefits and working conditions for program participants required by § 98.24 of this title.

(c) No funds under the Entitlement program may be used for retirement benefits or costs.

§ 97.520 Academic credit.

Prime sponsors shall make appropriate efforts to encourage educational agencies to award academic credit for the competencies participants gain in the Entitlement program.

§ 97.521 Disregarding earnings.

The provisions of § 97.630 of this Part shall apply to the Entitlement program.

§ 97.522 Maintenance of effort.

The provisions of §§ 97.719 and 97.720 shall apply to the Entitlement program.

§ 97.523 Administrative provisions; hearing provisions; and limitations on use of funds.

(a) All the provisions of Part 98 of this title shall apply to the Entitlement program except to the extent they conflict with the regulations in this subpart.

(b) To the extent that the research, demonstration, and informational requirements of this subpart conflict with the regulations contained in Subpart 98, the regulations in this subpart shall prevail. In order to determine whether a conflict exists, grantees shall consider both the regulations in this subpart and the terms of the Entitlement grants which implement the regulations in this subpart. For example, the regulations throughout this subpart contain requirements that the grantee submit detailed information not required by the regulations in Part 98. Because of the research and demonstration nature of the Entitlement program such information is essential. As a result, the Entitlement grants, which implement the regulations contained in this subpart, contain reporting and other requirements which are both different from and more detailed than those in Part 98. In such cases, the grantees shall follow the Entitlement grant requirements. Other specific examples of such conflicts are as follows:

(1) Since under the regulations in this subpart, the Entitlement program is administered by the national office, the terms regional office and Regional Administrator in Subparts A and B of Part 98, should be interpreted to mean national office and Grant Officer; and

(2) To the extent that Entitlement grants require the use of categories for allocating costs for reporting purposes which are different from or more detailed than the allocable cost categories in § 98.12 of this title, the grantee shall allocate costs pursuant to the categories in the Entitlement grant.

(c) Questions regarding the applicability of specific provisions of Part 98 which may appear to conflict with the regulations or grant shall be addressed to the Grant Officer.

(d) No funds under the Entitlement program may be used to pay for time spent in the Entitlement program in excess of 20 hours a week during the school year or 40 hours per week during the summer. The minimum paid program time guaranteed for each employed youth shall be 10 hours per week.

(e) Prime sponsors may use program funds under both Title I and sec. 304(a)(3) of the Act for the Entitlement Project. Funds under sections 304(a)(1) and 304(a)(2) of the Act may also be used provided modifications are obtained for those grants. Funds received under Section 304 shall be integrated with funds received under this subpart. Therefore, the regulations under this subpart shall apply to such funds. Title I funds, however, may not be integrated, but must be separately accounted for. The Title I regulations shall apply to such funds. This, for example, Entitlement Project wages and allowances paid for with Title I funds, shall be paid at the wage rates and allowance rates set forth in the Title I regulations. Also, for example, only 20 percent of the Title I funds used for the Entitlement project may be spent for administration.

(c) Questions regarding the applicability of specific provisions of Part 98 which may appear to conflict with the regulations or grant shall be addressed to the Grant Officer.

(d) No funds under the Entitlement program may be used to pay for time spent in the Entitlement program in excess of 20 hours a week during the school year or 40 hours per week during the summer. The minimum paid program time guaranteed for each employed youth shall be 10 hours per week during the school year and 30 hours per week during the summer.

(e) Prime sponsors may use program funds under both Title I and sec. 304(a)(3) of the Act for the Entitlement Project. Funds under sections 304(a)(1) and 304(a)(2) of the Act may also be used provided modifications are obtained for those grants. Funds received under section 304 shall be integrated with funds received under this subpart. Therefore, the regulations under this subpart shall apply to such funds. Title I funds, however, may not be integrated, but must be separately accounted for. The Title I regulations shall apply to such funds. Thus, for example, Entitlement Project wages and allowances paid for with title I funds, shall be paid at the wage rates and allowance rates set forth in the Title I regulations. Also, for example, only 20 percent of the Title I funds used for the Entitlement project may be spent for administration.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 18th day of May 1978.

ERNEST G. GREEN,
Assistant Secretary for Employment and Training.

SUBCHAPTER P—CIVIL PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE FEDERAL MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT OF 1977

PART 100—CIVIL PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE FEDERAL MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT OF 1977

Final Rule

AGENCY: Mine Safety and Health Administration, Department of Labor.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: These rules govern the proposed assessment of civil penalties against operators of coal and other (metal and nonmetal) mines by the Mine Safety and Health Administration under the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977. The rule includes both the guidelines to be used by MSHA in determining the amount of the proposed penalty and the procedures to be followed in issuing and contesting the proposed penalty.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 26, 1978.

Madison McCulloch, Acting Director, Office of Assessments, Mine Safety and Health Administration, Room 914, Ballston Tower No. 3, 4015 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, Va. 22203, phone: 703-235-1484.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

On March 3, 1978, the Secretary of Labor published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (43 FR 9120) proposed rules governing the proposed assessment of civil penalties under the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977, Pub. L. 95-164 (Act). Interested persons were given a period of 30 days within which to submit written comments, data, views or arguments.

As a result of requests, the comment period was extended until May 3, 1978 (43 FR 14691). Comments were received from a large number of individuals and organizations. The comments are discussed below.

DISCUSSION OF COMMENTS AND CHANGES

1. General discussion. In proposing the rules relating to civil penalties, the Secretary was guided by a few basic principles or assumptions. First, the "formula system", which was developed in 1974 and put into effect at that time, has proven to be an extremely effective tool for the assessment and collection of civil penalties under the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969 (Coal Act). It has also been widely accepted by the coal industry as a fair method of carrying out the general requirements of that Act that civil penalties be assessed for all violations of that Act and that the maximum penalty be $10,000. The dramatic increase in the collection of civil penalties since the inception of the formula system is evidence of its success. In enacting the 1977 Act, Congress encouraged the continued use of the formula system. An additional principle or assumption was that while Congress did not want excessive penalties levied against non-coal operators, it also was concerned that, as a whole, penalties were too low to be an effective deterrent of unsafe or unhealthful conditions or practices.

It is also believed that, to the extent possible, penalties against a metal and nonmetal mine operator should be equal to those assessed against a coal operator where the same type of violation is involved. At the same time, however, since there has been no experience in levying fines against metal and nonmetal mine operators, it is likely that no formula would be completely successful in achieving this result and modifications might have to be made as experience is gained.

It was stated in the preamble to the proposed rule that no Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11821, as amended, was required with respect to the proposal. Several commenters protested this finding. The amount of penalties collected during calendar year 1977 by the Office of Assessments was $12.8 million under the Coal Act. It was estimated that the proposed rules would result in an overall doubling of proposed penalties, which would amount to an annual impact of an additional $12.8 million on the coal mining industry, assuming the current payment experience were to be maintained. With respect to the metal and nonmetal mining industries, the total annual impact of the proposed rule would be between $20-25 million, although it is difficult to predict the level of compliance under the new law. Thus, the anticipated economic impact of these rules falls below the Departmental criteria for the preparation of an Economic Impact Statement.

There were several requests for a public hearing with respect to the proposed rules. The comments received concerning proposed Part 100 were in most cases very detailed and thorough. The 60-day comment period has provided a sufficient time for response by all segments of the mining industry on this important area. The Secretary has had to weigh the potential additional advantages of holding a public hearing against the need to begin to implement the penalty assessment process. To hold a public hearing would add at least 60 days to the rule-making process. Congress was especially insistent that there be as little delay as possible between the issuance of a citation or order and the assessment of a penalty. The Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) has been issuing citations since March 9, 1978, and until rules are adopted for the assessment of civil penalties, MSHA is unable to make proposed assessments and the inventory of cases which must be handled will continue to grow. Therefore, on balance, the Secretary has decided not to hold a public hearing.

2. Section 100.2. It was suggested that the reference to "determinations" of "liability" be omitted from this section since the Office of Assessments in MSHA only proposes penalties. This is true, and section 100.2 has been modified to reflect this suggestion.

3. Section 100.3(b). There were several comments which criticized the use of the size of the operator's business as a criterion for determining the amount of the proposed penalty. The Act specifically requires that this factor be considered in arriving at penalty amounts. Making this factor a part of the formula itself is appropriate to ensure the greatest degree of consistency in its application.

Under the Coal Act regulations, any coal mine producing less than 50,000 tons annually would be given zero points for size. Twenty-five percent of assessments were against mines that fell in this category. The proposed rule would give zero points for size only to those mines with an annual production of less than 15,000 tons. The resultant increase in points assessed at each size level was criticized. However, the Secretary believes that it is important for the size scale to be an accurate reflection of the coal industry in terms of the number of mines affected at each level of the scale. This is the most equitable method of carrying out Congress' mandate to consider size in determining the amount of the proposed penalty. The proposed changes are therefore adopted in the final rule.

Commenters recommended that the basis for determining mine size be the same for both coal and metal and non-metal mines. In the long run, "hours worked" is probably the appropriate basis for determining size and as experience is gained under these rules, a conversion will be proposed. It is believed, however, that until MSHA has established an adequate information base for both coal and noncoal industries, the proposed rule, which is adopted as the final rule, will result in approximately equivalent points being assessed against the same size mines in both the coal and noncoal industries.

Some commenters stated that evaluations of size should not be equalized between coal and noncoal operators, since there is such a great disparity between the price of a ton of coal and, for example, the price of a ton of aggregate. However, since the primary goal of the Act is to protect worker safety and health, the critical element in determining size should be worker exposure rather than the price of the product or profitability of the business.

There were also inquiries concerning the application of the size criterion to independent contractors that are considered to be mine operators under the Act. Contractors should be assessed based upon hours worked and once MSHA accumulates sufficient information relating to their activities at mine sites, necessary changes in the formula will be proposed. Until that time, contractors will be assessed under the special assessment provisions of the rule. In taking this approach, MSHA will make every effort to ensure that assessments against contractors are equivalent to those against other coal and noncoal operators.

It was suggested that the term "annual hours worked at mine" be clarified to indicate more specifically which categories of worker hours should be included. "Annual hours worked" is intended to include hours of production workers in the mine or mill and maintenance workers in those areas, and is not intended to include office and clerical workers. The intent is to correlate mine size to worker exposure.

There were several comments which criticized the use of the size of the "controlling company" as a factor in the penalty formula. However, Congress specifically required that the size not merely of the particular mine involved in the violation but the size of the operator's "business" be taken into account. Since the primary purpose of imposing civil penalties is to induce compliance with the Act and health and safety standards, penalties must be of a sufficient magnitude to provide such an inducement. It is necessary to recognize that business judgments affecting health and safety may be made at various levels of a business structure and that penalties must be such as to encourage management at all levels to respond positively to health and safety concerns.

Commenters asked whether a company which was assessed a penalty for a violation in a noncoal mine would be given points based only upon the hours worked in its other noncoal mines or whether hours worked in any coal mines which the company might operate would be counted as well. For violations in metal and nonmetal mines, points for company size will be based only upon the company's metal and nonmetal mining interests.

4. Section 100.3(c). It was contended by some commenters that applying the same scale for number of violations per inspection day in both coal and noncoal mines would be prejudicial to noncoal operators because those mines have been inspected less frequently than coal mines and therefore receive, on the average, more violations per inspection day. This might be the result if the prior statutes were still in effect. However, inspection rates will be the same under the new Act and the development of a history of violations for metal and nonmetal mines under the new Act will begin from March 9, 1978, the Act's effective date.

It should also be clarified, in response to comments, that the history of previous violations is derived from the particular mine that has been cited rather than from the controlling company.

Commenters suggested that rather than having a scale based solely on the number of violations assessed, MSHA should take into account, for example, whether certain types of violations occur repeatedly or certain types of violations occur in combination. Congress was concerned about these considerations and in enacting the Act retained the special sanctions which had been applicable to "unwarrantable failures" under the Coal Act. In addition, Congress added a provision applying the same types of special sanctions to "patterns of violations." Since these unique provisions will be assessed under the special assessments provision (§ 100.4), the proposed scale relating to history of violations is adopted in the final rule.

It was recommended by some commenters that the basis for determining which violations would be included in history of violations under the proposed rule, i.e., "violations presently assessed that have not been vacated or dismissed," be changed to include only "violations finally assessed." Waiting for a final determination with respect to each penalty would create too great a "lag" in compiling the history at a particular mine. This lag might be justified if there were a significant difference between the number of violations initially assessed and the number finally assessed. However, less than one percent of proposed assessments are ultimately dismissed or vacated. It should also be pointed out that if a violation is ultimately dismissed or vacated, the history for that operator will be changed to reflect that determination.

5. Section 100.3(d). The most frequent comments concerning the negligence scale were directed toward the proposed changes in the dividing line between ordinary negligence and gross negligence. The negligence criterion is of the utmost importance in determining the amount of a penalty. Experience under the Coal Act has demonstrated that the vast majority of cases are assessed points for ordinary negligence. This is as it should be since a finding of gross negligence must be based upon reckless or intentional conduct which should occur in relatively few cases. At the same time, over 85 percent of the total number of cases under the Coal Act receive between 9 and 12 points on the scale. Two conclusions emerge. First, there needs to be more flexibility in the assessment of points for ordinary negligence since the vast majority of cases are compressed into the top 3 points of the ordinary negligence range. Second, there is little justification for providing an equal degree of flexibility with respect to a finding of gross negligence, which is only found in six percent of the cases. In addition, the seriousness of a finding of gross negligence is emphasized by raising the minimum number of points associated with it. Therefore, the proposed rule is adopted.

Commenters also stated that the criteria contained in the proposed rules defining what is meant by "gross" and "ordinary" negligence are too vague and that inconsistencies in application will result, particularly if more flexibility is provided in the determination of ordinary negligence. To date, application of this criterion under the Coal Act has resulted in relatively few problems of this nature. Furthermore, subjective criteria, such as negligence, are not amenable to precise definition.

It was suggested that any fatality which is found to be due to gross negligence should be assessed the maximum penalty. All fatalities are removed from the formula system and are assessed by special assessment. It is likely in most cases that any fatality which resulted from a violation which occurred due to gross negligence would be assessed at or near the maximum amount.

6. Section 100.3(e). It was suggested that the points be increased for the scales relating to probability of occurrence and gravity of injury or illness normally expected. Since the gravity criterion already accounts for a total of 30 points, and is the most significant criterion in terms of the potential points accumulated, adding more points would tend to underemphasize the relative importance of the other criteria which the Act requires to be applied.

Commenters suggested that the definition of "probable" should be changed to mean "that which is more likely to occur than not." This would require the addition of a fourth category to fill the gap that would be left between "improbable" and "probable." This suggestion would not, therefore, result in a net improvement in the formula.

Commenters also stated their belief that the definitions of the various key terms used in this section are not specific enough to prevent arbitrary and inconsistent judgments from being made. The question of "gravity" inherently calls for an element of subjectiveness. More elaborate criteria would not eliminate this element.

7. Section 100.3(f). Commenters suggested that a greater number of negative points be made available for rapid compliance. Since the basic purpose of civil penalties is to deter future violations, it would not be appropriate to put further emphasis upon the correction of the condition once the violation has already been committed.

However, more flexibility should be provided in assessing points for compliance efforts. The fact that the point differential under the proposed regulations (and under the current Coal Act rules) is so great between normal compliance and rapid compliance or lack of good faith makes it extremely likely that an assessment officer will award zero points. Statistically, normal compliance under the Coal Act, or zero points, is achieved in 95 percent of the cases. Under the Coal Act, slightly over two percent of the cases are assessed positive points for noncompliance and slightly under three percent are awarded negative points for rapid compliance. It is realistic to assume that while most efforts to achieve compliance will not be "extraordinary," many operators do make special efforts to achieve compliance. By the same token, however, an operator who is somewhat dilatory, although not truly acting in bad faith, should not be given credit for normal compliance. Consequently, the final rules will permit the assessment of from minus one to minus ten points for rapid compliance, which is redefined to include less than "extraordinary measures," and from plus one to plus ten points for lack of good faith.

8. Section 100.3(g). The penalty table was criticized as being "skewed" in the sense that in order to be assessed $5,000, which is only half of the statutory maximum, it would be necessary to accumulate 91 points, which rarely occurs given the way the formula is constructed. If the application of the formula were the only mechanism for the assessment of penalties, this criticism would be well-founded. However, the formula system is not applied to certain types of cases, including fatalities and serious injuries, unwarrantable failures, patterns of violations and operating a mine in the face of a closure order. These cases, and others, are assessed by way of a special assessment. Since they generally constitute the more serious violations, special assessment cases have been, on the average, assessed at between $3,500 and $4,500 under the Coal Act. The average formula assessment has been approximately $125. MSHA believes the use of the special assessment provision is responsive to criticisms of the penalty table.

MSHA acknowledges that the proposed formula system is not a perfect one and that improvements can be made. However, rather than attempt to make piecemeal revisions based upon inadequate experience under the new Act at this time, MSHA will adopt the proposed rule as a final rule, with the changes noted, and will seriously consider the need for a revamped penalty assessment formula once there has been some experience under this system.

9. Section 100.4. It was requested that a more complete list of the types of cases subject to the special assessments provision be included. This has been done.

Commenters believed that unwarrantable failure should not be a part of the special assessment system, since they are not really special "types" of violations and may involve only ordinary negligence. When the special assessment concept was first utilized, unwarrantable failures were always given special assessments. However, recent case law has construed the term broadly, and these cases will, therefore, be handled in a flexible manner. Where appropriate, an unwarrantable failure case which is initially referred for a special assessment may be "pulled out" of that status upon review and given an assessment under the formula.

10. Section 100.5. Commenters believed that seven days is an inadequate period within which to request a conference. MSHA acknowledges that this is a brief period for an operator to determine what action to take with respect to a particular case and then to respond accordingly. However, Congress expressed deep concern over what it perceived to be an unjustifiably protracted assessment process.

Since it is to everyone's benefit that an operator be given sufficient time to make an intelligent assessment of the initial review, the final rule gives a 10 day period to request and a 33 day period to hold a conference. MSHA cannot permit more time without ignoring the congressional mandate to expedite the process. It may be incumbent upon operators to begin reviewing violations at the time of citation or abatement rather than at the time of assessment in order to have ample time to determine which course of action to take. It should also be made clear that a request for a conference may be made by phone.

It was also commented that service of the initial review should include a return receipt in order to avoid questions over whether a request for a conference was made within 7 days of "receipt" of the initial review. MSHA does not foresee that problems of this nature will arise except in rare instances. In questionable cases, the benefit of the doubt will generally be given to the person claiming compliance with the rule.

Confusion was expressed over the role of the representative of miners in the conference process. Paragraph (c) has been changed to clarify that the representative must indicate on the return mailing card included with the initial review whether he wants either to ask for a conference or be notified about any conference that might be held at the request of the operator. There will be separate spaces on the card go "check off" which option the representative chooses. If the miners' representative wishes to participate in a conference requested by an operator and indicates this on the card, MSHA will notify the representative of the time and place of the conference.

Commenters criticized the fact that under the proposed rules, the ultimate decision of whether or not to conduct a conference and of the type of conference to be conducted would be left to MSHA. If it were possible, MSHA would conduct a conference in all cases in which a request was received. However, it is not feasible from a resource standpoint for MSHA to hold conferences in each case, considering both the new time limitations contained in the rule and the anticipated increase in the total number of requests under the new law. The mining community can be assured that MSHA will conduct as many conferences as its limited resources will permit within the time constraints of the rule. In addition, if a request for a conference is denied, the requesting part will be apprised of the reasons for denying the request.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal persons responsible for the preparation of this final rule are: Frank A. White, Office of Standards, Regulations and Variances, MSHA, and Madison McCulloch, Acting Director, Office of Assessments, MSHA.

Assistant Secretary for Mine Safety and Health.

1. The table of contents of Chapter I of 30 CFR is revised by removing Part 100 from Subchapter O and transferring it to a new Subchapter P as follows:

SUBCHAPTER P—CIVIL PENALTIES FOR VIOLATIONS OF THE FEDERAL MINE SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT OF 1977

Part 100 Civil penalties for violations of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977.

2. Part 100 is removed from Subchapter O and transferred to a new Subchapter P, and Part 100 is revised as follows:

- Sec.
100.1 Scope and purpose.
100.2 Applicability.
100.3 Determination of penalty; regular assessment.
100.4 Determination of penalty amount; special assessment.
100.5 Procedures for assessment of civil penalties; initial review and conferences.
100.6 Issuance of notice of proposed penalty; notice of contest.
100.7 Service.

AUTHORITY: Secs. 105, 110, 508 of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977 (Pub. L. 95-164, as amended by Pub. L. 95-164), and sec. 307 of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Amendments Act of 1977 (Pub. L. 95-164).

§100.1 Scope and purpose.

This part sets forth the criteria and procedures for the proposed assessment of civil penalties under sections 105 and 110 of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Act of 1977. It is the purpose of these rules to provide for the prompt and efficient proposal and collection of penalties in order to insure maximum compliance by the coal and metal/nonmetal mining industries with the requirements of the Act and the standards and regulations promulgated pursuant to the Act.

§100.2 Applicability.

The criteria and procedures contained in this part are applicable with respect to all initial reviews and proposed assessments issued on or after (the effective date of these regulations). The Office of Assessments, Mine Safety and Health Administration, United States Department of Labor, shall review each citation and order and shall make proposed assessments of civil penalties pursuant to this part.

§100.3 Determination of penalty amount; regular assessment.

(a) Generally. The amount of the civil penalty imposed in a regular case shall be based upon the formula set forth in this section. The formula is based on the general criteria described in sections 105(b) and 110(i) of the Act. These criteria are as follows:

- (1) The appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the business of the operator charged,
- (2) The operator's history of previous violations,
- (3) Whether the operator was negligent,

- (4) The gravity of the violation,
- (5) The demonstrated good faith of the operator charged in attempting to achieve rapid compliance after notification of a violation, and
- (6) The effect of the penalty on the operator's ability to continue in business.

The penalty amount in a regular case shall be determined by first assigning the appropriate number of penalty points to the violation for each of the criteria by utilizing the schedules set forth in paragraphs (b) through (f) of this section. The number of penalty points assigned for all criteria will then be totaled. This total point accumulation will be converted into a penalty amount by using the penalty conversion table in paragraph (g) of this section.

(b) The appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the operator's business. The appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the operator's business is calculated on both the size of the mine cited and the size of the controlling company of which the mine is a part and may account for a maximum of 15 penalty points. The size of the mine is taken into account by selecting the appropriate number of penalty points from the table contained in subparagraph (1)(i) in the case of a coal mine or (1)(ii) in the case of a non-coal mine. The size of the controlling company is taken into account by selecting the appropriate number of penalty points from the table contained in subparagraph (2)(i) in the case of a coal mine or (2)(ii) in the case of a non-coal mine.

(1)(i) Size of coal mine.

Annual tonnage of mine:	Penalty points
Under 15,000	0
Over 15,000 to 30,000	1
Over 30,000 to 50,000	2
Over 50,000 to 100,000	3
Over 100,000 to 200,000	4
Over 200,000 to 300,000	5
Over 300,000 to 500,000	6
Over 500,000 to 800,000	7
Over 800,000 to 1.1 million	8
Over 1.1 million to 2 million	9
Over 2 million	10

(1)(ii) Size of non-coal mine.

Annual hours worked at mine:	Penalty points
Under 10,000	0
Over 10,000 to 20,000	1
Over 20,000 to 30,000	2
Over 30,000 to 60,000	3
Over 60,000 to 100,000	4
Over 100,000 to 200,000	5
Over 200,000 to 300,000	6
Over 300,000 to 500,000	7
Over 500,000 to 700,000	8
Over 700,000 to 1 million	9
Over 1 million	10

(2)(i) Size of controlling company—coal mine.

Annual tonnage of controlling company—coal mine:	Penalty points
Under 100,000	0
Over 100,000 to 700,000	1
Over 700,000 to 1.5 million	2
Over 1.5 million to 5 million	3

Annual tonnage of controlling company—coal mine—Continued:	Penalty points
Over 5 million to 10 million	4
Over 10 million	5

(2)(ii) Size of controlling company—non-coal mine:

Annual hours worked—controlling company—non-coal mines:	Penalty points
Under 60,000	0
Over 60,000 to 400,000	1
Over 400,000 to 900,000	2
Over 900,000 to 3 million	3
Over 3 million to 6 million	4
Over 6 million	5

As used in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph the terms "annual tonnage" and "annual hours worked" means tonnage produced and hours worked in the previous calendar year or in the case of a mine opened or owned less than one full calendar year the tonnage and hours worked prorated to an annual basis.

(c) History of previous violations. The history of previous violations of the Act may account for a maximum of 20 penalty points, which are derived from the following schedules:

(1) Average number of violations assessed per year in the preceding 24 months:

Number of violations:	Penalty points
1 to 10	0
11 to 20	1
21 to 30	2
31 to 40	3
41 to 50	4
Over 50	5

(2) Average number of violations assessed per inspection day in the preceding 24 months:

Violations per inspection day:	Penalty points
Under 0.3	0
Over 0.3 to 0.4	1
Over 0.4 to 0.5	2
Over 0.5 to 0.6	3
Over 0.6 to 0.7	4
Over 0.7 to 0.8	5
Over 0.8 to 0.9	6
Over 0.9 to 1.0	7
Over 1.0 to 1.1	8
Over 1.1 to 1.2	9
Over 1.2 to 1.3	10
Over 1.3 to 1.4	11
Over 1.4 to 1.5	12
Over 1.5 to 1.6	13
Over 1.6 to 1.7	14
Over 1.7	15

Previous History means all violations presently assessed that have not been vacated or dismissed.

(d) Negligence. Negligence generally means committed or omitted conduct which falls below a standard of care established by law to protect persons against the risks of harm. The standard of care established under the Act is that the operator of a mine owes a high degree of care to the miners employed in that mine. A mine operator is required to be on the alert for conditions and hazards in the mine which affect the safety or health of the employees and to take the steps necessary to correct or prevent such conditions or practices. For purposes of assessing a penalty under this part, failure to do so is negligence on the part of the operator. This criterion may account for a maximum of 25 penalty points and the violation will be categorized as involving either no negligence, ordinary negligence, or gross negligence. A violation which occurs through no negligence of the operator will be assigned no penalty points for negligence. A violation which occurs through ordinary negligence of the operator will be assigned from 1 to 20 points depending on the specific facts involved. A violation which occurs through gross negligence of the operator will be assigned 21 through 25 penalty points depending on the specific facts involved. In determining the degree of negligence involved in a violation and the amount of penalty points to be assessed, the following definitions apply:

(1) "No Negligence" means that the operator could not reasonably have known of the violation or under the circumstances the operator had taken reasonable precautions to prevent the violation.

(2) "Ordinary Negligence" means the operator failed to exercise reasonable care either to prevent or to correct the conditions or practices which caused the violation and which were known or should have been known to exist.

(3) "Gross Negligence" means an operator either caused the condition or practice which occasioned the violation by exercising reckless disregard of mandatory health and safety standards or recklessly or deliberately failed to correct an unsafe condition or practice which was known to exist.

(e) Gravity. This criterion may contribute a maximum of 30 penalty points. The points will be derived from the following schedules:

(1) Probability of the occurrence of the event against which a standard is directed may account for a maximum total of 10 penalty points using the listed definitions and schedules.

Probability of occurrence:	Penalty points
Improbable.....	0
Probable.....	3
Imminent.....	7
Occurred.....	10

As used in this paragraph the following terms have the following meanings:

Improbable: That which is unlikely to happen.

Probable: That which is likely to occur.

Imminent: That which is likely to occur before the violation can be abated.

(2) Gravity of injury if it occurred or were to occur, using the listed definitions and the following schedule, may account for a maximum of 10 penalty points:

Gravity of injury or illness normally expected:	Penalty points
No lost work days.....	0
Lost work days or restricted duty.....	3
Permanent disabling.....	7
Fatal.....	10

Types of injury or illness expected if the event caused or could cause injury or illness are defined as follows:

No lost work days: All occupational injuries and illnesses as defined in 30 CFR Part 50 except those listed below.

Lost work days: Any injury or illness which would cause the injured or ill person to lose one full day of work or more after the day of the injury or illness, or which would cause one full day or more of restricted duty.

Permanent disabling: Any injury or illness which results in the total or partial loss of use of any member or function of the body.

Fatal: Any work-related injury or illness resulting in death, or which has a reasonable potential to cause death.

(3) Number of personnel affected if event occurred or were to occur:

Number of persons affected:	Penalty points
0.....	0
1.....	1
2.....	2
3.....	3
4 to 5.....	4
6 to 9.....	8
More than 9.....	10

(f) Demonstrated good faith of the operator charged in attempting to achieve rapid compliance. This criterion awards negative points for a manifestly conscientious effort to achieve rapid compliance, and can contribute a maximum of 10 points as indicated in the following schedule and definitions:

Degree of good faith:	Penalty points
Rapid.....	-10 to -1
Normal.....	0
Lack of good faith.....	1 to 10

In determining the operator's good faith in attempting to achieve rapid compliance, the following definitions apply:

"Rapid Compliance" means there is demonstrated evidence that the operator has made special efforts to insure abatement of the violation within the time given for abatement either originally or as extended.

"Normal Compliance" means the operator has abated the violation within the time given for abatement either originally or as extended.

"Lack of Good Faith" means the operator has been untimely and has not shown diligence and effort in attempting to abate the violation.

(g) Penalty conversion table. The penalty conversion table shall be used to convert the accumulation of penalty points to the appropriate assessment.

(h) The effect on the operator's ability to continue in business. It is initially presumed that the operator's ability to continue in business will not be affected by the proposed assessment. The operator may submit information to the Office of Assessments concerning his financial status to show that payment of the proposed assessment will affect his ability to continue in business. If the information provided by the operator indicates that the proposed assessment will adversely affect his ability to continue in business, the Office of Assessments may reduce the penalty.

§100.4 Determination of penalty amount: special assessment.

The Office of Assessments may elect to waive in whole or in part the use of the assessment formula contained in §100.3 if it determines that conditions surrounding the violation warrant such a waiver. Although an effective penalty can generally be derived from the formula in the usual case, some types of violations may be of such a nature or seriousness that it is not possible to arrive at an appropriate penalty by resorting only to the formula. Accordingly, it may be appropriate in certain types of cases, such as fatalities and serious injuries, unwarrantable failures to comply with mandatory health and safety standards or patterns of violations under section 104 of the Act, the operation of a mine in the face of a closure order, the failure to permit an authorized representative of the Secretary of Labor to perform an inspection or investigation, discrimination violations under section 105(c) of the Act, failure to abate a violation within the prescribed period, violations by individuals, violations by designated independent contractors, and in other appropriate cases, to make a special assessment without resort to the formula contained in this part. Such special assessments shall take into account the six criteria enumerated in §100.3(a) and all findings shall be in narrative form.

§100.5 Procedures for assessment of civil penalties; initial review and conferences.

(a) All citations which have been abated and all closure orders, regardless of termination or abatement, will be promptly referred by MSHA to the Office of Assessments for a determination of the fact of the violation and the amount, if any, of the penalty to be proposed.

(b) The Office of Assessments shall make an initial review of the citation or order and shall immediately serve, by regular mail, a copy of the results of the initial review, including the formula computations made by the Office, upon the party to be charged and the miners or their representatives at the mine.

(c) Upon receipt of the results of the initial review, all parties shall have ten (10) days, within which to either request a conference or to submit additional evidence for consideration. The Office of Assessments shall provide a return mailing card with the results of the initial review which will permit any party (1) to request a conference, (2) to request to participate in and be notified of the time and place of a conference requested by any other party or (3) to submit additional facts. In requesting a conference, a party must either make reference on the card or immediately contact the appropriate assessment office concerning the date and time proposed for the requested conference. All conferences shall be held at the appropriate assessment field office unless that office agrees to another location.

(d) It is within the sole discretion of the Office of Assessments to conduct a conference or deny a request for a conference and, if a conference is to be conducted, to determine the nature of the conference.

(e) All conferences shall be conducted within 33 days of the service of the results of the initial review by the Office of Assessments unless it is not feasible to conduct a conference within that period and the party requesting a conference demonstrates to the Office a substantial likelihood that a conference will result in a suitable resolution of the issues involved in the case. However, under no circumstances may a conference be conducted or evidence considered later than 30 days after the issuance of a proposed penalty under §100.6(a) or after the date the Office of Assessments receives a timely notice of contest under §100.6(b).

(f)(1) The Office of Assessments will consider all relevant information, submitted in a timely manner, presented by all the parties with respect to the alleged violation. When the facts warrant a finding that no violation occurred, a penalty will not be proposed.

(2) If a conference is conducted, the parties may submit any additional relevant information relating to the alleged violation, either prior to or at the conference. To expedite the conference, the official assigned to the case may contact the parties to discuss the issues involved prior to the conference.

(g) With respect to those issues which are resolved either as the result of a conference or based upon information submitted to the Office of Assessments, payment of any amount agreed upon must be received by the Office within 20 days from the date of receipt of the proposed penalty by the party charged under §100.6(a). Acceptance by the Office of Assessments of payment tendered by the party charged will close the case.

§100.6 Issuance of notice of proposed penalty; notice of contest.

(a) A notice of proposed penalty will be issued and served by certified mail upon the parties under the following circumstances:

(1) Upon the failure of any party to file a timely response to the results of the initial review;

(2) Upon the completion of a conference or upon review of timely submitted information for review by the Office of Assessments;

(3) Upon the expiration of 33 days from the service of the results of the initial review in a case in which no conference can be held within such 33 day period.

(b) Upon receipt of the notice of proposed penalty, the party charged shall have 30 days to notify the Office of Assessments in writing that he wishes to contest the proposed assessment. The Office shall provide a return mailing card with each notice of proposed penalty to allow the person charged to request a hearing before the Federal Mine Safety and Health Review Commission under section 105 of the Act. Such a request should be sent to the field assessment office listed on such notification. When the Office of Assessments receives the notice of contest, it shall immediately forward the case to the Office of the Solicitor, and shall immediately advise the the Commission of such notice. No proposed penalty which has been contested before the Commission shall be compromised, mitigated or settled except with the approval of the Commission.

(c) The failure to contest the proposed penalty within 30 days of receipt of notice thereof shall result in the proposed penalty being deemed a final order of the Commission and not subject to review by any court or agency.

§100.7 Service.

(a) All operators are required by 30 CFR 41.11 to file with the Mine Safety and Health Administration the name and address of record of the operator. All representatives of the miners are required by 30 CFR Part 40 to file with the Mine Safety and Health Administration the mailing address of the person or organization acting in a representative capacity. Initial findings and proposed penalty assessments delivered to those addresses shall constitute service.

(b) If any of the parties choose to have these documents mailed to a different address, the Office of Assessments must be notified in writing of the new address. Delivery to this address shall constitute service.

Title 3—The President

PROCLAMATION 4573

Flag Day and National Flag Week, 1978

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

The American flag has grown and changed with the Nation. But for two hundred years, the United States remained unchanging in its commitment to the ideals which gave birth to that flag.

To commemorate the anniversary of the adoption on June 14, 1777 by the Continental Congress of the Stars and Stripes as the official flag of the United States of America, the Congress has requested the President to issue a proclamation calling for the observance of the fourteenth day of June of each year as Flag Day and the week in which that day occurs as National Flag Week (36 U.S.C. 157 and 157a).

To encourage the American people to reflect upon their Nation, its heritage, and its course in the years ahead, the Congress, by joint resolution of June 13, 1975, has set aside the twenty-one days from Flag Day through Independence Day as a period to honor America (36 U.S.C. 157b).

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JIMMY CARTER, President of the United States of America, do hereby call upon the American people to observe June 14, 1978 as Flag Day and the week beginning June 11, 1978 as National Flag Week. I direct the appropriate officials of the Government to display the flag on all Government buildings during that week and ask the American people to display our flag at their homes and other suitable places for the same period.

I also ask each American to observe the period from Flag Day through Independence Day as a period to honor America. To that end, I ask all Americans to participate in local activities that reflect an understanding and appreciation of America and its institutions.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this thirtieth day of May, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred seventy-eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the two hundred and second.

Executive Order 12062

May 26, 1978

President's Commission on the Coal Industry

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution of the United States of America, and in order to establish, pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App. I), a balanced forum to review the state of the Nation's coal industry, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1-1. Establishment and Membership.

1-101. There is hereby established the President's Commission on the Coal Industry.

1-102. The membership of the Commission shall be as follows:

(a) Five members shall be appointed by the President. One shall represent the interests of labor, one shall represent management and three shall represent the general public. The labor and management representatives shall be chosen from among candidates recommended by the United Mine Workers of America and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association of America, but shall not be members of these organizations. The President shall designate one of the members representing the general public to chair the Commission.

(b) The President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives may designate three members of their respective Houses to serve as non-voting members of the Commission.

(c) The Secretary of Labor and the Secretary of Energy or their designees shall also serve as non-voting members of the Commission.

1-2. Functions.

1-201. The Commission shall conduct a comprehensive review of the state of the coal industry in the United States with particular emphasis on matters pertaining to productivity, capital investment, and the general economic health of the industry; collective bargaining, grievance procedures, and such other aspects of labor-management relations as the Commission deems appropriate; health, safety and living conditions in the Nation's coal fields; the development and application of new technologies to the industry; the impact on the coal industry of Federal regulations; and such other matters as the Commission deems appropriate.

1-202. The five members appointed by the President shall prepare and transmit a final report of their findings and recommendations to the President, the Secretary of Labor and the Secretary of Energy.

1-203. To assist the Commission in the exercise of its functions, the Commission may sponsor a White House Conference on the future of the coal industry.

1-3. Administration.

1-301. To the extent authorized by law, the General Services Administration shall provide the Commission with all necessary administrative services, facilities and support on a reimbursable basis.

1-302. The Department of Labor and the Department of Energy shall, to the extent permitted by law and subject to the availability of funds, provide the Commission with such information, advice, services and funds as may be necessary for the effective performance of its functions.

1-303. Each member of the Commission who is not otherwise employed in the Government may receive compensation at the rate now or hereafter prescribed by law for GS-15 of the General Schedule for each day such member is engaged in the work of the Commission. Each member may also receive travel expenses, including per diem in lieu of subsistence (5 U.S.C. 5702 and 5703).

1-304. The functions of the President under the Federal Advisory Committee Act (5 U.S.C. App. I) which are applicable to the Commission, except that of reporting annually to the Congress, shall be performed by the Administrator of General Services.

1-4. Final Report and Termination.

1-401. The final report required by Section 1-202 of this Order shall be transmitted not later than one year from the date of the first meeting of the Commission.

1-402. The Commission shall terminate thirty days after submission of its final report.

THE WHITE HOUSE,
May 26, 1978.

Title 7—Agriculture

CHAPTER IX—AGRICULTURAL MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS, FRUITS, VEGETABLES, NUTS) DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Part 915—Avocados Grown in South Florida

Rules and Regulations; Amendment

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment adds a new paragraph to the section Avocados not subject to regulation of the Rules and Regulations currently in effect under Marketing Order No. 915. The purpose of the amendment is to permit the handling of avocados to be used for seed purposes exempt from assessments, regulations and inspection requirements. The amendment to exempt avocados used for seed is needed because such avocados are immature, and it requires certification by the receiver that such avocados were used for the intended purpose, as a safeguard to prevent avocados so handled from entering commercial channels of trade.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 30, 1978

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, 202-447-6393.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER issue on May 4, 1978, (43 FR 19235), that the Department was giving consideration to a proposal to amend the rules and regulations (Subpart—Rules and Regulations; 7 CFR 915.110-915.155) under provisions of the marketing agreement and Order No. 915, both as amended (7 CFR Part 915), regulating the handling of Avocados grown in South Florida, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674). No comments regarding the proposal were received.

After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including that in the aforesaid notice which was submitted by the Avocado Administrative Committee (established pursuant to the said amended marketing agreement and order as the agency to administer the provisions thereof), it is hereby found that the amendment, as hereinafter set forth, of the rules and regulations (Subpart—Rules and Regulations), pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order is in accordance with the provisions of said amended marketing agreement and order and will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Accordingly, Subpart—Rules and Regulations of the said amended marketing agreement and order should be and is hereby amended by adding a new paragraph (d) in § 915.140 Avocados not subject to regulation, so that after such revision such section reads as follows:

§ 915.140 Avocados not subject to regulation.

(d) Avocados for seed. Any handler may ship avocados to be used for seed purposes exempt from the provisions of §§ 915.41, 915.51, and 915.54, and the regulations issued thereunder: Provided, That such handler shall make application to the committee for an exemption prior to the loading of each shipment and that the receiver of each such shipment shall certify, on a form provided by the committee, that such fruit was used for the intended purpose, and that the residue from the seed separation process will not be allowed to enter fresh channels of trade.

Dated: May 25, 1978. To become effective June 30, 1978.

CHARLES R. BRADER,
Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

CHAPTER XI—AGRICULTURE MARKETING SERVICE (MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND ORDERS; MISCELLANEOUS COMMODITIES), DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

PART 1207—POTATO RESEARCH AND PROMOTION PLAN

Expenses and Rate of Assessment

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This regulation authorizes expenses of $2,085,000 and establishes a rate of assessment of one cent per hundredweight of potatoes for the functioning of the National Potato Promotion Board for the 1978-79 fiscal period. The regulation will enable the Board to collect assessments from designated handlers on assessable potatoes and to use the resulting funds for its expenses.

EFFECTIVE DATE: July 1, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, AMS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, telephone 202-447-6393.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Potato Board is the administrative agency established under the Potato Research and Promotion Plan (7 CFR 1207). This program is effective under the Potato Research and Promotion Act (7 U.S.C. 2611-2627).

Notice was published in the April 28 FEDERAL REGISTER (43 FR 18193) regarding the proposals. It afforded interested persons an opportunity to submit written comments not later than May 15, 1978. One comment was received in which it was requested that there be a public hearing on the proposal based on the presumption that such a hearing was required under the Administrative Procedure Act. The instant rule is being promulgated under procedures set forth in section 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act which provides for public participation in agency rulemaking through submission of written data, views, and arguments. Therefore, the request is denied. The commenter interpreted the proposed assessment as a user or consumer tax, and therefore questioned its appropriateness. The basic interpretation is incorrect. This is not a tax on consumers but, rather is an assessment authorized by Congress on handlers, who may in turn deduct the assessment from the proceeds paid to producers. It is a voluntary assessment to the extent that the producer may request a refund of the assessments paid on his potatoes. It is authorized by the Potato Research and Promotion Act and the Potato Research and Promotion Plan, promulgated pursuant to applicable procedures of said act including a public hearing during which issues related to financing potato promotion were thoroughly explored.

After consideration of all relevant matters, including the proposal in the notice, it is found that the following expenses and rate of assessment should be approved.

The regulation is as follows:

§ 1207.407 Expenses and rate of assessment.

(a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred during the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1978, and ending June 30, 1979, by the National Potato Promotion Board for its maintenance and functioning and for such purposes as the Secretary determines to be appropriate will amount to $2,085,000.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each designated handler in accordance with the provisions of the Plan shall be one cent ($0.01) per hundred-weight of assessable potatoes handled by him during said fiscal period.

(c) Unexpended income in excess of expenses for the fiscal period may be carried over as an operating monetary reserve.

(d) Terms used in this section have the same meaning as when used in the Potato Research and Promotion Plan. (Title III of Pub. L. 91-670; 84 Stat. 2041; 7 U.S.C. 2611-2627.)

Dated: May 23, 1978 to become effective July 1, 1978.

Deputy Administrator,
Marketing Program Operations.

Title 8—Aliens and Nationality

CHAPTER I—IMMIGRATION AND NATURALIZATION SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

PART 214—NONIMMIGRANT CLASSES

Designation of Hartford, Conn. and Newark, N.J. as TWOV Ports of Entry AGENCY: Immigration and Naturalization Service, Justice.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This final rulemaking order amends the regulations of the Immigration and Naturalization Service to add Hartford, Conn. and Newark, N.J. to the list of places in the United States at which aliens may enter the United States in transit without a visa. (TWOV) This amendment is necessary because Bradley Airport, Hartford, Conn. and Newark Airport, Newark, N.J. have been designated TWOV ports and the TWOV ports are listed in the Service regulations. The addition of these TWOV ports is intended for the convenience of the traveling public.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 30, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

James G. Hoofnagle, Jr., Instructions Officer, Immigration and Naturalization Service, 425 Eye Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20536, telephone 202-376-8373.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: This final rulemaking order amends 8 CFR 214.2(c)(1) by adding Hartford, Conn. and Newark, N.J. to the list of ports where aliens may enter the United States in transit without a visa, under the conditions specified in the regulation. These additional locations are being designated as TWOV ports for the convenience of the traveling public.

In the light of the foregoing, the following amendment is hereby prescribed to Chapter I of Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations:

Section 214.2(c)(1) is revised by amending the fourth sentence by adding Hartford, Conn. and Newark, N.J., and by rearranging the ports listed there in alphabetical sequence. As revised, the fourth sentence of 8 CFR 214.2(c)(1) reads as follows:

§ 214.2 Special requirements for admission, extension and maintenance of status.

(c) Transits—(1) Without visas. . . . Except for transit from one part of foreign contiguous territory to another part of the same territory, application for direct transit without a visa must be made at one of the following ports of entry: Agana, Guam, Anchorage, Alaska, Atlanta, Ga., Baltimore, Md., Bangor, Maine, Boston, Mass., Brownsville, Tex., Buffalo, N.Y., Charlotte Amalie, V.I., Chicago, Ill., Christiansted, V.I., Dallas, Tex., Denver, Colo., Detroit, Mich., Fairbanks, Alaska, Great Falls, Mont., Hartford, Conn., Honolulu, Hawaii, Houston, Tex., Los Angeles, Calif., Miami, Fla., Newark, N.J., New Orleans, La., New York, N.Y., Niagara Falls, N.Y., Norfolk, Va., Philadelphia, Pa., Pittsburgh, Pa., Ponce, P.R., Port Everglades Fla., Portland, Oreg., San Antonio, Tex., San Diego, Calif., San Francisco, Calif., San Juan, P.R., Seattle, Wash., St. Paul, Minn., Tampa, Fla., Washington, D.C. . . .

(Sec. 103; (8 U.S.C. 1103).)

These amendments are published pursuant to section 552 of Title 5 of the United States Code (80 Stat. 383), as amended by Pub. L. 93-502 (88 Stat. 1561), and the authority contained in section 103 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1103), 28 CFR 0.105(b), and 8 CFR 2.1. Compliance with the provisions of section 553 of Title 5 of the United States Code as to notice of proposed rulemaking and delayed effective date is unnecessary in this instance because the amendments contained in this order relate to agency organization and management.

Effective date: These amendments become effective on May 30, 1978.

Dated: May 25, 1978.

LEONEL J. CASTILLO,
Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

Title 12—Banks and Banking

CHAPTER III—FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

SUBCHAPTER B—REGULATIONS AND STATEMENTS OF GENERAL POLICY

PART 329—INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

Maximum Rates of Interest Payable on Time Deposits in the State of Washington by Mutual Savings Banks AGENCY: Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC).

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: Effective June 1, 1978, the Board of Directors of FDIC, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board amended their agencies' respective interest rate regulations to authorize, in part, a new category of consumer deposit in an amount of at least $1,000 with a minimum maturity of 8 years. The maximum rate of interest payable on this new deposit category is 7% percent for commercial banks and 8 percent for mutual savings banks. Since the amendments were adopted, FDIC's Board of Directors learned that mutual savings banks in the State of Washington are not permitted to pay fixed rates of interest on deposits with maturities in excess of 6 years. This amendment to FDIC's regulations is designed to alleviate competitive problems which may arise from present Washington law by permitting mutual savings banks in the State of Washington to issue 8 percent certificates of deposit with 8-year maturities which must be paid in 6 years if no action is taken by the State legislature to change the present law.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 1, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

F. Douglas Birdzell, Senior Attorney, Bank Regulation Section, Legal Division, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17th St. NW., Washington, D.C. 20429, 202-389-4324.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Effective June 1, 1978, the Board of Directors of FDIC, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board authorized a new category of time deposit. This is a consumer deposit with a minimum maturity of 8 years in a minimum amount of $1,000. The maximum interest rate on this deposit is 7% percent for commercial banks and 8 percent for mutual savings banks.

Since this new deposit category was authorized, FDIC has learned that in the State of Washington, no deposit with a fixed rate of interest issued by a mutual savings bank may have a maturity in excess of 6 years (see RCW 32.08.150). Under § 329.7 of FDIC's regulations (12 CFR 329.7), the maximum rate of interest that mutual savings banks may pay on time deposits of 6 years' maturity in minimum amounts of $1,000 is 7% percent. Hence, because of Washington law, FDIC-insured mutual savings banks in the State of Washington will be unable to pay the 8-percent maximum rate authorized for the new 8-year, $1,000 deposit, unless action is taken by either the Washington State legislature or FDIC. FDIC's new deposit category goes into effect on June 1, 1978. The Washington State legislature does not meet again until January of 1979. Because of this 6-month lag, the Board of Directors, in the interest of preserving the competitive position occupied by insured nonmember mutual savings banks in Washington State, is amending the provisions of §§ 329.7 and 329.8 of FDIC's regulations to allow mutual savings banks to issue 8-year, 8 percent certificates of deposit of at least $1,000. However, these certificates of deposit must be paid by the issuing bank at the end of 6 years if the Washington State legislature has not, by then, authorized 8-year deposits. Payment at the end of 6 years would be without any penalty for premature withdrawal.

The authority of mutual savings banks to issue such certificates of deposit will expire on December 31, 1979, or when Washington law is changed by the State legislature, whichever is sooner.

Eight-year, 8 percent certificates of deposit issued under these amendments must contain a disclosure statement to the effect that if the laws of Washington 6 years from the date of issue do not permit mutual savings banks to issue fixed rate deposits with maturities of 8 years (1) the bank shall pay the time deposit without penalty 6 years from the date of issue, and (2) the maturity of the deposit may not be extended. Advertising of such deposits will be limited to the State of Washington to the extent practicable. All advertisements will refer to an 8 percent, 8-year certificate of deposit but will also contain a reference to the contingent payment feature in order to avoid misleading prospective depositors.

Pursuant to its authority under sections 9 and 18 of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, effective June 1978 FDIC's Board is amending §§ 329.7 and 329.8 of FDIC's regulations by adding a new subparagraph (8) to § 329.7(b) and adding a new paragraph (j) to § 329.8 as follows:

§ 329.7 Maximum rates of interest or dividends payable on deposits of insured nonmember mutual savings banks.¹⁴

(b) Maximum rates payable. . . .

(8) Time deposits of insured nonmember mutual savings banks in the State of Washington. Until December 31, 1979, or action of the Washington State legislature permitting mutual savings banks in Washington to issue certificates of deposit of 8 year's maturity, whichever is sooner, insured nonmember mutual savings banks chartered in the State of Washington may issue 8-year time certificates of deposit in minimum amounts of $1,000 at the maximum rate permitted for such deposits under the provisions of § 329.7(b)(4). However, if 6 years from the date of issue of any such certificate of deposit, the laws of the State of Washington do not permit mutual savings banks to issue fixed rate certificates of deposit with maturities of 8 years, such certificate of deposit must be paid by the bank and its maturity may not be extended. Payment shall be made without assessment of the withdrawal penalty prescribed under § 329.4(d). Any instrument representing a certificate of deposit issued under the provisions of this subparagraph shall contain the following statement in prominent type:

This deposit is payable on [insert date]. However, if Washington State law 6 years from the issue date of this deposit does not permit mutual savings banks to issue fixed rate deposits with maturities of 8 years, then the bank shall immediately pay this certificate without penalty and may not extend its maturity.

§ 329.8 Advertising of interest or dividends on deposits.

(j) Certain time deposits of mutual savings banks in the State of Washington. (1) The dissemination of any advertisement, announcement, or solicitation by an insured nonmember mutual savings bank in the State of Washington relating to any interest or dividend-bearing deposit issued under the provisions of § 329.7(b)(8) shall be limited, to the extent practicable after considering the media or means chosen to the State of Washington.

(2) Written advertisements, announcements, or solicitations relating to any interest or dividend-bearing deposit issued under the provisions of § 329.7(b)(8) shall contain the following language either in the text or in a prominent footnote.

This certificate will be paid in 8 years unless Washington law requires prior payment.

The provisions of sections 553(b) and 553(d) of Title 5 of the United States Code and §§ 302.1, 302.2, and 302.5, part 302 of FDIC's regulations respecting notice, public participation, and deferred effective date were not followed in connection with the issuance of these amendments because of their emergency nature and because they expand existing rights.

By Order of the Board of Directors.

Dated: May 24, 1978.

CORPORATION,
ALAN R. MILLER,
Executive Secretary.

Title 16—Commercial Practices

CHAPTER II—CONSUMER PRODUCT SAFETY COMMISSION

SUBCHAPTER A—GENERAL

PART 1050—FINANCIAL COMPENSA-TION OF PARTICIPANTS IN INFOR-MAL RULEMAKING PROCEEDINGSInterim Policies and Procedures for Temporary ProgramAGENCY: Consumer Product Safety Commission.

ACTION: Interim regulation.

SUMMARY: The Commission is issuing an interim regulation that concerns the financial compensation of participants in the Commission's informal rulemaking proceedings and other proceedings related to informal rulemaking. This regulation establishes the criteria for compensation and the procedures that applicants for compensation must follow. The Commission believes that this regulation will increase participation in its rulemaking proceedings by consumers and other participants who represent viewpoints and interests that will contribute in a positive way to the Commission's rulemaking decisions. The Commission is also establishing a temporary program under which it will actively solicit applications for funding in selected proceedings and will compensate participants in accordance with the interim regulation. (Under an existing ad hoc program the Commission merely considers whatever funding requests participants submit.)

DATES: The regulation becomes effective as interim on May 31, 1978. The temporary program will begin as soon after this date as possible.

CONTACT:

Catherine Bolger, Office of Public Participation, Consumer Product Safety Commission, Washington, D.C. 20207, telephone 202-254-6241.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

BACKGROUND

A. OFFICE OF PUBLIC PARTICIPATION

In January 1977 the Commission approved the creation of an Office of Public Participation (OPP). As an office located within the Commission, OPP's primary purpose will be to administer a funding program for participants in Commission proceedings.

In April 1977 the Commission received a report, written under contract by Nancy H. Chasen and Robert Jay Stein, which discusses some basic issues relating to OPP and to the financial compensation program. (Copies of the report, entitled CPSC's Office of Public Participation and Financial Compensation Program, and all other documents mentioned in this FEDERAL REGISTER notice are available from the Commission's Office of the Secretary, 1111 18th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20207.) Examples of issues relating to OPP are staffing of the office, the different ways that OPP could encourage participation in the financial compensation program, and the different functions that OPP could perform. The Commission believes that the OPP Director should be actively involved in all major decisions that will affect the policies and operations of OPP. Therefore, the Commission will make no such decisions until after it has selected a Director.

Selection of a Director will begin as soon as the CPSC has established the position in accordance with the requirements of the Civil Service Commission. Although the Civil Service Commission has disapproved a requested Schedule C exclusion for the Director position, the CPSC plans to appeal this ruling. Once the position is established and a Director begins working, OPP will be ready to administer the financial compensation program on a permanent basis.

B. FINANCIAL COMPENSATION

In March 1977 the Commission proposed a regulation that included criteria and procedures for a financial compensation program (42 FR 15711-17, March 23, 1977). The purpose of the program is to fund selected participants in the Commission's proceedings.

Twenty-two individuals and groups submitted comments on the proposed financial compensation regulation. Thirteen of these supported the concept of a financial compensation program and nine did not. Of the comments from people who did not affiliate themselves with any organization or interest group, two people supported the program (one with a minor reservation) and four opposed it.

The National Legal Center for the Public Interest, the Grocery Manufacturers of America, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, The Proprietary Association, and the Pacific Legal Foundation criticized the proposed financial compensation program. Their objections included the following: (1) It will be impossible to choose fairly among the groups and people that will request funding; (2) funding will be very expensive and is not needed because "the legal public interest movement is well-represented and well-financed" (National Legal Center); (3) the Commission lacks legal authority for the program; (4) in view of the bills pending in Congress to provide specific statutory authority and financing for compensation programs in numerous federal agencies, the Commission's proposal is premature; (5) the program "would invite dilatory litigation challenging the agency's exercise of its discretion in granting or denying funds" (Pacific Legal Foundation); and (6) the program "raises the ominous possibility of agency co-option of 'public interest' participants by application of the agency's discretion as to whom funds will be made available" (Pacific Legal Foundation).

The following groups supported the financial compensation program: National Consumers League, Center for Auto Safety, Environmental Defense Fund, Public Action Coalition on Toys, Arizona Consumers Council, and the Consumer Affairs Department of Detroit. Some of the comments from these groups which supported the program made specific suggestions for changes in the regulation. Nearly all of these suggestions addressed issues that the Commission had considered before it published the proposed regulation, and had discussed in the preamble to the proposal. As one example, several comments urged that financial compensation be made available for costs involved in preparation of funding applications. (In March 1977 the Commission's view of this issue was that the costs incurred during the application process would be insubstantial because, in part, the application provisions in the regulation were specifically drafted to minimize these costs (42 FR 15715).)

C. AD HOC PROGRAM

Since 1974 the Commission has funded participants in its rulemaking proceedings on an ad hoc basis. However, such funding has been limited to a handful of cases.

Under its ad hoc program, the Commission considers on a case-by-case basis all applications for funding that individuals or groups submit. The Commission does not solicit applications from participants. In addition, the Commission does not indicate which proceedings it believes would be benefited by the increased participation that would probably result from Commission funding.

TEMPORARY PROGRAM

A. INTRODUCTION

The Commission's ad hoc program for funding participants in its proceedings serves a limited purpose. The Commission proposed the March 1977 financial compensation regulation to serve as the basis of a broader and more effective program.

Until an OPP Director is ready to run a permanent Office of Public Participation, a financial compensation program cannot fully meet the Commission's expectations. However, the Commission believes that a temporary program can remedy many of the deficiencies of the ad hoc program and can smooth the way for establishment of an effective permanent financial compensation program.

B. INTERIM REGULATION

The primary difference between an ad hoc program and the new temporary program is that the financial compensation regulation will now be in effect on an interim basis. When the Commission issues the regulation in final form, it may well want to modify some of the provisions. There are numerous issues, including those raised in the comments to the March 1977 proposal, which the Commission must fully consider before ultimately resolving. However, the experience of using the regulation is likely to contribute to an understanding of these issues and may even suggest some improvements to the regulation. For now, the Commission has made just one slight change in the proposed regulation (babysitting costs have been added to $1050.7(e)(5) as an additional example of reasonable costs that are compensable).

All provisions of the proposed regulation are fully discussed in the preamble to the March 1977 FEDERAL REGISTER document (42 FR 15711-16). Since the regulation issued below in interim form is nearly identical to the proposed version, that discussion is applicable. Nevertheless, the most important aspects of the financial compensation regulation will be summarized here:

1. PURPOSE

The primary purpose of the regulation (§1050.1) is to increase participation in the Commission's informal rulemaking proceedings by those who represent viewpoints and interests that will contribute substantially to fair and full decisions in such proceedings. The Commission believes that the complexity of the technical issues involving rulemaking demands that it receive and consider evidence and opinion from the many segments of the affected public. Only in this way can the Commission ensure that its actions reflect the public interest.

Industries have a direct interest in a proposed safety standard with which they must comply. For this and other reasons, many industries have found it a good business practice to make substantial expenditures for research and other preparations that support comments on proposed Commission rulemaking actions.

By contrast, comments from nonregulated interests have been relatively infrequent. One reason may be that the immediate effect of Commission regulation on consumers is less discernible than on the regulated industries. Another reason is that consumers often have insufficient funds to present a position fully and effectively before the Commission.

The Commission hopes that the financial compensation regulation will encourage participation in CPSC rulemaking proceedings by those who represent interests and viewpoints which are currently underrepresented.

2. AUTHORITY

The Comptroller General of the United States, in decisions dated February 19 and May 10, 1976, held that the Commission has authority to provide financial assistance to those who cannot afford to participate in its proceedings, but whose participation is necessary to full and fair proceedings.

The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit questioned the validity of these Comptroller General decisions in an opinion issued June 1977 (Greene County Planning Board v. Federal Power Commission 559 F. 2d, 122 cert. den., February 21, 1977 (No. 77-481)). This opinion, which held that the Federal Power Commission lacked the statutory authority to pay the counsel fees for intervenors in a licensing proceeding, has been cited to the CPSC as authority for the illegality of the CPSC's financial compensation program. (Although the timely comments on the March 1977 proposal could not cite this June 1977 decision, a follow-up comment from the Pacific Legal Foundation did so.)

The Commission considered the Greene County decision in August 1977 and decided unanimously to continue with its financial compensation program as planned. On March 1, 1978 the Department of Justice's Office of Legal Counsel also considered the Greene County decision and concluded that no Federal agency (other than possibly the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, which has taken over the authority and functions of the no-longer-existing Federal Power Commission) is bound by the holding in that case.

3. SCOPE

The financial compensation regulation below applies to all of the Commission's informal notice and comment rulemaking proceedings. In addition, it applies to any hearings, meetings, or other proceedings which are "related to" informal rulemaking. By covering these categories of proceedings, the regulation will apply to most of the Commission's activities in which participation by the public is now sought.

The Commission also plans to issue a financial compensation regulation that will apply to its formal rulemaking and adjudicatory proceedings.

Until such a regulation is issued, the Commission will continue to consider on an ad hoc basis all requests for funding from participants in those proceedings.

4. CRITERIA AND PROCEDURES FOR FUNDING

The regulation below includes the criteria that the Commission will consider before funding participants and the procedures that it will follow. (The Commission discussed these in great detail in the preamble to the March 1977 proposed regulation (42 FR 15712-15).)

To summarize the criteria, there are three factors which the Commission must consider prior to authorizing any funding under the regulation. These concern the importance of the proceeding; the need for representation of particular interests or viewpoints in the proceeding; and the expected representation of particular interests or viewpoints in the proceeding absent Commission funding.

In addition, there are three requirements that participants must meet to be eligible for funding. These concern the interest or viewpoint of the participant; the size of the participant's economic interest in the proceeding compared with the participant's costs of effective participation; and the participant's available financial resources.

The Commission believes that these factors and requirements will channel available compensation to participants and proceedings in such a way that the Commission will receive the greatest possible assistance in making rulemaking decisions.

The procedures included in the regulation have the same intent as the criteria, and they have the additional intent of preventing unnecessary delay in rulemaking proceedings. Under the procedures, the Commission would focus its funding efforts on particular rulemaking proceedings. The Commission will do this by soliciting applications for funding in selected proceedings and by setting a deadline for receipt of the applications. The Commission will then consider the applications and authorize funding according to the criteria already discussed. The Commission will respond in writing to all applications for funding and will provide reasons for its decisions to authorize or not authorize funding.

The regulation contains additional provisions: Funding is available for such reasonable costs as salaries, travel, and fees for consultants and attorneys. Funded participants may be subject to accounting and recordkeeping requirements. Even if the Commission does not solicit applications for funding, it will consider requests for funding in all proceedings that are subject to the regulation.

C. STAFFING

Catherine Bolger will be responsible for the day-to-day operation of the Commission's temporary financial compensation program. She has been assigned, on a temporary basis, to OPP (where a secretary has also been assigned). Her duties will include preparation of necessary forms, receiving and evaluating applications (the regulation requires funding applications to be submitted to the Office of the Secretary, but they will be immediately forwarded to OPP), and responding to questions from the public concerning the compensation program.

In addition, the Commission has formed a Financial Compensation Program committee to assist in the operation of the temporary program. Each Commission's office is represented on the committee, along with the Office of General Counsel and the Bethesda technical staff.

Although the committee's functions are flexible and partially undetermined, one of its functions will be to keep the Commissioners informed about the progress of the temporary program. The Commission itself, under the interim regulation, will be selecting the proceedings in which applications are solicited and will be authorizing or denying compensation.

Ms. Bolger, in conjunction with the committee, will do as much as possible to encourage participation in the temporary financial compensation program. As a minimum, solicitation of funding applications will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, in accordance with § 1050.6(a)(1) of the regulation.

D. FINANCIAL RESOURCES AVAILABLE

The basis of a financial compensation program is the reimbursement of selected participants in CPSC proceedings, but the Commission can only estimate the financial resources that will be necessary for an effective program. One purpose of a temporary program is to help determine how much money a permanent program might require.

Fiscal year 1978 ends on September 30, 1978 and the Commission has at least $30,000 available for funding between now and then. This should prove to be a sufficient amount for the beginning months of the program. During fiscal year 1979, which begins on October 1, 1978, the Commission expects to have available a larger amount.

By selecting appropriate proceedings one or two at a time, the Commission will make sure that the available financial resources do not become overextended. Whatever the number of proceedings selected, it is crucial that sufficient funds be available in advance of every proceeding in which applications are solicited.

ISSUANCE OF INTERIM REGULATION

The financial compensation regulation issued below formalizes funding procedures that have been available for public comment for more than a year. In addition, these procedures will apply to a program which is currently operating on an ad hoc basis, without any applicable procedures. Making the regulation effective will provide much-needed guidance and will not adversely affect the rights of any individuals or organizations. Therefore, the Commission finds, under 5 U.S.C. 553(d)(3) of the Administrative Procedure Act, that good cause exists for making the regulation effective immediately.

In accordance with provisions of the Consumer Product Safety Act (15 U.S.C. 2051-81), the Federal Hazardous Substances Act (15 U.S.C. 1261-74), the Flammable Fabrics Act (15 U.S.C. 1191-1204), and the Poison Prevention Packaging Act (15 U.S.C. 1471-76), the Commission issues, on an interim basis, the following new Part 1050 of Title 16, Chapter II, Subchapter A:

- Sec.
1050.1 Purpose.
1050.2 Scope.
1050.3 Definitions.
1050.4 Criteria for financial compensation.
1050.5 Submission of applications by participants.
1050.6 Commission solicitations of and decisions on applications.
1050.7 Amounts of financial compensation and procedures for payment.

§ 1050.1 Purpose.

(a) The Consumer Product Safety Commission, in carrying out its statutory purposes, issues numerous rules that concern the procedures of the Commission and the manufacture and distribution of products. These rules can have far-reaching effects on the health and safety of the public and on the operations of industry.

(b) The Commission seeks the involvement of all interested persons in most of its rulemaking proceedings, but seeking such involvement does not ensure that it will take place. When rules present complex legal or technical issues, interested persons may be unable to comment on them because of the costs of effective participation. When any interested individual consumers, organized groups representing consumer viewpoints, small business interests, or others cannot participate in a rulemaking proceeding, the ability of the Commission to regulate effectively is impaired. If the Commission is to reach fair and balanced decisions in rulemaking matters, the diverse interests and viewpoints of all interested persons should be represented in rulemaking proceedings.

(c) The Commission's policy is to provide financial compensation to participants in its rulemaking proceedings to obtain the representation of interests and viewpoints expected to contribute to full and fair decision-making, if those interests and viewpoints would not be represented effectively without the Commission's financial compensation. The Commission provides such compensation to the fullest extent possible within its budgetary constraints and in accordance with appropriate priority considerations. The purpose of this part is to establish procedures and guidelines to carry out the Commission's policy of providing financial compensation.

§ 1050.2 Scope.

The Commission may provide financial compensation under this part to participants in any proceedings related to informal rulemaking in which the Commission seeks written and/or oral comments from all interested members of the public under the authority of one or more of the following statutory provisions:

- (a) In the Consumer Product Safety Act, sections 7(d)(3), 9(a), 9(e), 10(c), 14(b), 14(c), 16(b), 26(c), 27(a), 27(e), and 30(d);
(b) In the Federal Hazardous Substances Act, sections 2(f)(1)(D), 2(q)(1)(B), 3, 10, and 18(b)(3);
(c) In the Flammable Fabrics Act, sections 4, 5, and 16(c);
(d) In the Poison Prevention Packaging Act, sections 3, 4(c), and 8(c);
(e) Any other statutory provision under which the Commission seeks public comment in accordance with 5 U.S.C. 553 of the Administrative Procedure Act or in accordance with similar informal notice and comment rulemaking procedures.

§ 1050.3 Definitions.

As used in this part—
(a) "Commission" means the Consumer Product Safety Commission, established by section 4 of the Consumer Product Safety Act.

(b) "Proceeding" or "proceeding related to informal rulemaking" means any of the Commission's procedures, held under the authority of one or more of the statutory provisions listed in § 1050.2, for soliciting written and/or oral comments from the public on matters related to rulemaking.

(c) "Participant" means any interested individual, group of individuals, public or private organization or association, partnership, or corporation who or which is taking part or intends to take part in a Commission proceeding.

(d) "Application" means a written request by a participant for financial compensation submitted in accordance with § 1050.5.

§ 1050.4 Criteria for financial compensation.

(a) The Commission shall consider the following factors in connection with authorization of financial compensation for participation in a proceeding:

(1) The importance of a particular proceeding, compared with other Commission proceedings, in terms of the potential impact of the proceeding on the public health and safety;

(2) The need for representation of one or more particular interests or points of view in the proceeding; and

(3) The extent to which particular interests or points of view can reasonably be expected to be represented in a proceeding if the Commission does not provide any financial compensation.

(b) The Commission may authorize financial compensation only for participants who meet all of the following criteria:

(1) The participant represents a particular interest or point of view that can reasonably be expected to contribute substantially to a full and fair determination of the issues involved in the proceeding.

(2) The economic interest of the participant in any Commission determination related to the proceeding is small in comparison to the participant's costs of effective participation in the proceeding. If the participant consists of more than one individual or group, the economic interest of each of the individuals or groups comprising the participant shall also be considered, if practicable and appropriate.

(3) The participant does not have sufficient financial resources available for effective participation in the proceeding, in the absence of financial compensation under this part.

§ 1050.5 Submission of applications by participants.

(a) A participant must submit a written application to the Commission in order to be authorized to receive compensation. The application shall contain, to the fullest extent possible and appropriate, the following information:

(1) A description of the point of view that the participant intends to represent in the proceeding and a discussion of the participant's capability to represent such point of view;

(2) The reason(s) that representation of the participant's interest or point of view can reasonably be expected to contribute substantially to a full and fair determination of the issues involved in the proceeding;

(3) An explanation of the economic interest, if any, that the participant has (and individuals or groups comprising the participant have) in any Commission determination related to the proceeding;

(4) A discussion, with supporting documentation, of the reason(s) a participant is unable to participate effectively in the proceeding without financial compensation;

(5) A description of the participant's employment or organization, as appropriate; and

(6) A specific and itemized estimate of the costs for which compensation is sought.

(b) Applications must be submitted to the Office of the Secretary, 1111 18th Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20207 in accordance with the applicable deadlines or guidelines on timeliness set forth in § 1050.6.

§ 1050.6 Commission solicitations of and decisions on applications.

(a) Whenever the Commission anticipates that financial compensation of participants in a particular proceeding can reasonably be expected to contribute substantially to full and fair decision-making, it may solicit applications for compensation in that proceeding. With regard to any such proceeding, the Commission shall:

(1) Publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER the solicitation and as full a description as possible of the nature of the proceeding, including any relevant facts the Commission is seeking, the policy and legal questions at issue, and the potential rulemaking actions being considered (the Commission may decide that this description will include the text of the proposed rule);

(2) Set a deadline for receipt of applications that is at least 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER of the solicitation and description;

(3) Notify every participant who submits an application prior to the deadline whether compensation has or has not been authorized, in accordance with the following:

(i) All notifications must be in writing and must include the reason(s) that compensation has or has not been authorized.

(ii) All notifications that compensation has been authorized must specify the amount authorized.

(iii) All notifications responding to applications for compensation in oral proceedings shall be made as far as possible in advance of the scheduled participation of the participant and in no case later than five days before such scheduled participation.

(iv) All notifications responding to applications for compensation in written proceedings shall be made as far as possible in advance of the date on which the public comment period begins. If any participant is notified after this date, the Commission may extend or delay the comment period if it believes that any participant will not otherwise have a comment period of a reasonable length that begins on the date of notification to such participant under this paragraph.

(v) Notifications shall be considered to be made when either mailed or delivered by hand to the participant or an authorized representative of the participant;

(4) Consider any application submitted after the deadline only to the extent practicable.

(b) The Commission shall consider applications at any time by participants in any proceeding for which the Commission has not solicited applications according to paragraph (a) of this section. The Commission shall notify every participant who submits such an application whether compensation has or has not been authorized, in accordance with the following:

(1) All notifications must be in writing and must include the reason(s) that compensation has or has not been authorized.

(2) All notifications that compensation has been authorized must specify the amount authorized.

(3) All notifications must be made in a timely manner as possible.

§ 1050.7 Amounts of financial compensation and procedures for payment.

(a) The Commission may establish a limit on the total amount of financial compensation to be made to all participants in a particular proceeding and/or may establish a limit on the total amount of compensation to be made to any one participant in a particular proceeding.

(b) The Commission shall compensate participants only for costs that have been authorized and only for such costs actually incurred for participation in a proceeding.

(c) The participant shall be paid upon submission of an itemized voucher listing each item of expense. Each item of expense exceeding $15 must be substantiated by a copy of a receipt, invoice, or appropriate document evidencing the fact that the cost was incurred.

(d) The Commission shall compensate participants only for costs that it determines are reasonable. As guidelines in these determinations, the Commission shall consider market rates and rates normally paid by the Commission for comparable goods and services, as appropriate.

(e) The Commission may compensate participants for any or all of the following costs:

- (1) Salaries for participants or employees of participants;
- (2) Fees for consultants, experts, contractual services, and attorneys that are incurred by participants;
- (3) Transportation costs;
- (4) Travel-related costs such as lodging, meals, tipping, telephone calls, etc.; and

(5) All other reasonable costs incurred, such as document reproduction, postage, baby-sitting, etc.

(f) The Commission shall compensate participants within 30 days following the date on which the participant submits an itemized voucher of actual costs pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(g) The Commission and the Comptroller General of the United States, or their duly authorized representatives, shall have access for the purpose of audit and examination to any pertinent books, documents, papers and records of a participant receiving compensation pursuant to this section. The Commission may establish additional guidelines for accounting, recordkeeping, and other administrative procedures with which participants must comply as a condition of receiving compensation.

Title 18—Conservation of Power and Water Resources

CHAPTER I—FEDERAL ENERGY REGULATORY COMMISSION

[Docket No. R-441; Order No. 455-C]

PART 2—GENERAL POLICY AND INTERPRETATIONS

Further Amendment of Statement of Policy Relating to Optional Procedure for Certifying New Producer Sales of Natural Gas

MAY 19, 1978.

AGENCY: Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

ACTION: Final rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Commission extends the 9-month period of review during which deliveries are made at the prevailing nationwide ceiling rate until a final order has been issued determining the contract rate just and reasonable. If the rate determined by the Commission is higher than the nationwide rate collected, the final order will allow a surcharge to be collected for the difference in rates during the extended period. The purpose of this rulemaking is to provide consumers with the protection intended by the Natural Gas Act.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 19, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Elisabeth Pendley, Office of the General Counsel, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 202-275-4216.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Pursuant to 5 U.S.C. 553, sections 4, 5, 7, 8, 14, 15, and 16 of the Natural Gas Act (52 Stat. 822, 823, 824, 825, 828, 829, 830; 15 U.S.C. 717c, 717d, 717f, 717g, 717m, 717n, 717o), and pursuant to section 403(a) of the DOE Act (91 Stat. 565), the Commission issues an amendment to the: General Rules under the Natural Gas Act, Subchapter A, Chapter I, Title 18, CFR.

The Commission's optional certificate procedure was established by Order No. 455, Optional Procedure for Certifying New Producer Sales of Natural Gas, 48 F.P.C. 218 (1972), affirmed in part and reversed in part sub nom., Moss v. F.P.C., 502 F.2d 461 (D.C. Cir. 1974), reversed in part, 424 U.S. 494 (1976). Originally § 2.75 of the regulation, which implemented Order No. 455, contained, in paragraph (o), a provision which permitted producers to collect their contract rate without any refund obligation 6 months after the commencement of deliveries¹ until such time as the Commission entered a final order on the application. This provision was operative despite the possibility that the Commission might ultimately conclude that the contract rate was in excess of the just and reasonable rate for the sale of the gas.

After 2 years of experience under Order No. 455, the Commission, in Order No. 455-B, issued November 25, 1974, concluded that the 6-month period within which to analyze the optional pricing applications was inadequate. The Commission increased the time period for analysis to 9 months, stating:

that the "public interest requires a disposition of the certificate applications under the optional procedure for certifying new producer sales of natural gas, prior to the effectuation of a non-refundable contract rate. Accordingly the Commission finds that the extension of the time period from six to nine months is justly warranted and compelled by the public interest." (52 FPC 1418)

The change did not however, prevent producers from collecting the contract rate, without refund obligation, after the 9-month period, if the Commission had not yet been able to issue a final order.

Recent applications under the optional pricing alternative have proven to be extremely complex, multiblock ventures which require significant time by staff to properly and completely analyze. Often additional information from the applicant is required. It is our experience that the production of such additional information is often not made in a timely manner in order to enable the Commission to complete its analysis within the 9-month period. Additionally, the applications, particularly in the complicated multiblock cases, are usually contested. The result is that the applications are set for hearing, and the administrative process requires substantially more time than the 9-month period originally anticipated to be adequate.

¹In its May 8, 1978 order in Pennzoil Louisiana and Texas Offshore Company, Inc., et al., Docket Nos. C177-702, et al., the Commission found that the applicable time period before the applicants were permitted to collect the contract rate ran from the date the Commission was notified of commencement of deliveries as required by § 2.75(n).

The consequences of allowing producers to automatically collect their contract rate following the expiration of the 9-month period have become much more severe in their effect on consumers. We note that in certain recent cases producers have sought to collect rates of $2.54 and $3.30. Other applications before the Commission indicate that the price levels sought are also substantially in excess of the nationwide just and reasonable rate.² Typically, the optional price gas is sold from offshore blocks, and involve large reserves. In many of the cases the Commission cannot, due to factors noted above, reach a final decision in the 9-month period. Accordingly the contract rate goes into effect without refund obligation. The effect on consumers is immediate and substantial. Under the present § 2.75(o) there does not appear to be a satisfactory method for indemnifying consumers for portions of the rate which might ultimately be determined to be in excess of the just and reasonable rate.

The Commission cannot permit consumers to go unprotected during the period of analysis and administrative proceedings necessary to determine the public interest and the necessity of allowing sales of gas at prices substantially in excess of the nationwide norm.

Conversely, where Commission proceedings are quite extended it appears inequitable to require producers to sell at the national rate for excessive periods of time where the just and reasonable rate is ultimately determined to be in excess of the national rate.

Accordingly the Commission amends paragraph (o) of § 2.75 to permit it, in appropriate cases, to extend the time for consideration of applications filed under § 2.75. The right of the producer to sell at the prevailing nationwide ceiling rate for 9 months is preserved. However, if the Commission determines that it will be unable to complete the proceeding within the 9-month period, the Commission may issue an order extending the time for its consideration of the application. If the Commission extends the 9-month period, the producer is required to continue sales at the nationwide ceiling rate for the period of the extension.

Upon issuance of a final order by the Commission which finds that the just and reasonable rate is in excess of the nationwide prevailing rate, the Commission, if it extended the 9-month period, will permit the producer to recoup the portion of such excess that accrued during the period of any extension ordered by the Commission. More specifically the total surcharge will be an amount equal to the difference between the rate collected by the producer during the extension period, and the rate the Commission ultimately finds to be just and reasonable, plus the applicable interest rate on refunds. The surcharge may be collected in a manner and over a period of time prescribed by the Commission in its final order on the application.

If the Commission does not extend the 9-month period, the present procedure under § 2.75(o) would remain applicable.

The Commission is making this amendment effective with respect to applications filed after the date of issuance of this order upon a finding that good cause exists to proceed without compliance with the notice, public procedure, and effective date provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553. The Commission is concerned that a delay in the effective date of this rule until after public comment would trigger a flood of applications during the comment period from producers wishing to collect contract rates after the 9-month period without refund obligation. Such a result would defeat the Commission's purpose of protecting consumers from the economic burden of non-refundable rate collections in excess of the just and reasonable rate and could so overwhelm the Commission with § 2.75 applications that existing as well as new applications could not be processed within the 9-month period. For these reasons, the Commission has found it necessary to make this amendment effective with respect to § 2.75 filings made after the date of issuance of this order.

The Commission finds. (1) Good cause exists to proceed without compliance with the notice, public procedure and effective date provisions of 5 U.S.C. 553. It is contrary to the public interest in this particular case to provide for notice where we seek to protect consumers against the collection by producers of rates in excess of the national ceiling rate, without refund obligation. Any delay in the issuance and effectiveness of this order will delay the protection consumers are required to receive under the Natural Gas Act.

(2) The Amendment of Part 2, General rules of practice and procedure, General Policy and Interpretations, Subchapter A, Chapter I, Title 18 of the Code of Federal Regulations; § 2.75(o) Optional Procedure For Certifying New Producer Sales of Natural Gas, as herein prescribed, is necessary and appropriate for the Administration of the Natural Gas Act.

(3) In view of the purpose, intent and effect of the amendment herein ordered, good cause exists for making it effective upon issuance of this order.

Acting pursuant to the provisions of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, particularly sections 4, 5, 7 and 16 thereof (52 Stat. 822, 823, 824, 825 and 830; 15 U.S.C. 717c, 717d, 717f, and 717o) and pursuant to Section 403 (a) of the DOE Act (91 Stat. 565).

The Commission orders. (A) Part 2 of the Commission's General Rules of Practice and Procedure, General Policy and Interpretations, Subchapter A, Chapter I, Title 18 of the Code of Federal Regulations is amended by revising § 2.75(o) as follows:

§ 2.75 Optional procedure for certifying new producer sales of natural gas.

(o)(1) If the parties elect to commence deliveries as set forth in paragraph (n) of this section, such deliveries will be made at rates no higher than the prevailing nationwide ceiling rate and shall so continue for 9 months.

(2) If the Commission determines that it will not be able before the expiration of the 9-month period to issue its final order, it may issue an order extending the 9-month period until such final order is issued. Deliveries during the period of the extension will continue to be made at rates no higher than the prevailing nationwide rate.

(3) If the final Commission order establishes a just and reasonable rate in excess of the prevailing nationwide rate which was charged during the period of any extension under paragraph (o)(2) of this section, the applicant may recoup by means of a surcharge the excess of (1) the amount which would have been collected had such just and reasonable rate been in effect during such period over (2) the amount actually collected during such period, plus interest on such excess. The surcharge shall be collected over such period and in such manner as the Commission prescribes in its final order.

(4) If the Commission does not extend the 9-month period in the accordance with paragraph (o)(2) of this section, then at the end of such 9-month period (if the Commission has not made its final order), the seller upon the filing of a notice of change in rate pursuant to § 154.94 of this chapter of the Commission's regulations shall be entitled to receive without refund obligation and the purchaser shall be entitled to pay, the rates specified in the contract initially filed, and such contract rates shall continue as the effective rates until the Commission enters its final order on the certificate application.

(B) This amendment provided for herein is effective on date of issuance, and shall apply to all applications filed after the date of issuance of this order.

(C) The Secretary of the Commission shall cause prompt publication of this order to be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

PART 125—CARTAGE AND LIGHTERAGE OF MERCHANDISEUnclaimed Merchandise

AGENCY: United States Customs Service, Department of the Treasury.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This document amends the Customs regulations relating to the cartage of unclaimed merchandise to clarify that the cost of cartage of unclaimed merchandise shall be borne initially by the Customs Service, subject to reimbursement by the importer or from the proceeds of the sale of the merchandise. The amendment will eliminate any uncertainty with regard to the source of the payment to the cartman for the cartage of unclaimed merchandise.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 31, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Suellen M. Ferguson, Regulations and Legal Publications Division, United States Customs Service, 1301 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20229, 202-566-8237.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:BACKGROUND

Section 125.14 of the Customs regulations (19 CFR 125.14) provides that unclaimed merchandise at a port of entry shall be carted to the public stores or to a bonded warehouse chosen by the district director under the cartage arrangement followed at the port for hauling examination packages, as provided for in §§ 125.11 (a) and (b) of the Customs regulations (19 CFR 125.11 (a), (b)).

Under paragraph (a) of § 125.11 of the Customs regulations, the merchandise is required to be carted by a licensed cartman under contract or other specific authority. If there is no contract for Government cartage in effect, paragraph (b) of § 125.11 provides that the district director shall designate a licensed customhouse cartman to cart the merchandise.

It has come to the Commissioner's attention that there may be confusion as to whether paragraph (c) of § 125.11 (19 CFR 125.11(c)), which provides that the cost of cartage shall be paid from the appropriation "Salaries and Expenses; U.S. Customs Service", also applies to the cost of cartage of unclaimed merchandise under § 125.14 of the Customs regulations.

Section 125.14 of the Customs regulations currently provides that reimbursment of the costs of cartage performed under that section shall be collected from the importer (prior to the release of the Merchandise) if entry is made or, if the merchandise is unclaimed, from the proceeds of the sale of the merchandise. This provision indicates, but does not specify, that the costs of cartage will be borne initially by the Customs Service.

The amendment to § 125.14 of the Customs regulations provides that all of the provisions of § 125.11, including paragraph (c) thereof, will be applicable to merchandise carted under § 125.14. As a result of this amendment, it should be clear that the Customs Service will pay the costs of the cartage of unclaimed merchandise, subject to reimbursement by the importer (if the merchandise is subsequently entered) or from the proceeds of sale (if the merchandise is subsequently sold as unclaimed).

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal author of this document was Suellen M. Ferguson, Regulations and Legal Publications Division of the Office of Regulations and Rulings, U.S. Customs Service. However, personnel from other offices of the Customs Service participated in its development.

AMENDMENT TO THE REGULATIONS

Under the authority of R.S. 251, as amended (19 U.S.C. 66), and sections 565, 624, 46 Stat. 747, as amended, 759 (19 U.S.C. 1565, 1624), the first sentence of § 125.14 of the Customs Regulations (19 CFR 125.14) is amended to read as follows:

§ 125.14 Cartage of unclaimed merchandise.

Unclaimed merchandise shall be carted to the public stores or a bonded warehouse designated by the district director under the cartage arrangements established at the port for hauling examination packages under the provisions of § 125.11. . . .

(R.S. 251, as amended, secs. 565, 624, 46 Stat. 747, as amended, 759 (19 U.S.C. 66, 1565, 1624).)

INAPPLICABILITY OF ADVANCE NOTICE AND DELAYED EFFECTIVE DATE REQUIREMENTS

This amendment merely clarifies an existing Customs regulation and imposes no duty or burden on the public. Accordingly, the Commissioner of Customs has determined that neither an advance notice of the amendment nor a solicitation of public comment prior to its implementation was necessary under 5 U.S.C. 553. For the same reasons, a delay in the effective date of the amendment is not required.

R. E. CHASEN,
Commissioner of Customs.

Title 24—Housing and Urban DevelopmentCHAPTER II—OFFICE OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY FOR HOUSING—FEDERAL HOUSING COMMISSIONER, DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND URBAN DEVELOPMENT

(Docket No. R-78-536)

PART 236—MORTGAGE INSURANCE AND INTEREST REDUCTION PAYMENTS FOR RENTAL PROJECTSImplementation of the Tax and Utility Subsidy Program

AGENCY: Office of the Assistant Secretary for Housing-Federal Housing Commissioner, Department of Housing and Urban Development.

ACTION: Interim rule.

SUMMARY: The Department of Housing and Urban Development is hereby issuing an interim rule establishing procedures for implementing the Tax and Utility Cost Subsidy Program as prescribed by the Housing and Community Development (HCD) Act of 1977 which amended paragraphs (f)(3), (g) and (i) of Section 236 of the National Housing Act.

The interim rule establishes new categories of temporary basic rental charges and adjusted basic rental charges to provide for reduced rents; establishes that excess income collected above the basic rental charges as adjusted to provide for reduced rents shall be remitted monthly to the Secretary; and establishes the basis for determining the amount of the subsidy payments, the procedures for selecting projects and the basic contract provisions.

DATES: Effective date: May 31, 1978. Written comments and suggestions will be received until June 30, 1978.

ADDRESS: Comments should be submitted to the Rules Docket Clerk, Office of the General Counsel, Room 5218, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410. A copy of each communication will be available for public inspection during the regular business hours at the above address.

Loan Management, Office of Insured and Direct Loan Programs, Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D.C. 20410, 202-755-5756.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The statute contemplates that tax and utility subsidy payments shall be made as soon as practicable after establishment of the initial operating expense level and that payments will commence during the fiscal year ending September 30, 1978. Since the project selection and contracting process cannot be accomplished until these amendments are in effect, provision for comment and public participation before making these amendments effective would make it impossible to commence payment prior to September 30. Because of this consideration and in view of the immediate and urgent need for reduction in the rental charges paid by lower income tenants residing in projects with the greatest need, the Department has determined that these amendments should be effective upon publication on an interim basis.

Section 206 of the HCDA of 1977 required the Secretary to establish initial operating expense levels (IOEL) for all Section 236 projects within 180 days from the date of enactment of the statute which was October 10, 1977.

In order to comply with this requirement, HUD directed the owners of all Section 236 projects to submit, by March 31, 1978, the information needed to calculate the amount of the tax and utility cost subsidy. This information included IOELs and tax and utility costs as of the effective date of the last rent increase as well as those costs experienced from March 1, 1977 to February 28, 1978.

The Department has an obligation under the HCDA of 1977 to implement a tax and utility cost subsidy program, subject to the availability of funds. Congress has yet to appropriate funds for this purpose, though it has provided another source of funding, specifically the reserve fund. Unfortunately those funds are extremely limited compared to the need the program is to serve. They are so limited that pro rata distribution would not result in any meaningful benefit to projects or tenants (approximately $1.60 per tenant per month) which is within the objective of the Act. Accordingly, the Department has determined that the objective of the Act would be served best by limiting distribution of available funds to those most in need of assistance.

Working with the information submitted by field offices, Headquarters staff will identify those projects which are experiencing the greatest increase in taxes and utility costs and which also have the largest proportion of low-income tenants in need of additional assistance. Subsidy will go first to the owners of these projects to reduce basic or temporary basic rental charges.

The projects to be given priority will be selected in the following ways:

a. Eliminate all projects in which more than 40 percent of the tenants already receive additional assistance under a HUD program aimed at reducing rentals for lower-income persons. This would include the Section 8 Program, the Section 23 Leased Housing program, the Rent Supplement program, and the Rental Assistance Payments program. The rationale for this criterion is that the subsidy provided under each of these programs assists the neediest tenants in a project; that a project with more than 40 percent of its tenants receiving such assistance will not be among those with the greatest proportion of tenants in need of further assistance; and that this initial screening mechanism is essential to reduce the class of potential beneficiaries so that the Department may effectively assess individual tenant need.

b. In addition, all remaining projects for which an additional subsidy is to be provided will be divided into two categories, i.e., federally insured projects and non-insured State and local agency projects. The projects selected in each category will share the money in the reserve fund in proportion to the amount paid into the reserve fund by the projects in each category.

c. Headquarters staff will then rank the projects on the basis of per unit tax and utility cost increases since the date that the initial operating expense level was calculated. For each category, a list of projects experiencing the greatest per unit increases will be made. The list will contain three times our estimate of the number of projects that available funds can serve, so that tenant need can be determined appropriately in the final selection.

d. For listed projects, the field offices will be directed to obtain tenant rent and income data for very low-income tenants, that is, those tenants whose incomes do not exceed 50 percent of the area median and who are receiving no other tenant subsidy.

e. Projects will then be ranked as to those projects whose tenants have the greatest need. To the extent of funds available, the Department will prepare and forward to project owners for signatures, contracts providing for 12 monthly payments in stated amounts.

The Department expects that initial contracts will be signed by July 31, 1978, with the first subsidy payments to be made in August 1978. The Department intends to use the monies accruing to the reserve funds in Fiscal Year 1978 to make tax and utility cost subsidy payments according to the plan of distribution outlined above. Accordingly, the Department will, after August 1st, execute additional contracts or amend existing contracts in the amounts necessary to use all monies that accrue in the reserve fund during this Fiscal Year. Payments made under these contracts are intended to be in discharge of any statutory obligation that the Secretary may have to provide a tax and utility cost subsidy for the period from October 1, 1977 through September 30, 1978.

The Department proposes to make tax and utility cost subsidy payments prospectively rather than retroactively because it is obvious that the Secretary lacks sufficient funds to pay the maximum amount permissible under the statute to all eligible projects. In these circumstances, the costs of administration are such that it would be wasteful to require project owners to go back in time to compute tax and utility cost increases, and tenant income to rent ratios from October 1, 1977 forward. It is likely that such administrative costs would be passed on to the tenant in a rent increase.

Subsidy payments shall be paid to eligible Section 236 project owners for the sole purpose of effecting a reduction in basic rental or temporary basic rental charge or carrying charges. To the extent funds are available, such payments shall be in an amount up to the amount by which the sum of the cost of utilities and local property taxes, as reflected in the current HUD-approved basic or temporary basic rental charges, exceeds the IOEL established for the project.

The Department has determined that an Environmental Impact Statement is not required with respect to this rule. The Finding of Inapplicability in accordance with HUD's environmental procedures handbook (HUD Handbook 1390.1) is available for inspection at the Office of the Rules Docket Clerk, at the above address.

HUD will make such modifications as it deems appropriate in the final regulations.

Accordingly, Part 236 is amended as follows:

1. The Table of Contents is amended as follows to include a new

Subpart E—Tax and Utility Subsidy Program

Sec.
236.901 Scope of tax and utility subsidy program.
236.905 Project eligible for benefits.
236.906 Procedures for selecting projects which will receive the tax and utility subsidy funding.
236.910 Funding for tax and utility subsidy program.
236.915 Tax and utility subsidy contract.

2. Section 236.55 is amended as follows:

a. By amending paragraph (a)(1);
b. By redesignating paragraph (a)(2) as (a)(4) and adding a new paragraph (a)(2);
c. By amending paragraph (a)(3); and

d. By amending paragraph (b)(1).

§ 236.55 Rental charges.

(1) A basic monthly rental charge for each dwelling unit determined on the basis of operating the project with payments of principal and interest due under a mortgage bearing interest at the rate of one percent per annum, and

(2) A temporary basic rental charge for those selected projects receiving the Tax and Utility Subsidy to raise the basic rent during the term of the contract to reflect the cost of the taxes and utilities as of February 28, 1978, to the extent they exceed the cost shown in the approved basic rent computation.

(3) An adjusted basic monthly rental charge for each dwelling unit in the selected projects determined on the basis of operating the project with payments of principal and interest due under a mortgage bearing interest at the rate of one percent per annum, subtracting from the approved basic rent or temporary basic rental charge the adjustment for the monthly tax and utility subsidy payment attributable to such unit for those projects selected for the subsidy and

(i) With the payment of the cost of utility services used by the dwelling units, when such charges are paid by the project owner, or

(ii) Without the payment of the cost of utility services used by the dwelling units, when the units have separated meters and some or all such charges are paid directly by the tenants.

(4) A fair market monthly rental charge for each dwelling unit determined on the basis of operating the project with payments of principal, interest and mortgage insurance premium which the mortgagor is obligated to pay under the mortgage, and

(b) . . .

(1) The monthly rental for each dwelling unit shall be greater of the basic rental or temporary basic rent (as adjusted, if applicable, for the tax and utility subsidy payment) or

Section 236.60 is amended to read as follows:

§ 236.60 Excess rental charge.

The mortgagor shall agree to pay monthly to the Commissioner the total of all rental charges collected in excess of the sum of the approved basic or temporary basic rental charges (as adjusted, if applicable, for tenant-paid utilities and/or tax and utility subsidy program) for all occupied units exclusive of the Tax and Utility Subsidy payment.

4. A new Subpart E is added to read as follows:

Subpart E—Tax and Utility Subsidy Payments

§ 236.901 Scope of tax and utility subsidy program.

(a) The Secretary shall make and contract to make monthly tax and utility subsidy payments to owners of the selected Section 236 projects.

(1) Such payments shall be used by the project owner solely to reduce the basic rental or temporary basic rental charges established for the project.

(2) Such reduced basic or temporary basic rental charges shall be defined as adjusted basic rental charges.

(b) An initial operating expense level shall be established for each Section 236 project, which shall be the sum of the cost of utilities and local property taxes payable by the owner at the time the Secretary determines the property to be fully occupied, taking into account anticipated and customary vacancy rates. The tax and utility subsidy payment shall be in an amount up to the amount by which the sum of the cost of utilities and local property taxes, as currently reflected in the HUD-approved basic rents or temporary basic rental charges exceeds the initial operating expense level.

(1) In order to determine the initial occupancy expense level, it shall be a prerequisite that a project shall have achieved full occupancy which, for the purposes of this program, is administratively defined as sustaining (95 percent) occupancy.

(2) In determining the initial operating expense level for local property taxes, the costs should be those assessed on a fully completed and so taxed project after the date of sustaining occupancy.

(3) In determining the initial operating expense level for utilities, the costs should be those for the 12-month period immediately following the date of sustaining occupancy or those costs which represent available data annualized for that period if 12 months have not elapsed.

(c) Tax and utility subsidy payments shall be made to these selected projects unless the Secretary finds that the increase in the cost of utilities or local property costs for the project is not reasonable or not comparable to cost increases affecting other similar rental projects in the community.

§ 236.905 Projects eligible for benefits.

Section 236 rental or cooperative projects which have reached sustaining (95 percent) occupancy, including HUD-insured, HUD-held or non-insured State-financed projects which receive assistance under a Section 236 interest reduction contract are eligible for the program.

§ 236.906 Procedures for selecting projects which will receive the tax and utility subsidy funding.

Projects eligible for benefits will be divided into two categories: (i) Projects with HUD-insured or HUD-held mortgages and (ii) non-insured projects financed under a State or local agency program. Any project in which more than 40 percent of the units receive further assistance, i.e., rent supplement, rental assistance, housing assistance under the loan management special allocation program or Section 23 leasing shall be excluded from further selection determinations. For projects remaining in each of these categories, the following procedures will be used to select from the eligible projects those which will receive tax and utility subsidy payments.

(1) For each project determine the amount of per unit per annum increase in tax and utility costs since the initial operating expense level and list the projects in accordance with the amount of increase, listing the project with the greatest increase first.

(2) Starting with the first project in the listing, select the number of projects which have an aggregate annual increase in tax and utility costs equal to 3 times the amount which the Secretary determines is available for tax and utility subsidy contracts in the reserve fund attributable to the project category.

(3) For each of the projects selected in paragraph (2) of this section, determine the percentage of unassisted tenants who pay the basic rental charges or temporary basic rental charge without further HUD assistance and whose incomes are at or below 50 percent of the median income for the area in which the project is located and list the projects in accordance with the percent amount, listing the project with the highest percentage first.

(4) Starting with the first project in the listing developed under paragraph (3) of this section, select the number of projects which have an aggregate increase in tax and utility costs which does not exceed the amount available for tax and utility contracts in the reserve fund attributable to the project category.

(5) HUD will offer to the owner of projects selected under paragraph (4) of this section, contracts providing for tax and utility subsidy payments.

§ 236.910 Funding for tax and utility subsidy program.

(a) A reserve fund credited with all excess income rental charges paid monthly by Section 236 project owners to the Secretary separated as to the monies paid by State and local finance

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Department of Defense (DOD) is revising its regulation on off-base housing to update (1) complaint inquiry/investigative procedures, (2) reporting requirements, and (3) to emphasize liaison with other Government agencies; because current regulation lacks detail in procedural matters. In addition, DOD is removing a duplicate regulation on the same subject.

EFFECTIVE DATE: June 2, 1977.

Captain James E. Wilson, Jr., USN, Office of the Deputy Assistant Secretary (Equal Opportunity), Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower, Reserve Affairs and Logistics), Room 3E326, Pentagon, Washington, D.C. 20301, 202-695-0110.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In FR Doc 72-3143 appearing in the FEDERAL REGISTER (37 FR 4337) on March 2, 1972, the Office of the Secretary of Defense published DOD Instruction 1100.16 effective on January 20, 1972 prescribing the policies and procedures of the DOD Equal Opportunity in the Off-Base Housing program. This instruction was reissued on February 28, 1973 (38 FR 26720). A change to this instruction was issued on April 5, 1973. This change was incorporated into a further revision and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as FR Doc 75-24169, appearing as Part 197, 40 FR 42186. The following constitutes a further revision to DOD Instruction 1100.16.

MAURICE W. ROCHE,
Director, Correspondence and Directives, Washington Headquarters Services, Department of Defense.

MAY 24, 1978

Accordingly, 32 CFR Chapter I is amended by deleting Part 197 in its entirety and revising Part 301 reading as follows.

Sec.
301.1 Reissuance and purpose.
301.2 Applicability and scope.
301.3 Objectives and policies
301.4 Responsibilities of commanders.
301.5 Information requirements.
301.6 Definitions.
301.7 Checklist for commanders.
301.8 Procedures and reports.

AUTHORITY: Sec 301, 80 Stat. 379 (5 U.S.C. 301, 10 U.S.C. 133).

§ 301.1 Reissuance and purpose.

(a) This part is reissued to (1) revise the policies and procedures covering off-base housing and fair housing enforcement, (2) outline discrimination complaint inquiry/investigative procedures and hearing requirements, (3) update reporting requirements, and (4) emphasize liaison with other government (local, State, or Federal) agencies.

(b) Incorporates the provisions of 32 CFR Part 191 relating to equal opportunity in off-base housing and fair housing enforcement.

§ 301.2 Applicability and scope.

The provisions of this part apply to the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the Military Departments, the Defense Agencies, the Specified and Unified Commands, and other DOD activities (hereinafter referred to as "DOD Components") having members of the Armed Forces assigned. DOD civilian employees (as defined in § 301.6) will be offered the same services that members of the Armed Forces receive.

§ 301.3 Objectives and policies.

32 CFR Part 191 establishes the policy that the Department of Defense is fully committed to the goal of obtaining equal treatment for all DOD personnel. Specific guidance with respect to off-base housing and fair housing enforcement is as follows:

(a) National housing policy. Federal legislation prohibits discrimination in housing in the United States against any person because of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

(1) Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 contains the fair housing provisions; outlines the responsibilities of the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development with regard to the Act; and requires all executive departments and agencies to administer housing and urban development programs and activities under their jurisdiction in a manner which will reflect "affirmatively" the furthering of the purposes to Title VIII.

(2) Title IX of the Civil Rights Act of 1968 makes it a crime to willfully intimidate or interfere with any person by force or threat because of their activities in support of fair housing.

(3) Title 42 U.S.C. 1982 states that all citizens shall have the same right as is enjoyed by white citizens to purchase, lease, sell, and convey real and personal property.

(b) DOD fair housing policy. The Department of Defense intends that Federal fair housing legislation be supported and that DOD personnel have equal opportunity for available housing regardless of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

(1) This policy includes the objective of eliminating discrimination against DOD personnel in off-base housing. This is not achieved simply by finding a place to live in a particular part of town or in a particular facility for a person from a minority group.

(2) The intent is achieved when a person who meets the ordinary stand-agency non-insured section 236 projects and the monies paid by HUD-insured and/or held section 236 projects shall be used to make payments under the tax and utility subsidy program. Tax and utility subsidy payments shall be made to the full extent of monies in the excess income reserve fund and to the extent approved for this purpose.

(b) The availability of such reserve funds or the appropriation of other funding by Congress shall determine the continuation of payments, as well as appropriate adjustments in the amount of the subsidy payment.

§ 236.915 Tax and utility subsidy contract.

(a) The Secretary shall enter into tax and utility subsidy contracts with the owners of the selected section 236 projects. The initial contracts shall have a term which will commence on or about August 1, 1978.

(1) Term—The contract shall be limited to a 12-month period.

(2) Time of payments—The contract shall provide for monthly payments, representing 1/12 of the annual contract amount.

(3) Adjustments—to the extent of the funds available for this purpose, the amount of the contract may be periodically adjusted to provide for increased tax and utility costs as reflected in subsequent HUD-approved rent increases which occur within the specified 12-month contract period.

(4) Renewal—The renewal of contracts for additional 12-month periods shall at all times be contingent upon the availability of monies in the excess income reserve fund or the appropriation of other funds for this purpose.

(Sec. 7(d), of the HUD Act; 42 U.S.C. 3535(d).)

Issued at Washington, D.C., May 19, 1978.

MARILYN MELKONIAN,
Acting Assistant Secretary for Housing, Federal Housing
Commissioner.

Title 32—National Defense

CHAPTER I—OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE

[DOD Instruction 1100.16]

PART 197—EQUAL OPPORTUNITY IN OFF-BASE HOUSING

PART 301—EQUAL OPPORTUNITY IN OFF-BASE HOUSING

Final Rule

AGENCY: Office of the Secretary of Defense.

ards of character and financial responsibility is able to obtain off-base housing in the same manner as any other person anywhere in the area surrounding the installation, without suffering refusal and humiliation because of arbitrary discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

(i) The accomplishment of the objective shall not be hampered by requiring the submission of a formal complaint of discrimination. A suspected discriminatory act, with or without the filing of a formal complaint, is a valid basis for investigation and, if discrimination is substantiated, imposition of restrictive sanctions.

(ii) Restrictive sanctions shall be imposed for a minimum of 180 days upon substantiation that discrimination was practiced by an agent.

(iii) The fact that 42 U.S.C. 1982 and Pub. L. 90-284 may or may not provide a remedy in a given case of discrimination affecting DOD personnel does not relieve a commander of the responsibility to ensure equal treatment and equal opportunity for such personnel or to impose restrictive sanctions against the agent/facility when appropriate.

(iv) An information program to apprise DOD personnel and the civilian community of the DOD policy and program for equal opportunity in off-base housing shall be developed at each installation. Local community resources, such as civil rights organizations, religious and service groups, and local information media should be used in support of this program.

§ 301.4 Responsibilities of commanders.

Responsibilities of installation commanders are specified herein. Commanders shall:

(a) Ensure nondiscrimination in referring DOD personnel to off-base housing facilities.

(b) Continue efforts (as described in 32 CFR Part 239a and 32 CFR Part 239b) to identify and solicit nondiscriminatory assurances for housing facilities within the commuting area which are considered to be suitable for occupancy by DOD personnel.

(c) Ensure that an office and staff as required by 32 CFR Part 239b are available to advise DOD personnel concerning:

(1) The procedures set forth in this part.

(2) The application of 42 U.S.C. 1982 and Pub. L. 90-284 in specific situations.

(3) The rights of individuals to pursue remedies through civilian channels, without recourse and in addition to the procedures prescribed herein including the right to:

(i) Make a complaint directly to the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and/or to the Department of Justice (DOJ) in the United States.

(ii) Bring a private civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(d) Periodically review off-base housing procedures and policies to ensure effectiveness and compliance with this Instruction. In order to assist the commander in accomplishing this review, a checklist is provided in § 301.7.

(e) Cooperate to the fullest extent possible with other Government agencies investigating housing discrimination complaints filed by DOD personnel.

§ 301.5 Information requirements.

(a) Detailed procedures for assisting personnel, investigating housing complaints, and reporting requirements for each housing discrimination complaint are contained in § 301.8.

(b) The complaint and investigative report required in § 301.8 is exempt from formal approval and licensing pursuant to subsection VII.F., enclosure 3, of DOD directive 5000.19.¹

(c) A semiannual report is required and is assigned RCS DD-M(SA) 1146. This report is explained in section (d) of § 301.8.

§ 301.6 Definitions.

(a) Agent. Real estate agency, manager, landlord, or owner, as appropriate, of a housing facility doing business with Department of Defense (DOD) personnel or a Housing Referral Office (HRO).

(b) Area outside the United States. An area in which DOD personnel reside but which is not subject to U.S. laws or regulations.

(c) Commander. The military or civilian head of any installation, organization or agency of the DOD who is assigned responsibility for the off-base housing program.

(d) Commuting area. That area as defined in DOD Instruction 4165.45.¹

(e) Complainant. A member of an Armed Force (or authorized dependent designated by the military member) or a civilian employee of the DOD (or authorized dependent designated by the civilian employee) who submits a complaint of discrimination.

(f) Discrimination. An act, policy, or procedure that arbitrarily denied equal treatment in housing because of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin to an individual or group of individuals.

(g) DOD Personnel. (1) Members of the Armed Forces (and their dependents) authorized to live off base.

(2) DOD civilian employees (and their dependents) who are transferred from one place of residence to another because of job requirements, or recruited for job opportunities away from their current place of residence in the United States, and all DOD U.S. citizen appropriated fund and nonappropriated fund civilian employees and their dependents outside the United States.

(h) Listed facility. A suitable housing facility (not on restrictive sanction) listed with the HRO as available for occupancy by DOD personnel and whose agent has provided a nondiscriminatory assurance.

(i) Minority. Any person who is or may become subject to discrimination because of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

(j) Relief for the complainant. Action taken by a commander for the benefit of a complainant.

(k) Restrictive sanctions. Action taken by a commander to preclude military personnel from entering into a rental, lease, or purchase arrangement with, or moving into, a housing facility, the agent of which has been found to have discriminated against DOD personnel. Restrictive sanctions are effective against the agent and the facility.

(l) Survey. The procedure by which the HRO identifies housing resources to ascertain the availability of housing facilities for occupancy by DOD personnel.

(m) Verifiers. Volunteers used by the commander during the course of a housing discrimination investigation to determine if, in fact, housing discrimination is being practiced by an agent as alleged. Verifiers are not required to be prospective tenants.

§ 301.7 Checklist for commanders.

(a) Are all assigned personnel informed of the Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing Program requirements prior to obtaining housing off-base?

(b) Is there an effective Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing information program?

(c) Are community resources being used to support the Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing information program?

(d) Are housing discrimination complaints being processed within the required time?

(e) Are complainants being informed in writing of the results of housing discrimination inquiry/investigation actions?

(f) Are housing surveys being conducted periodically to obtain new listings?

(g) Are restrictive sanctions being imposed immediately for a minimum of 180 days on agents found to be practicing discrimination?

(h) Are the services of command representatives provided to assist applicants in their search for housing?

(i) Are HRO personnel and Equal Opportunity personnel aware of and sensitive to housing problems encountered by DOD personnel?

(j) Are Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing Reports being submitted accurately and on time?

§ 301.8 Procedures and reports.

(a) Off-base housing procedures. DOD personnel seeking off-base housing shall be (1) processed through the HRO when available (optional for DOD civilian personnel), and (2) provided assistance in seeking temporary and permanent off-base housing as follows:

(1) Counseling concerning the Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing Program with particular emphasis placed on the desirability to report any indication of discrimination against them in their search for housing.

(2) Counseling and personal assistance shall include the following services:

(i) Offering to check by telephone the availability of selected listings. A record shall be made and retained for future reference of the date, time and nature of any conversation confirming the availability of a facility. The race, color, religion, sex, or national origin of the applicant will not be divulged. Caution must be exercised to ensure that a pattern of "confirmation only for minorities" does not develop.

(ii) Offering the services of a command representative (such as a unit sponsor or other designated person when available) to accompany and assist the applicant in the search for housing.

(iii) Explaining various discriminatory methods that may be employed by agents. For instance, if an agent arbitrarily refuses to accept or consider the applicant as a tenant, falsely indicates the unit sought has been rented to another applicant, or refuses to make the unit available under the same terms and conditions as are ordinarily applied to applicants of the facilities.

(A) In such instances the agent should be queried concerning the reasons why the unit is not available. After all reasonable steps have been taken to ascertain whether any valid nondiscriminatory reason can be shown for the agent's rejection of the applicant, and there appears to be no such reason, a reasonable effort should be made to persuade the agent to make the unit available to the applicant.

(B) The incident shall be reported immediately by the command representative and the complainant to the HRO for appropriate command action.

(b) Complaint procedures—United States. Commanders will ensure that all DOD personnel are informed of the scope and provisions of the DOD

Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing Program and advised to immediately report to the HRO (when available) any form of discrimination encountered as a tenant or prospective tenant. Incidents reported to base agencies or representatives other than the HRO (for example, equal opportunity officer, unit commander, supervisor) should be brought to the immediate attention of the HRO for appropriate action. A verbal or written statement of discriminatory policy by an agent is considered to be an act or incident of discrimination and the investigative procedures outlined in this enclosure shall be followed.

(1) Inquiry into complaint. Complaints of off-base housing discrimination must receive prompt attention. An inquiry into the complaint will begin within 3 working days after receipt of the complaint. The inquiry may be informal but must be detailed sufficiently to indicate if discrimination occurred. Upon receipt of a discrimination complaint, the HRO (or in the event there is no HRO, a command designated representative) will take the following action:

(i) Immediately notify the commander.

(ii) Promptly interview the complainant to determine the details and circumstances of the alleged discriminatory act.

(iii) Inform HRO personnel to advise all prospective tenants that a discrimination complaint has been received against a particular agent/facility, that substantiated discrimination has not been determined, and allow prospective tenants to decide if they desire to view the facility involved.

(iv) Immediately telephone or visit the facility/agent concerned, if the complaint is received shortly after the time of the alleged act and it concerns the change in availability of a vacancy (such as, "just rented," etc.). Attempt to determine if a vacancy exists without making reference to the complaint received. Request the commander to authorize the use of verifiers as necessary. (See subsection § 301.8(b)(2).)

(v) Advise the complainant of the provisions and procedures contained in this Instruction and of the right to pursue further actions through HUD, DOJ, and local, or State agencies. Coordinate effort with the judge advocate's office to determine to what extent legal assistance can be provided. Assist the complainant in completing seven signed, dated, and notarized copies of HUD Form 903, Housing Discrimination Complaint. The fact that a complainant might report an act of alleged discriminatory treatment but decline completing a HUD Form 903 does not relieve the command of responsibility for making further inquiry and taking such subsequent actions as may be appropriate.

(vi) Document the above action for future reference and inform the commander of the results of the HRO preliminary inquiry and actions taken. The commander will take action to assist the complainant in obtaining suitable housing. If, due to discriminatory practices in the community, suitable housing cannot be obtained by the complainant in a reasonable amount of time, the complainant and the commander may use this fact to justify a request for priority in obtaining military housing or for humanitarian reassignment. Reassignment action is a last resort and must be justified fully through command channels.

(2) Use of verifiers. Verifiers are authorized to determine if a vacancy exists and whether or not rental practices are discriminatory. Verifiers shall not be used for the sole purpose of determining sincerity or normal practices of an agent about whom the HRO has not received a housing discrimination complaint.

(i) When selecting and using verifiers, the following applies:

(A) Verification of the vacancy should be made as soon as possible after an alleged act of discrimination.

(B) Verifiers should be volunteers (the Equal Opportunity Office is a possible source for identifying individuals to be used as verifiers).

(C) The purpose of the verifier is to isolate the characteristic of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin which is the suspected basis for the complainant's exclusion. Verifiers should possess characteristics as close as possible to those of the complainant except for characteristics which are suspect as discriminatory. If two verifiers are used, one may possess similar characteristics to the complainant. Ideally, two verifiers should be used.

(ii) Instructions provided to the verifiers by HRO personnel should include the following:

(A) Explanation of the Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing and Off-Base Housing Referral Programs.

(B) Verifiers are to obtain information only on agent/facility operating policies, practices, and procedures for subsequent determination of complaint validity.

(C) Verifiers are not to make verbal or written contract for the apartment, pay any money, or say they want the apartment.

(D) Verifiers should be knowledgeable as the family composition, pets, and housing requirements of the complainant so they may ask for identical housing requirements.

(E) The following information should be obtained by the verifier, if possible:

(1) Concerning the facility. What is available? Did it meet the requirements of what the complainant re-questioned? Amount of rent? Deposit required? Are children/pets accepted? Is an application required? What is the time between filing application and permission to move in? Are there minority families and/or singles in the facility? Make a note of the presence or absence of a vacancy sign, and any other information deemed appropriate.

(2) Concerning the prospective tenants. If possible, ascertain criteria and qualifications prospective tenants must meet (credit rating, salary, marital status, children, deposit, written application, and the like), and a complete description of all procedures for becoming a tenant, including all steps from initial inquiry to moving in. Does the manager's subjective impression of the applicant appear to play any part in the decision to rent an apartment?

(F) The verifier's statement should be completed immediately after the verification visit. It should be accurate, objective, and factual. Include the following:

(1) Date, time of visit, person contacted, position of person contacted. Include any other pertinent information obtained during visit, i.e., length of time employed at facility, in addition to the information in subparagraph § 301.8(b)(2)(ii)(E).

(2) When reconstructing conversation, write in first person and try to use direct quotes. Do not use pronouns such as "he," "she," or "they." Clearly identify who said what to whom.

(3) Sign and date statement. Give full name, address, telephone number (duty or home) and race, etc., as relevant to complaint.

(3) Complaint process. If the basic facts of the HRO preliminary inquiry appear to substantiate the complaint, the commander will ensure the following actions begin within 3 working days of receipt of the inquiry report:

(i) Informal hearing. Give written notice to the agent explaining the nature of the complaint and the agent's right to request an informal hearing with the commander. The notification will specifically state the nature of the discrimination complaint, the right of the agent to appear personally at the hearing, be represented by an attorney, and to present evidence and call witnesses. The notification will also state that the agent has 5 days after receipt of the written notice to request a hearing. If no request is received within 5 days, the lack of response will be considered as a waiver of the right to such hearing. The written notification will either be delivered to the agent personally by a representative of the commander or will be sent to the agent by certified mail with return receipt.

(A) Composition of an informal hearing. The informal hearing will be conducted by the commander at a convenient location. The agent, agent's attorney, the complainant, complainant's attorney, Equal Opportunity Officer, HRO, Judge Advocate, or other designated persons may attend.

(B) Disclosure of information. The agent (or agent's attorney) will not be given copies of the HUD Form 903, or other pertinent statements that may later be required for subsequent HUD/DOJ actions. Freedom of Information and Privacy Act considerations will be determined in accordance with the respective Military Department instructions.

(C) Record of hearing. A summary of the hearing will be made a part of the complaint file.

(ii) Legal review. A legal review will be accomplished subsequent to the inquiry and informal hearing (if applicable) and prior to the commander's final decision that the inquiry supports or fails to support the complaint. The report will be reviewed for content and completeness and a statement that such a review was conducted, signed by the judge advocate performing the review, will be made a part of the case file. The statement will include:

(A) Any necessary explanatory remarks, including comments concerning the facts and evidence presented.

(B) Information known concerning pending complaints, brought by private parties with respect to the same facility/agent.

(C) Comments pertaining to relevant civil rights laws to the particular case.

(4) Commander's decision. The responsibility for imposition of restrictive sanctions rests with the commander and cannot be delegated. The commander's decision will be based on a full and impartial review of all facts and the policies and requirements as stated in this Part. The commander's options include:

(i) If the commander determine that more information is required, or for any reason further inquiry is deemed necessary, an officer will be appointed from sources other than the HRO to conduct a formal inquiry or investigation as the situation warrants. The officer, if not an attorney, will be afforded the advice and assistance of a judge advocate.

(ii) If, in the commander's judgment, the inquiry or investigation fails to support the complaint the case will be considered closed and the commander will:

(A) Inform the complainant in writing of all actions taken and advise the complainant of rights to pursue further actions to include:

(1) The right to submit a complaint to HUD and DOJ.

(2) The right to bring a private civil action in a State or Federal court.

(3) The right to obtain whatever legal assistance is appropriate and can be legally provided in pursuing civil redress.

(B) Direct HRO to terminate action outlined in § 301.8(b)(1)(iii).

(C) Summarize in the report file the practices giving rise to the complaint, the actions and results of the inquiry or investigation and a written assurance from the agent concerning future facility/agent practices. The following statement, completed by the complainant, will also be included as part of the case file: "I (am) (am not) satisfied with the efforts taken by the commander in my behalf to achieve satisfactory resolution of my off-base housing discrimination complaint." If the complainant indicates a lack of satisfaction, the reasons must be included in the case file.

(D) Inform the agent of the results of the inquiry by command correspondence if an informal hearing was held. Such correspondence should reiterate DOD policy and requirements for equal opportunity in off-base housing.

(E) Forward unsubstantiated complaint reports and HUD Form 903 to HUD and DOJ if requested by the complainant.

(F) Retain a copy of the report file for future reference.

(iii) If the inquiry or investigation supports the complainant's charge of discrimination and the discriminatory act is determined by the commander to conflict with DOD policy, the commander shall:

(A) Impose restrictive sanctions against the agent/facility for a minimum of 180 days. Sanctions will remain in effect until the provisions of subparagraph § 301.8(b)(6)(i) (A) or (B) are met. Restrictive sanctions shall also be imposed when a suspected discriminatory act, despite the absence of a formal complaint, is investigated and found valid. The fact that a validated discrimination complaint/incident has been or is scheduled to be forwarded to another agency (HUD, DOJ, etc.) is not cause for withholding sanction action pending the outcome of that agency's further review or investigation. When imposing a restrictive sanction, the commander shall:

(1) Remove the facility listing(s) from the HRO files.

(2) Impose restrictive sanctions (effective the date of notification, as per paragraph (4) below) against all facilities owned or operated by the agent concerned.

(3) Place the facility on the restrictive sanction list maintained by the HRO. The restrictive sanction list will be prepared on official letterhead stationery, signed by the commander, and include the authority for and conditions of the restrictive sanctions.

(4) Inform the agent concerned, by command correspondence, that restrictive sanctions have been imposed, the reasons, the nature and minimum duration of the restrictions, and the action required for their removal at the conclusion of the minimum period. The notification of restrictive sanctions may be sent by certified mail with return receipt or delivered to the agent personally by a command representative.

(5) Provide all DOD personnel reporting to the HRO with a copy of the restrictive sanction list, and advise members of the armed forces that they may not rent, lease, purchase, or reside in any of the listed facilities. Obtain a signed acknowledgment of receipt of the restrictive sanction list using a DD Form 1668, Off-Base Housing Application.

(6) Advise other military installations of the restrictive sanction action taken when the sanctioned facility is located within the commuting area of the military installation.

(B) Inform the complainant in writing of all actions taken, advise the complainant that the complaint will receive continuing base action to include if the complainant requests, forwarding the case file to HUD and/or DOJ for action. The complainant will also be counseled concerning the right to pursue remedies through civilian channels other than HUD/DOJ for action. (See subparagraph § 301.8(b)(4)(ii)(A).)

(C) Prior to forwarding the report, prepare a memorandum outlining:

(1) The base efforts made to obtain housing relief for the complainant.

(2) The impact of restrictive sanctions upon the Off-Base Housing Program and DOD personnel and their dependents.

(3) Any other considerations deemed relevant.

(D) Include a statement, completed by the complainant, as part of the case file (see subparagraph § 301.8(b)(4)(ii)(C)).

(E) If the act of discrimination falls within existing laws, and if the complainant concurs, forward a copy of the complaint and investigation report directly to HUD within 180 days after the occurrence of the alleged discrimination act, using HUD Form 903. The original report shall be sent to Fair Housing, c/o Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D.C. 20410. A copy of the complaint and investigation report shall be forwarded to the Department of Justice (Civil Rights Division), Washington, D.C. 20530.

(F) When more than one complaint alleging discrimination in the same facility or by the same agent has been received, consolidate the complaints for the purpose of the inquiry, legal review, and commander's memorandum. The consolidated case file must include a separate HUD Form 903 from each complainant who has filed one.

(iv) When a commander receives a complaint alleging further discrimination in a facility or by an agent after a completed case file has been forwarded, the commander will forward a summary of the facts relating to the subsequent complaint, outlined in § 301.8(b)(4)(iii)(F). Include brief comments indicating the extent to which the new complaint, and information developed with respect to it, affect the previous action.

(5) Followup actions. Subsequent to forwarding the report and all required attachments to HUD and DOJ, it is important that the commander, to the maximum extent possible, take the following actions:

(i) Cooperate with HUD, DOJ, and local/State agency representatives during their investigation and processing of the case, should these agencies seek assistance.

(ii) Periodically determine the status of the case by maintaining liaison with the HUD area/regional office concerned. Contact will be maintained until such time as the case is resolved and/or closed by HUD.

(iii) Ensure that the complainant is kept informed on information received and actions taken by HUD/DOJ.

(iv) Ensure that DOD personnel comply with the restrictive sanctions imposed on the facility/agent.

(A) Military personnel moving into or changing the place of residence in the commuting area of a military installation or activity may not enter into a rental, purchase or lease arrangement with an agent of a facility which is under restrictive sanction.

(B) Implement procedures for ensuring that DOD personnel seeking housing are made aware of, and are counseled concerning current restrictive sanctions. HROs must also ensure that controls are effective for determining where members ultimately locate housing. As a minimum, these controls will include the careful screening of returned DD Forms 1670, Notification of Housing Selection.

(C) Sanctions are not applicable to DOD personnel who may be residing in a facility at the time the sanction is imposed or to the extension or renewal of a rental or lease agreement originally entered into prior to the imposition of the sanction. Relocation of a military tenant within a restricted facility, however, is prohibited without the written approval of the commander.

(D) If it is determined that a member of an Armed Force has intentionally taken residency in a restricted facility contrary to instructions, the commander will take appropriate disciplinary action.

(E) Periodically, publish a current listing of restricted facilities in the base bulletin (or other appropriate means of internal distribution). As a minimum, this will be done when there has been an addition, deletion, or change to the list.

(6) Removal of restrictive sanction. (i) A facility/agent may be removed from sanction only if one of the following actions is taken:

(A) The sanction may be removed before completion of the 180 days restrictive period if an approved waiver request is obtained from the Head of the DOD Component concerned, or his/her designee. Consideration will be given to lifting an imposed sanction only in exceptional circumstances and in concert with a written assurance of nondiscrimination from the agent concerned.

(B) After completion of 180 days on restrictive sanction, if the agent provides written assurance of future nondiscrimination to the HRO.

(ii) The commander shall inform the HRO, Race Relation/Equal Opportunity Office and the agent in writing of the removal from restrictive sanctions.

(7) Privacy Act and Freedom of Information Act inquiries. Requests for information regarding reports that have been referred to HUD, DOJ, and/or local or State agencies for action shall be referred to the appropriate agency for response. Requests for information from reports not referred to those agencies for action shall be processed in accordance with the appropriate Military Department instructions concerning the Privacy Act and Freedom of Information Act.

(c) Complaint procedures—Outside the United States. Commanders of installations or activities outside the United States will ensure that all DOD personnel, upon reporting to the HRO, are clearly informed of the scope and provisions of the DOD Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing Program and advised to immediately report to the HRO (when available) any form of discrimination encountered as a tenant or prospective tenant. Incidents reported to base agencies or representatives other than the HRO (for example, equal opportunity officer, unit commander, supervisor) should be brought to the immediate attention of the HRO for appropriate action. Upon receiving a complaint of discrimination the commander and HRO shall:

(1) Consult with staff judge advocate attorneys to determine if the laws of the country concerned (or any subdivision thereof) prohibit any of the actions outlined in § 301.8(b).

(2) Take actions outlined in § 301.8(b) except that a HUD Form 903 will not be completed as cases processed outside the United States are not forwarded to HUD or DOJ. Complainants should understand that the fair housing provisions of the Civil Rights Act are not applicable in areas outside the United States.

(3) Determine, with judge advocate advice, whether the discriminatory act can be pursued for civil redress. Redress will be based on the laws of the country (or subdivision thereof) concerned.

(d) Reporting requirements. (1) A copy of each complaint and investigative report that substantiates a housing discrimination shall be submitted to the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower, Reserve Affairs and Logistics) not later than 45 days from the date the case is forwarded from the installation. Under normal circumstances, the commander of the installation concerned shall complete required investigation and processing of complaints within 45 days from the date that a housing complaint is filed by a complainant. The Military Departments shall summarize and make appropriate comments to include the affirmative action taken in the case prior to submission of the report to the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower, Reserve Affairs, and Logistics).

(2) A copy of complaint and investigative reports that do not substantiate allegations of housing discrimination shall be kept on file at the installation level for a period of 24 months. Normally, request for these reports to be forwarded to the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower, Reserve Affairs, and Logistics) will be made only when other Government or civilian agencies have expressed an interest.

(3) Each military Department shall submit semiannual reports (for the periods ending June 30 and December 31) to the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower, Reserve Affairs, and Logistics) no later than 60 days following the end of the reporting period. Reports will contain the following information:

(i) Total number of housing facilities (rentals and sales) surveyed during the reporting period.

(ii) Total number of housing facilities listed during the reporting period and the total number of housing facilities listed as of the last day of the reporting period.

(iii) Total number of housing facilities under restrictive sanction and total number of housing facilities restricted during the reporting period.

(iv) Total number of restrictive sanctions that were lifted prior to completion of the 180 day minimum period.

(v) Total number of discrimination complaints processed during the reporting period.

(vi) Total number of discrimination complaints forwarded to HUD/DOJ during the reporting period.

(vii) A short, narrative report summarizing servicewide significant Equal Opportunity in Off-Base Housing activities, problems, and experiences, and appropriate explanatory comments concerning the statistical portion of the report.

Title 36—Parks, Forests and Public Property

CHAPTER II—FOREST SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

PART 264—PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

Protection of Insignia

AGENCY: Forest Service, USDA.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, is adding a section relating to property management. Under this section the subpart establishes an official Forest Service Insignia and provides for its future protection. The insignia has long been recognized by the public as representing the Forest Service. This rule will prevent all unauthorized use of the insignia. As a result of responses received during comment period, minor modification of the wording has been made and an addition was made for an exception for employee business or calling cards.

DATES: Rule becomes effective May 31, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Elmer Moyer, Personnel Management Staff, Forest Service, Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 2417, Washington, D.C. 20013, 703-235-8012.

This amends 36 CFR, Chapter II by adding the following:

Subpart A—Official Forest Service Insignia

Sec.

264.1 Definitions.

264.2 Use of insignia.

264.3 Commercial use.

264.4 Unauthorized use.

264.5 Power to revoke.

AUTHORITY: (7 U.S.C. 2201.)

§ 264.1 Definitions.

(a) The term "Insignia" means the Official Forest Service Insignia or a facsimile or simulation thereof, in total or in part, which is used in such a manner as to suggest the insignia.

(b) The terms "Chief" means the Chief of the Forest Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, or a person designated to act for him.

§ 264.2 Use of insignia.

Subject to the provisions in § 264.3, the use of the insignia is restricted to official Forest Service materials.

§ 264.3 Commercial use.

(a) The Chief may authorize the commercial manufacture, importation, reproduction or use of the insignia upon the following findings:

(1) That the proposed use will contribute to the public recognition of the Forest Service in an official capacity.

(2) That the proposed use is consistent with the status of a national insignia and that such use lends prestige and respect to the Forest Service.

(3) That a use charge, royalty charge, or payment in kind, to be paid by the licensee, which is reasonably related to the commercial value, has been established.

(4) That such other conditions as the Chief may deem necessary in each case have been established.

(b) Requirements for licenses: Licenses when granted, shall confirm to the following:

(1) A definite expiration date shall be specified.

(2) The Chief shall retain the right to issue additional licenses which in his judgment would be in public and Forest Service interest. License issued under these provisions will be nonexclusive.

(3) The licensee shall be required to have the licensed item available for sale, and promotion within a specified period, or show cause why this could not be done.

(4) The licensee shall be required to invest a specified minimum amount of money in the development, production, and promotion of the licensed item, as determined by the Chief.

(5) In addition to the Chief's power to revoke under Part 264.5, the Chief shall retain the right to revoke any license for failure of the licensee to comply with any of the terms and conditions of the license.

(6) The licensee shall be required to submit periodic progress reports to appraise the Forest Service of his activities and progress in achieving stated objectives.

(7) The license shall not be subject to transfer or assignment, except as approved in writing by the Chief.

(8) The licensee shall not be authorized to grant sublicenses in connection with the manufacture and sale of the item, except as approved in writing by the chief.

(c) Business or calling cards commercially prepared for employees, at employee expense, may use the insignia without special license.

§ 264.4 Unauthorized use.

Whoever manufactures, sells or possesses the insignia, except as provided under §§ 264.2 and 264.3, may be subject to criminal penalty under 18 U.S.C. 701.

§ 264.5 Power to revoke.

It is the intention of these regulations that the Chief, in exercising the authorities designated hereunder, will at all times consider the primary purpose of the insignia. All authorities and licenses granted under these regulations shall be subject to abrogation by the Chief at any time he finds that the use involved is injurious to the image of the Forest Service, is offensive to decency or good taste, or similar reasons, in addition to any other limitations and terms contained in the licenses and other authorities.

DAVID G. UNGER,
Deputy Assistant Secretary for Conservation, Research, & Education.

CHAPTER 5A—FEDERAL SUPPLY SERVICE, GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

[FSS P 2800.8B CHGES 19-261]

PROCUREMENT PROCEDURES AND CONTRACT CLAUSES

Miscellaneous Amendments

AGENCY: Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: This amendment to the General Services Administration Procurement Regulations (GSPR 5A) adds instructions to contracting officers to standardize operational practices in connection with special types of procurements, revises instructional material to update and supplement existing procedures, deletes obsolete instructions, and adds or revises contract clauses. The purpose of these regulations is to improve Federal Supply Service procurement procedures and contract clauses.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 31, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Einar Windingland, Director, Policy and Procedures Division, Office of Procurement, Federal Supply Service, General Services Administration, Washington, D.C. 20406, 703-557-8344.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The principal changes are as follows: (1) A new part is added to provide pro-

TIME OF SHIPMENT

Shipment is required within — calendar days after receipt of order. Each delivery order issued under this contract will specify that shipment is required no later than the number of days shown above. If such order also states that "Early Shipment is Precluded" the Contractor agrees to make shipment no sooner than — calendar days after receipt of order. Earlier shipments may result in nonacceptance of the supplies at the delivery point at the time of arrival.

(The second number to be inserted should be 15 calendar days less than the first number.)

Subpart 5A-1.12—Responsible Prospective Contractors

1. Section 5A-1.1205(c) is revised as follows:

§ 5A-1.1205 Procedures for determining responsibility of prospective contractors.

(c) Advice and assistance should be obtained from all appropriate activities, including legal counsel, quality control, and finance, in arriving at a determination that a bidder qualifies as responsible under the standards set forth in § 1-1.1203.

§ 5A-1.1205-2 [Amended]

2. Section 5A-1.1205-2(c) is revised by deleting the correspondence symbol "BI" wherever it appears and inserting "AWI" in lieu thereof.

3. Section 5A-1.1205-4(b)(1) is revised as follows:

§ 5A-1.1205-4 Preaward surveys.

(b) * * *

(1) Prepare an original and three copies of GSA Form 353. The original and first copy shall be forwarded to the Quality Control Division in the region in which the plant facilities are located, the second copy shall be sent to the Quality Control Division, Central Office, and the third copy retained as a file copy. The original and each of the two forwarded copies shall be accompanied by:

(i) A copy of the invitation for bids;

(ii) A copy of all pertinent information submitted by the bidder in his bid, including delivery time and, where applicable, the bidder's indicated monthly production capacity or supply potential (in lieu of extracting such information from the bid, copies of the bid or pertinent pages thereof may be furnished.);

(iii) Any pertinent correspondence between GSA and the bidder; and

(iv) Any other information the buying activity has which should be cedural guidelines applicable to the procurement of nonstock items other than those purchased under the Federal Supply Schedule Program; (2) A new subpart is added to provide instructions regarding procurements for agencies located in Alaska; (3) A new section is added to provide procedures for handling suspected violations of the mandatory use provisions of Federal Supply Schedules; (4) A section covering the Review List of Bidders is deleted based on a determination to discontinue this list; (5) Various sections are revised to update and clarify instructions regarding the waiving of bid sample requirements, the dissemination of procurement information concerning contracts negotiated on a competitive basis, and the procurement of items for self-service stores; and (6) Various procurement forms and exhibits are updated.

The table of parts for Chapter 5A is amended to add new Part 5A-71 as follows:

Part

5A-71 Procurement of nonstock/nonschedule items.

PART 5A-1—GENERAL

The table of contents for Part 5A-1 is amended to delete § 5A-1.1205-50, Review List of Bidders.

Subpart 5A-1.3—General Policies

1. Section 5A-1.307-6 is amended by adding the following footnote at the end of the section:

(If bid samples are requested for "brand name or equal" procurements, the above notice shall not be included in the solicitation.)

§ 5A-1.307-8 [Amended]

2. Section 5A-1.307-8 is amended by deleting the words "under § 5A-72.103" at the end of the second sentence, and inserting a period after the word "negotiation."

3. Section 5A-1.316-5(c)(1) is revised as follows:

§ 5A-1.316-5 Time of delivery clauses.

(c) Requirements contracts.

(1) Stock replenishment contracts (only applicable to those contracts which do not include an Availability for Inspection and Testing and Shipment clause). When the required time for shipment is 45 calendar days or less after receipt of order, the time of shipment provision set forth in paragraph (c)(2), below, shall be used. When the required time for shipment specified is more than 45 calendar days after receipt of order, the following clause shall be used.

considered by the Quality Control Division in making the evaluation.

§ 5A-1.1205-50 [Deleted]

4. Section 5A-1.1205-50 is deleted.

PART 5A-2—PROCUREMENT BY FORMAL ADVERTISING

Subpart 5A-2.2—Solicitation of Bids

Section 5A-2.202-4(k) is revised as follows:

§ 5A-2.202-4 Bid samples.

(k) If bid samples were required on a prior solicitation, written approval of the Office of Standards and Quality Control (FM) or the appropriate commodity center specification activity is required prior to waiving the bid sample requirement in the event the specification changes before the next solicitation.

PART 5A-3—PROCUREMENT BY NEGOTIATION

Subpart 5A-3.1—Use of Negotiation

Section 5A-3.103 is revised as follows:

§ 5A-3.103 Dissemination of procurement information.

(a) During the preaward period, no information contained in any proposal or quotation or information regarding the number or identity of the offerors shall be made available to the public or to anyone within the Government not having a legitimate interest therein.

(b) Proposed procurements and awards of negotiated contracts shall be reported to the Commerce Business Daily in accordance with §§ 1-1.1003 and 1-1.1004. The provisions of § 5A-2.407-84 regarding notification of proposed substantial awards and awards involving congressional interest also apply to negotiated procurements.

(c) The provisions of § 5A-1.350 shall apply when issuing advance notices of award for all negotiated contracts.

(d) Within 1 workday after negotiated contracts are awarded on the basis of initial offers received; i.e., no discussions or negotiations were conducted with offerors, a tabulation sheet shall be prepared and a legible copy shall be furnished promptly to the local Business Service Center where it will be made available for public examination. Such tabulation sheets shall show the applicable solicitation number and may be typed or handwritten. Entries shall include the names of offerors and the prices offered, including any discounts, to the Government. The successful offeror and the total dollar amount of the award shall be indicated.

(e) For negotiated contracts which involve negotiations and discussions with offerors before award, only the names of successful offerors and the prices, including discounts, at which awards were made shall be publicly disclosed (§§ 1-3.103 and 5A-3.103(b)). If requests in writing are received after award for the final offers of unsuccessful offerors, information as to the identity and the final prices, including discounts, of such unsuccessful offerors shall be released by the contracting officer along with any other information as may be properly released in accordance with the Freedom of Information Act pursuant to procedures in GSA Order, GSA Regulations Pursuant to "Freedom of Information Act" (ADM 7900.3).

(f) The provisions of § 5A-2.407-1(c) regarding the avoidance of creating false impressions in the eyes of prospective contractors about forthcoming awards also apply to negotiated procurements.

PART 5A-7—CONTRACT CLAUSES

The table of contents for Part 5A-7 is amended to add the following new entry:

Sec.

5A-7.103-98 Placarding railcars.

Subpart 5A-7.1—Fixed-Price Supply Contracts

1. Section 5A-7.103-75 is revised as follows:

§ 5A-7.103-75. Standard and nonstandard pack items.

The following clause shall be included in solicitations for stock items. The clause is shown as No. 30, GSA Form 1424.

PACKAGING AND PACKING FOR DELIVERIES TO GSA SUPPLY DISTRIBUTION FACILITIES

(a) Standard Pack Items. To facilitate the distribution and handling of certain items of stock, the General Services Administration has established standard packs of a specified number of units per container. Where standard packing has been cited for an item in the schedule or the referenced specification, such packing is necessary. A bid offering to furnish an item in other than the pack specified shall be considered nonresponsive with respect to that particular item.

(b) Nonstandard Pack Items. Except for those items for which packaging and packing requirements are cited in the schedule or included in a referenced specification, items covered by this Invitation for Bid may be shipped in commercial containers. Provided: (i) Each shipping container of each item in a shipment is of uniform size and content, except for residual quantities; (ii) the gross weight of each shipping container does not exceed 80 pounds except when the weight of a single item within the shipping container is of a higher weight; and (iii) shipping containers comply with requirements of the Uniform Freight Classification or the National Motor Freight Classification (issue in effect at time of shipment).

(c) Improperly Packaged and Packed Materials. In the event any shipment is not packaged and packed in accordance with the contract requirements, the Government shall have the right, without prior notice to the Contractor, notwithstanding Article 5 of Standard Form 32, to: (i) reject the shipment; (ii) perform the required repackaging/repacking by use of Government personnel and charge the Contractor therefor at a rate of $16 per manhour for the first or fractional hour and $10 for any succeeding or fractional hour; or (iii) have the repackaging/repacking performed by an independent Contractor and charge the Contractor therefor at the above rates. In connection with any prompt payment discount offered, time will be computed from the date of completion of such repackaging/repacking service.

2. Section 5A-7.103-98 is added as follows:

§ 5A-7.103-98 Placarding railcars.

The following clause (included in GSA Form 1424) shall be included in all solicitations.

PLACARDING RAILCAR SHIPMENTS

When a railcar is loaded in such a manner that it can be or should be unloaded from only one side, the contractor is required to placard the car with two placards; one placard placed on the appropriate car door reading "UNLOAD FROM THIS SIDE" and the other placed on the opposite door reading "UNLOAD FROM OTHER SIDE".

PART 5A-10—BONDS AND INSURANCE

The table of contents for Part 5A-10 is amended to add the following new entry:

Sec.

5A-10.350 Responsibility of contractor and indemnification agreement.

Subpart 5A-10.3—Insurance—General

Section 5A-10.350 is added as follows:

§ 5A-10.350 Responsibility of contractor and indemnification agreement.

The following clause shall be included in all solicitations for car rental:

RESPONSIBILITY OF CONTRACTOR AND INDEMNIFICATION AGREEMENT

(a) The Contractor assumes full responsibility for any and all loss or damage to the rented motor vehicle and relieves the United States of America, any of its agencies, or any of its officers, employees, or rentees of all responsibility for any and all loss or damage to the Contractor's motor vehicle furnished under the terms of this contract.

(b) The Contractor shall save, and keep harmless, and agrees to indemnify the United States of America, any of its agencies, or any of its officers, employees, or rentees furnished a motor vehicle by the Contractor from any or all liability and all cost for injury to or death of any person or persons and for loss or damage to any property arising directly or indirectly, or attributable in any way to a Government rentee's use or operation of a motor vehicle furnished under the terms of this contract; Provided, however, That the provisions of this subpart (b) shall not apply to any liability directly attributable to the willful tortious act of any rentee.

(c) The responsibility of the Contractor and the indemnification agreement as stated above shall be sole and controlling, notwithstanding any other agreements required by the Contractor to be signed by a Government rentee prior to obtaining a motor vehicle under the terms of this contract.

(d) It is further understood and agreed that the minimum and mileage charges as specified in the schedule include all charges allowable under this contract, including any charge for full collision coverage on the Contractor's vehicle.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of (a) through (d) above, the Government requires the Contractor to maintain automobile liability insurance coverage in amounts not less than:

- (1) $100,000 bodily injury, one person;
 - (2) $300,000 bodily injury, more than one person; and
 - (3) $25,000 property damage, per accident.
- (f) Failure on the part of the Contractor to maintain the insurance set forth in (e) above, shall constitute grounds for default within the meaning of Article 11(a)(ii) of the General Provisions.

PART 5A-14—INSPECTION AND ACCEPTANCE

Subpart 5A-14.1—Inspection

Section 5A-14.105-1 is amended as follows:

§ 5A-14.105-1 General.

(a) . . .

(1) National requirements regardless of dollar amounts (including shipments to key GSA supply distribution facilities, and contracts issued under the Improved Federal Supply Schedule Program);

(2) Federal Supply Schedules selected for source inspection (§ 5A-73.212);

(b) . . .

(3) With lower dollar values than those listed in (a)(4) and (a)(5), above, unless otherwise excepted under (a)(6) and (a)(7).

RULES AND REGULATIONS

PART 5A-16—PROCUREMENT FORMS

The table of contents for Part 5A-16 is amended to revise the entry for § 5A-16.950-1535A as follows:

Sec.

5A-16.950-1535-A GSA Form 1535-A, Recommendation for Award(s) (continuation).

Subpart 5A-16.9—Illustrations of Forms¹

§ 5A-16.950-1535 [Revised]

1. Section 5A-16.950-1535 is revised to illustrate the November 1977 edition of GSA Form 1535, Recommendation for Award(s).

§ 5A-16.950-1535-A [Revised]

2. Section 5A-16.950-1535-A is revised to illustrate the November 1977 edition of GSA Form 1535-A, Recommendation for Award(s) (continuation).

§ 5A-16.950-1535-1 [Revised]

3. Section 5A-16.950-1535-1 is revised to provide new instructions for completing GSA Form 1535.

PART 5A-19—TRANSPORTATION

The table of contents for Part 5A-19 is amended to add the following new entries:

Sec.

5A-19.180 Placarding railcar shipments.

5A-19.302 F.o.b. origin shipments.

5A-19.302-1 F.o.b. origin, freight prepaid.

Subpart 5A-19.5—Contracting for Agencies Located in Alaska

5A-19.500 General.

5A-19.501 Policy.

Subpart 5A-19.1—General

Section 5A-19.180 is added as follows:

§ 5A-19.180 Placarding railcar shipments.

From time to time railcars are loaded in such a manner that the material can be unloaded from one side only. It is essential that the railcar is "spotted" for unloading with the proper car door positioned next to the unloading dock, platform, or warehouse door. Therefore, placards shall be placed on each door; one reading "UNLOAD FROM OTHER SIDE" and the other "UNLOAD FROM THIS SIDE." When applicable, the solicitation shall include the contract provisions in § 5A-7.103-98.

¹NOTE.—Copies of the revised forms illustrated in Part 5A-16 are filed with the original document.

Subpart 5A-19.3—Contract Delivery Terms

Sections 5A-19.302 and 5A-19.302-1 are added as follows:

§ 5A-19.302 F.o.b. origin shipments.

(a) When a contract specifies "f.o.b. origin," a Government bill of lading shall normally be issued prior to shipment for use by the contractor unless the shipment will be made via postal or parcel services (see § 1-19.302(b)(5)). If the shipment is extremely urgent and a Government bill of lading cannot be issued in a timely manner, contracting officers may, after coordination with the transportation officer concerned, authorize shipment on a commercial bill of lading. If the transportation cost is estimated not to exceed $100, the contractor shall be requested to ship on a prepaid basis and add the transportation charges to the invoice as provided in § 5A-19.302-1.

(b) When f.o.b. origin shipments are authorized by the contracting officer to be made by commercial bill of lading, the contracting officer shall instruct the contractor to (1) obtain the signature of the origin carrier's agent on the original and all copies of the commercial bill of lading; (2) annotate the original and all copies of the commercial bill of lading with the phrase "TO BE CONVERTED TO U.S. GOVERNMENT BILL OF LADING"; and (3) forward the original to the authorizing Government office for conversion to a Government bill of lading.

§ 5A-19.302-1 F.o.b. origin, freight prepaid.

When the contract specifies "f.o.b. origin, freight prepaid," the contractor shall be requested to make shipment on a commercial bill of lading and make payment to the transportation company. These prepaid commercial bills of lading shall not be converted to Government bills of lading. The contracting officer shall instruct the contractor, in writing, to show the transportation charges as a separate item on the invoice for each individual shipment and include a copy of the prepaid freight bill. This method shall only be used when transportation costs are estimated not to exceed $100, unless a larger amount has been specifically authorized in writing by the contracting officer or his designated transportation officer.

Subpart 5A-19.5 is added as follows:

Subpart 5A-19.5—Contracting for Agencies Located in Alaska

§ 5A-19.500 General.

When supplies are purchased for use in Alaska, it is the policy of the Federal Supply Service to procure from firms located in Alaska, when possible.

§ 5A-19.501 Policy.

(a) Solicitations for requirements of Federal agencies located in Alaska shall solicit offers on the basis of alternate delivery terms including f.o.b. Alaskan destination basis. When the requiring agency specifically requests delivery on other than an f.o.b. Alaskan destination basis, contracting officers shall verify the validity of such requests and document the case file.

(b) Where feasible, offers involving delivery in Alaska shall be solicited f.o.b. origin, f.o.b. port of exit (Seattle), and f.o.b. Alaskan destination. (See FPR 1-19.202-7.) All offers shall be evaluated on the basis of the lowest delivered cost to the ultimate destination.

(c) Federal Supply Schedules should include a delivery zone providing for delivery f.o.b. named Alaskan destination to the extent that such destinations are served by regularly scheduled surface transportation. Contracting officers shall request assistance from the appropriate Transportation Services Division in determining Alaskan destination with regularly scheduled surface transportation.

A new Part 5A-71 is added as follows:

PART 5A-71—PROCUREMENT OF NONSTOCK/NONSCHEDULE ITEMS

Sec.

5A-71.000 Scope of part.

Subpart 5A-71.1—General Policies for Nonstock/Nonschedule Procurements

5A-71.101 General.

5A-71.102 Authority to establish, renew, and discontinue nonstock contracts.

5A-71.103 Production plans and status reports for national nonstock term contracts.

5A-71.104 Use of contracts.

5A-71.105 Types of contracts.

5A-71.106 Preparation of solicitations.

5A-71.107 Specifications.

5A-71.108 Contract awards.

5A-71.109 Distribution of contractual documents.

5A-71.110 Inspection.

§ 5A-71.000 Scope of part.

This part sets forth policies and procedures for the procurement of nonstock and nonschedule commodity(s) (see § 5A-72 for the procurement of stock items and § 5A-73 for commodities under the Federal Supply Schedules Program).

Subpart 5A-71.1—General Policies for Nonstock/Nonschedule Procurements

§ 5A-71.101 General.

The procurement assignments for commodities and items which are not supported through either Federal supply schedules or the GSA stock programs are made by nonstock definite quantity (DQ), requirements contracts, and indefinite delivery type contracts. Nonstock contracts may be regional, interregional, or national depending upon agency need and/or geographical demand for the item(s) involved and the assignments made by the Assistant Commissioner for Procurement.

§ 5A-71.102 Authority to establish, renew, and discontinue nonstock contracts.

(a) Procuring directors may make demand purchases and/or establish, renew, or discontinue nonstock term and regularly scheduled DQ contracts for commodities assigned to their respective procuring activity.

(b) When regularly scheduled solicitations for nonstock commodities are established, the procuring activity shall provide the Federal Supply Schedule Management Division (FPS) with a copy of the solicitation and the additional information listed below.

(1) Appropriate background information.

(2) Information about prospective users, including identification of agencies agreeable to using resulting contracts as primary sources of supply.

(3) A statement of the reasons why customer agencies should not be authorized to place orders directly with the contractor if it is proposed that the contract provide for centralized order placement by the issuing office.

(4) Estimated dollar volume of sales, projected on a 3-year basis, if feasible.

(5) Estimated manhours involved in production and maintenance of the contract.

(c) FPS shall also be advised by procuring activities when regularly scheduled procurements for nonstock commodities are discontinued.

§ 5A-71.103 Production plans and status reports for national nonstock term contracts.

Production plans for nonstock term contracts shall be prepared pursuant to § 5A-73.105-2.

§ 5A-71.104 Use of contracts.

Criteria for choosing the appropriate procurement method are outlined in § 5A-72.103-1.

§ 5A-71.105 Types of contracts.

(a) Definite quantity contracts (see § 1-3.409(a)). Definite quantity contracts may be regularly scheduled procurements or demand purchases. This type of contract provides for a definite quantity of supplies to be delivered at a fixed price, for a fixed period, to specific locations.

(b) Requirements contracts (see § 1-3.409(b)). This type of contract is generally used when actual needs cannot be ascertained. Users are provided with a guaranteed source of supply from which to order their requirements within certain minimum and maximum order limitations.

(c) Indefinite delivery (see § 1-3.409(c)). This type of contract is suitable when advance knowledge of a definite quantity will be required for a specific period and material is required on a short lead time.

§ 5A-71.106 Preparation of solicitations.

(a) Solicitations shall be prepared in accordance with normal advertised or negotiated procedures (see § 5A-1.402-71 for availability of funds).

(b) Subparts 1-7.1 and 5A-7.1 contain clauses for use in fixed-price supply contracts. The FSS Procurement Clause Manual prescribes the format, sequence, and additional clauses for solicitations.

§ 5A-71.107 Specifications.

(a) Contracting officers shall follow the procedures prescribed in §§ 1-1.305, 1-1.306, and 5A-1.305 when citing specifications and standards, and § 1-1.307 when citing purchase descriptions and brand names. Individual items with a total of $500 or less shall be exempt from this requirement.

(b) In many instances agencies cannot identify incoming direct delivery shipments because either the agency requisition numbers are omitted from shipping containers and/or requisitions are combined on a single purchase order. To alleviate this problem direct deliveries require contractual provisions to ensure that contractors send a duplicate (facsimile) copy of the purchase/delivery order with each shipment to facilitate identification for the consignee (see § 5A-7.103-97).

§ 5A-71.108 Contract awards.

(a) Evaluation of offers and award of contract shall be made in accordance with the normal procedures governing formal advertising and negotiation. GSA Form 1535, Recommendation for Award(s), is required and contract numbers shall be assigned in accordance with § 5A-1.352.

(b) For definite quantity procurements, including repurchase actions, the contracting activity shall prepare the award documentation and the buying activity in the originating region shall issue the purchase order. Where the originating region and contracting activity are different, the contracting activity shall update PTR contract records and forward the award documentation with a copy of GSA Form 2885, Contract Data Checklist, annotated with the DUNS ID number in the upper right hand corner, to the originating buying activity who will issue the purchase order. Where the originating region and the contracting activity are the same, the purchase order will be issued by that procurement activity and all PTR records updated. In addition the procurement activity will:

(1) Accomplish re-entry through ADO to create the purchase order and updating of PTR and 2790 A II records;

(2) Include any special instructions (concerning shipping, packing, etc.) specified in the requisition; and

(3) Distribute the purchase order to paying offices in accordance with § 5A-76.307(b).

§ 5A-71.109 Distribution of contractual documents.

Contract documents, including GSA Form 1584, Contract Summary, when used, shall be distributed in accordance with § 5A-76.201. Final disposition shall be made as prescribed in the HB, GSA Records Maintenance and Disposition System, ch. 61B110 (OAD P 1820.2).

§ 5A-71.110 Inspection.

The criteria for designating the place of inspection (source or destination) shall be in accordance with § 5A-14.105. DD Form 250, Material Inspection and Receiving Report, is authorized for use when military requisitioning activities involved request its use. (See § 5A-7.102-5.)

PART 5A-72—PROCUREMENT OF STOCK ITEMS

The table of contents for Part 5A-72 is amended to revise the entries for Subpart 5A-72.5 as follows:

Sec.

Subpart 5A-72.5—Procurement of Items for Self-Service Stores

5A-72.501 General.

5A-72.502 Purchasing items for self-service stores.

5A-72.502-1 Stock items.

5A-72.502-2 Nonstock items available from established national sources.

5A-72.502-3 Special items stocked in stores.

5A-72.503 Establishing blanket purchase arrangements.

5A-72.504 Buyers assigned to self-service stores.

5A-72.505 Control procedures.

Subpart 5A-72.5—Procurement of Items for Self-Service Stores

Subpart 5A-72.5 is revised as follows:

§ 5A-72.501 General.

• • • • •

§ 5A-72.502 Purchasing items for self-service stores.

§ 5A-72.502-1 Stock items.

(a) Stock items carried in self-service stores normally shall be replenished by submission of an order from the store manager to the responsible order control activity, in accordance with standard procedures. When such an order cannot be filled due to nonavailability of stock, the item will be back-ordered.

(b) When the item is in backorder and the estimated date of availability from a supply distribution facility will not satisfy requirements, the store manager is authorized to take the following actions:

(1) Request the inventory manager (through channels) to expedite delivery, arrange for interwarehouse transfer or substitution, or initiate an emergency purchase request to the procuring activity.

(2) Purchase from local sources up to $500.

(3) Place an order against a local blanket purchase arrangement (BPA) established by the regional procuring activity (see § 5A-72.503) for not more than a 30-day supply or the maximum order limitation (MOL) of the BPA, whichever is less, with delivery to be made within 10 days.

§ 5A-72.502-2 Nonstock items available from established national sources.

(a) Store managers are authorized to place orders against established BPA's covering Federal supply schedules and other established sources of supply (see § 5A-72.503) for not more than the MOL set forth in the BPA.

(b) If no BPA is available, store managers shall request the Retail Services Division in Region 3 to coordinate with Region 3 buying division (3FP) to establish one. See § 5A-72.503, below. In the meantime, store managers may take the following actions:

(1) Request the regional procuring activity to place an order against the schedule; or

(2) Issue a purchase order directly against the established source for not more than $500 total or a 30-day supply, whichever is less. Standard Form 44, Purchase Order-Invoice-Voucher, should not be used when other purchase order forms are available.

§ 5A-72.502-3 Special items stocked in stores.

(a) Store managers are authorized to place orders against local term contracts or BPA's established by the procuring activity in that region (see § 5A-72.503).

(b) For items not available from established local contracts or BPA's, the store manager may procure requirements not exceeding $500 per line item under small purchase procedures. Store managers are responsible for strict compliance with the rules set forth in § 5A-3.606 and the Federal Procurement Regulations. When in doubt, guidance shall be obtained from the regional procurement activity. Oral purchases shall be made in accordance with §§ 5A-3.606-50 and 5A-3.7002.

(c) Requirements greater than $500 in value shall be forwarded to the Procurement Division in the appropriate region for purchase action.

§ 5A-72.503 Establishing blanket purchase arrangements.

(a) Identifying need for BPA. Self-service store managers shall send to the Procurement Division in their region a list of those items with a history of backorder problems and those items that are carried in the stores but are not available from established FSS sources. Self-service store managers shall also send a list of identifying national Federal supply schedules for which a BPA is desirable to the Retail Services Division (3FR), Washington, D.C. The Retail Services Division shall then send a consolidated list to the Procurement Division, Region 3.

(b) Regional BPA's. Regional procuring activities shall establish local BPA's at the request of the self-service store managers (see (a), above), in accordance with § 5A-3.606-70. Orders against regional BPA's shall not exceed $500 per line item or a 30-day supply, whichever is less.

(c) BPA's under Federal supply schedules.

(1) The Region 3 Procurement Division shall establish national scope BPA's for both single source and multiple-award schedules covering items carried in the self-service stores. The MOL of the schedule shall not be exceeded. On multiple-award schedules, more than one item is authorized for stocking. Using agencies are required to submit justification for not ordering the low cost item. Therefore, the Region 3 Procurement Division may be required to establish more than one BPA for similar items.

(2) A copy of the BPA shall be distributed within Region 3 and one copy shall be sent to the Office of Customer Service and Support (FF) for distribution to other regions for use by all self-service stores.

§ 5A-72.504 Buyers assigned to self-service stores.

(a) When warranted by the volume of store purchases of items which are not available from GSA supply distribution facilities or which are not stocked for customer agencies, a full-time buyer should be assigned to the self-service store. This applies particularly to stores located in cities other than the regional headquarters city. Buyers thus assigned shall be authorized to place orders directly on Federal supply schedule contracts and other established sources of supply within the limits provided in such contracts, and to handle open market small purchases for $10,000 or less in value.

(b) Buyers permanently assigned to self-service stores shall be under the administrative supervision of the store manager but shall receive technical guidance directly from the regional Procurement Division.

§ 5A-72.505 Control procedures.

(a) Self-service store managers shall maintain a GSA Form 1667, Register of Purchases (Self-Service Store), on which all purchases made by the store shall be recorded. The purpose of this record is to provide a control to prevent abuse of the procurement authorities set forth in this subpart and to ensure that items which are similar or like items in the GSA buying program are not being purchased, except when buying out of backorder.

(b) Other controls shall be maintained, including obligation and fund controls, receipt records, and invoice and payment records.

PART 5A-73—FEDERAL SUPPLY SCHEDULE PROGRAM

The table of contents for Part 5A-73 is amended to add the following new entry:

Sec.

5A-73.510 Suspected violations of mandatory use provisions.

Subpart 5A-73.5—Administration of Federal Supply Schedules/Contracts

Section 5A-73.510 is added as follows:

§ 5A-73.510 Suspected violations of mandatory use provisions.

(a) Suspected violations of the mandatory use provision in Federal Supply Service contracts may be based on a review of planned procurements published in the Commerce Business Daily and of open market procurements by other agencies. This review is the responsibility of the Market Research and Marketing Division (FFM). FFM shall contact the office suspected of violating the mandatory use provisions to determine whether the items involved are mandatory schedule items or similar items. FFM shall also determine if the separate procurement is made (1) subsequent to the issuance of a waiver; (2) because agency requirements exceed the maximum order limitation; (3) because it involves an urgent requirement; or (4) because it is a small requirement excluded by § 101-26.401-4(b).

(b) Suspected violations may come to the attention of the contracting officer from various sources, particularly from contractors where an agency has purchased a contract item from some other source. In these instances, contracting officers shall provide the related information to FFM for appropriate action with agencies as stated in paragraph (d), below.

(c) To provide FFM with the information needed in communicating with the customer agency, the contracting officer shall furnish a copy of the authorizations granted agencies to procure over the MOL (contract maximum order limitation). Contracting officers who return Military Interdepartmental Purchase Requests (MIPR) for local procurement shall record information on an informal letter identifying the requisition involved, the item, and the dollars. A copy of this letter shall be sent to FFM.

(d) If a violation of the mandatory use provisions is believed to be present, FFM shall proceed as follows:

(1) Where an item to be procured is identical to a mandatory use schedule item, the agency shall be requested to cancel the solicitation and order from the existing Federal Supply Schedule.

(2) Where an item to be procured is similar to a mandatory schedule item, the agency shall be requested to either cancel the solicitation and use the existing Federal Supply Schedule, or stop action on the procurement and submit a request for waiver in accordance with § 101-26.401-3.

(3) Where a procurement is in excess of the maximum order limitation, and the contracting officer has not formally authorized the agency to procure on its own, the agency shall be requested to submit its requirements to GSA in accordance with the instructions in article 3 of GSA Form 2891, Instructions to Users of Federal Supply Schedules.

(4) If award has been made contrary to the mandatory use provisions of a Federal Supply Schedule, FFM shall request the agency responsible for the action to take appropriate steps to avoid recurrence. Copies of all exchanges of communication between FFM and customer agencies concerning Federal Supply Schedules shall be furnished to FPS.

(e) FFM shall maintain a record of agencies which violate the schedule mandatory use provisions and advise FPS of difficulties in arranging corrective action. FPS shall take appropriate action through the Interagency Committee for the Review of Federal Supply Schedules, or at other levels, to resolve the problems.

PART 5A-76—EXHIBITS

The table of contents for Part 5A-76 is amended to add the following new entry:

Sec.

5A-76.201-9 GSA Form 1535, Recommendation for Award(s).

Subpart 5A-76.2—Distribution of Documents

§ 5A-76.201-5 [Revised]

1. Section 5A-76.201-5(a) is revised to clarify distribution instructions regarding stock replenishment orders and stock/nonstock direct delivery orders.

§ 5A-76.201-9 [Added]

2. Section 5A-76.201-9 is added to provide for the distribution of GSA Form 1535, Recommendation for Award(s), to certain activities for coding purposes.

Subpart 5A-76.3—Miscellaneous Exhibits

§ 5A-76.314 [Revised]

Section 5A-76.314 is revised to make editorial changes.

Subpart 5A-76.4—Procurement Assignments

§§ 5A-76.402, 5A-76.403, 5A-76.404 [Revised]

Sections 5A-76.402, 5A-76.403, and 5A-76.404 are revised to reflect current procurement assignments.

Title 49—Transportation

CHAPTER X—INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

SUBCHAPTER A—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

[Revised Service Order No. 1296]

PART 1033—CAR SERVICE

Substitution of Refrigerator Cars for Boxcars

AGENCY: Interstate Commerce Commission.

ACTION: Emergency Order Revised Service Order No. 1296.

SUMMARY: Revised Service Order No. 1296 authorizes the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe (ATSF) to substitute two refrigerator cars for each boxcar ordered for transporting shipments of cotton from stations on its line to other station on its line or to stations on the Kansas City Southern, the Missouri Pacific, the St. Louis-San Francisco, the Seaboard Coast Line or the Southern Railway because of an acute shortage of boxcars on the lines of the ATSF. The original order being replaced by Revised Service Order No. 1296 applied only between stations or the ATSF.

DATES: Effective 12:01 a.m., May 26, 1978; Expires 11:59 p.m., July 31, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

C. C. Robinson, Chief, Utilization and Distribution Branch, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, telephone 202-275-7840, telex 89-2742.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The order is printed in full below.

An acute shortage of boxcars for transporting shipments of cotton exists on The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Co. (ATSF) at stations on its lines in Texas and New Mexico. The ATSF has an available supply of certain refrigerator cars that may be substituted for this traffic at the ratio of two refrigerator cars for each boxcar, and use of these refrigerator cars for the transportation of cotton is precluded by certain tariff provisions, thus curtailing shipments of cotton. There is a need for the use of these refrigerator cars to supplement the supplies of plain boxcars for transporting shipments of cotton. It is the opinion of the Commission that an emergency exists requiring immediate action to promote car service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people. Accordingly, the Commission finds that notice and public procedure herein are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and that good cause exists for making this order effective upon less than thirty days' notice.

It is ordered,

§ 1033.1296 Substitution of refrigerator cars for boxcars.

(a) Each common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall observe, enforce, and obey the following rules, regulations, and practices with respect to its car service:

(1) Substitution of cars. The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway Co. (ATSF) may substitute two refrigerator cars as described in paragraph (2) herein for each boxcar ordered for shipments of cotton from any station on the ATSF in Texas or New Mexico and destined to any other station on the ATSF, or on the lines of the Kansas City Southern Railway Co., Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co., Seaboard Coast Line Railroad Co. or Southern Railway Co., and subject to the conditions provided in paragraphs (2) through (6) of this order.

(2) List of refrigerator cars to be applied. SFRC 1000-1899, SFRC 2300-2799, SFRC 50000-50199, SFRP 1972-2287.

(3) Concurrence of shipper required. The concurrence of the shipper must be obtained before two refrigerator cars are substituted for each boxcar ordered.

(4) Rerouting restrictions. Shipments of cotton for which two refrigerator cars are substituted for one boxcar must originate and terminate at stations on the railroads named in Section (a)(1) of this order and must not be routed over any other carrier; except that shipments may originate or terminate in terminal switching service on connecting lines which do not participate in the line-haul.

(5) Minimum weights. The minimum weight per shipment of cotton for which two refrigerator cars have been substituted for one boxcar shall be that specified in the applicable tariff for the car ordered.

(6) Endorsement of billing. Bills of lading and waybills covering movements authorized by this order shall contain a notation that shipment is moving under authority of Revised Service Order No. 1296.

(b) Rules and regulations suspended. The operation of tariffs or other rules and regulations, insofar as they conflict with the provisions of this order, is hereby suspended.

(c) Application. The provisions of this order shall apply to intrastate, interstate, and foreign commerce.

¹The Kansas City Southern Railway Co., Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co., Seaboard Coast Line Railroad Co. and Southern Railway Co., added.

(d) Effective date. This order shall become effective at 12:01 a.m., May 26, 1978.

(e) Expiration date. The provisions of this order shall expire at 11:59 p.m., July 31, 1978, unless otherwise modified, changed, or suspended by the order of this Commission.

(49 U.S.C. 1(10-17).)

Copies of this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and car hire agreement under the terms of that agreement, and upon the American Short Line Railroad Association. Notice of this order shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D.C., and by filing it with the Director, Office of the Federal Register.

Decided May 24, 1978.

By the Commission, Railroad Service Board, members Joel E. Burns, Robert S. Turkington and John R. Michael. Joel E. Burns not participating.

CHAPTER I—UNITED STATES FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE, DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

PART 32—SPORT HUNTING

Opening of Crescent Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Nebraska, to Sport Hunting

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Special regulation.

SUMMARY: The Director has determined that the opening to sport hunting of Crescent Lake National Wildlife Refuge is compatible with the objectives for which the area was established, will utilize a renewable natural resource, and will provide additional recreational opportunity to the public.

DATES: Antelope—Archery: August 20 through September 29 and October 9 through October 31, 1978. Rifle: September 30 through October 8, 1978. Deer—Archery: September 16 through November 10 and November 20 through December 31, 1978. Rifle: November 11 through November 19, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

C. Fred Zeilemaker, Refuge Manager, Crescent Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Ellsworth, Nebr. 69340, telephone 308-762-4893.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

§ 32.32 Special regulations; sport hunting; big game; for individual wildlife refuge areas.

Sport hunting is permitted on the Crescent Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Nebraska, only on the areas designated by signs as being open to hunting. These areas, comprising approximately 40,900 acres, are delineated on maps available at the refuge headquarters and from the office of the Regional Director, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, P.O. Box 25486, Denver, Colo. 80225. Sport hunting shall be in accordance with all applicable State regulations subject to the following conditions:

1. Vehicle entrance and travel will be permitted only on designated well-defined trails. No vehicle travel is permitted beyond posted points, or off the designated trails in the hills or meadows.
2. No overnight camping is permitted.
3. No open fires are permitted.

The provisions of this special regulation supplement the regulations which govern hunting on wildlife refuge areas generally which are set forth in Title 50 Code of Federal Regulations, Part 32. The public is invited to offer suggestions and comments at any time.

NOTE.—The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11949 and OMB Circular A-107.

Opening of Crescent Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Nebraska, to Sport Fishing

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Special regulation.

SUMMARY: The Director has determined that the opening to sport fishing of Crescent Lake National Wildlife Refuge is compatible with the objectives for which the area was established, will utilize a removable natural resource, and will provide additional recreational opportunity to the public.

DATES: January 1, 1979, through December 31, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

C. Fred Zeillemaker, Refuge Manager, Crescent Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Ellsworth, Nebr. 69340, telephone 308-762-4893.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

§ 33.5 Special regulations; sport fishing; for individual wildlife refuge areas.

Sport fishing is permitted on the Crescent Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Nebraska, only on Crane and Hackberry Lakes designated by signs as being open to fishing. These areas, comprising approximately 500 acres (Crane Lake 128, Hackberry Lake 375), are delineated on maps available at the refuge headquarters and from the office of the Regional Director, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, P.O. Box 25486, Denver, Colo. 80225. Sport fishing shall be in accordance with all applicable State regulations subject to the following conditions:

1. Boats propelled with poles, oars, paddles, or electric motors only may be used for fishing.
2. The use or possession of live or dead minnows or whole fish for bait or the possession of any seine or net for capturing live minnows is prohibited. Parts of dead fish or minnows may be used as bait.
3. Overnight camping is not permitted.
4. Open fires are not permitted.

The provisions of this special regulation supplement the regulations which govern fishing on wildlife refuge areas generally which are set forth in Title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 33. The public is invited to offer suggestions and comments at anytime.

NOTE.—The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has determined that this document does not contain a major proposal requiring preparation of an Economic Impact Statement under Executive Order 11949 and OMB Circular A-107.

Dated: April 27, 1978.

C. FRED ZEILLEMAKER, Refuge Manager.

Benedict J. Latteri telephone 202-456-6672.
Signed this 18th day of May 1978.

B. J. LATTERI,
Administrative Officer.

It is proposed to add the following Part 465 to Title 1 of the CFR.

PART 465—PRIVACY ACT IMPLEMENTATION

- Sec.
- 465.1 Purpose and scope.
- 465.2 Definitions.
- 465.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.
- 465.4 Times, places, and requirements for the identification of the individual making a request.
- 465.5 Disclosure of requested information to the individual.
- 465.6 Request for correction or amendment to the record.
- 465.7 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of the record.
- 465.8 Appeal of an initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment of the record.
- 465.9 Disclosure of record to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.

Sec.
465.10 Fees.

AUTHORITY: 5 U.S.C. 552a; Pub. L. 93-579.

§ 465.1 Purpose and scope.

The purposes of these regulations are to:

- (a) Establish a procedure by which an individual can determine if the National Commission on the International Year of the Child, 1979 (hereafter known as the Commission) maintains a system of records which includes a record pertaining to the individual; and
- (b) Establish a procedure by which an individual can gain access to a record pertaining to him or her for the purpose of review, amendment and/or correction.

§ 465.2 Definitions.

For the purpose of these regulations:

- (a) the term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;
- (b) The term "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate;
- (c) The term "record" means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Commission including, but not limited to, his or her employment history, payroll information, and financial transactions and that contains his or her name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as social security number;
- (d) The term "system of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Commission from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual; and
- (e) The term "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

For the purpose of these regulations:

- (a) the term "individual" means a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence;
- (b) The term "maintain" includes maintain, collect, use or disseminate;
- (c) The term "record" means any item, collection or grouping of information about an individual that is maintained by the Commission including, but not limited to, his or her employment history, payroll information, and financial transactions and that contains his or her name, or the identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual, such as social security number;
- (d) The term "system of records" means a group of any records under the control of the Commission from which information is retrieved by the name of the individual or by some identifying number, symbol, or other identifying particular assigned to the individual; and
- (e) The term "routine use" means, with respect to the disclosure of a record, the use of such record for a purpose which is compatible with the purpose for which it was collected.

§ 465.3 Procedures for requests pertaining to individual records in a record system.

An individual shall submit a request to the Administrative Officer of the Commission to determine if a system of records named by the individual contains a record pertaining to the individual. The individual shall submit a request to the Administrative Officer of the Commission which states the individual's desire to review his or her record.

§ 465.4 Times, places, and requirements for the identification of the individual making a request.

An individual making a request to the Administrative Officer of the Commission pursuant to Section 1800.3 shall present the request at the Commission's offices, c/o of General Services Administration, 18th and F Streets NW., Room G 340 Washington, D.C. 20405, on any business day between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. The individual submitting the request should present himself or herself at the Commission's offices with a form of identification which will permit the Commission to verify that the individual is the same individual as contained in the record requested.

§ 465.5 Disclosure of requested information to the individual.

Upon verification of identity the Commission shall disclose to the individual the information contained in the record which pertains to that individual.

§ 465.6 Request for correction or amendment to the record.

The individual should submit a request to the Administrative Officer of the Commission which states the individual's desire to correct or to amend his or her record. This request is to be made in accord with the provisions of § 465.4.

§ 465.7 Agency review of request for correction or amendment of the record.

Within ten working days of the receipt of the request to correct or to amend the record, the Administrative Officer of the Commission will acknowledge in writing such receipt and promptly either:

- (a) Make any correction or amendment of any portion thereof which the individual believes is not accurate, relevant, timely, or complete; or
- (b) Inform the individual of his or her refusal to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the reason for refusal, and the procedures established by the Commission for the individual to request a review of that refusal.

§ 465.8 Appeal of an initial adverse agency determination on correction or amendment of the record.

An individual who disagrees with the refusal of the Administrative Officer of the Commission to correct or to amend his or her record may submit a request for a review of such refusal to the Executive Director, National Commission on the International Year of the Child, 1979. The Executive Director will, not later than thirty working days from the date on which the individual requests such review, complete such review and make a final determination unless for good cause shown, the Executive Director extends such thirty day period. If after his or her review, the Executive Director also refuses to correct or to amend the record in accordance with the request, the individual may file with the Commission a concise statement setting forth the reasons for his or her disagreement with the refusal of the Commission and may seek judicial review of the Executive Director's determination under 5 U.S.C. 552a(g)(1)(A).

§ 465.9 Disclosure of record to a person other than the individual to whom the record pertains.

The Commission will not disclose a record to any individual other than to the individual to whom the record pertains without receiving the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains, unless the disclosure has been listed as a "routine use" in the Commission's notices of its system of records, or falls within one of the special disclosure situations listed in the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a(b)).

§ 465.10 Fees.

If an individual requests copies of his or her record, he or she shall be charged ten cents per page excluding the cost of any search for review of the record in advance of receipt of the pages.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 917]

FRESH PEARS, PLUMS, AND PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

Proposed Handling Regulations

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This proposal would continue through May 31, 1979, current minimum grade and size requirements applicable to fresh shipments of California peaches except that it would specify a larger minimum size for unlisted varieties shipped from July 3, 1978, through October 31, 1978. The proposal is designed to provide for orderly marketing in the interest of producers and consumers.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before June 19, 1978.

ADDRESS: Send comments to: Hearing Clerk, Room 1077, South Building, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, 202-447-6393.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The proposed amendment was submitted by the Peach Commodity Committee, established pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 917, as amended (7 CFR Part 917) which regulates the handling of fresh pears, plums, and peaches grown in California. This is a regulatory program effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674). The proposal is to amend § 917.446 (Peach Regulation 10; 43 FR 20219) by (1) continuing through May 31, 1979, the U.S. No. 1 minimum grade requirement applicable to all varieties of California peaches in fresh shipments, and (2) continuing through such date specified minimum size requirements except that from July 3, 1978, through October 31, 1978, size 80 would be the minimum size for varieties not listed in the regulation. Peach Regulation 10 is currently effective during the period May 12 through July 2, 1978. The proposal is designed to continue to provide markets with an ample supply of desirable size and quality peaches consistent with the available supply in the interest of producers and consumers.

Data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with this proposed amendment shall be filed, in duplicate, with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 1077, South Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, not later than June 19, 1978. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

Under the proposal, the provisions of Peach Regulation 10 (§ 917.446; 43 FR 20219) are revised to read as follows:

§ 917.446 Peach Regulation 10.

Order. (a) During the period July 3, 1978, through May 31, 1979, no handler shall handle:

(1) Any package or container of any variety of peaches unless such peaches meet the requirements of U.S. No. 1 grade.

(2) Any package or container of Armgold, Desertgold, Pat's Pride, Royal April, Royal Gold, Springgold, or Springtime variety peaches unless:

(i) Such peaches when packed in molded forms (tray pack) in a No. 22D standard lug box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 96 peaches in the box; or

(ii) Such peaches in any container when packed other than as specified in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph (2) are of a size that a 16-pound sample, representative of the peaches in the package or container, contains not more than 96 peaches.

(3) Any package or container of any type of Babcock, Blazing Gold, Bonjour, Cardinal, Dixired, June Lady, Merrill Gemfree, Royal May, Early Coronet, Flavorcrest, Springcrest, Early Royal May, or May Lady variety peaches unless:

(i) Such peaches when packed in molded forms (tray pack) in a No. 22D standard lug box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 84 peaches in the box;

(ii) Such peaches when packed in a No. 12B standard fruit (peach) box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 72 peaches in the box; or

(iii) Such peaches in any container when packed other than as specified in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph (3) are of a size that a 16-pound sample, representative of the peaches in the package or container, contains not more than 79 peaches.

(4) Any package or container of Aurora, Coronet, Indian Red, Merrill Gem, Peterson Elberta, Redhaven, Regina, or Redtop variety peaches unless:

(i) Such peaches when packed in molded forms (tray pack) in a No. 22D standard lug box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 80 peaches in the box; or

(ii) Such peaches when packed in a No. 12B standard fruit (peach) box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 70 peaches in the box; or

(iii) Such peaches in any container when packed other than as specified in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph (4) are of a size that a 16-pound sample, representative of the peaches in the package or container, contains not more than 71 peaches.

(5) Any package or container of Alamar, Angelus, Belmont, Carnival, Fairtime, Fay Elberta, Fayette, Fiesta, Fortyniner, Franciscan, Halloween, John Gee, Jody Gaye, July Elberta, (Early Elberta, Kim Elberta, and Socala), Madera Gem, Mardigras, Mericle, O'Henry, Pacifica, Pageant, Parade, Paradise, Preuss Suncrest, Regular Elberta, Redglobe, Red Lady, Rio Oso Gem, Scarlet Lady, Summer-set, Summertime, Suncrest, Toreador, July Lady, Windsor, Gem Crest, Autumn Gem, Cal Red, Early Fairtime, Early O'Henry, Fire Red, Red

Cal, Sparkle, Flamecrest, Treasure, or Williams Gem variety peaches unless:

(i) Such peaches when packed in molded forms (tray pack) in a No. 22D standard lug box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 72 peaches in the box;

(ii) Such peaches when packed in a No. 12B standard fruit (peach) box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 65 peaches in the box; or

(iii) Such peaches in any container when packed other than as specified in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph (5) are of a size that a 16-pound sample, representative of the peaches in the package or container, contains not more than 64 peaches.

(b) During the period July 3 through October 31, 1978, no handler shall handle any package or container of any variety of peaches not specifically named in subparagraphs (2), (3), (4), or (5) of paragraph (a) unless:

(1) Such peaches when packed in molded forms (tray pack) in a No. 22D standard lug box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 80 peaches in the box; or

(2) Such peaches when packed in a No. 12B standard fruit (peach) box are of a size that will pack, in accordance with the requirements of standard pack, not more than 70 peaches in the box; or

(3) Such peaches in any container when packed other than as specified in subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph (b) are of a size that a 16-pound sample, representative of the peaches in the package or container, contains not more than 71 peaches.

FRESH APRICOTS GROWN IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN WASHINGTON

Proposed Handling Regulations

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This proposal invites written comments with respect to minimum grade, maturity, and size requirements applicable to fresh shipments of Washington apricots. These would require Washington apricots to grade Washington No. 1 and have a minimum diameter (size) of 1½ inches. The proposal is designed to maintain orderly marketing conditions in the interest of producers and consumers.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before June 19, 1978.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to: Hearing Clerk, Room 1077, South Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. All written submissions made pursuant to this notice will be made available for public inspection at the Office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27 (b)).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, 202-447-6393.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The proposed regulation was submitted by the Washington Apricot Marketing Committee, established pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 922, as amended (7 CFR part 922) which regulates the handling of apricots grown in Washington. This is a regulatory program effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674).

The proposed regulation is based on an appraisal of current and prospective crop and market conditions. Production during the 1978 season is estimated by the Committee at 2,500 tons, with 2,000 tons expected to be marketed fresh and 500 tons processed. The proposed regulation is designed to assure shipment of fruit of acceptable quality in the interest of producers and consumers consistent with the objectives of the act.

The proposal reads as follows:

§ 922.318 Apricot Regulation 18.

(a) During the period July 1, 1978, through July 31, 1979, no handler shall handle any container of apricots unless such apricots meet the following applicable requirements, or are handled in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph:

(1) Minimum grade and maturity requirements. Such apricots grade not less than Washington No. 1 and are at least reasonably uniform in color: Provided, That such apricots of the Moorpark variety in open containers shall be generally well matured; and

(2) Minimum size requirements. Such apricots measure not less than 1½ inches in diameter except that apricots of the Blenheim, Blenril, and Tilton varieties when packed in unlidded containers may measure not less than 1¼ inches: Provided, That not more than 10 percent, by count, of such apricots may fail to meet the applicable minimum diameter requirements.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, any individual shipment of apricots which meets each of the following requirements may be handled without regard to the provisions of this paragraph, of § 922.41 (Assessments), and of § 922.55 (Inspection and Certification):

(i) The shipment consists of apricots sold for home use and not for resale.

(ii) The shipment does not, in the aggregate, exceed 500 pounds, net weight, of apricots; and

(iii) Each container is stamped or marked with the words "not for resale" in letters at least one-half inch in height.

(b) Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order; "diameter" and "Washington No. 1" shall have the same meaning as when used in the State of Washington Department of Agriculture Standards for Apricots, effective May 31, 1966; "reasonably uniform in color" means that the apricots in the individual container do not show sufficient variation in color to materially effect the general appearance of the apricots; and "generally well matured" means that, with respect to not less than 90 percent, by count, of the apricots in any lot of containers, and not less than 85 percent, by count, of such apricots in any container in such lot, at least 40 percent of the surface area of the fruit is at least as yellow as Shade 3 on the U.S. Department of Agriculture Standard Ground Color Chart of Apples and Pears in the Western States.

(c) Apricot Regulation 17 (42 FR 30492; 41268) is terminated July 1, 1978.

Dated: May 24, 1978.

[7 CFR Part 923]

SWEET CHERRIES GROWN IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN WASHINGTON

Proposed Extension of Grade, Size, and Container Requirements

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This notice proposes to continue through June 30, 1979, the current effective grade, size, and container requirements on the handling of sweet cherries grown in designated counties in Washington. These requirements are designed to provide for orderly marketing in the interest of producers and consumers.

DATES: Written comments must be received on or before June 22, 1978. Proposed effective dates: July 14, 1978, through June 30, 1979.

ADDRESSES: Send two copies of comments to the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 1077, South Building, Washington, D.C. 20250, where they will be made available for public inspection during regular business hours (7 CFR 1.27(b)).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, 202-447-6393.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Cherry Regulation 17 (§ 923.317; 43 FR 21867) sets forth the current grade, size, and container requirements on the handling of fresh Washington sweet cherries through July 13, 1978. This proposed amendment would continue these requirements for the period July 14, 1978, through June 30, 1979, as recommended by the Washington Cherry Marketing Committee, established under the marketing agreement and Order No. 923 (7 CFR Part 923). This marketing order regulates the handling of sweet cherries grown in designated counties in Washington and is effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674).

The committee estimates that 34,500 tons of sweet cherries will be available for fresh shipment during the 1978 season compared to actual shipment of 31,978 tons last season. The 1978 Washington sweet cherry crop is reported to be of good quality at this time. The committee reports that under the grade and size requirements, ample supplies of cherries of the better grades and more desirable sizes would be available in the interest of producers and consumers pursuant to the declared policy of the act. Orderly marketing conditions would be maintained by preventing the demoralizing effect on the market caused by the shipment of lower quality and smaller-sized cherries when more than ample supplies of the more desirable grades and sizes are available to serve consumers' needs. The container requirements are designed to prevent deceptive packaging practices and to promote buyer confidence.

The proposal is that § 923.317 Cherry Regulation 17 (43 FR 21867) be amended to read as follows:

§ 923.317 Cherry regulation 17.

Order. (a) Grade and sizes. During the period July 14, 1978, through June 30, 1979, no handler shall handle, except as otherwise provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, any lot of cherries, except cherries of the Rainier, Royal Anne, and similar varieties commonly referred to as "light sweet cherries," unless such cherries meet each of the following applicable requirements:

(1) Washington No. 1 grade except that the following tolerances, by count, of the cherries in the lot shall apply in lieu of the tolerances for defects provided in the Washington State Standards for Grades of Sweet Cherries:

(i) A total of 10 percent for defects including in this amount not more than 5 percent, by count, of the cherries in the lot, for serious damage, and including in this latter amount not more than one percent, by count, of the cherries in the lot, for cherries affected by decay; Provided, That the contents of individual packages in the lot are not limited as to the percentage of defects but the total of the defects of the entire lot shall be within the tolerances specified.

(2) At least 95 percent, by count, of the cherries in the lot shall measure not less than $\frac{3}{4}$ inch in diameter, except as hereinafter provided in paragraph (b)(2)(ii) of this section and subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(3) At least 90 percent, by count, of the cherries in any lot of face-packed containers or any containers of 20 pounds, net weight, or more shall measure not less than $\frac{3}{4}$ inch in diameter and not more than 5 percent, by count, of such cherries may be less than $\frac{3}{4}$ inch in diameter.

(b) Containers. During the period July 14, 1978, through June 30, 1979, no handler shall handle any lot of cherries, except cherries of the Rainier, Royal Anne, and similar varieties commonly referred to as "light sweet cherries," unless such cherries are in containers which meet each of the following applicable requirements:

(1) The net weight of the cherries in any container having a capacity greater than that of a container with inside dimensions of 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ by 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ by 4 inches shall not be less than 20 pounds; and all containers of cherries shall contain at least 12 pounds, net weight, of cherries.

(2) Subject to the provisions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph, shipments of cherries may be handled in such experimental containers as have been approved by the Washington Cherry Marketing Committee:

(i) All shipments handled in such containers shall be under the supervision of the committee; and

(ii) At least 90 percent, by count, of the cherries in any lot of such containers shall measure not less than $\frac{3}{4}$ inch in diameter, and not more than 5 percent, by count, of such cherries may be less than $\frac{3}{4}$ inch in diameter.

(c) Exceptions. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, any individual shipment of cherries which meets each of the following requirements may be handled without regard to the provisions of paragraph (a) and (b) of this section, and of §§ 923.41 and 923.55 of this part:

(1) The shipment consists of cherries sold for home use and not for resale;

(2) The shipment does not, in the aggregate, exceed 100 pounds, net weight, of cherries; and

(3) Each container is stamped or marked with the words "not for resale" in letters at least one-half inch in height.

(d) Definitions. When used herein, "Washington No. 1" and "diameter" shall have the same meaning as when used in the Washington State Standards for Grades of Sweet Cherries (Order 1550 effective April 29, 1978, WAC 16-414-050); "face-packed" means that cherries in the top layer in any container are so placed that the stem ends are pointing downward toward the bottom of the container; and all other terms shall have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order.

IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN COLORADO— AREA NO. 3

Proposed Expenses and Rate of Assessment

AGENCY: Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This notice invites written comments on proposed expenses of $2,424 and an assessment rate of one-half cent per hundredweight on potatoes for the functioning of the Colorado Area No. 3 Potato Committee for the 1978-79 fiscal period. The regulation would enable the committee to collect assessments from first handlers on assessable potatoes handled and to use the resulting funds for its expenses.

DATES: Comments due June 15, 1978.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be sent to: Hearing Clerk, Room 1077, South Building, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Two copies of all written materials shall be submitted, and they will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Hearing Clerk during regular business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Charles R. Brader, Deputy Director,

Fruit and Vegetable Division, AMS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, telephone 202-447-6393.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 948, both as amended, regulate the handling of potatoes grown in designated counties of Colorado. It is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601-674). The Area No. 3 Committee, established under the order, is responsible for its local administration in Area 3, consisting of certain counties in Northern Colorado. The proposals are as follows:

§ 948.279 Expenses and rate of assessment.

(a) The reasonable expenses that are likely to be incurred during the fiscal period beginning July 1, 1978, by the Area No. 3 Committee for its maintenance and functioning, and for such purpose as the Secretary determines to be appropriate will amount to $2,424.

(b) The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler in accordance with this part shall be one-half cent ($0.005) per hundredweight or equivalent quantity of assessable potatoes handled by him as the first handler during the fiscal period.

(c) Unexpended income in excess of expenses for the fiscal period may be carried over as a reserve to the extent authorized in § 948.78.

(d) Terms used in this section have the same meaning as when used in the marketing agreement and this part.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN FUND; FEDERAL FINANCING OF CONVENTIONS, PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY MATCHING FUND AND GENERAL ELECTION FINANCING

Public Hearing on Proposed Revision of Regulations

AGENCY: Federal Election Commission.

ACTION: Notice of hearing, proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Federal Election Commission requests comments on needed changes on the proposed revision of FEC Regulations on the Presidential Election Campaign Fund: The Federal Financing of Conventions, the Presidential Primary Matching Fund, and General Election Financing. The Commission proposes these revisions in order to simplify and clarify the regulations and because the Commission also is of the opinion that the regulations should be reviewed and evaluated in light of the experience of both the Commission and the participants in the 1976 Presidential election process.

DATE: Hearing will be held at 10 a.m. on June 20, 1978. Comments will be received until 5 p.m. June 30, 1978.

ADDRESS: Send comment to: Regulation Section, Office of the General Counsel, Federal Election Commission, 1325 K Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20463. Hearing location: Same address (fifth floor).

Federal Election Commission.

PROPOSED REVISION OF FEC REGULATIONS ON THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN FUND: THE FEDERAL FINANCING OF CONVENTIONS, THE PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY MATCHING FUND, AND GENERAL ELECTION FINANCING, SUBCHAPTER B, C, AND D, 11 CFR PART 120

The Federal Election Commission administers the Presidential Election Campaign Fund Act, 26 U.S.C. 9001, et seq., and the Presidential Primary Matching Payment Account Act, 26 U.S.C. 9031, et seq. The Commission has the responsibility under these Acts to determine who is eligible to receive payments from the Presidential Election Campaign Fund, to certify to the United States Treasury the amount of payments to which a party or candidate is entitled, and to audit the recipient of Federal funds to determine whether the funds were used in accord with the provisions of the Acts. On April 13, 1976, the Commission prescribed regulations to implement the provisions of the Presidential Election Campaign Fund Act and the Presidential Primary Matching Payment Account Act. These regulations are found in 11 CFR Parts 120-146.

The Commission is reviewing these regulations and solicits comment from interested persons on needed changes in these regulations. The Commission's purpose in proposing a revision of these regulations is two-fold. First, the Commission intends to simplify and to clarify the regulations. Second, the commission is of the opinion that the regulations should be reviewed and evaluated in light of the experience of both the Commission and the participants in the 1976 Presidential election process. The Commission is particularly interested in comments from parties as to administrative burdens of the current regulations, the type of problems, if any, experienced with the record keeping requirements, and any areas of the Act or the regulations which need further clarification.

The Commission will hold a hearing on the Presidential Election Campaign Fund Act and the Presidential Primary Matching Payment Account Act. This hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, June 20, 1978, at 10 a.m. The hearing will be held at the Federal Election Commission, 1325 K Street NW., Fifth Floor, Washington, D.C. Persons interested in testifying should contact Brenda Robinson at 202-523-4175, by close of business Friday, June 16, 1978.

Thirty copies of written testimony should be delivered to the Commission by close of business Friday, June 16, 1978.

Interested persons may also submit written comments to the Commission. The comment period will be open through Friday, June 30, 1978. If you have any questions about this notice, you may contact Gary Johansen, Office of General Counsel, 1325 K Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20463, 202-523-4175.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

[12 CFR Part 220]

[Reg. T; Docket No. R-0165]

CREDIT BY BROKERS AND DEALERS

Subordinated Credit Extended for Capital Purposes

AGENCY: Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: This proposal will relax the rule covering subordinated loans between brokers and dealers so as to permit any individual or firm subject to Regulation T to extend and maintain subordinated credit to another broker or dealer for capital purposes. The present rule limits these loans to intra-company loans and loans between members of the same exchange. In addition, the proposal removes certain restrictions on the use of the loan proceeds if the borrower has no other customer relationship with the lender. The Board is proposing this rule change under authority of section 7 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in order to improve the capital-raising ability of the entire industry and, by removing existing requirements related to exchange membership, to provide equal treatment for all brokers and dealers.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before June 28, 1978.

ADDRESS: Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551. All material should be in writing and should include the docket number R-0165.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Theodore W. Prush, Securities Regulations Analyst, Securities Regulation Section, Division of Banking Supervision and Regulation, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, 202-452-2781.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Board of Governors proposes to amend Regulation T (12 CFR 220) to permit brokers and dealers who are not members of an exchange to extend and maintain subordinated credit to other brokers and dealers for capital purposes. The proposal will permit individuals and firms who are not members of a national securities exchange, but who are nonetheless subject to Regulation T e.g., brokers and dealers in the over-the-counter market and certain individuals associated with member firms of a national securities exchange, to make subordinated loans.

Under the Board's existing rule a creditor is prohibited from using the proceeds of any subordinated credit received from another creditor for the purpose of increasing the security dealings of his firm or any of its corporate affiliates. The Board's proposal would allow a creditor receiving subordinated credit from another creditor to use the proceeds of such loans in the ordinary course of his business, provided that he has no other financial relationships that might make him a customer of the broker. The loans would be subject to the approval of the national securities exchange, national securities association or regional office of the SEC, whichever is the borrower's appropriate Examining Authority.

To aid in the consideration of this material by the Board, interested persons are invited to submit relevant data, views, comments, or arguments. The Board is specifically requesting comments as to any potential conflict-of-interest, control or restraint-of-trade problems that might develop if the amendment is adopted. Any such material should be submitted in writing to the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551 to be received not later than June 28, 1978. All material submitted should include the docket number R-0165. Such information will be made available for inspection and copying upon request except as provided in section 261.6(a) of the Board's Rules Regarding Availability of Information (12 CFR 261.6(a)).

Accordingly, pursuant to sections 7 and 23 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (15 U.S.C. 78g and w) the Board proposes to amend 12 CFR part 220 as follows:

§ 220.4 Special accounts.

(f) Special miscellaneous account. In a special miscellaneous account, a creditor may:

- (2)
- (ii) Extend and maintain a subordinated loan to another creditor for capital purposes. Provided, That

(a) Either the lender or the borrower is a firm or corporation which is a member of a national securities exchange or national securities association, the other party to the credit is an affiliated corporation of such firm or corporation, the credit is not in contravention of any rule of the exchange or association and the credit has the approval of appropriate committees of the exchange or association, or

(b) The lender as well as the borrower is a creditor as defined in § 220.2(b), the subordinated loan agreement has the approval of the appropriate Examining Authority as defined in Securities and Exchange Commission Rule 15c3-1(c)(12) (12 CFR 240.15c3-1(c)(12)) and such Examining Authority is satisfied, in the case of a borrower who would be considered a customer of the lender apart from the subordinated loan, that the loan will not be used to increase the amount of dealing in securities for the account of the borrower, his firm or corporation or an affiliated corporation of such firm or corporation.

By order of the Board of Governors, May 24, 1978.

GRIFFITH L. GARWOOD,
Deputy Secretary of the Board.

[Reg. Y; Docket No. R-0050-B]

BANK HOLDING COMPANIES

Proposed Rule

AGENCY: Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Board proposes to review that portion of its Regulation Y that permits bank holding companies to act as agents or brokers, in offices at which they or their subsidiaries otherwise engage in business, with respect to any insurance sold in a community that has a population not exceeding 5,000 persons or that has been demonstrated to have inadequate insurance agency facilities. This action is being taken because the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit remanded (or sent back) that part of Regulation Y to the Board for further consideration. The Board intends to solicit public comment regarding whether the activity of acting as insurance agent in a community that has a population not exceeding 5,000 persons or that has been demonstrated to have inadequate insurance agency facilities is closely related to banking within the meaning of Section 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 (the "Act").

DATE: Comments must be received on or before June 23, 1978.

ADDRESS: Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551. All material submitted should include the docket number R-0050-B.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Robert E. Mannion, Associate General Counsel, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, 202-452-3274, or Richard Whiting, Attorney, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, 202-452-3786.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: As a result of a series of decisions by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, Alabama Association of Insurance Agents, Inc. v. Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 533 F. 2d 224 (5th Cir. 1976); rehearing denied, 558 F. 2d 729 (5th Cir. 1977); cert. denied, 48 USLW 3539 (No. 77-668, February 27, 1978), that part of the Board's Regulation Y relating to permissible insurance agency activities in which bank holding companies may engage (12 CFR 225.4(a)(9)), adopted in 1971 pursuant to 4(c)(8) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, as amended (12 U.S.C. 1843(c)(8)) (the "Act"), has been upheld in part, invalidated in part, and remanded in part. Section 225.4(a)(9)(iii) of Regulation Y permits bank holding companies to act as agents or brokers, in offices at which they or their subsidiaries otherwise engage in business, with respect to any insurance sold in a community that has a population not exceeding 5,000 persons or that has been demonstrated to have inadequate insurance agency facilities. The Board proposes to review that portion of the regulation (12 CFR 225.4(a)(9)(iii)(a)) that the Court of Appeals remanded to the Board.

The Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals remanded to the Board for further consideration that part of 12 CFR 225.4(a)(9) that authorized bank holding companies to engage in general insurance agency activities in towns with fewer than 5,000 inhabitants. The Court instructed the Board to make further findings with respect to 12 CFR 225.4(a)(9)(iii)(a) that would establish the necessary close relationship of banking to general insurance agency activity in towns with populations not exceeding 5,000. In this connection, the Court also instructed the Board to make findings directed toward determining whether the wording of the regulation would permit remote insurance agency activity not intended to be authorized by section 4(c)(8) of the Act. In addition, the Board intends to solicit public comment regarding whether the activity of acting as insurance agent in communities demonstrated to have inadequate insurance agency facilities (12 CFR 225.4(a)(9)(iii)(b)) is closely related to banking within the meaning of section 4(c)(8) of the Act.

Accordingly, the Board invites interested persons to submit relevant data, comments, views, or arguments bearing on, but not limited to, the above issues as they relate to the following portion of its regulation (12 CFR 225.4(a)(9)(iii)):

§ 225.4 Nonbanking activities.

(9) Acting as insurance agent or broker in offices at which the holding company or its subsidiaries are otherwise engaged in business (or in an office adjacent thereto) with respect to the following types of insurance:

(iii) Any insurance sold in a community that (a) has a population not exceeding 5,000 inhabitants or (b) the holding company demonstrates has inadequate insurance agency facilities;

Any requests for a hearing on this matter should be accompanied by a statement summarizing the evidence the person requesting the hearing proposes to submit or to elicit at the hearing and a statement of the reasons why this matter should not be resolved without a hearing.

Any views or requests for a hearing should be submitted in writing to the Secretary, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, Washington, D.C. 20551, to be received not later than June 23, 1978. All material submitted should include the docket number R-0050-B. All views expressed in written comments on the proposal and received by that date will be considered by the Board. Such material will be made available for inspection and copying upon request, except as provided in the Board's Rules Regarding Availability of Information (12 CFR Part 261).

By order of the Board of Governors, effective May 22, 1978.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[17 CFR Part 270]

[Release No. IC-10252, File No. S7-743]

BEARING OF DISTRIBUTION EXPENSES BY MUTUAL FUNDS

Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

AGENCY: Securities and Exchange Commission.

ACTION: Advance notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") is requesting public comment with respect to the question of whether there might be conditions under which registered open-end management investment companies ("mutual funds" or "funds") could be permitted to utilize their assets to pay expenses incurred in connection with the distribution of their shares. This action is being taken so the Commission can explore whether the use of mutual fund assets to pay distribution expenses could benefit fund shareholders under some circumstances, and, if so, what conditions could be designed to protect the interests of investors. The Commission has not decided whether this should be done, but, in order to provide structure to the comment process, the release suggests a variety of possible approaches.

DATES: Comments must be submitted on or before August 22, 1978.

ADDRESSES: Send comments in triplicate to George A. Fitzsimmons, Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 500 North Capitol Street, Washington, D.C. 20549. All communications with respect to this matter should refer to File No. S7-743. Such communications will be available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Reference Room, Room 6101, 1100 L Street NW., Washington, D.C.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Richard W. Grant, Esq. (202-755-0242); or Dianne E. O'Donnell, Esq. (202-755-1796); Division of Investment Management, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D.C. 20549.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In the past, the Commission and its staff have taken the position, with certain exceptions, that any use of mutual fund assets for the purpose of financing the distribution of mutual fund shares would be improper.¹ Thus, most fund distribution activities have been, and continue to be, financed largely by sales loads charged the purchaser at the time of investment, with the fund's adviser, either directly or through an affiliated underwriter, financing whatever distribution expenses are not met by sales loads. Where no sales load is charged, the fund's adviser generally pays all distribution expenses.

However, in response to suggestions that the Commission's position in this area should be re-examined, the Commission held public hearings on November 17, 18, 22, and 23, 1976, and received written statements concerning the policy and legal implications of arrangements whereby mutual funds would, directly or indirectly, bear expenses related to the distribution of their shares.²

A number of commentators asserted that mutual funds, as a group, at that time were experiencing significant net redemptions of their shares; i.e., redemptions by existing shareholders exceeded sales of shares. It was asserted that this was harmful to shareholders since net redemptions have the effect of reducing the fund's asset size, thereby causing an increase in the expense ratio and possibly affecting the ability of fund portfolio managers to achieve maximum investment performance. Commentators also argued that the use of fund assets to finance distribution activities could lead to increased sales of shares, thereby alleviating the difficulties perceived to result from net redemptions or small asset size and helping to ensure that securities redeemable at net asset value would continue to be made available to investors.³

It was also argued that the existing system of financing distribution activities primarily or entirely by means of sales charges on new shares is unfair to purchasers of such shares since all shareholders derive some benefit from the continuance of distribution efforts, and that this system is no longer viable because investors are increasingly unwilling to pay a high entrance fee. Accordingly, it was urged that the Commission take the position that fund directors may, in their discretion, authorize the use of some portion of a fund's assets to promote the sale of its shares.

On the other hand, certain commentators maintained that increased sales of mutual fund shares would benefit mainly the investment advisers of mutual funds since their advisory fees are based upon a percentage of fund assets, and that any benefit to fund shareholders resulting from growth of the fund through increased sales would be speculative at best.

It appears to the Commission, based upon its consideration of the testimony and written statements presented in connection with the public hearings and other relevant matters, that it would be useful to explore further whether permitting mutual fund assets to be used to finance distribution could, under some circumstances, benefit investors, and at the same time to solicit comments about a variety of possible conditions upon such use of assets designed to safeguard the interests of investors. It would seem that any such conditions should be designed to accomplish three objectives: (1) To minimize any conflict of interest on the part of a fund's investment adviser or officers with respect to recommendations that fund assets be used to promote distribution by limiting the degree to which the advisory fee is affected by sales; (2) to help ensure that fund assets are used to finance distribution only when, after appropriate consideration, the disinterested directors of the fund and the fund's shareholders determine that such use of fund assets would be in the interest of the fund, and (3) to help ensure that all shareholders are treated fairly in connection with the bearing of distribution expenses by mutual funds.

After considering the public comments received in response to this notice, the Commission will determine whether it should issue a proposed rule setting forth conditions designed to accomplish the objectives described above. Such a proposed rule would be issued under Section 12(b) (15 U.S.C. 80a-12(b)) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act") (15 U.S.C. 801-1 et seq.),⁴ and would be accompanied by ⁴Section 12(b) of the Act provides that it shall be unlawful for any registered open-end company (other than a company complying with the provisions of Section 10(d) (15 U.S.C. 80a-10(d))) to act as a distributor of securities of which it is the issuer, except through an underwriter, in contravention of such rules and regulations as the Commission may prescribe as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors. The Commission is of the view that, to the extent a mutual fund made payments to promote the distribution of shares issued by it, the fund would be acting proposed rules providing exemptions from other provisions of the Act to the extent that such exemptions would be necessary to permit the implementation of arrangements involving the use of mutual fund assets to finance distribution. The types of conditions which the Commission presently is considering, and upon which it requests the views of interested persons, are described below.⁵

MINIMIZATION OF CONFLICT OF INTEREST

The fact that mutual fund advisers are paid fees based upon a percentage of the fund's assets causes the growth of the fund through the sale of additional shares generally to be in the adviser's interest. This leads to a conflict of interest on the part of the adviser with respect to making recommendations to the fund's board of directors as to whether, and, if so, to what extent, the fund should use its assets to promote the distribution of shares. In order to alleviate that conflict of interest, the Commission is considering as a condition of a fund's bearing distribution expenses that the fee paid to its investment adviser be a fixed dollar amount, rather than a fee based upon a percentage of fund assets which would increase as fund assets increase.⁶ Alternatively, the Commission is considering the possibility that the advisory fee paid by a fund bearing distribution expenses should be computed as a multiple of the fund's net asset value per share rather than its total net assets. The multiple would be a constant which would initially be set in a way which would permit the fee to reflect historical experience.

It would seem necessary to prevent the fixed dollar advisory fee, if such a requirement were adopted, from being inflated to allow for anticipated growth of the fund's assets; therefore, the Commission is soliciting comment on whether it should provide that the fixed dollar amount fee established initially by a fund operating under such a rule could not exceed the amount paid to the adviser during the preceding fiscal year. Similarly, the Commission is considering whether, in order to prevent the fixed fee from being adjusted annually to reflect growth of fund assets during the preceding year, any such condition should provide that the fixed dollar fee may not be increased for a period of time, perhaps two years, after it is set initially. After the expiration of such a period of time, the directors could agree to a new flat fee consistent with their duty under Section 15(c) of the Act (15 U.S.C. 80a-15(c)) to request and evaluate such information as may reasonably be necessary to evaluate the terms of the contract. However, it may be reasonable to permit adjustments to the advisory fee on the basis of portfolio performance, provided that an advisory contract which provided for such adjustment conformed to Section 205 (15 U.S.C. 80b-5) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 (15 U.S.C. 80b-1 et seq.).

Manifestly, a requirement for a fixed advisory fee would have to provide for certain exemptions. For example, it might not be feasible for a newly-organized mutual fund which is bearing distribution expenses to have a fixed advisory fee; in any event, there would be no prior fee upon which to base a current fixed fee. Therefore, it might be appropriate to permit the directors of such a fund to determine a reasonable percentage advisory fee for the first year, and to require that the fee be converted to a fixed dollar amount in the next year if the fund continued to finance the distribution of its shares.

Similarly, a requirement for a fixed dollar advisory fee could not apply in the case of a fund which is managed by its own employees rather than an external investment adviser. However, if a prohibition of the type described in note 6, supra, were adopted, such a fund's officers could not be paid salaries which vary directly with changes in the fund's assets.⁷

It could also be argued that a fixed dollar advisory fee should not be required in the case of a fund employing an external investment adviser which provides only portfolio management services and exercises no substantial influence over decisions of the fund in other areas.

A corollary question in developing regulatory controls on bearing distribution expenses is whether certain types of expenses raise different problems. Accordingly, comment is requested about the different types of distribution expenses funds might incur (e.g., cash payments to dealers in fund shares, advertising expenses, paying for prospectuses sent to prospective investors, etc.) and whether certain types of expenses should be prohibited or regulated differently from other types of expenses. Specifically, the Commission requests comment whether a distinction should be made between transactional fees (e.g., payments to dealers at the time fund shares are purchased) and continuing payments to third parties for distribution services, particularly to dealers in fund shares.

Comment is requested not only with regard to the suggestions described above, but with regard also to any alternative means of minimizing the adviser's conflict of interest.

CONDITIONS RELATING TO APPROVAL BY DISINTERESTED DIRECTORS AND SHAREHOLDERS

Even if the Commission determines that conditions such as those described above can be relied upon to promote objectivity on the part of investment advisers with respect to recommendations concerning the use of mutual fund assets to finance distribution, the protection of shareholders in connection with such use of fund assets will nonetheless depend heavily upon fund directors' meeting their fiduciary obligation not to authorize payments by the fund for distribution unless they are convinced that such action would be in the interest of the fund. To assist fund directors in meeting this fiduciary obligation, the Commission is considering specifying factors which directors should consider in deciding whether, and if so to what extent, a fund should bear distribution expenses. However, the Commission is concerned that a list of factors, no matter how complete or carefully crafted, might omit factors which could be important in given cases and vice versa. Such a list might be construed in ways which would unduly restrict directors in exercising their judgment to exclude, include, or vary the weight given certain factors. Alternatively, such a list of factors might be applied mechanically and be construed as giving directors an unintended "safe harbor." Accordingly, the Commission specifically requests public comment whether a list of factors is appropriate and, if so, the factors which might be included in any such list. Generally speaking, directors would presumably wish to identify possible benefits to the fund such as reduction of expenses, reduction of the expense ratio due to economies of scale, or improved performance.

Whether or not it proves feasible to develop a list of factors which mutual fund directors should consider in connection with the bearing of distribution expenses, it would seem appropriate to consider provisions designed to help ensure that the determination of a board of directors with regard to this matter is made without undue influence by the investment adviser. Therefore, the Commission is considering requiring that a fund which bears distribution expenses have a board of directors composed entirely of persons who are not interested persons of either the fund or its adviser within the meaning of Section 2(a)(19) of the Act (15 U.S.C. 80a-2(a)(19)). Alternatively, a mutual fund board of directors might wish to have the disinterested directors or a special committee of disinterested directors examine the possibility of the fund's assets being used to pay for distribution and then make a recommendation concerning the matter to the full board.

Further assurance that any proposal for a fund to pay distribution expenses would receive independent consideration by the fund's directors might be obtained by providing that the directors cannot approve such payments unless they are advised concerning the matter by independent legal counsel or other independent experts.

In addition, the importance of any decision by a mutual fund to finance the distribution of its shares and the profound effect which such a decision could have upon a fund's traditional operations suggest that the decision should be approved by both a majority of the fund's outstanding voting securities and at least two-thirds of its disinterested directors. Comment is requested on whether this or some other procedural requirement should be imposed on a fund's decision to bear distribution expenses. In this connection, it may be appropriate to require that the amount of the fund's assets proposed to be spent for distribution be stated as a flat dollar amount, rather than as a percentage of the fund's assets. Such a requirement, by making it possible for fund directors and shareholders to know in advance the actual amount of expenditure which would result from adoption of the proposal, rather than having to estimate, might assist directors and shareholders in making a more reasoned judgment as to whether the expenditure would be in the interest of the fund. It could be argued also that it would be inappropriate in any event for a mutual fund to agree to pay an amount for distribution which would

August 31, 1977 (42 FR 44810, September 7, 1977).

²The hearings were announced in Investment Company Act Release No. 9470, October 4, 1976 (41 FR 44770, October 12, 1976). Copies of the transcripts of the hearings and written submissions are filed in File No. 4-186.

³Although mutual funds as a group experienced net sales in 1977 and the first quarter of 1978, the concern over net redemptions has not necessarily been assuaged. Some segments of the industry, particularly equity funds, continue to experience redemptions greater than sales, and future economic conditions may cause the industry as a whole to experience net redemptions again.

fluctuate directly with changes in its assets, since there can be no assurance that the fund's interest in additional sales of its shares would necessarily vary when, and to the extent that, its assets vary.

It seems to the Commission that any rule permitting mutual funds to use their assets to pay distribution expenses should also contain provisions designed to ensure continuing control by shareholders and disinterested directors of such use of a fund's assets after initial approval. Accordingly, the Commission is considering requiring that any arrangement whereby a fund undertakes to bear distribution expenses, whether the arrangement takes the form of an agreement with another person or a policy of the fund, be limited to a period of not more than one year, with any renewals of the arrangement also being limited to not more than one year and having to be approved in the same manner as the original decision to bear distribution expenses. Furthermore, the Commission is considering a requirement that any such arrangement be subject to termination by a simple majority of either the fund's disinterested directors or the outstanding voting securities.⁹ It may also be desirable to require that, where the arrangement takes the form of an agreement between the fund and another person, the fund have the right to terminate the agreement without penalty upon not more than 60 days' notice. Such a requirement would be similar to that set forth in Section 15(a) of the Act (15 U.S.C. 80a-15(a)) with respect to investment Advisory contracts.⁹

In addition, in order to assist fund directors in meeting their responsibility to exercise continuing supervision over use of the fund's assets to pay distribution expenses, the Commission is considering requiring that the directors be furnished with quarterly written reports of the amounts and purposes of such expenditures.

FAIRNESS TO SHAREHOLDERS

The conditions described above would be designed to help ensure that ⁹It can be seen that, under this approach, a decision for a fund to cease bearing distribution expenses could be made more easily than a decision to begin doing so. Such an approach would appear desirable, since it would seem inappropriate to force a fund to continue paying for distribution if a majority of its shareholders or disinterested directors conclude that such payments are not benefiting the fund.

mutual fund assets are used to finance distribution only when such use of assets is consistent with the interests of investors. However, it must be recognized that, in some cases, the use of fund assets to pay distribution expenses might be in the interest of one group of investors, but contrary to the interest of another group of investors. Specifically, existing shareholders would in effect be asked to pay further amounts for distribution and, to the extent that they did not invest in additional shares of the fund, they would not enjoy any direct benefit from the reduction or elimination of the sales load.

It might be feasible to avoid any such unfairness to existing shareholders by providing that a mutual fund whose share have previously been sold with a sales load may bear distribution expenses only if such expenses are not charged against shares which were purchased during that prior time. Thus, in effect, such a fund would have to issue a new series of shares in order to bear distribution expenses, with shares of the old series (i.e., those issued prior to the change in distribution method) not being charged for distribution. Of course, the number of outstanding shares in the old series would gradually diminish as those shares were redeemed, and it might be reasonable to provide that, after some period of time, the maintenance of two series of shares need not be continued. Such a period of time could be equal either to the average holding period of shares in the particular fund or the average holding period of mutual fund shareholders in general. Thereafter, all of the fund's outstanding shares could be charged for whatever distribution expenses the fund pays.

Comment is requested not only with regard to the feasibility of the suggestion described above, but with regard also to possible alternative means of avoiding any unfairness to existing shareholders of load funds.

The Commission also wishes to ensure fairness to new shareholders and old shareholders who purchase new shares after a fund begins to pay for distribution. Accordingly, the Commission wishes to consider the impact of sales loads on such shareholders who would be financing distribution both directly and indirectly. The Commission has not reached even a tentative conclusion as to whether mutual funds which bear distribution expenses should be permitted also to have sales loads charged on their shares, or whether the imposition of sales loads in such circumstances should be restricted. Accordingly, the Commission specifically solicits comments on the issue of whether a fund's use of assets for distribution expenses should be permitted to supplement revenue from sales loads or be required to replace sales loads partially or entirely.

SECTION 36 OF THE ACT

Although rules under Section 12(b) and such other sections of the Act as may be applicable would allow a fund to utilize its assets to finance distribution of its shares if the conditions of the rules were met, the Commission wishes to emphasize that such rules, if formulated and adopted, would not be intended to reduce or limit in any way the fiduciary responsibilities owed by officers, directors, principal underwriters and investment advisers to their funds pursuant to the provisions of Section 36 of the Act (15 U.S.C. 80a-35) or otherwise. Thus, directors would have a greater responsibility than merely assuring technical compliance with a Commission rule in this area. In deciding to authorize the use of a particular amount of fund assets to finance the distribution of shares, a fund's directors would have to determine that such use of fund assets would likely benefit the fund's shareholders as well as be in compliance with any rules which the Commission might adopt.

It should be emphasized also that, whether or not a fund bore distribution expenses in a manner permitted by Commission rules, it would remain incumbent upon those who have fiduciary responsibility to the fund to see that the fund is not bearing distribution expenses in any other manner. For example, where a fund's investment adviser subsidizes distribution of the fund's shares, it would be improper for the investment advisory fee to include any compensation for such subsidization. On the other hand, there would of course be nothing to prevent an investment adviser from using its own resources to promote distribution without being compensated by the fund therefor, whether or not the fund also bears distribution expenses as might be permitted by rule. However, the board must satisfy itself that the advisory fee is fair and is determined without making allowance for any distribution expense which the adviser might bear.

DISCLOSURE

Although the Commission at this time does not contemplate that it would incorporate specific disclosure requirements in any rules that it may adopt under the Act with regard to this matter, the material facts relating to any policy or agreement which provides for the use of fund assets to pay for distribution would have to be disclosed in the company's currently effective prospectus in order that prospective shareholders would be aware that their assets would be subject to a continuing charge to finance the distribution of shares. Disclosure to existing shareholders would be made in the proxy statement for the annual or special meeting of shareholders where shareholders would vote prior to the adoption of any such agreement or policy or renewal thereof. Furthermore, if a fund had borne distribution expenses during the prior fiscal year, it might be necessary to disclose in the proxy statement the amount of such expenses.

It should be noted that at the present time the Commission is of the opinion that the term "no-load" or equivalent terminology should not be used to characterize a fund whose shares are sold without a sales load at the time of purchase but which uses its assets to pay for distribution. Such a fund might state that it charges no sales commission, but it would have to make clear that shareholders will pay for distribution by means of charges against assets. As a condition to granting a temporary order in the application of the Vanguard Group, Inc. (see note 5, supra) the Commission required that the Vanguard funds not call themselves "no-load" funds. The Commission will give further consideration to this issue in connection with the specific Vanguard application.

AUTHORITY: This advance notice of proposed rulemaking is issued under the authority of Sections 12(b) and 38(a) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 (17 U.S.C. 80a-12(b) and 80a-37(a)).

By the Commission.

Secretary.

NONDISCRIMINATION WITH RESPECT TO HANDICAP IN PROGRAMS RECEIVING FEDERAL FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Implementation of Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973; Extension of Comment Period

AGENCY: Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA).

ACTION: Extension of comment period on proposed rule.

SUMMARY: TVA extends until June 14, 1978, the time for submission of comments on its proposed rule implementing section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and changes the location for public inspection of comments received to the Technical Library, 400 Commerce Avenue, E2B7, Knoxville, Tenn.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before June 14, 1978.

ADDRESS: Comments should be sent to Justin M. Schwamm, Sr., Assistant General Counsel, Tennessee Valley Authority, 400 Commerce Avenue, E11B25, Knoxville, Tenn. 37902.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Edward F. Hilton, Jr., Tennessee Valley Authority, Division of Personnel, 235 Millers Building, 423 Gay Street, Knoxville, Tenn. 37902; telephone 615-632-2755.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On Tuesday, May 2, 1978, TVA published a proposed rule in the FEDERAL REGISTER to implement section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (43 FR 18693). The proposal set the place for public inspection of comments in TVA's Information Office, and requested comments by May 31. It appears that a change in location and an extension of the comment period would be desirable and in the public interest to permit easier public inspection of any comments which may be received and to permit additional time for the submission of views. Therefore, interested persons may submit written comments on the proposed rule through June 14, 1978, to the address above. All comments received will be available for public inspection at TVA's Technical Library, 400 Commerce Avenue, E2B7, Knoxville, Tennessee, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, except federal holidays.

Dated: May 24, 1978.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

[22 CFR Part 3a]

[Docket No. SD-137]

ACCEPTANCE OF EMPLOYMENT FROM FOREIGN GOVERNMENT BY RETIRED AND RESERVE OFFICERS

Proposed Rulemaking

AGENCY: Department of State.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: The Department of State proposes to issue regulations governing the procedure for approving civil employment by a foreign government of retired and Reserve members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, and commissioned corps of the Public Health Service and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. These regulations implement recent legislation which gives Congressional consent, required by the U.S. Constitution, to such employment in individual cases approved by the Secretary concerned and by the Secretary of State.

DATES: Written comments must be received by July 31, 1978.

ADDRESSES: Send comments to Commander John E. Burgess, United States Navy, Office of International Security Operations, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, Department of State, Washington, D.C. 20520.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Commander John E. Burgess, United States Navy, Office of International Security Operations, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, Department of State, Washington, D.C. 20520. Phone 202-632-8688.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Section 509 of the Foreign Relations Authorization Act, fiscal year 1978 (Pub. L. 95-105) gives Congressional consent to retired members of the uniformed services, Armed Forces reservists and commissioned Public Health Service reservists to accept employment with a foreign government. The U.S. Constitution, in Article I, sec. 9, clause 8, provides that no officer of the United States "shall, without the Consent of Congress, accept any present, emolument, office or title, of any kind whatever, from any King, Prince or Foreign State." This clause has been interpreted to apply to retired officers and reservists. The Comptroller General of the United States has ruled that a retired officer who violates this constitutional prohibition by accepting employment with a foreign government without the consent of Congress must forfeit his or her retired pay to the extent of the pay received from the employing foreign government. The new statute grants the necessary Congressional consent to foreign government employment of certain retirees and reservists, contingent on approval of both the Secretary of State and the Secretary in charge of the retiree's or reservist's branch of government service.

The proposed regulation would delegate to the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, Department of State, and to persons designated by that officer, the Secretary of State's authority to approve employment by a foreign government. The statute also requires approval by the Secretary of the service with which the applicant is connected (the "Secretary concerned"). This regulation would require approval by the Secretary concerned, or his designee, before the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, considers any application. Any application received directly by the Department of State would be referred to the Secretary concerned for initial consideration.

Decisions on applications considered by the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, will be made on the basis of whether the proposed foreign government employment would adversely affect the foreign relations of the United States. Notice of approval will be given to the Secretary concerned, who will inform the applicant. In the event of disapproval, the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, will give the applicant direct written notice stating the reasons for disapproval and providing an opportunity for reconsideration.

Approval under these regulations does not constitute an exception to the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act concerning loss of United States citizenship, for example, by becoming a citizen of or taking an oath of allegiance to another country. See 8 U.S.C. 1481 et seq.

It is therefore proposed to amend 22 CFR Chapter I by adding a new Part 3a to read as follows.

PART 3a—ACCEPTANCE OF EMPLOYMENT FROM FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS BY RETIRED AND RESERVE OFFICERS

Sec.

3a.1 Definitions.

3a.2 Requirement for approval of foreign government employment.

3a.3 Authority to approve or disapprove proposed foreign government employment.

3a.4 Procedure for requesting approval.

3a.5 Basis for approval or disapproval.

3a.6 Notification of approval.

3a.7 Notification of disapproval and reconsideration.

3a.8 Change in status.

AUTHORITY: Sec. 509, 91 Stat. 859 (37 U.S.C. 801 Note); Sec. 4, as amended, 63 Stat. 111 (22 U.S.C. 2658).

§ 3a.1 Definitions.

For purposes of this part—

(a) "Applicant" means any person who requests approval under this part to accept any civil employment (and compensation therefor) from a foreign government and who is: (1) Any retired member of the uniformed services;

(2) Any member of a Reserve component of the Armed Forces; or

(3) Any member of the commissioned Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service.

The term "applicant" also includes persons described in subparagraph (1), (2), or (3), who have already accepted foreign government employment and are requesting approval under this part to continue such employment.

(b) "Uniformed services" means the Armed Forces, the commissioned Regular and Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service, and the commissioned corps of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

(c) "Armed Forces" means the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard.

(d) "Secretary concerned" means: (1) The Secretary of the Army, with respect to retired members of the Army and members of the Army Reserve;

(2) The Secretary of the Navy, with respect to retired members of the Navy and the Marine Corps, members of the Navy and Marine Corps Reserves, and retired members of the Coast Guard and members of the Coast Guard Reserve when the Coast Guard is operating as a service in the Navy;

(3) The Secretary of the Air Force, with respect to retired members of the Air Force and members of the Air Force Reserve;

(4) The Secretary of Transportation, with respect to retired members of the Coast Guard and members of the Coast Guard Reserve when the Coast Guard is not operating as a service in the Navy;

(5) The Secretary of Commerce, with respect to retired members of the commissioned corps of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration; and

(6) The Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, with respect to retired members of the commissioned Regular Corps of the Public Health Service and members of the commissioned Reserve Corps of the Public Health Service.

§ 3a.2 Requirement for approval of foreign government employment.

(a) The United States Constitution (Article I, Section 9, clause 8) prohibits the acceptance of civil employment with a foreign government by an officer of the United States without the consent of Congress. Congress has consented to the acceptance of civil employment (and compensation therefor) by any person described in § 3a.1(b) subject to the approval of the Secretary concerned and the Secretary of State (37 U.S.C. 801 Note). Civil employment with a foreign government may not be accepted without such approval by any person so described.

(b) The Secretary of State has to approve employment with a foreign government by any officer of the United States other than a person described in § 3a.1(a). The acceptance of employment with a foreign government by any other officer of the United States remains subject to the constitutional prohibition described in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Any person described in § 3a.1(a) who accepts employment with a foreign government without the approval required by this section or otherwise obtaining the consent of Congress is subject to forfeiture of retired pay to the extent of his or her compensation from the foreign government, according to the Comptroller General of the United States (44 Comp. Gen. 139 (1964)). This forfeiture is in addition to any other penalty which may be imposed under law or regulation.¹

§ 3a.3 Authority to approve or disapprove proposed foreign government employment.

The Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, is authorized to approve or disapprove any request by an applicant for approval under this part to accept civil employment (and compensation therefor) from a foreign government. The Director may delegate this authority within the Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, Department of State.

§ 3a.4 Procedure for requesting approval.

(a) An applicant must submit a request for approval of foreign government employment to the Secretary concerned, whose approval is also required by law for the applicant's acceptance of civil employment from a foreign government. The request must contain information concerning the applicant's status, the nature of the proposed employment in as much detail as possible, the identity of and relationship to the foreign government concerned, and other matters as may be required by the Secretary concerned.

(b) Requests approved by the Secretary concerned will be referred to the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, for approval. Requests received by the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, directly from an applicant will be initially forwarded to the Secretary concerned, or his designee, for approval or disapproval.

§ 3a.5 Basis for approval or disapproval.

Decisions by the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, under this part shall be based on whether the applicant's proposed employment with a foreign government would adversely affect the foreign relations of the United States, in light of the applicant's official status as a retiree or reservist.

§ 3a.6 Notification of approval.

The Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, will notify the Secretary concerned when an applicant's proposed foreign government employment is approved. Notification of approval to the applicant will be made by the Secretary concerned or his designee.

§ 3a.7 Notification of disapproval and reconsideration.

(a) The Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, will notify the applicant directly when an applicant's proposed foreign employment is disapproved, and will inform the Secretary concerned.

(b) Each notification of disapproval under this section must include a statement of the reasons for the disapproval, with as much specificity as security and foreign policy considerations permit, together with a notice of the applicant's right to seek reconsideration of the disapproval under paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Within 60 days after receipt of the notice of disapproval, an applicant whose request has been disapproved may submit a request for reconsideration by the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs. A request for reconsideration should provide information relevant to the reasons set forth in the notice of disapproval.

(d) The disapproval of a request by the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, will be final, unless a timely request for reconsideration is received. In the event of a request for reconsideration, the Director, Bureau of Politico-Military Affairs, will make a final decision after reviewing the record of the request. A final decision after reconsideration to approve the applicant's proposed employment with a foreign government will be communicated to the Secretary concerned as provided in § 3a.6. A final decision after reconsideration to disapprove the applicant's proposed employment with a foreign government will be communicated directly to the applicant as provided in paragraph (a) of this section and the Secretary concerned will be informed. The Director's authority to make a final decision after reconsideration may not be re-delegated.

§ 3a.8 Change in status.

In the event that an applicant's foreign government employment approved under this part is to be materially changed, either by a substantial change in duties from those described in the request upon which the original approval was based, or by a change of employer, the applicant must obtain further approval in accordance with this part for such changed employment.

WARREN CHRISTOPHER,
The Deputy Secretary.

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Proposed Flood Elevation Determination for the City of Grosse Pointe Park, Wayne County, Mich.

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, HUD.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the city of Grosse Pointe Park, Wayne County, Mich. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

DATES: The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the above-named community.

ADDRESSES: Maps and other information showing the detailed outlines of the flood-prone areas and the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations are available for review at City Hall, 15115 East Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich. Send comments to: Mr. Robert Slone, City Manager, city of Grosse Pointe Park, City Hall, 15115 East Jefferson, Grosse Pointe Park, Mich. 48230.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Insurance Administrator gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for the city of Grosse Pointe Park, Mich., in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 24 CFR 1917.4(a).

These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by § 1910.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

The proposed base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations are:

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations for the City of Sugar Creek, Jackson County, Mo.

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, HUD.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the city of Sugar Creek, Jackson County, Mo. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

DATE: The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of the proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the above-named community.

ADDRESSES: Maps and other information showing the detailed outlines of the flood-prone areas and the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations are available for review at the City Clerk's Office, City Hall, 103 South Sterling, Sugar Creek, Mo. Send comments to: The Honorable R. J. Roper, Mayor, Sterling, city of Sugar Creek, P.O. Box 8537, city of Sugar Creek, Mo. 64054.

FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Richard Krimm, Assistant Administrator, Office of Flood Insurance, Room 5270, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410, 202-755-5581 or toll-free line 800-424-8872.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Insurance Administrator gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for the city of Sugar Creek, in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 24 CFR 1917.4(a).

These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by § 1910.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

The proposed base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations are:

Source of flooding	Location	Elevation in feet, national geodetic vertical datum

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations for the town of Southold, Suffolk County, N.Y.

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, HUD.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the town of Southold, Suffolk County, N.Y. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

DATES: The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the above-named community.

ADDRESSES: Maps and other information showing the detailed outlines of the flood-prone areas and the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations are available for review at the Town Hall, Southold, N.Y. Send comments to: Mr. Albert M. Martocchia, Town Supervisor of Southold, Southold Town Hall, Main Road, Southold, N.Y. 11971.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Richard Krimm, Assistant Administrator, Office of Flood Insurance, Room 5270, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410, 202-755-5581 or toll free line 800-424-8872.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Insurance Administrator

gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for the Town of Southold, Suffolk County, N.Y. in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 24 CFR 1917.4(a).

These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by §1910.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

The proposed base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations are:

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Revision of Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations for the city of Durham, Durham County, N.C.

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, HUD.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the city of Durham, Durham County, N.C. Due to recent engineering analysis, this proposed rule revises the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations published in 42 FR 34626 on July 6, 1977, and in The Durham Sun published on July 17 and July 24, 1977, and hence supersedes those previously published rules.

DATES: The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this notice in a newspaper of local circulation in the above-named community.

ADDRESSES: Maps and other information showing the detailed outlines of the flood-prone areas and the proposed flood elevations are available for review at Department of Transportation and Utilities, New City Hall, Durham, N.C. Send comments to: Honorable Wade L. Cavin, Mayor of Durham, P.O. Box 2251, Durham, N.C. 27702.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Richard Krimm, Assistant Administrator, Office of Flood Insurance, Room 5270, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410, 202-755-5581, or toll-free line 800-424-8872.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Proposed base (100-year) flood elevations are listed below for selected locations in the city of Durham, Durham County, N.C., in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 24 CFR 1917.4(a).

These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

These modified elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Proposed Flood Elevation Determination for the Village of Ottawa, Putnam County, Ohio

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, HUD.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the village of Ottawa, Putnam County, Ohio. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

DATES: The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the above-named community.

ADDRESSES: Maps and other information showing the detailed outlines of the flood-prone areas and the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations are available for review at the City Clerk's Office, Ottawa, Ohio. Send comments to: Honorable Louis H. Macke, Mayor of Ottawa, City Clerk's Office, City Building, Ottawa, Ohio 45875.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Richard Krimm, Assistant Administrator, Office of Flood Insurance, Room 5270, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410, 202-755-5581 or toll-free line 800-424-8872.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Insurance Administrator gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for the village of Ottawa, Putnam County, Ohio in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 24 CFR 1917.4(a).

These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by § 1910.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

The proposed base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations are:

Source of Flooding	Location	Elevation in feet, national geodetic vertical datum
Blanchard River	Corporate limits at 19.55-mi mark. Conference with Tawa Run. U.S. 224 State Rd. 65 B. & O. RR. Oak St. Corporate limits at 23.22-mi mark.	720 722 724 725 725 726 726

Source of Flooding	Location	Elevation in feet, national geodetic vertical datum

INCOME TAX

Limitation on Capital Losses

AGENCY: Internal Revenue Service, Treasury.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This document contains proposed regulations relating to the limitation on the deductibility of capital losses by taxpayers other than corporations. Changes in the applicable tax law were made by the Tax Reform Act of 1976 and the Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977. The regulations would provide the public with the guidance needed to comply with applicable parts of those Acts.

DATES: Written comments and requests for a public hearing must be delivered or mailed by July 31, 1978. The amendments are proposed to be effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1976, except for the amendment conforming the regulations under section 1211(b) to the repeal of a special provision with respect to taxpayers paying the tax imposed by section 3, which is proposed to be effective for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1975.

ADDRESS: Send comments and requests for a public hearing to: Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Attention: CC:LR:T (LR-269-76), Washington, D.C. 20224.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

David B. Cubeta of the Legislation and Regulations Division, Office of the Chief Counsel, Internal Revenue Service, 1111 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20224 (Attention: CC:LR:T), 202-566-3926.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

BACKGROUND

This document contains proposed amendments to the Income Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 1) under section 1211 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. These amendments are proposed to conform the regulations to sections 501(b)(6) and 1401 of the Tax Reform Act of 1976 (90 Stat. 1559, 1731) and section 102(b)(14) of the Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977 (91 Stat. 138) and are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U.S.C. 7805).

PROPOSED RULES

EXPLANATION OF PROVISIONS

These proposed amendments provide new rules under section 1211(b) relating to the amount of ordinary income against which capital losses may be offset by taxpayers other than corporations. These rules increase the maximum amount of the capital loss deduction against ordinary income from $1,000 to $2,000 for taxable years beginning in 1977 and to $3,000 for taxable years beginning after 1977. These maximum amounts are applicable to losses incurred in and carried over from taxable years beginning both before January 1, 1970, and after December 31, 1969. Special rules are provided for a married taxpayer filing a separate return. If such a taxpayer has only post-1969 loss carryovers, the deduction is limited to one-half of the applicable $1,000, $2,000, or $3,000 amount. However, if losses are carried over from taxable years beginning before January 1, 1970, the deduction is limited to the lesser of the applicable $1,000, $2,000, or $3,000 amount, or the sum of one-half of that amount plus the pre-1970 losses.

The proposed amendments conform the regulations under section 1211(b) to the repeal of a special provision with respect to taxpayers paying the tax imposed by section 3 and to the substitution of the term "capital gain net income" for the term "net capital gain".

The proposed regulations also reflect an amendment to section 1211(b)(1)(A) which, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1976, limits deductible capital losses to the amount of taxable income for the taxable year reduced (but not below zero) by the zero bracket amount.

COMMENTS AND REQUESTS FOR A PUBLIC HEARING

Before adopting these proposed regulations, consideration will be given to any written comments that are submitted (preferably six copies) to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. All comments will be available for public inspection and copying. A public hearing will be held upon written request to the Commissioner by any person who has submitted written comments. If a public hearing is held, notice of the time and place will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal author of these proposed regulations was David B. Cubeta of the Legislation and Regulations Division of the Office of Chief Counsel, Internal Revenue Service. However, personnel from other offices of the Internal Revenue Service and Treasury Department participated in developing the regulation, both on matters of substance and style.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE REGULATIONS

The proposed amendments to 26 CFR Part 1 are as follows:

§ 1.1211 [Deleted]

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 1.1211 and the historical note are deleted.

PAR. 2. Paragraph (b) of § 1.1211-1 is amended by striking out "net capital gain" each place it appears in subparagraph (3) (ii) and (iv) and inserting in lieu thereof "capital gain net income (net capital gain for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1977)", by striking out "net capital gains and losses" as it appears in subparagraph (3)(v) and inserting in lieu thereof "capital gain net income (net capital gains for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1977) and net capital losses", by revising subparagraphs (2), (3)(i), (6)(ii), and (7), and by adding new material at the end of each example in subparagraph (8). The revised provisions and added material read as follows:

§ 1.1211-1 Limitation on capital losses.

(b) Taxpayers other than corporations.

(2) Additional Allowance. Except as otherwise provided by subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, the additional allowance deductible under section 1211(b) for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1969, shall be the least of—

(i) The taxable income for the taxable year reduced, but not below zero, by the zero bracket amount (in the case of taxable years beginning before January 1, 1977, the taxable income for the taxable year);

(ii) $3,000 ($2,000 for taxable years beginning in 1977; $1,000 for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1977); or

(iii) The sum of the excess of the net short-term capital loss over the net long-term capital gain, plus one-half of the excess of the net long-term capital loss over the net short-term capital gain.

(3) Transitional additional allowance—(i) In general. If, pursuant to the provisions of § 1.1212-1(b) and subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, there is carried to the taxable year from a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1970, a long-term capital loss, and if for the taxable year there is an excess of net long-term capital loss over net short-term capital gain, then, in lieu of the additional allowance provided by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the transitional additional allowance deductible under section 1211(b) shall be the least of—

(a) The taxable income for the taxable year reduced, but not below zero, by the zero bracket amount (in the case of taxable years beginning before January 1, 1977, the taxable income for the taxable year);

(b) $3,000 ($2,000 for taxable years beginning in 1977; $1,000 for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1977); or

(c) The sum of the excess of the net short-term capital loss over the net long-term capital gain; that portion of the excess of the net long-term capital loss over the net short-term capital gain computed as provided in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph; plus one-half of the remaining portion of the excess of the net long-term capital loss over the net short-term capital gain.

(6) Special rules.

(i) For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1976, in case the tax is computed under section 3 and the regulations thereunder (relating to optional tax tables for individuals), the term "taxable income" as used in section 1211(b) and this paragraph shall be read as "adjusted gross income."

(7) Married taxpayers filing separate returns—(i) In general. In the case of a husband or a wife who files a separate return for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1969, the $3,000, $2,000, and $1,000 amounts specified in subparagraphs (2)(ii) and (3)(i)(b) of this paragraph shall instead be $1,500, $1,000, and $500, respectively.

(ii) Special rule. If, pursuant to the provisions of § 1.1212-1(b) and subparagraph (3) (iii) or (iv) of this paragraph, there is carried to the taxable year from a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1970, a short-term capital loss or a long-term capital loss, the $1,500, $1,000, and $500 amounts specified in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph shall instead be maximum amounts of $3,000, $2,000, and $1,000, respectively, equal to $1,500, $1,000, and $500, respectively, plus the total of the transitional net long-term capital loss component for the taxable year computed as provided by subparagraph (3)(ii) of this paragraph and the transitional net short-term capital loss component for the taxable year computed as provided by subparagraph (3)(iv) of this paragraph.

(8) Examples. The provisions of section 1211(b) may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). . . . If A had the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions in 1977, the additional allowance would be $2,000, and a net long-term capital loss of $100 would be carried over. For a taxable year beginning in 1978 or thereafter, these facts would give rise to a $2,050 additional allowance and no carryover.

Example (2). . . . Assuming the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions for taxable years beginning in 1977 or thereafter, the same result would be reached.

Example (3). . . . Assuming the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions for taxable years beginning in 1977 or thereafter, the result would remain unchanged.

Example (4). . . . Assuming the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions for taxable years beginning in 1977 or thereafter, the result would remain unchanged.

Example (5). . . . Assuming the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions for taxable years beginning in 1977 or thereafter, the transitional additional allowance would be $1,800. No amount would remain to be carried over to the succeeding taxable year.

Example (6). . . . Assuming the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions for taxable years beginning in 1977 or thereafter, the transitional additional allowance would be $1,800. No amount would remain to be carried over to the succeeding taxable year.

Example (7). . . . Assuming the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions for taxable years beginning in 1977 or thereafter, the transitional additional allowance would be $1,900. No amount would remain to be carried over to the succeeding taxable year.

Example (8). . . . Assuming the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions as in example (7) for a married individual filing a separate return for a taxable year beginning in 1977 or thereafter, the transitional additional allowance would be $1,900. No amount would remain to be carried over to the succeeding taxable year.

Example (9). . . . Assuming the same taxable income for purposes of section 1211(b) (after reduction by the zero bracket amount) and the same transactions for a taxable year beginning in 1977, the transitional additional allowance would be $2,000. A net long-term capital loss of $800 would remain to be carried over. Of this amount $100 would be treated as carried over from 1969. Assuming the original facts for a taxable year beginning in 1978, the transitional additional allowance would be $2,800. No amount would remain to be carried over to the succeeding taxable year.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

INCOME TAX

Gain From Sale or Exchange of Depreciable Property Between Related Taxpayers

AGENCY: Internal Revenue Service, Treasury.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: This document contains proposed regulations relating to the treatment of gain from the sale or exchange of depreciable property between certain related taxpayers. Changes to the applicable tax law were made by the Tax Reform Act of 1976. The regulations would provide the public with the guidance needed to comply with that Act and would affect certain transferors of depreciable property in sales or exchanges between related taxpayers.

DATES: Written comments and requests for a public hearing must be delivered or mailed by July 31, 1978. The amendments are proposed to be effective for sales or exchanges after October 4, 1976.

ADDRESS: Send comments and requests for a public hearing to: Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Attention: CC:LR:T (LR-275-76), Washington, D.C. 20224.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Leonard T. Marcinko of the Legislation and Regulations Division, Office of the Chief Counsel, Internal Revenue Service, 1111 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20224, Attention: CC:LR:T, 202-566-3297.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

BACKGROUND

This document contains proposed amendments to the Income Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 1) under section 1239 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. These amendments are proposed to conform the regulations to section 2129 of the Tax Reform Act of 1976 (90 Stat. 1922) and are to be issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U.S.C. 7805).

EXPLANATION OF PROVISIONS

Section 1239, as amended by the Tax Reform Act of 1976, provides that in the sale or exchange of depreciable property between related persons after October 4, 1976, any gain recognized shall be treated as ordinary income. For purposes of section 1239, "related persons" include a husband and wife, an individual and a corporation at least 80 percent of which is owned by that individual, and two or more corporations 80 percent or more of each of which is owned by the same individual.

Section 1.1239-1(c) of the proposed regulations sets forth several rules of construction for applying the general rule of section 1239. First, if on the date of the sale or exchange a taxpayer is legally separated from his spouse under an interlocutory decree of divorce, the taxpayer and spouse are not considered to be husband and wife, if the sale or exchange is made under the divorce decree and if the decree is subsequently finalized. Second, § 1.1239-1(c)(2) provides that, in general, where there is a sale or exchange of depreciable property between related corporations, the gain treated as ordinary income is taxable to the transferor corporation and not the controlling shareholder. An exception to this second rule is provided where the entity of the corporate transferor is properly disregarded for tax purposes. Finally, section 1239(c) and § 1.1239(c)(3) of the proposed regulations provide that the constructive ownership rules of section 318 are generally to be used in determining the ownership of stock for purposes of section 1239.

Section 1.1239-2 of the proposed regulations applies to sales or exchanges occurring on or before October 4, 1976, and reflects the requirements of section 1239 before its amendment by the Tax Reform Act of 1976.

COMMENTS AND REQUESTS FOR A PUBLIC HEARING

Before adopting these regulations, consideration will be given to any written comments that are submitted (preferably six copies) to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. All comments will be available for public inspection and copying. A public hearing will be held upon written request to the Commissioner by any person who has submitted written comments. If a public hearing is held, notice of the time and place will be published in the Federal Register.

DRAFTING INFORMATION

The principal author of these proposed regulations was Leonard T. Marcinko of the Legislation and Regulations Division of the Office of Chief Counsel, Internal Revenue Service. However, personnel from other offices of the Internal Revenue Service and the Treasury Department participated in developing the regulation, both on matters of substance and style.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE REGULATIONS

The proposed amendments to 26 CFR Part 1 are as follows:

§ 1.1239 [Deleted]

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 1.1239 and the historical note are deleted.

PAR. 2. Section 1.1239-1 is redesignated as § 1.1239-2 and is amended by revising the heading and first two sentences thereof to read as follows:

§ 1.1239-2 Gain from sale or exchange of depreciable property between certain related taxpayers on or before October 4, 1976.

Section 1239 provides in general that any gain from the sale or exchange of depreciable property between a husband and wife or between an individual and a controlled corporation on or before October 4, 1976 (and in the case of a sale or exchange occurring after that date if made under a binding contract entered into on or before that date), shall be treated as ordinary income. Thus, any gain recognized to the transferor from a sale or exchange after May 3, 1951, and on or before October 4, 1976 (or thereafter if pursuant to a binding contract entered into on or before that date), directly or indirectly, between a husband and wife or between an individual and a controlled corporation, of property which, in the hands of the transferee, is property of a character subject to an allowance for depreciation provided in section 167 (including such property on which a deduction for amortization is allowable under section 168 and 169) shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is neither a capital asset nor property described in section 1231. . . .

PAR. 3. A new § 1.1239-1 is added, to read as follows:

§ 1.1239-1 Gain from sale or exchange of depreciable property between certain related taxpayers after October 4, 1976.

(a) In general. In the case of a sale or exchange of property, directly or indirectly, between related persons after October 4, 1976 (other than a sale or exchange made under a binding contract entered into on or before that date), any gain recognized by the transferor shall be treated as ordinary income if such property is, in the hands of the transferee, subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 167. This rule also applies to property which would be subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 167 except that the purchaser has elected a different form of deduction, such as those allowed under sections 169, 188, and 191.

(b) Related persons. For purposes of paragraph (a), the term "related persons" means—

(1) A husband and wife,
(2) An individual and a corporation 80 percent or more in value of the outstanding stock of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for such individual, or

(3) Two or more corporations 80 percent or more in value of the outstanding stock of each of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for the same individual.

(c) Rules of construction—(1) Husband and wife. For purposes of paragraph (b)(1), if on the date of the sale or exchange a taxpayer is legally separated from his spouse under an interlocutory decree of divorce, the taxpayer and his spouse shall not be treated as husband and wife, provided the sale or exchange is made pursuant to the decree and the decree subsequently becomes final. Thus, if pursuant to an interlocutory decree of divorce, an individual transfers depreciable property to his spouse and, because of this section, the gain recognized on the transfer of the property is treated as ordinary income, the individual may, if the interlocutory decree becomes final after his tax return has been filed, file a claim for a refund.

(2) Sales between commonly controlled corporations. In general, in the case of a sale or exchange of depreciable property between related corporations (within the meaning of paragraph (b)(3) of this section), gain which is treated as ordinary income by reason of this section shall be taxable to the transferor corporation rather than to a controlling shareholder. However, such gain shall be treated as ordinary income taxable to a controlling shareholder rather than the transferor corporation if the transferor corporation is used by a controlling shareholder as a mere conduit to make a sale to another controlled corporation, or the entity of the corporate transferor is otherwise properly disregarded for tax purposes. Sales between two or more corporations that are related within the meaning of paragraph (b)(3) of this section may also be subject to the rules of section 482 (relating to allocation of income between or among organizations, trades, or businesses which are commonly owned or controlled), and to rules requiring constructive dividend treatment to the controlling shareholder in appropriate circumstances.

(3) Ownership of stock. For purposes of determining the ownership of stock under this section, the constructive ownership rules of section 318 shall be applied, except that section 318(a)(2)(C) (relating to attribution of stock ownership from a corporation) and section 318(a)(3)(C) (relating to attribution of stock ownership to a corporation) shall be applied without regard to the 50-percent limitation contained therein. The application of the constructive ownership rules of section 318 to section 1239 is illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). A, an individual, owns 79 percent of the stock (by value) of Corporation X, and a trust for A's children owns the re-maintaining 21 percent of the stock. A's children are deemed to own the stock owned for their benefit by the trust in proportion to their actuarial interests in the trust (section 318(a)(2)(B)). A in turn, constructively owns the stock so deemed to be owned by his children (section 318(a)(1)(A)(ii)). Thus, A is treated as owning all the stock of Corporation X, and any gain A recognized from the sale of depreciable property to Corporation X is treated under section 1239 as ordinary income.

Example. (2). Y Corporation owns 80 percent in value of the stock of Z Corporation. Y Corporation sells depreciable property at a gain to Z Corporation. P and his daughter, D, own 80 percent in value of the Y Corporation stock. Under the constructive ownership rules of section 318, as applied to section 1239, P and D are each considered to own the stock in Z Corporation owned by Y Corporation. Also, P and D are each considered to own the stock in Y Corporation owned by the other. As a result, both P and D constructively own 80 percent or more in value of the stock of both Y and Z Corporations. Thus, the sale between Y and Z is governed by section 1239 and produces ordinary income to Y.

INCOME TAX

Amortization of Certain Railroad Rolling Stock;
Withdrawal of Notice of Proposed Rulemaking

AGENCY: Internal Revenue Service, Treasury.

ACTION: Withdrawal of notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The purpose of this document is to withdraw a notice of proposed rulemaking relating to the amortization of certain railroad rolling stock placed in service after 1968 and before 1976. The notice of proposed rulemaking withdrawn by this document appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 26, 1971 (36 FR 16922).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Richard L. Johnson of the Legislation and Regulations Division, Office of the Chief Counsel, Internal Revenue Service, 1111 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20224 (Attention: CC:LR:TLR-1672), 202-566-3603 (not a toll-free number).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

BACKGROUND

The notice of proposed rulemaking withdrawn by this document proposed amendments to the Income Tax Regulations under sections 179 and 184 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to conform the regulations to the amendments made by the portion of section 705 of the Tax Reform Act of 1969 (83 Stat. 670) relating to amortization of certain railroad rolling stock. Code section 184 permits taxpayers to elect five-year amortization of qualified railroad rolling stock placed in service after 1968 and before 1976. Thus, use of the election has not been available for approximately two years.

The Internal Revenue Service does not anticipate issuing a new notice of proposed rulemaking under Code section 184. In the case of a taxpayer who has prepared and filed a return on the basis of the withdrawn notice, the Internal Revenue Service will not assess a deficiency on the basis of rules different from those in the withdrawn notice. A taxpayer election to take the amortization deduction allowed by Code section 184 is effective if made in conformance with either the rules of the withdrawn notice or those of § 13.0 of the Temporary Income Tax Regulations under the Tax Reform Act of 1969 (26 CFR Part 13).

WITHDRAWAL OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Accordingly, the notice of proposed rulemaking relating to the amortization of certain railroad rolling stock which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 26, 1971 (36 FR 16922) is hereby withdrawn.

JEROME KURTZ,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

PROHIBITIONS

Expansion of Scope and Areas Designated by Orders To Include the Wild and Scenic Rivers System

AGENCY: Forest Service, USDA.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: Management plans for components of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System establish management practices for the administration of the areas in a manner compatible with the objectives of the legislation establishing the system. At times, these objectives require that limits be placed on the amount and type of use that can be permitted on the areas. This proposed regulation will expand the Cope in Subpart A to include components of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System. Subpart B would be expanded to provide for the issuance of orders which will control the amount of use on components of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

DATE: Comments must be in writing and must be received by June 30, 1978.

ADDRESS: Submit comments to: Kenneth L. Evans, Law Enforcement Specialist, Fiscal and Accounting Management, U.S. Forest Service, P.O. Box 2417, Washington, D.C. 20013.

It is proposed to amend Title 36 CFR, Chapter II, Part 261 as follows:

1. Section 261.1(a)(4) is amended as follows:

§ 261.1 Scope.

(a) . . .

(4) An act or omission occurs within the designated boundaries of a component of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

2. Section 261.58(2) is added to read as follows:

§ 261.58 Occupancy and use.

(z) Entering or being on lands or waters within the boundaries of a component of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

APPROVAL AND PROMULGATION OF IMPLEMENTATION PLANS

Revisions to the Rules of the following Air Pollution Control District in the State of California: Santa Barbara County AGENCY: U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Notice of Proposed Rulemaking.

SUMMARY: The purpose of this notice is to advise the public of receipt of proposed revisions to the California

State Implementation Plan and to request public comments concerning the revisions. The revisions provide procedures to review new or modified sources of air contaminants prior to construction.

DATES: Public comments will be received for thirty (30) days from publication of this notice (June 30, 1978).

ADDRESSES: Copies of the proposed SIP revisions are available for public inspection during regular business hours at the following locations:

Environmental Protection Agency, Region IX, Enforcement Division, 215 Fremont Street, San Francisco, Calif. 94105.

State of California, Air Resources Board, 1709 Eleventh Street, Sacramento, Calif. 95814.

Santa Barbara County, Air Pollution Control District, 4440 Calle Real, Santa Barbara, Calif. 93110.

Public Information reference Unit, Room 2922, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460.

Interested persons may participate in the rulemaking process by submitting comments to:

Regional Administrator, Attn: Enforcement Division (E-4-3), EPA Region IX (address above).

Comments received will be available for public inspection during regular business hours at:

EPA Region IX (address above).

EPA Public Information reference Unit (address above).

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Barry Garellick, Enforcement division, Permits Branch, telephone 415-556-8005.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Since EPA's approval of portions of the California State Implementation Plan (SIP) in 1972, the State of California has submitted, periodically, proposed revisions to the SIP. These proposed revisions have been submitted as local air pollution control districts (APCD) have adopted new or amended existing regulations. Included in the submissions have been the regulations of the Santa Barbara County APCD. In several cases, the submissions for the above-mentioned district had included regulations relating to permits for new sources of air pollution. The list below summarizes the dates upon which such permit regulations were submitted for this district.

SUBMISSION DATES

February 21, 1972
December 13, 1972
July 25, 1973
January 22, 1974
February 2, 1978

As revised, Santa Barbara County APCD Regulation II, Permits Rules 4 through 8, and 9.1 through 14 provide a procedure by which persons who wish to construct, erect, modify, replace, operate, or use any equipment which may cause, potentially cause, reduce, control or eliminate the emission of air contaminants may be granted a permit to do so. A permit shall be granted only after the district control officer determines that the new or modified stationary source of air contaminants will not prevent the attainment, interfere with the maintenance, or cause a violation of any state or national ambient air quality standard.

The State of California has certified, by letter of August 26, 1976, that the revisions to its SIP for all California air pollution control districts submitted prior to January 1, 1976 were adopted after public hearings were held after notice conforming to 40 CFR Part 51, Requirements for Preparation, Adoption and Submittal of Implementation Plans was given. The State of California also certified by letter of February 2, 1978, that the revision to its SIP for this air pollution control district was adopted after public hearings were held after notice conforming to 40 CFR Part 51, Requirements for Preparation, Adoption and Submittal of Implementation Plans was given.

The decision of the Administrator to approve or disapprove the proposed revisions to the SIP discussed above will be based on whether or not they meet the requirements of Clean Air Act Section 110(a)(2) (A)-(K), 129, 171, 172 and 173, the requirements of 40 CFR Part 51, Requirements for Preparation, Adoption and Submittal of Implementation Plans (particularly 40 CFR 51.18) and the Interpretative Ruling (41 FR 55524, December 21, 1976).

This notice is issued under the authority of section 110 and 301(a) of the Clean Air Act, as amended (42 U.S.C. 7410 and 7601(a).)

Dated: May 22, 1978.

Acting Regional Administrator.

STATE AND FEDERAL ADMINISTRATIVE ORDERS PERMITTING A DELAY IN COMPLIANCE WITH STATE IMPLEMENTATION PLAN REQUIREMENTS

Proposed Delayed Compliance Order for Division Pumping Station, Cleveland, Ohio

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA proposes to issue an Administrative Order to the City of Cleveland to require the City to comply with Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulations and federally promulgated sulfur dioxide regulations at its Division Pumping Station at 45th Street in Cleveland. The regulations are part of the approved Ohio Implementation Plan (SIP). The Order requires final compliance by July 1, 1979. The Order has the effect of revising the requirements of the SIP. It would also insulate the City from further federal enforcement action and from citizen enforcement action for violations of the regulation covered by the Order during the period the Order is in effect and the City is complying with its terms. The purpose of this notice is to invite public comment and to offer an opportunity to request a public hearing on the proposed Order.

DATES: Written comments and requests for a public hearing must be received on or before June 30, 1978. All requests for a public hearing should be accompanied by a statement of why the hearing would be beneficial and a text or summary of any proposed testimony to be offered at the hearing. If there is significant public interest in a hearing, it will be held after thirty days prior notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing has been given in this publication.

ADDRESSES: Comments and requests for a public hearing should be submitted to Director, Enforcement Division, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region V, 230 South Dearborn, Chicago, Ill. 60604. Material supporting the order and public comments received in response to this notice may be inspected and copied (for appropriate charges) at this address during normal business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Peter J. Kelly, Enforcement Attorney at the above address or phone 312-353-2082.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The City of Cleveland operates coal-fired boilers at the Division Pumping Station at 45th Street in Cleveland, Ohio. The proposed Order addresses emissions from those boilers, which are subject to Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulation AP-3-11 and 40 CFR 52.1881 et seq. AP-3-11 governs the emissions of particulate matter, and is part of the federally approved State Implementation Plan. 40 CFR 52.1881 is the federally promulgated Ohio sulfur dioxide regulation. The Order requires final compliance with both regulations by July 1, 1979, and the source has consented to its terms.

The proposed Order satisfies the applicable requirements of Section 113(d) of the Act. If the Order is issued, compliance with its terms would preclude further EPA enforcement action under Section 113 of the Act against the source for violations of the regulation covered by the Order during the period the Order is in effect. Enforcement against the source under the citizen suit provisions of the Act (Section 304) would be similarly precluded. Comments received by the date specified above will be considered in determining whether EPA should issue the Order. Testimony given at any public hearing concerning the Order will also be considered. Final action on the Order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. After the public comment period, and after EPA has reviewed any comments received in response to this notice, the Administrator of EPA will publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER the Agency's final action on the Order in 40 CFR Part 65.

The provisions of 40 CFR Part 65 will be promulgated by EPA soon, and will contain the procedures for EPA's issuance, approval, or disapproval of an Order under Section 113(d) of the Act. In addition, Part 65 will contain sections listing or including Orders issued, approved, or disapproved by EPA. A prior notice proposing regulations for Part 65, published at 40 FR 14876 (April 2, 1975), will be withdrawn, and replaced by a notice promulgating these new regulations.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend 40 CFR Chapter I, as follows:

1. By revising § 65.400 to read as follows:

§ 65.400 Federal Delayed Compliance Order Issued Under Section 113(d)(1).

UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

ORDER

In the matter of the City of Cleveland, Division Pumping Station (45th Street); proceeding under section 113 Clean Air Act, as amended, Order No.: EPA-5-78-A-8.

The following Order is issued this date pursuant to section 113 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, 42 U.S.C. section 7413 (hereinafter referred to as the "Act"). Public notice and opportunity for public hearing have been provided. The Order contains a schedule with a timetable for compliance and interim requirements, but because final compliance will be achieved by shut-down, and because emission monitoring and reporting is unreasonable for this source, none is required. Final compliance is required as expeditiously as practicable, but not later than July 1, 1979. The source is hereby notified that it may be required (depending on the applicability of section 120) to pay a noncompliance penalty in the event it fails to achieve final compliance by such date. The State of Ohio has been given thirty (30) days notice of this Order.

On April 14, 1977, Mr. James O. McDonald, Director, Enforcement Division, Region V, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (hereinafter referred to as U.S. EPA), pursuant to authority delegated to him by the Administrator, issued a Notice to the City of Cleveland (hereinafter referred to as Cleveland) and the State of Ohio that the boilers owned by Cleveland and located and operated at the Division Pumping Station, 1245 45th Street, Cleveland, were found in violation of the federally enforceable Ohio Implementation Plan as defined in section 110(d) of the act. The boilers are subject to 40 CFR 52.1881(b), dealing with the control of sulfur dioxide; and pursuant to 40 CFR 52.1882(a), Cleveland was required to either certify compliance with 40 CFR 52.1881(b) or submit to the Administrator certain information about control plans for the boilers. Cleveland did neither.

On October 20, 1977, Dale S. Bryson, Acting Director, Enforcement Division, Region V, pursuant to authority delegated to him by the Administrator, issued a Notice to Cleveland and the State of Ohio that the above-mentioned boilers also had been found in violation of Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulation AP-3-11. AP-3-11 establishes limitations on the emission of particulate matter and is part of the federally enforceable Ohio Implementation Plan. Prior to the issuance of this latter Notice and pursuant to section 113(a)(4) of the Act, opportunity to confer with the representatives of U.S. EPA was given to Cleveland and a conference was held on September 28, 1977. At and subsequent to the conference, Cleveland described its ongoing program which would result in compliance with both the SO₂ and particulate portions of the applicable Ohio State Implementation Plan.

Cleveland's Plan calls for the replacement of the violating boilers with alternative systems which will enable the city of Cleveland to comply with the Ohio particulate regulations and the federally promulgated Ohio SO₂ regulations by July 1, 1979.

It is found that the violations have continued beyond the 30th day after the date of notification by the Acting Director, Enforcement Division.

After a thorough investigation of all relevant facts, it has been determined that because immediate compliance is infeasible, compliance in accordance with the schedule hereinafter set forth is reasonable.

Therefore, in consideration of the above: it is hereby ordered:

I. That Cleveland shall continue to install equipment to replace the violating boilers as necessary to comply with the following increments:

A. Not later than April 1, 1978, cease operation of all steam turbines and all boilers except as necessary to provide standby pumping power and for steam to heat Division Avenue complex buildings;

B. Continue and complete construction of surge facilities to replace standby pumping capacity not later than May 1, 1978;

C. Not later than June 1, 1978, commence utilization of complying coal and achieve and demonstrate compliance with 40 CFR 52.1881(b)(23)(v);

D. Not later than June 1, 1978, contract for and commence to utilize coal with ash content of not greater than 6 percent by weight (maintaining compliance with the SO₂ regulations);

E. Not later than July 1, 1979, permanently cease operation of and decommission all coal-fired boilers at Division Pumping Station.

II. That quarterly progress reports be submitted to the Air Compliance Section, Enforcement Division, U.S. EPA, Region V, 230 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604 with copies to the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, beginning March 1, 1978. Said reports shall include certification of compliance with each increment falling due during the previous quarter or detailed reasons for failure to do so.

III. That copies of all submissions required to be made pursuant hereto be sent to the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, P.O. Box 1049, Columbus, Ohio 43216 and the Cleveland Division of Air Pollution Control, 2735 Broadway, Cleveland, Ohio.

IV. This Order in no way affects Cleveland's responsibilities to comply with other Federal, State, and local regulations.

V. Commencing immediately and throughout the pendency of this Order Cleveland shall (consistent with good operating practice) operate its boilers so as to reduce to the maximum extent possible emissions of particulate matter.

Date _____
Regional Administrator.

The City of Cleveland by the duly authorized undersigned, agrees that the foregoing is a reasonable means by which to comply with Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulation AP-3-11 and 40 CFR Section 52.1881 et seq.

Date _____
City of Cleveland.

Dated: May 5, 1978.

GEORGE R. ALEXANDER,
Regional Administrator,

STATE AND FEDERAL ADMINISTRATIVE ORDERS PERMITTING A DELAY IN COMPLIANCE WITH STATE IMPLEMENTATION PLAN REQUIREMENTS

Proposed Delayed Compliance Order for the City of Orrville, Ohio

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA proposes to issue an Administrative Order requiring the city of Orrville, Ohio, to bring its Municipal Powerplant into compliance with Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulations for particulate matter. The applicable regulation is a part of the federally approved Ohio Implementation Plan (SIP). The date for final compliance established by the Order is July 1, 1979. If the Order is issued by EPA, it would insulate the source from further Federal enforcement action under the Clean Air Act and from citizen enforcement action under the Act for violations of the regulation covered by the Order during the period the Order is in effect and the source is complying with its terms. The purpose of this notice is to invite public comment and to offer an opportunity to request a public hearing on the proposed Order.

DATES: Written comments and requests for a public hearing must be received on or before June 30, 1978. All requests for a public hearing should be accompanied by a statement of why the hearing would be beneficial and a text or summary of any proposed testimony to be offered at the hearing. If there is significant public interest in a hearing, it will be held after thirty days prior notice of the date, time, and place as announced in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

ADDRESSES: Comments and requests for a public hearing should be submitted to Director, Enforcement Division, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region V, 230 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604. Material supporting the Order and public comments received in response to this notice may be inspected and copied (for appropriate charges) at this address during normal business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Peter J. Kelly at the above address, or by telephone at 312-353-2082.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The city of Orrville operates a Municipal Powerplant in Orrville, Ohio. The proposed Order addresses emissions from five coal-fired boilers at this facility, which are subject to Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulation AP-3-11 (OAC 3745-17-10). The regulation governs the emissions of particulate matter, and is part of the federally approved State Implementation Plan. The Order requires final compliance with the regulation by July 1, 1979, and the source has consented to its terms.

The proposed Order satisfies the applicable requirements of Section 113(d) of the Act. If the Order is issued, source compliance with its terms would preclude further EPA enforcement action under section 113 of the Act against the source for violations of the regulation covered by the Order during the period the Order is in effect. Enforcement against the source under the citizen suit provisions of the Act (section 304) would be similarly precluded.

After the public comment period, and after EPA has reviewed any comments received in response to this notice, the Administrator of EPA will publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER the Agency's final action on the Orders in 40 CFR Part 65.

The provisions of 40 CFR Part 65 will be promulgated by EPA soon, and will contain the procedures for EPA's issuance, approval, or disapproval of an Order under section 113(d) of the Act. In addition, Part 65 will contain sections listing or including Orders issued, approved, or disapproved by EPA. A prior notice proposing regulations for Part 65, published at 40 FR 14876 (April 2, 1975), will be withdrawn and replaced by a notice promulgating these new regulations. Comments received by the date specified above will be considered in determining whether EPA should issue the Order. Testimony given at any public hearing concerning the Order will also be considered. Final action on the Order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend 40 CFR Chapter I, as follows:

1. By revising § 65.400 to read as follows:

§ 65.400 Federal Delayed Compliance Order under Section 113(d)(1) of the Act.

UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

REGION V

FINDING OF FACT

In the matter of city of Orrville Municipal Powerplant; proceeding under section 113 Clean Air Act, as amended, Order No. EPA-5-78-A-10.

The following Order is issued this date pursuant to section 113 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, 42 U.S.C. Section 7413 (hereinafter referred to as the "Act"). Public notice and opportunity for public hearing have been provided. The Order contains a schedule with a timetable for compliance and interim requirements, and requires emission monitoring and reporting. Final compliance is required as expeditiously as practicable, but not later than July 1, 1979. The source is hereby notified that it may be required (depending on the applicability of section 120) to pay a noncompliance penalty in the event it fails to achieve final compliance by such date. The State of Ohio has been given thirty (30) days notice of this Order.

On December 13, 1977, Mr. James O. McDonald, Director, Enforcement Division, Region V, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (hereinafter referred to as U.S. EPA), pursuant to authority delegated to him by the Administrator, issued a Notice to the city of Orrville (hereinafter referred to as Orrville) and the State of Ohio that four boilers owned by Orrville and located and operated at the Orrville Municipal Utilities, 1115 Perry Street, Orrville, boilers Nos. 10, 11, 12, and 13, were found in violation of the federally enforceable Ohio Implementation Plan as defined in section 110(d) of the Act. The boilers are subject to Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulation OAC 3745-17-10 (formerly AP-3-11), dealing with the control of particulate matter.

The Orrville Municipal Utilities also has a boiler identified as boiler No. 9, connected to the same stack as boilers Nos. 10 and 11, which is currently certified by the State of Ohio and which has not been operated by Orrville for several years.

Boiler No. 12 is equipped with a mechanical collector combined with an electrostatic precipitator, and boiler No. 13 is equipped with an electrostatic precipitator, both particulate control devices having a design efficiency of 90 percent. It has not been demonstrated by testing that boilers Nos. 12 and 13 are in violation of OAC 3745-17-10, and the city of Orrville does not now concur in such finding. Boilers Nos. 9, 10, and 11 have not been operated since issuance of the above referred to Notice of Violation.

Boilers Nos. 12 and 13 have the capability of supplying all or substantially all of the electrical power needed to supply Orrville Municipal Utilities customers. The particulate control devices on both of these boilers are in need of substantial rehabilitation and upgrading which cannot be done without shutting them down. The combined capability of boilers Nos. 9, 10, and 11 is inadequate to allow either of the main units to be taken out of service long enough for a complete overhaul.

The city of Orrville is presently taking steps to complete a tie-in with the Ohio Power Co. Grid system which will reserve 25 megawatts for the city and allow the main boilers to be taken down and rehabilitated, one at a time. It is contemplated that such tie-in will be completed by July 1, 1978.

Pursuant to section 113(a)(4), a Conference to discuss the Notice of Violation and the alternatives available to bring the cited boilers into compliance with the applicable Ohio regulations was held in Chicago on January 25, 1978. At that Conference, representatives of Orrville described the history, physical condition, and future plans for the Orrville Municipal Utilities Operation. Subsequent to said conference and as set forth in the following Order, U.S. EPA and Orrville agreed to a program for the Municipal Electric Plant.

It is the conclusion of U.S. EPA that violations have continued beyond the 30th day after the date of notification by the director, Enforcement Division.

After a thorough investigation of all relevant facts, it has been determined that immediate compliance is infeasible, and compliance in accordance with the schedule hereinafter set forth is reasonable.

ORDER

Therefore, in consideration of the above: It is hereby ordered: I. Orrville shall complete the interconnection with a suitable Grid system not later than July 1, 1978.

II. Thereafter Orrville shall bring boilers Nos. 12 and 13 into compliance with Ohio regulation AP-3-11 as follows:

A. Not later than 30 days after successfully testing the interconnection at a 30 MVA load, take down either boiler No. 12 or 13 and recondition the particulate control device connected therewith (including replacement of electrodes, as needed, and any other replacement or repair necessary to permit efficient operation of either unit);

B. Within 7 weeks after taking down boiler No. 13, or within 9 weeks after taking down boiler No. 12, put the down boiler in service.

C. Within 4 weeks after putting the first boiler in service, take down the second boiler.

D. Within 7 weeks after taking down the second boiler (9 weeks if boiler No. 12), put the second boiler back in service.

E. Within 2 months after the second boiler is on line, stack test both boilers Nos. 12 and 13 in a manner approved by the U.S. EPA.

F. Notwithstanding any of the foregoing time periods, Orrville shall bring boilers

PROPOSED RULES

Nos. 12 and 13 into compliance not later than July 1, 1979.

III. That with respect to boilers Nos. 9, 10, and 11, the following shall apply:

A. After demonstration of compliance of boilers Nos. 12 and 13, boilers Nos. 10 and 11 shall be used only for emergency standby except at such times as services of boiler No. 12 or 13, or the interconnection, are unavoidably interrupted. "Emergency standby" use is defined as "use only after Units 12 and 13 and the supply of short-term service power from the Grid are unable to meet the demand of the existing Orrville Utilities market". It is understood that as of the date of this Order, boilers Nos. 9 and 10 have not been operated since July of 1975, or longer.

B. In no event may the city of Orrville operate boilers Nos. 9, 10 and 11 after July 1, 1979, without first demonstrating to U.S. EPA that said boilers operate in compliance with the applicable Ohio particulate regulations.

IV. That quarterly progress reports be submitted to the Air Compliance Section, Enforcement Division, U.S. EPA, Region V, 230 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604, with copies to the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, beginning July 1, 1978. Said reports shall include certification of compliance with each increment falling due during the previous quarter or detailed reasons for failure to do so, and a description of Orrville's compliance with paragraph V hereof.

V. Commencing immediately and throughout the pendency of this Order, Orrville shall (consistent with good operating practice and using coal contracted for) operate its boilers so as to reduce to the maximum extent possible emissions of particulate matter.

VI. That copies of all submissions required to be made pursuant hereto be sent to the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, P.O. Box 1049, Columbus, Ohio 43216.

VII. This Order in no way affects Orrville's responsibilities to comply with other Federal, State, and local regulations.

VIII. That Orrville shall install and maintain, no later than at the time of final compliance as set forth in Paragraph II-E above, a continuous opacity monitor or monitors for monitoring the emissions of boilers Nos. 12 and 13. No later than 3 months prior to such date, the Company shall furnish to U.S. EPA the type, model number and operating specifications of such monitor or monitors. Monitor data shall be retained by Orrville for at least 3 years subsequent to recording.

STATE AND FEDERAL ADMINISTRATIVE ORDERS PERMITTING A DELAY IN COMPLIANCE WITH STATE IMPLEMENTATION PLAN REQUIREMENTS

Proposed Delayed Compliance Order for Lawrence Refractories Co., Pedro, Ohio

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA proposes to issue an Administrative Order requiring Lawrence Refractories Co. to bring its dryer mixer and crushing mill at Pedro, Ohio, into compliance with Ohio Particulate Air Pollution Control Regulations. The applicable regulation is a part of the federally approved and enforceable Ohio Implementation Plan (SIP). The date for final compliance established by the Order is October 31, 1978. If the Order is issued by EPA, it would insulate the source from further federal enforcement action under the Clean Air Act and from citizen enforcement action under the Act for violations of the regulation covered by the Order during the period the Order is in effect and the source is complying with its terms. The purpose of this notice is to invite public comment and to offer and opportunity to request a public hearing on the proposed Order.

DATES: Written comments and requests for a public hearing must be received on or before June 30, 1978. All requests for a public hearing should be accompanied by a statement of why the hearing would be beneficial and test or summary of any proposed testimony to be offered at the hearing. If there is significant public interest in a hearing, it will be held after thirty days prior notice of the date, time, and place of the hearing has been given in this publication.

ADDRESS: Comments and requests for a public hearing should be submitted to Director, Enforcement Division, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region V, 230 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604. Material supporting the Order and public comments received in response to this notice may be inspected and copied (for appropriate charges) at this address during normal business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Peter J. Kelly, Region V, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region V, 230 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604 or by telephone at 312-353-2082.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Lawrence Refractories Co. operates a dryer mixer and crushing mill at Pedro, Ohio, the proposed Order addresses emissions from those points, which are subject to Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulation AP-3-12. The regulation governs the emission of particulate matter, and is part of the federally approved State Implementation Plan. The Order requires final compliance with the regulation by October 31, 1978, and the source has consented to its terms.

The proposed Order satisfies the applicable requirements of Section 113(d) of the Act. If the Order is issued, source compliance with its terms would preclude further EPA enforcement action under section 113 of the Act against the source for violations of the regulation covered by the Order during the period the Order is in effect. Enforcement against the source under the citizen suit provisions of the Act (Section 304) would be similarly precluded.

Comments received by the date specified above will be considered in determining whether EPA should issue the Order. Testimony given at any public hearing concerning the Order will also be considered. Final action on the Order will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

After the public comment period, and after EPA has reviewed any comments received in response to this notice, the Administrator of EPA will publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER the Agency's final action on the Order in 40 CFR Part 65.

The provisions of 40 CFR Part 65 will be promulgated by EPA soon, and will contain the procedures for EPA's issuance, approval, or disapproval of an Order under Section 113(d) of the Act. In addition, part 65 will contain sections listing or including Orders issued, approved, or disapproved by EPA. A prior notice proposing regulations for part 65, published at 40 FR 14876 (April 2, 1975), will be withdrawn, and replaced by a notice promulgating these new regulations.

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend 40 CFR Chapter 1, as follows:

1. By revising § 65.400 to read as follows:

§ 65.400 Federal Delayed Compliance Order Issued Under Section 113(d)(1).

UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

In the matter of Lawrence Refractories Co., Pedro, Ohio. Proceeding under Section

113 Clean Air Act, as amended, order No.: EPA-5-78-A-9.

ORDER

The following order is issued this date pursuant to section 113 of the Clean Air Act, as amended, 42 U.S.C. section 7413 (hereinafter referred to as the "Act"). Public notice and opportunity for public hearing have been provided. The Order contains a schedule with a timetable for compliance, interim requirements, and requires emission monitoring and reporting. Final compliance is required as expeditiously as practicable, but not later than July 1, 1979. The source is hereby notified that it may be required (depending on the applicability of section 120) to pay a noncompliance penalty in the event it fails to achieve final compliance by such date. The State of Ohio has been given thirty (30) days notice of this Order.

On October 14, 1977, Mr. Dale S. Bryson, Acting Director, Enforcement Division, Region V, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (hereinafter referred to as U.S. EPA), pursuant to authority delegated to him by the Administrator, issued a Notice to Lawrence Refractories Co. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and the State of Ohio that a dryer mixer and crushing mill owned by the Company and located and operated in Pedro, Ohio, were found in violation of the federally enforceable Ohio Implementation Plan as defined in section 110(d) of the Act. The dryer mixer and crushing mill are subject to Ohio Air Pollution Control Regulation AP-3-12, restricting of emissions of particulate matter from industrial processes. Regulation AP-3-12 is a currently enforceable regulation. In response to the Notice, the Company indicated that it intended to achieve compliance with the applicable Ohio State Implementation Plan by installing dust collectors. The Company has proposed to achieve compliance by September 30, 1978.

It is found that the violations have continued beyond the 30th day after the date of notification by the Acting Director, Enforcement Division and after a thorough investigation of all relevant facts, it has been determined that because immediate compliance is infeasible, compliance in accordance with the schedule hereinafter set forth is reasonable. Therefore, it is hereby ordered:

I. That the Company shall select control equipment, not later than January 1, 1978, install same, and achieve compliance with Ohio Regulation AP-3-12 as follows:

Not later than

1. Commence Engineering, 2-15-78.
2. Order Equipment, 4-15-78.
3. Commence Construction, 7-15-78.
4. Achieve and Demonstrate Compliance with Ohio Regulation AP-3-12, 10-31-78.

II. That quarterly progress reports be submitted to the Air Compliance Section, Enforcement Division, U.S. EPA, Region V, 230 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604, with copies to the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, beginning April 1, 1978. Said reports shall include certification of compliance with each increment falling due during the previous quarter or detailed reasons for failure to do so, and reports on the Company's compliance with Paragraph VI hereof.

III. That the Company shall install and maintain, no later than the final date for compliance set forth in Paragraph I above, a continuous opacity monitor on each stack of the two dust collectors to be constructed under the terms of this Order. No later than three months prior to such date the Company shall furnish to U.S. EPA the type, model number and operating specifications of such monitor. Monitor data shall be retained by the Company for at least three years subsequent to recording.

PROPOSED RULES

IV. That copies of all submissions required to be made pursuant hereto be sent to the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, P.O. Box 1049, Columbus, Ohio 43216, and the Portsmouth Air Pollution Control Agency, Griffin Hall, Second Street, Portsmouth, Ohio 45662.

V. That this Order in no way affects the Company's responsibilities to comply with other Federal, State, and local regulations.

VI. Commencing immediately and throughout the pendency of this Order the Company shall (consistent with good operating practice) operate its dryer mixer, crushing mill and existing control equipment so as to reduce to the maximum extent possible emissions of particulate matter.

STATE AND FEDERAL ADMINISTRATIVE ENFORCEMENT OF IMPLEMENTATION PLAN REQUIREMENTS AFTER STATUTORY DEADLINES

Proposed Approval of an Administrative Order Issued by Northwest Air Pollution Authority to Georgia-Pacific Corp.

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: EPA proposes to approve an Administrative Order issued by the Northwest Air Pollution Authority (NWAPA) to the Georgia-Pacific Corp. The Order requires the Company to bring air emissions from its sulfite pulp mill in Bellingham, Wash. into compliance with certain provisions of the federally-approved Washington State Implementation Plan (SIP) by June 30, 1978. Because the Order has been issued to a major source and permits a delay in compliance with provisions of the SIP, it must be approved by EPA before it becomes effective as a delayed compliance order under the Clean Air Act. If approved by EPA, the Order will constitute an addition to the SIP and will alter the rights of persons to being judicial actions against the source for violations of the SIP. The purpose of this notice is to invite public comment on EPA's proposed approval of the Order as a delayed compliance order.

DATE: Written comments must be received on or before June 30, 1978.

ADDRESSES: Comments should be submitted to Director, Enforcement Division M/S 517, EPA, Region X, 1200 Sixth Avenue, Seattle, Wash. 98101. The supporting material, and public comments received in response to this notice may be inspected and copied (for appropriate charges) at this address during normal business hours.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Kenneth D. Brooks, EPA, Region X, 1200 Sixth Avenue M/S 513, Seattle, Wash. 98101 or telephone 206-442-1387.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Georgia-Pacific Corp. operates a sulfite pulp mill at Bellingham, Wash. The order under consideration addresses emissions from three hogged wood waste ("hog fuel") boilers of the facility, which are subject to Washington Administrative Code 18-04-070(3) and NWAPA Regulations: Section 451—Emission of Air Contaminants; Visual Standard Section 455—Emission of Particulate Matter. These regulations limit the emissions of particulate matter, and are part of the federally approved State Implementation Plan. As the source is unable to comply with these regulations at this time, the order requires final compliance with the regulation by June 30, 1979 through the addition of a baghouse to control emissions from the hog fuel boilers. The source has consented to the terms of this order and the first two increments have been satisfied.

After public notice and a thirty-day comment period, the Board of NWAPA held a public hearing on December 14, 1977. Mr. Glen Hallman, Air Pollution Control Officer for NWAPA, gave a status report including what had transpired in the past year with respect to bringing the hog fuel boilers into compliance and discussed the schedule being proposed. Mr. Ed Dahlgren, Director of Engineering Services, Georgia-Pacific Corp., affirmed that the schedule could be met. There was no further discussion.

Because this order has been issued to a major source of particulate emissions and permits a delay in compliance with the applicable regulation, it must be approved by EPA before it becomes effective as a delayed compliance order under Section 113(d) of the Act. If the Order is approved by EPA compliance with its terms would preclude Federal enforcement action under Section 113 of the Act against the source for violation of the regulation covered by the Order during the period the Order is in effect. Enforcement against the source under the citizen suit provision of the Act (Section 304) would be similarly precluded. If approved, the Order would also constitute an addition to the Washington SIP. EPA proposes here to approve the order because it satisfies the appropriate requirements of section 113(d) of the Act. The elements of the appropriate paragraphs of subsection 113(d) are met in the following Variance Order Certificate issued to the Georgia-Pacific Corp. by the Northwest Air Pollution Authority on December 14, 1977 including subsection 113(d)(7): The Regional Administrator has determined that the interim requirements are reasonable and practicable, provide for the use of the best practicable system of emission reduction, are necessary to avoid an imminent and substantial endangerment to the health of persons, and assure compliance with Washington Administrative Code 18-04-070(3) and NWAPA Regulations: Section 451—Emission of Air Contaminants; Visual Standard, Section 455—Emission of Particulate Matter, a part of the federally approved Washington Implementation Plan insofar as the Georgia-Pacific Corp. is able to comply during the period this order is in effect.

VARIANCE ORDER CERTIFICATE

A Variance from NWAPA Regulations: Section 451 Emission of Air Contaminants; Visual Standard and Section 455—Emission of Particulate Matter, in order to continue operation of their three existing hog fuel boilers (wood waste) until all known, available and reasonable emissions control facilities are installed in as expeditious a manner as practical to bring the emissions into compliance with said regulations, is hereby granted to:

Georgia-Pacific Corp., Bellingham, Wash. 98225, J. H. Dunkak, Vice-President and General Manager. Effective date: January 1, 1978; Expiration date: June 30, 1979. Plant location: 300 West Laurel, Bellingham, Wash. 98225.

This Variance Order is granted by the NWAPA Board of Directors in accordance with NWAPA Regulation Subsection 350.32 after determining that the emissions from the hog fuel boilers will not endanger public health and safety and compliance with the Regulations would produce serious hardship without equal or greater benefit to the public; provided the following conditions are met:

1. Air pollution control facilities shall be installed on the existing hog fuel boilers in accordance with the following time table for compliance.

a. By January 1, 1978 submit to the Control Officer for his approval, detailed information on the proposed control facilities to assure that best practicable control system will be installed, and.

b. By February 1, 1978 submit to the Authority a "Notice of Construction and Application for Approval" for said project.

c. By April 1, 1978, or within 20 days after issuance of all required permits, sign contract and/or order necessary equipment needed.

d. By July 1, 1978, commence on-site construction of control facilities.

e. By May 1, 1979 complete on-site construction of control facilities.

f. By June 15, 1979 complete source emission tests approved by the Control Officer and conducted in his presence or his authorized representative to demonstrate compliance with the regulations from which variance order is granted.

g. By June 30, 1979 the emissions from the hog fuel boilers in full compliance with the applicable regulations of this Authority, the Department of Ecology and the Washington State Clean Air Act.

2. The hog fuel boiler visual emissions shall not exceed forty (40) percent opacity for more than twelve (12) minutes in any one hour period except when a visual emission occurs due to soot blowing and grate cleaning in excess of forty (40) percent opacity for not more than thirty (30) minutes in any eight (8) hour period for each of the three (3) boilers.

Suitable records, approved by the Control Officer, shall be kept to provide evidence of soot blowing and grate cleaning time periods.

Copies of the Lear-Seigler Transmissometer recorder charts for the main stack and a listing of all periods when the opacity exceeded forty (40) percent including the reason, if any, for such excessive emissions to the submitted monthly. (Compliance with this provision shall be determined in part from these charts. Visual observations will also be used to determine compliance.)

3. Every reasonable and practicable effort is to be made to maintain and operate the hog fuel boilers to as nearly as possible comply with the provisions of NWAPA Regulations—Section 451 and Section 455 while the variance order from these sections is in force.

4. The hog fuel boilers, in aggregate, shall not be operated with a heat input of greater than 150 million Btu/hour annual average and a maximum of 161 million Btu/hour monthly average produced by burning hog fuel. When one or more of the three existing hog fuel boilers is not operating, the other boiler(s) shall only be operated at their normal prorated input heat capacity.

5. Failure to achieve final compliance by July 1, 1979 with the regulatory provisions for which said variance order is granted shall require the payment of a non-compliance penalty in accordance with the U.S. Clear Air Act Amendments of 1977, Pub. L. 95-95 Section 120.

6. This Variance Order may be terminated by notice, in writing, to the Georgia-Pacific Corporation at any time any of the above conditions are not met.

Dated: December 14, 1977.

For the Northwest Air Pollution Authority.

GLEN F. HALLMAN,
Secretary,
Northwest Air Pollution Authority.

If the order is approved by EPA, compliance with its terms would preclude federal enforcement action under Section 113 of the Act against the source for violation of the regulation covered by the order during the period the order is in effect. Enforcement against the source under the citizen suit provision of the Act (Section 304) would be similarly precluded.

All interested persons are invited to submit written comments on the proposed order. Written comments received by the date specified above will be considered in determining whether EPA may approve the order. After the public comment period, and after EPA has reviewed any comments received in response to this notice, the Administrator of EPA will publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER the Agency's final action on the Order in 40 CFR Part 65.

The provisions of 40 CFR Part 65 will be promulgated by EPA soon, and will contain the procedures for EPA's issuance, approval, or disapproval of an order under Section 113(d) of the Act. In addition, Part 65 will contain sections listing or including order issued, approved, or disapproved by EPA. A prior notice proposing regulations for Part 65, published at 40 FR 14876 (April 2, 1975), will be withdrawn, and replaced by a notice promulgating these new regulations.

Dated: May 9, 1978.

[Docket No. 21505; RM-2208]

CABLE TELEVISION RELAY SERVICE

Order Extending Time for Filing Comments and Reply Comments

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Order.

SUMMARY: On March 1, 1978, the FCC released a notice of proposed rulemaking and notice of inquiry in the matter of amending: Parts 2 and 78 to expand the frequencies available for use by Cable Television Relay Service (CARS) stations; Parts 74 and 78 to set aside 13.15-13.20 GHz for usage by Television and Cable Television Relay Service Pickup Stations on a co-equal basis; and an inquiry to determine public interest and need to establish similar technical standards for both the Cable Television Relay Service and the Broadcast Auxiliary Service in the 12.7-13.20 GHz band. The National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) filed a petition for an extension of 90 days for filing comments and reply comments in this proceeding. An extension of 60 days is being granted to permit NAB, as well as others, to submit their comments. No further extension beyond this time period is anticipated in light of the Commission's need to act upon rule making proceedings in a timely manner.

DATE: Comments must be received on or before July 12, 1978 and reply comments must be received on or before August 13, 1978.

ADDRESS: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

In the matter of amendment of Parts 2 and 78 of the Commission's rules and regulations to expand the frequencies available for use by Cable Television Relay Service stations and, amendment of Parts 74 and 78 of the Commission's rules and regulations to set aside 13.15-13.20 GHz for usage by Television and Cable Television Relay Service pickup stations on a coequal basis and, an inquiry to determine public interest and need to establish similar technical standards for both the Cable Television Relay Service and the Broadcast Auxiliary Service in the 12.7-13.20 GHz band, Docket No. 21505, RM-2208.

1. On March 1, 1978, the Commission released a notice of proposed rulemaking and notice of inquiry in the above captioned matter. Comments were invited on or before May 12, 1978, with reply comments due on or before June 12, 1978. A petition for an extension of time for filing comments has been filed by the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB). In this motion, NAB indicates that it desires to refer the proposal to its Engineering and Advisory Committees and its Board of Directors for review and guidance. Since formal meetings of these groups are not scheduled until the latter part of June 1978; NAB requests a 90-day extension of time.

2. If the petition were to be granted as requested, the new dates for filing comments and reply comments would become August 14, 1978, and September 15, 1978, respectively. In light of the necessity to act upon rulemaking proceedings in a timely fashion, we consider the amount of time requested for an extension to be excessive. However, we do recognize that the information to be submitted could be useful; therefore, we consider it in the public interest to grant a reasonable extension of time. We believe an additional 60 days is adequate for NAB, as well as others, to file comments in this proceeding. No further extension beyond this time period is anticipated.

3. Accordingly, it is ordered, Pursuant to § 0.251(b) of the Commission's rules and regulations, that the date for filing comments is extended from May 12 to June 12, 1978, and the date for filing reply comments is extended from June 12 to August 12, 1978.

FM BROADCAST STATION IN SOLVANG, CALIF.

Proposed Changes in Table of Assignments

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Notice of proposed rulemaking.

SUMMARY: Action taken herein proposes the assignment of a first Class A FM channel to Solvang, Calif. Petitioner, John Butler, requested a Class B channel. A Class A FM channel is available and appears to represent a better choice to fulfill the need for a first full-time local aural service to this small community.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before July 17, 1978, and reply comments on or before August 7, 1978.

ADDRESS: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mildred B. Nesterak, Broadcast Bureau, 202-632-7792.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION:

Adopted: May 16, 1978.

Released: May 19, 1978.

In the matter of amendment of § 73.202(b), Table of Assignments, FM Broadcast Stations (Solvang, Calif.), BC Docket No. 78-152, RM-3004.

1. The Commission has before it a petition for rulemaking¹ seeking ¹Public notice of the petition was given on December 14, 1977, Report No. 1093.

amendment of § 73.202(b) of the Commission's rules, the Table of FM Assignments. Petitioner, John Butler, proposed the assignment of Class B FM Channel 233 to Solvang, Calif., as that community's first FM channel.

2. Solvang (pop. 2,004), in Santa Barbara County, (pop. 264,324)² is located in the Santa Ynez Valley (pop. 11,250)³ approximately 160 kilometers (100 miles) northwest of Los Angeles and 40 kilometers (25 miles) northwest of Santa Barbara, Calif. There is no local aural broadcast service in Solvang.

3. In support of its proposal, petitioner claims that Santa Ynez Valley, being rural in nature, is dependent primarily on agriculture. He asserts that over one-half of the Valley's population is rural residents. Petitioner states that there are no radio stations assigned to any of the communities in the Santa Ynez Valley, and as a result residents are dependent for all their daily news and information on media located outside the Valley. He adds that the Valley's needs and interests are unique in many respects from the rest of Santa Barbara County, and that they cannot be served adequately by stations licensed to communities in other parts of the county. Petitioner claims that, due to limitations imposed by zoning and airspace considerations, a 91 meter (300 feet) tower for a Class A FM station could not be constructed in Santa Ynez Valley. He contends that the station must therefore be located on the Santa Ynez Mountains and must be a Class B station in order to be able to provide the city grade coverage to Solvang. He maintains that broadcast coverage would be provided to the entire Valley.

4. Preclusion studies. Five communities would be precluded on Channels 232A and 233 if the proposed channel were assigned. Lompoc and Santa Maria have FM and AM stations. Arroyo Grande has an AM station and an FM assignment which is used at Pismo Beach. Guadalupe has neither an AM nor an FM assignment. Because of the co-location of the proposed transmitter site with those of two Santa Barbara stations (KRUFM and KTMS-FM), no first or second FM or nighttime aural service would be provided.

5. In this case we cannot find a basis for an exception to the policy of assigning Class B FM channels only to large communities. Exceptions have been made when the assignment would result in first or second FM service to large areas and populations.

²Population figures are taken from the 1970 U.S. Census, unless otherwise indicated.

³Figure is for 1975 and provided by the Santa Barbara County Planning Department.

Here, the Class B channel would provide neither first or second FM nor nighttime aural service. Petitioner alleges that a Class A station could not be constructed in Santa Ynez Valley because of zoning and airspace considerations and must therefore be located in the Santa Ynez Mountains. A staff study indicates that a Class A channel is available for assignment to Solvang with a choice of transmitter sites either in the city or within 13 kilometers (8 miles) north, west or southwest of the community. Although it would not be possible to co-locate the station with the Santa Barbara stations, a site should be available in the Santa Ynez Mountains, from which a Class A station would be able to provide city-grade coverage to Solvang. Since a need has been demonstrated for an FM assignment, we are proposing the assignment of Channel 244A to Solvang which would satisfy its needs for a first local full-time aural broadcast station.

6. In light of the foregoing, the Commission proposes to amend the FM Table of Assignments (§ 73.202(b) of the Commission's rules), with respect to Solvang, Calif., as follows:

City and Channel No.

Solvang, Calif., present —; proposed 244A.

7. The Commission's authority to institute rulemaking proceedings; showings required; cut-off procedures; and filing requirements are contained in the attached Appendix below and are incorporated herein.

NOTE—A continuing interest is required by paragraph 2 of the Appendix before a channel will be assigned.

8. Interested parties may file comments on or before July 17, 1978, and reply comments on or before August 7, 1978.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS
COMMISSION,
WALLACE E. JOHNSON,
Chief, Broadcast Bureau.

APPENDIX

1. Pursuant to authority found in sections 4(i), 5(d)(1), 303 (g) and (r), and 307(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 0.281(b)(6) of the Commission's rules, it is proposed to amend the FM Table of Assignments, § 73.202(b) of the Commission's rules and regulations, as set forth in the notice of proposed rulemaking to which this Appendix is attached.

2. Showings required. Comments are invited on the proposal(s) discussed in the notice of proposed rulemaking to which this Appendix is attached. Proponent(s) will be expected to answer whatever questions are presented in initial comments. The proponent of a proposed assignment is also expected to file comments even if it only resubmits or incorporates by reference its former pleadings. It should also restate its present intention to apply for the channel if it is assigned, and, if authorized, to build the station promptly. Failure to file may lead to denial of the request.

3. Cut-off procedures. The following procedures will govern the consideration of filings in this proceeding.

(a) Counterproposals advanced in this proceeding itself will be considered, if advanced in initial comments, so that parties may comment on them in reply comments. They will not be considered if advanced in reply comments. (See § 1.420(d) of Commission rules.)

(b) With respect to petitions for rulemaking which conflict with the proposal(s) in this notice, they will be considered as comments in the proceeding, and Public Notice to this effect will be given as long as they are filed before the date for filing initial comments herein. If they are filed later than that, they will not be considered in connection with the decision in this docket.

4. Comments and reply comments; service. Pursuant to applicable procedures set out in §§ 1.415 and 1.420 of the Commission's rules and regulations, interested parties may file comments and reply comments on or before the dates set forth in the notice of proposed rulemaking to which this Appendix is attached. All submissions by parties to this proceeding or persons acting on behalf of such parties must be made in written comments, reply comments, or other appropriate pleadings. Comments shall be served on the petitioner by the person filing the comments. Reply comments shall be served on the person(s) who filed comments to which the reply is directed. Such comments and reply comments shall be accompanied by a certificate of service. (See § 1.420 (a), (b), and (c) of the Commission rules.)

5. Number of copies. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.420 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and four copies of all comments, reply comments, pleadings, briefs, or other documents shall be furnished the Commission.

6. Public inspection of filings. All filings made in this proceeding will be available for examination by interested parties during regular business hours in the Commission's Public Reference Room at its headquarters, 1919 M Street NW., Washington, D.C.

SUBSCRIPTION TELEVISION SERVICE

Order Extending Time For Filing Reply Comments

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Order.

SUMMARY: The action taken herein extends the time for filing reply comments in a proceeding concerning subscription television service (March 15, 1978, 43 FR 10710). Petitioners, Pay TV Corporation, Subscription Television of America, Inc., Oak Broadcasting Systems, Inc., National Subscription Television, Inc., and Universal Subscription Television, Inc., state that the additional time is needed so that meaningful reply comments can be submitted to the Commission.

DATE: Reply comments must be received on or before June 15, 1978.

ADDRESSES: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Freda Lippert Thyden, Broadcast Bureau, 202-632-7792.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

In the matter of amendment of Part 73 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations in regard to § 73.542(a)(3) and other aspects of the subscription television service, Docket No. 21502, RM-2737.

Adopted: May 22, 1978.

Released: May 23, 1978.

In the matter of amendment of Part 73 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations in regard to § 73.542(a)(3) and other aspects of the subscription television service, Docket No. 21502 RM-2737.

By the Chief, Broadcast Bureau:

1. In a Memorandum Opinion and Order and Notice of Inquiry and Notice of Proposed Rulemaking in the above-captioned proceeding, 43 FR 1516, the dates for filing comments and reply comments were set at March 13, and April 12, 1978, respectively. An extension of time was granted by Order, released March 10, 1978, for the filing of comments and reply comments to and including April 28, and May 26, 1978, respectively.¹

2. The Commission now has before it three motions requesting extension of time for filing reply comments. Pay TV Corp. ("Pay TV") and Subscription Television of America, Inc. ("STA") jointly request an extension of time to June 9, 1978; Oak Broadcasting Systems, Inc. ("Oak") and National Subscription Television ("NST") jointly request an extension to June 30, 1978; and Universal Subscription Television, Inc. ("USTV") request an extension to July 21, 1978.

3. Pay TV and STA state that because a large number of parties have filed in this proceeding it has been difficult to obtain copies of all the comments. They add that although most parties represented by local counsel have been willing to make available copies of their comments, copies of comments filed by nonlocal parties must be obtained through the Commission.

4. Oak and NST state that the large volume of comments, coupled with the complexities of the procedural issues and technical matters make it difficult to draft replies by the present deadline date.

5. USTV states that because of the lengthy comments filed by some parties on the last day for filing, it is impossible for it to digest and formulate meaningful reply comments within the given time period.

6. On the basis of the reasons represented in the above-mentioned requests for extension of time, we are persuaded that some additional time is warranted in order to assure development of a sound and comprehensive record on which to base a final decision in this proceeding. We are therefore granting an extension of time to and including June 15, 1978, in which to file reply comments. Although this extension is not as long as some parties had requested, it should be sufficient for the preparation of reply comments. Also, we wish to alert parties that we do not contemplate granting any further requests for additional time for the filing of reply comments in this proceeding.

7. Accordingly, it is ordered, that the above motions for extension of time filed by Pay TV Corp. and Subscription Television of America, Inc.; Oak Broadcasting Systems, Inc. and National Subscription Television; and Universal Subscription Television, Inc., are granted to the extent that the present deadline date for filing reply comments is extended through June 15, 1978, and are denied in all other respects.

8. This action is taken pursuant to authority found in sections 4(i), 5(d)(1) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 0.281 of the Commission's Rules.

FM RADIO BROADCAST TRANSLATOR STATIONS

Order Extending Time for Filing Comments and Reply Comments

AGENCY: Federal Communications Commission.

ACTION: Order.

SUMMARY: Action taken herein extends the time for filing comments and reply comments in a proceeding pertaining to FM Radio Broadcast Translator Stations (May 8, 1978, 43 FR 19695). Petitioners, Television Technology Corporation and National Translator Association, state that the additional time is needed so that they can file meaningful comments.

DATES: Comments must be received on or before July 3, 1978, and reply comments on or before August 2, 1978.

ADDRESS: Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C. 20554.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mildred B. Nesterak, Broadcast Bureau, 202-632-7792.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

Adopted: May 22, 1978.

Released: May 23, 1978.

In the matter of amendment of Part 74, Subpart L, of the Commission's Rules pertaining to FM radio broadcast translator stations, Docket No. 19918 RM-2235.

By the Chief, Broadcast Bureau:

1. On March 22, 1978, the Commission adopted a Memorandum Opinion and Order and Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 43 FR 14695, concerning the above-entitled proceeding. The present dates for filing comments and reply comments are June 2, and June 23, 1978, respectively.¹

2. Motions for extension of time have been filed by Television Technology Corp. ("TTC") and the National Translator Association ("NTA") seeking a 90-day extension of time for filing comments and an additional 60 days for filing reply comments. TTC states that as a manufacturer of FM translator equipment, it intends to submit comments but needs additional time to organize the data. NTA states that in order to prepare a concise and informative pleading it must solicit information from its members. It notes that NTA operates on a minimal budget, thus making it extremely difficult and time-consuming to expedite the accumulation of information of this nature.

3. On May 5, 1978, the Commission extended the comment and reply comment dates to June 2, and June 23, respectively, at the request of the National Radio Broadcasters Association. It also denied, in part, a request by the National Association of Broadcasters for a forty-five day extension stating that if additional time was needed a further request could be made.

4. On the basis of the reasons represented in the above-mentioned requests for extension of time, we are persuaded that some additional time in fact is warranted in order to assure development of a sound and comprehensive record on which to base a final decision in this proceeding. We are, therefore, granting 30 additional days for filing comments and believe the same amount of time is appropriate for the filing of reply comments.

5. Accordingly, it is ordered, that the requests for extension of time filed by the Television Technology Corp. and the National Translator Association are granted to the extent that the dates for filing comments and reply comments are extended to and including July 3, and August 2, 1978, respectively, and are denied in all other respects.

6. This action is taken pursuant to sections 4(i), 5(d)(1) and 303(r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and § 0.281 of the Commission's Rules.

PERE MARQUETTE RIVER FISHERMEN'S ACCESS
SITE CRITICAL AREA TREATMENT R.C.&D.
MEASURE, MICHIGAN

Intent Not to Prepare Environmental Impact Statements

Pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (40 CFR Part 1500); and the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (7 CFR Part 650); the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the Pere Marquette River Fishermen's Access Site Critical Area Treatment R.C.&D. Measure, Mason County, Mich.

The environmental assessment of these Federally assisted actions indicates that the projects will not cause significant local, regional, or national impacts on the environment. As a result of these findings, Mr. Arthur H. Cratty, State Conservationist, has determined that the preparation and review of environmental impact statements are not needed for this project.

The measure concerns a plan for critical area treatment. The planned works of improvement include the installation of approximately 500 feet of rock riprap, a diversion and erosion control structure, erosion control plantings on approximately 2 acres, rustic rail fence, barrier posts, and three walkways. Total construction costs are approximately $27,000; $13,500 R.C.&D. funds and $13,500 local funds.

The notice of intent not to prepare environmental impact statement has been forwarded to the Environmental Protection Agency. The basic data developed during the environmental assessment are on file and may be reviewed by contacting Mr. Arthur H. Cratty, State Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, 1405 South Harrison Road, East Lansing, Mich. 48823, 517-372-1910, extension 242. An environmental impact appraisal has been prepared and sent to various Federal, State, and local agencies and interested parties. A limited number of copies of the environmental impact appraisal are available to fill single copy requests at the above address.

No administrative action on implementation of the proposal will be taken until June 30, 1978.

Pursuant to section 102(2)(C) of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; the Council on Environmental Quality Guidelines (40 CFR Part 1500); and the Soil Conservation Service Guidelines (7 CFR Part 650); the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, gives notice that an environmental impact statement is not being prepared for the End of Point Abbaye Natural Area Public Water-Based Fish and Wildlife R.C.&D. Measure, Baraga County, Mich.

The environmental assessment of this Federally assisted action indicates that the project will not cause significant local, regional, or national impacts on the environment. As a result of these findings, Mr. Arthur H. Cratty, State Conservationist, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement are not needed for this project.

The measure concerns a plan for public water-based fish and wildlife. The planned works of improvement include the installation of a parking lot with a vehicle barrier, two vault toilets, a foot trail, and purchasing approximately 258 acres. Landrights costs are approximately $194,000; $97,000 R.C.&D. funds and $97,000 local funds. Basic facilities costs are approximately $11,500; $5,750 R.C.&D. funds and $5,750 local funds.

The notice of intent not to prepare an environmental impact statement has been forwarded to the Environmental Protection Agency. The basic data developed during the environmental assessment are on file and may be reviewed by contacting Mr. Arthur H. The environmental assessment of this Federally assisted action indicates that the project may cause significant local, regional, or national impacts on the environment. As a result of these findings, Mr. Guy W. Nutt, State Conservationist, has determined that the preparation and review of an environmental impact statement are needed for this project.

The measure concerns a plan for flood prevention and includes the enlargement of approximately 6 miles of North Lake Creek and 2,000 feet of Lake Creek.

A draft environmental impact statement will be prepared and circulated for review by agencies and the public. The Soil Conservation Service invites participation of agencies and individuals with expertise or interest in the preparation of the draft environmental impact statement. The draft environmental impact statement will be developed by Mr. Guy W. ALL U.S. AND FOREIGN DIRECT AND INDIRECT AIR CARRIERS AUTHORIZED TO OPERATE PASSENGER CHARTERS

Waiver of the Board's Economic and Special Regulations

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its offices in Washington, D.C. on the 19th day of April, 1978.

In the last several months, the Board has increasingly become aware of the competitive effects of the Super Saver, Skytrain, and other deeply discounted scheduled fares on charter operations. To maintain competitive opportunities for charter service in light of these fare reductions, we liberalized our charter rules on an interim basis,¹ pending completion of a longer range rulemaking proceeding. On March 14, ¹The principal amendments made at that time were (1) reduction of the ABC advance purchase period to 15 days, (2) allowance of 15% fill-up sales on ABC's, (3) elimination of minimum stay requirements for ABC's and OTC's, and (4) reduction of the ABC, OTC and ITC minimum group size to 20 (See SFR-142). Judicial review of these amendments is now pending in American Airlines, et al v. C.A.B., C.A.D.C. No. 78-10009, filed January 3, 1978.

1978, we instituted a comprehensive proceeding (SPDR-64, Docket 32242) in which we proposed to liberalize charter regulations even further by eliminating what we had tentatively decided were unnecessarily burdensome restrictions on charter operations.² In that proceeding we discussed fully the reasons for relaxing charter restrictions (which we incorporate by reference here), the foremost being that it will benefit the public by expanding the available low-fare travel options. However, we anticipate that this rulemaking proceeding will not be completed until the end of July, well into the peak travel period for this year.

On March 22, 1978, representatives of two major charter operator groups, the United States Tour Operator Association (USTOA) and the Air Charter Tour Operators of America (ACTOA), addressed the Board. They described market conditions in which charter operators, whose major function is to organize and sell charter flights, are losing ground in the competition with the discount fares now available on scheduled service. They argued that various restrictions, many of which the Board is considering eliminating in the proposed "Public Charter" rule (SPDR-64), prevent competitive marketing of charters, thus forcing cancellations due to insufficient participation. In addition, they argued that advertisements for scheduled discount fares may be misleading, by failing to disclose that only a limited number of seats are available for sale at such fares. They predicted that these conditions shortly will force many charter operators out of business and reduce the low-fare travel options available to the public, and requested emergency action by the Board to alleviate this alleged crisis.

ACTOA recommended five measures of relief: pricing flexibility (i.e., the ability to offer discounts); the sale of up to 25% of the contracted seats on Advance Booking Charters (ABC's) on a one-way basis; advertising guidelines for scheduled discount fares, which would require the carriers to delay advertising such fares until they are approved by the Board and to state in all advertisements that they are capacity limited; suspension of discount fares to countries which will not accept U.S. charter rules; and suspension of charter cancellation penalties when the air carrier contracted to perform the charter(s) institutes a scheduled discount fare over the same route.

ACTOA and USTOA supported their request for emergency relief with data that suggest that the proliferation of charter cancellations has significantly decreased charter activity and, at the same time, placed the charter operators in severe financial jeopardy, by causing them not only to suffer lost revenues but also forcing them to pay cancellation fees to air carriers when insufficient bookings force them to cancel flights.

In an attempt to determine the validity of the charter operators' claims that emergency action is warranted, we appointed a staff committee to investigate current charter activity. The committee surveyed charter operators and air carriers about actual rates of passenger bookings and flight cancellations this year, as compared with a year ago. The results of the surveys were weighed against recent charter experience as evidenced by the traffic statistics reported by the air carriers.³ The findings of the investigation did not refute the operators' assertions.⁴

During this same general time period, the staff received and reviewed several requests for waivers of various provisions of the charter rules, many of which would be eliminated or changed if the Board were to adopt the proposed Public Charter.⁵ The waiver requests also sought emergency relief for charter operators.

In a calendar meeting on April 10, 1978, the Board tentatively decided to grant a blanket waiver to all direct and indirect air carriers authorizing emergency implementation of several provisions of the pending, Public Charter rule, as well as some of the proposals advanced by charter operators in the waiver requests. We set an expedited oral argument for April 18, 1978 (Order 78-4-49, dated April 11, 1978), to give interested persons an opportunity to comment on our tentative findings.⁶

In a calendar meeting on April 19, 1978, we reconsidered the charter operator emergency in light of the additional information obtained from the oral argument held the previous day. We concluded that the available information indicates that charter operators are indeed experiencing severe difficulty in trying to compete with the vast number of recently instituted discount fares on scheduled service. The charter operators who responded to our recent survey reported that they had received 35% fewer reservations as of the end of March 1978 than at the same time in 1977. Their reported cancellation rate (i.e., the percentage of seats originally contracted with the direct air carriers which had been cancelled) as of the end of March 1978 for flights to be operated during the months of April through July was 25%, compared to 1.3% at that same point the year before.

These figures, and similar cancellation statistics submitted by individual tour operators through the Early Warning System and the oral argument,⁷ in our judgment signal a charter operator emergency. We have no reason to doubt that charter operators face very serious, and possibly debilitating, competitive impediments because of our charter restrictions, on the one hand, and the rapid proliferation of discount fares on scheduled service, on the other. It is also clear that what happens to charter operators ultimately affects the travelling public and supplemental carriers. Charter operators have played and continue to play an important role in generating air travel by promoting and developing various vacation destinations and creating attractive tour packages. They also serve as vital bulk purchasers of seating capacity of the supplemental carriers. Thus, we believe that reasonable steps should be taken to relax regulatory restrictions on their ability to compete during the period we are re-examining the respective roles of charters and scheduled service.

We stress also the importance of enabling charters to accommodate what we anticipate will be record numbers of travellers during the peak summer months, including many who will wait until shortly before their travel dates to make their arrangements. We firmly believe that low-fare service should be available to all members of the travelling public, to the extent it can be economically provided. The available data suggest that the demand for low-priced seats will probably exceed the available supply on scheduled service by a wide margin; that there will therefore be a need for charter service; and that in the present unsettled situation, in which travellers are postponing making the necessary charter arrangements in the expectation of being able to travel on scheduled service, charter cancellations may make unavailable many low-cost seats that will in fact be required but that tour operators may at that late date be unable to assemble under the restrictions to which they are now subject, with consequent disruption of plans and serious inconvenience to American travellers. In addition, healthy charter programs will foster competition in the industry throughout the peak season, to the benefit of the entire travelling public.

Since we already have tentatively concluded that many of the existing charter restrictions should be removed, charter operators are, in effect, hampered because of the regulatory time lag in effectuating changing Board policy. The need to examine carefully the comments filed in docket 32242 will delay any final decision on the Public Charter rulemaking until mid summer, too late to be useful for the 1978 peak travel season. The charter operator situation, in our view, is serious enough to cause irreparable harm unless we take immediate interim steps to maintain the viability of charter competition. Immediate action of this type may provide some measure of relief for charter operators, while it is not likely to cause permanent damage to the parties who have contested it.

We emphasize additionally that the relief we grant here does not disallow the low competitive fares, as they ask us to do. We do not proceed by imposing restrictions on their competitors. Instead, we proceed only by relaxing artificial restrictions that, whatever their legal justification in the past, the Board itself has imposed, and that limit their ability to compete.

We therefore conclude that a sufficient emergency does exist to warrant the immediate grant of partial relief in the form of a temporary (90 day) blanket waiver to all direct and indirect air carriers. As one court has observed, "The Board is not required to wait for the horse to be stolen before closing the barn door." United Air Lines v. C.A.B., Nos. 75-2165, et al. (D.C. Cir., filed November 28, 1977). The waiver, which applies only to charters whose outbound flight is operated between April 19, 1978, and July 18, 1978, authorizes the following:

(1) Elimination of the existing minimum group size requirements and the prohibition against intermingling passengers on ABC's, One-stop-inclusive Tour Charters (OTC's) and Inclusive Tour Charters (ITC's), as long as the operator contracts with the air carrier for a minimum of 20 seats per charter flight and charter type. This provision will enable charter operators to intermingle on the same flight, and within the same group of 20 or more persons, passengers with different departure or return dates.⁸ This will add flexibility to charter travel by enabling passengers to choose their outbound and return flights from the charter operator's entire program, thus accommodating travellers, such as students and teachers, who wish to travel for extended periods of time.

(2) The sale of one-way ABC's, except to or from points in the United Kingdom.⁹ This measure will enable charter operators to accommodate passengers who want one-way transportation, and to compete more effectively with the deep discount fares that are sold on a one-way basis.¹⁰

(3) The conversion of empty seats on filed ITC and OTC flights to ABC's without operators' having to file complete ABC prospectuses with the Board.¹¹ This will allow charter operators to take full advantage of the one-way feature of ABC's, authorized above.

(4) Price flexibility on ABC's, ITC's and OTC's. The authority we are granting here will enable charter operators to develop marketing strategies by adjusting prices upward and downward to suit changing market circumstances and to attract price-sensitive travellers. Implicit in this grant is the elimination of the applicability of minimum tour price requirements for ITC's and OTC's.¹²

⁸With respect to charter depository requirements, we will require the depository bank to maintain a separate accounting for each charter group, i.e., for all participants following the same itinerary.

⁹On March 17, 1978, the U.S. and U.K. agreed to charterworthiness standards which did not include one-way ABC's, ITC's, or OTC's for flights between the countries.

¹⁰By permitting the sale of one-way ABC's, we are authorizing charter operators to market both one-way charter flights, i.e., those with no provision for return transportation, and one-way seats on round-trip flights. We are not, however, authorizing the sale of round-trip seats with "open return" dates.

¹¹Such conversions are conditioned on notification by the charter operator to the Board's Special Authorities Division within five days of the changes and on receipt of requisite amendments to the bond coverage, if necessary.

¹²Such price variations, of course, must comply with section 404(b) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as amended, which prohibits "unjust discrimination".

(5) In cases where a charter operator is forced to cancel a charter flight due to insufficient participation, transfer of booked passengers, at no additional cost, to comparable, round-trip or one-way scheduled service, as appropriate.¹³ The rate to be charged by the direct air carrier will be negotiable and may be as low as the applicable charter rate. This will enable charter operators to salvage charter programs with insufficient bookings, thus fulfilling the travel plans of charter participants whose trips would otherwise be canceled.¹⁴

(6) Payment to the direct air carrier for split charters a minimum of 15 days before departure, instead of 30 days. By allowing charter operators 15 additional days to collect payments to contribute toward payment to the air carrier, this provision will help minimize charter cancellations. Parts 371 and 378a of the Special Regulations prohibit ABC and OTC operators from cancelling flights due to lack of participation within 15 days before departure. Permitting split charter payments up to 15 days before departure will merely make this provision consistent with the Special Regulations.¹⁵

(7) At the direct air carrier's option, operation of a charter flight where the entire capacity of the aircraft is not under contract. With this authority, split charter operators will be able to accommodate their participants, despite cancellation by the other split charter operator(s) or inability of the air carrier to find an operator to contract for the remainder of the aircraft. This process will also enable air carriers to receive some revenue for what might otherwise have to be operated as non-revenue ferry flights.

Although the charter operators requested other forms of emergency relief, including elimination of the ABC advance purchase and minimum contract size requirements, immediate advertisement of new charter programs pending Board review, and additional fill-up sales on ABC's, we are unable to find that the emergency situation warrants grant of these additional provisions. Since the primary objective of this action is to provide charter operators with temporary, emergency relief, pending a more thorough analysis of the situation, including the review of comments submitted in the Public Charter rulemaking, we will limit this authorization to a period of 90 days. We expect to complete our work on the Public Charter rulemaking before the 90 day period is over. We will require charter operators to report the implementation of those provisions which we have authorized, so that we can monitor the effects of this blanket waiver. Notifications should be sent to the Special Authorities Division, Bureau of Pricing and Domestic Aviation, in lieu of amendments which would otherwise be filed in accordance with the Special Regulations.¹⁶

¹³On April 21, 1978, the National Air Carrier Association (NACA) filed a motion to file an otherwise unauthorized document which objected to this provision; and on April 25, 1978, Brendan Tours, Duncan Tours, Charter Travel Corporation and Sytour filed a motion to file an otherwise unauthorized document refuting that of NACA. We have decided to accept both motions. While we are not convinced that any change in this provision is warranted at this time, we will, in light of the arguments advanced by NACA, monitor the effects of this provision, and if necessary, adopt a standard to prevent abuse of this authority.

¹⁴This provision does not authorize the operator to cancel a trip within 15 days before flight departure. The operator must decide, by that date, whether the charter will operate or whether the passengers can be accommodated on comparable scheduled service.

¹⁵The purpose of these measures is to allow participants of canceled charter flights adequate time to make alternate travel arrangements.

For the reasons explained above, we conclude that special and unusual circumstances exist and that grant of emergency relief in the form of a blanket waiver is in the public interest.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That:

1. All certificated U.S. air carriers, U.S. charter operators, and those foreign air carriers holding permits under section 402 of the Act to engage in the direct or indirect carriage of passengers are granted blanket waivers of parts 207, 208, 212, 214, 371, 378, and 378a of the Economic and Special Regulations, to the extent necessary to operate ABC's, ITC's, and OTC's subject to the conditions and as described in paragraphs (1) through (7) above.

2. This waiver is conditioned on notification from the charter operator to the Special Authorities Division within 5 days of the implementation of the provisions granted here;

3. This order shall become effective immediately and shall remain in effect until July 18, 1978, or until such earlier date as Board action in Docket 32242 becomes effective;

4. To the extent not granted, the waiver applications described in Attachment A to Order 78-4-49 are denied;

5. The petition for reconsideration filed by British Airways is denied;

6. The motions of NACA and Brendan Tours, Duncan Tours, Charter Travel Corp. and Sytour for leave to file unauthorized documents are granted; and

7. This order may be amended or revoked by the Board at any time without hearing.

¹⁶The Director of the Board's Bureau of Accounts and Statistics will be issuing instructions shortly on other reports which may be needed to monitor charter operations during this waiver period.

This order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.¹⁷

PHYLLIS T. KAYLOR,
Secretary.

O'Melia, Member, Dissenting:

Having agreed, with a few misgivings, to sending the Public Charter rule out for comment,¹⁸ I am now confronted with the even more unsettling proposition of granting a blanket 90-day waiver from our existing charter regulations in order to avert the consequences of a perceived tour operator emergency. I cannot agree to this rather drastic remedy for a number of reasons, but principally because it is unlikely to be of significant benefit to the public or to any segment of the industry during this brief interim period and constitutes an unwise and unwarranted precedent.

As a threshold matter, I am mindful that the Board is obliged under the present state of the law to "maintain the required distinction between charter services and that of the regularly scheduled airlines". Pan American World Airways, Inc. and Trans World Airlines, Inc. v. CAB, 517 F. 2d 734, 747 (C.A. 2, 1975). I expressed reservations as to whether that duty was being discharged when we issued the proposed liberalizations in the Public Charter rulemaking.¹⁹ I noted there that the proposed changes took us to the very brink of losing that legal distinction. Until we have an opportunity to review the comments to our Public Charter proposed rule, I am loath to grant waiver relief of the variety embodied here.²⁰ The majority insists that they see no reason to allow charter operators to suffer substantial economic losses because our rulemaking procedures require so much time. The fact is, however, that the Administrative Procedure Act was promulgated with the precise objective in mind of forcing agencies to implement rule changes only after carefully weighing public comments.²¹

As the Bureau of Pricing and Domestic Aviation reminded us in presenting the pros and cons of this action, the Board has traditionally declined to permit rulemaking proposals to be pre-empted by granting waivers or exemptions of the basic provisions at issue in the rulemaking proceeding. By granting this waiver before we have had an opportunity to weigh the comments on the public charter, it would appear that the Board is anticipating the outcome of the rulemaking proceeding. Moreover, we are creating, in my judgment, a thoroughly unhealthy precedent that is not warranted by ¹⁷All Members concurred except Member O'Melia who filed the attached dissent.

²⁰Waiver relief, by its very nature is intended to be narrowly focused so as to target particular circumstances. The "blanket" waiver here is not that, it is also directed at dangers that are, at best, conjectural at this point.

²¹As Professor Davis has pointed out, the mainstay of rulemaking "is submission of tentative drafts to affected parties for written comments. The simple system of deferred effectiveness of published rules in order to allow criticisms has been quite successful." Davis, Administrative Law Treatise, section 6.12, p. 405 (1958).

the circumstances. If a waiver of the dimensions prescribed here can be obtained upon a showing of a mere likelihood of economic losses, the Board can look forward to being deluged by applicants for waiver relief upon a showing of even less speculative damages.²² Given our clear legal obligations in this area, I believe we should be particularly cautious in embarking on such a course.

Furthermore, the evidence of this "emergency" is something less than clear and convincing.²³ Survey results showing the level of charter sales anticipated by the supplemental and scheduled carriers for April and May indicate that 1978 will be a good charter year. Although there has been a large drop in reservations for May, June, and July, the tour operators themselves suggest that consumers are very probably booking late, in order to see what the situation is likely to be with respect to discount fares before committing themselves. In short, the disastrous economic consequences that are relied upon to justify today's action are at present, still speculative. Given this basic reality, I believe any action taken before the conclusion of our rulemaking on Public Charters is premature and unnecessarily precipitous.

Now let us review briefly the elements being waived in this cavalry-charge gesture to see if they are of such significance and of such a lifesaving nature for tour operators that they justify the taking of an extraordinary action. There were seven listed items in the press release, CAB 78-77, that announced the effectiveness of the blanket waiver on April 21. One of the seven, allowing charter operators who cancel flights to place their passengers on scheduled service at charter rates, has already had to be pulled back. In taking its hasty action, the Board inadvertently (it was unkind of the supplemental carriers in their Joint Motion to Stay of May 3, 1978, to characterize this as "unwittingly") may have been authorizing "part charters", an issue presenting far-reaching implications and demanding a more deliberate decision. Accordingly, the Board in Order 78-5-85 of May 15, 1978, granted the motion of the Joint Carriers to stay the effectiveness of this one provision.

Four of the elements in the blanket waiver are designed to correct inconsistencies in the Board's charter regulations or to reduce unnecessary administrative burdens. These waivers would: (1) Permit the conversion of empty seats on ITC and OTC flights to ABC's without having to refile the charter prospectus; (2) lift a restrictive interpretation on the possibility of offering discounts on ABC's, ITC's and OTC's; (3) authorize payment to the direct air carrier for split charters a minimum of 15 days before departure, rather than 30 days; and (4) at the direct air carrier's option, authorize the operation of less-than-plane-load charters. I do not question that these provisions could be helpful in some circumstances, when properly implemented. However, none of them can be categorized as a real "shot in the arm".

²²In an effort to apprise the Board of this danger, the Board staff warned of the possibility of such consequences and cited a recent example where the grant of one waiver led to the receipt of 41 similar requests within one week.

Two of the provisions, the possibility of intermingling passengers on ABC's, ITC's and OTC's, and the possibility of selling one-way ABC's (except to the United Kingdom), unlike the above four provisions, represent significant changes at issue in the rulemaking, and under certain circumstances would be beneficial to the tour operators. However, notwithstanding a possible need for these modifications (which has not yet been demonstrated both of these waivers present marketing problems and can only be applied internationally to countries that would accept these changes. In a 90-day period, they cannot possibly result in enough material gain to outweigh the preceptual and procedural detriments of acting on a rulemaking before comments are received.

I pointed out during oral argument that it is highly likely that some foreign governments, particularly some European governments, will not accept, as a general rule, these proposed charter liberalizations. In particular, the one-way charters are very likely to be unacceptable. I recognize that our concerns are much broader in this respect than the European area, but we need to recall that of a total of 1,181,292 ABC's of U.S. origin in 1977, 1,104,556 were destined for European points. Although BPDA has suggested that waivers may be more palatable to foreign countries than liberalizations embodied in rule changes, I believe that is hardly the case here. By issuing a waiver before considering the responses received regarding the Public Charter concept, we are exhibiting a lack of restraint that will not auger well as we endeavor to acquire foreign acceptance.²⁴ In the foreign arena, where formal measures and perceptions are as important as substantive provisions, it is ill-advised to leap-frog our procedures as we are doing here.

In conclusion, I am sympathetic to the majority's concern over the effects of the recent low fare tariffs on the tour operators, but I cannot bring myself to elasticize our statutory and legal duties as must be done to grant this waiver. I hope that the Board's action in issuing this blanket waiver will not operate to prejudice the matters at issue in our Public Charter rulemaking.

RICHARD J. O'MELIA.

²⁴Already several countries have indicated they oppose the Public Charter concept. The European Civil Aviation Conference (ECAC) in a telegram of April 26, 1978, to the Department of State has expressed its opposition to the Public Charter proposal on legal and economic grounds.

Foreign-Trade Zones Board

[Docket No. 6-78]

FOREIGN-TRADE ZONE NO. 22, CHICAGO

Application for Expansion of Zone and Approval of Steel Manufacturing Operations

Notice is hereby given that the Chicago Regional Port District (the Port), Chicago, Ill., Grantee of Foreign-Trade Zone No. 22, has applied to the Foreign-Trade Zones Board (the Board) for authority to expand its zone to include a transit shed, and for approval to permit certain steel processing operations within the existing and expanded areas.

The Chicago zone was authorized by the Board on October 29, 1975, under Board Order 108 (40 FR 51242, 11-4-75). It is on a 25-acre site within the 2,250-acre Lake Calumet Harbor area on Chicago's South Side, with 232,000 square feet of existing warehouse/processing space. Operations got underway during 1977.

The request for expansion, made in accordance with section 400.607 of the Board's regulations (15 CFR Part 400), calls for the addition of a 72,000-square-foot warehouse (transit shed No. 2), contiguous to the present site. The grantee proposes to lease the facility for a steel processing operation which would involve the splitting, bending and rolling of foreign and domestic steel to produce agricultural grain and feed bins, primarily for the domestic market. Employment of 100 persons is estimated.

The applicant also requests approval, pursuant to its grant of authority, for an operation within the existing zone area that would involve the leveling, splitting, shearing and stamping of foreign and domestic coiled steel. The cuttings and stampings would be made to the specifications of domestic and foreign customers. This operation is expected to employ 125 persons.

In accordance with the Board's regulations, an examiners committee has been appointed to investigate the application and report thereon to the Board. The committee consists of: Hugh J. Dolan (Chairman), Office of the Secretary, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230; Leo W. Partyka, Director (Inspection and Control Division), Chicago District, U.S. Customs Service, 610 S. Canal Street, Chicago, Ill. 60607; and Lt. Col. Howard N. Nicholas, District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District Chicago, 219 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60604.

As part of its investigation of the proposal, the examiners committee will hold a public hearing, beginning at 9 a.m., on June 20, 1978, in room 204A of the Dirksen Federal Office Building, 219 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. The purpose of the hearing is to help inform interested persons about the proposal, to provide them with an opportunity for comment, and to obtain information useful to the examiners committee.

Interested persons are invited to present their comments at the hearing. Such persons should, by June 16, 1978, notify the Board's Executive Secretary of their desire to be heard in writing at the address below, or by phone 202-377-2862. In lieu of an oral presentation, written statements may be submitted to the examiners committee, care of the Executive Secretary, at any time from the date of this notice through July 20, 1978. The submission of evidence is not desired during the post-hearing period unless it is clearly shown that the matter is new and material and that there are good reasons why it could not be presented before or during the hearing.

In making their comments, persons are asked to take into account section 400.807 of the Board's regulations, which gives the Board authority to exclude from zones operations detrimental to the public interest. This section would apply to cases in which zone activity is claimed to have an adverse impact on domestic industry.

A copy of the Port's application will be available for public inspection until July 20, 1978, at each of the following locations:

U.S.-JAPAN TRADE-TRADE FACILITATION COMMITTEE

Grievance Procedures

1. Purpose. This notice is issued to provide information about filing grievances with the U.S.-Japan Trade Facilitation Committee to U.S. companies and other U.S. exporters that have encountered problems exporting to Japan because of Japanese governmental actions or regulations.

2. Background. The Trade Facilitation Committee ("TFC") is a joint effort by the United States and Japan to remove trade impediments that have restricted the entry of U.S. goods into the Japanese market. It provides a new governmental channel to assist U.S. exporting efforts.

The TFC was set up in September 1977 by the U.S. Secretary of Commerce and the Japanese Minister of International Trade and Industry to foster the increase of imports into Japan through cooperation in trade development activities and in the resolution of market access problems. The Committee is under the direction of the Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Industry and Trade and his Japanese counterpart in the Ministry of International Trade and Industry. Examples of Japanese governmental import-restrictive regulations or actions that may be considered to hinder U.S. exports to Japan are arbitrary procurement practices, unreasonable or arbitrary customs procedures, and arbitrary administration of product safety and health standards. Examples of problems not within the scope of the TFC's work are import duty or import quota levels which are being negotiated at the Multilateral Trade Negotiations in Geneva or problems arising from business transactions be-between private Japanese and American companies such as nonpayment, non-delivery of goods, failure to meet contractual obligations, patent or trademark infringements, etc.

3. Grievance procedure. The U.S. side of the TFC, working within the Department of Commerce under the Assistant Secretary for Industry and Trade, has established certain procedures for receiving, handling, and presenting U.S. companies' grievances to the Japanese TFC:

(i) Initiation of grievance process. Any U.S. company which believes that the export of its products into Japan has been impeded or prevented by arbitrarily restrictive Japanese governmental regulations or actions is encouraged to send its grievance to:

Trade Facilitation Committee, Industry and Trade Administration (BIEPR/OCA/TFC), Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, tel. 202-377-4331. Attention: Norman Glick.

The grievant company may telephone Mr. Glick at 202-377-4331 or, in his absence, Sally Lord Ellis, Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Industry and Trade at 202-377-5128.

(ii) TFC contact with grievant company. The grievant company ("grievant") will be contacted by letter or by telephone by a U.S. TFC Staff member in the Department of Commerce ("U.S. TFC Staff") upon receipt of the grievance. Additional information may be requested to enable the U.S. TFC Staff to determine initially whether the problem is within the scope of its mandate and whether it is appropriate for presentation. Upon receipt of the information a tentative decision whether or not to proceed will be made by the U.S. TFC Staff. The preliminary decision whether or not to proceed is within the discretion of the U.S. TFC Staff.

(iii) Formal request by U.S. TFC Staff for detailed information. Once a preliminary decision to proceed has been reached, the grievant will be sent a request for detailed information about the nature of the import problem, the grievant's response to it, and the type of relief sought. In particular, the following information will be requested:

The name of any Japanese government agency or agencies, or Japanese official(s) involved (including, if available, any pertinent correspondence and/or documentation).

A brief chronology of the problem: when it first arose; actions taken by the grievant to resolve it; responses by the Japanese (if any) to the grievant's request for favorable action (including, if available, any pertinent correspondence and/or documentation).

Citation of applicable Japanese government laws or regulations relating to the problem (together with an English language abstract, if available).

The estimated annual value of the grievant's or the industry's exports to Japan and worldwide (grievant does not have to provide any information it considers confidential).

Relief requested by the grievant.

(iv) Final decision to proceed; preparation of the case. Upon receiving the information requested (subsection (iii) above), the U.S. TFC Staff will make a final decision whether or not to proceed. A final decision whether or not to proceed is within the discretion of the U.S. TFC Staff. If a decision to proceed is made, the grievant's case will be thoroughly reviewed by Department of Commerce technical experts and by the Department of Commerce's Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Industry and Trade.

(v) Presentation of formal grievance to the Japanese side of the TFC. Once the legal and factual review of the case is completed, a formal grievance will be drawn up by the Office of the Assistant General Counsel for Industry and Trade and will be presented by the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo, along with supporting documentation, to the Japanese side of the TFC. The Japanese response to the grievance will be communicated to the U.S. TFC Staff for transmittal to the grievant.

If the grievant is not satisfied by the Japanese response, the U.S. Government, if it deems such action appropriate, may request the Japanese Government to reconsider its position.

Further information on the TFC and the grievance procedures may be obtained from:

Norman Glick, Trade Facilitation Committee, Industry and Trade Administration (BIEPR/OCA/TFC), Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, tel. 202-377-4331,

or

[Docket Nos. RP74-61 (PGA78-2) and RP76-10 (PGA78-2)]

ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS CO.

Order Accepting for Filing and Suspending
Proposed PGA Rate Increase, Waiving
Notice Requirements, Denying Motion To Consolidate, Initiating Hearing and Establishing Procedures

MAY 19, 1978.

On March 28, 1978, Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co. (Arkla), tendered for filing revised tariff sheets reflecting increases in rates for its G-2 and X-26 rate schedules that are proposed under the purchased gas adjustment (PGA) provisions in Arkla's tariff. In Docket No. RP76-10 (PGA78-2) Arkla proposes a 13.85 cents per Mcf increase to Rate Schedule X-26 for sales to Cities Service Gas Co.¹ This proposed rate change includes a 10.49 cents per Mcf increase in the cost of purchased gas plus a 3.36 cents per Mcf increase in the surcharge to recover the balance in Arkla's deferred purchased gas cost account. In Docket No. RP74-61 (PGA78-2) Arkla proposes a 50.46 cents per Mcf increase to Rate Schedule G-2 for general service.² This includes a 10.55 cents per Mcf increase in purchased gas costs plus a 39.91 cents per Mcf increase in the surcharge to recover the deferred account balance.³ Effective dates of May 1, 1978 were proposed.

Notices of these filings were issued on April 3, 1978, providing for protests or petitions to intervene to be filed on or before April 17, 1978. On April 6, 1978, the City of Winfield, Kans. (Winfield) filed a protest and petition to intervene in Docket No. RP74-61 (PGA78-2) and a motion to consolidate. By letter of April 11, 1978, the Secretary of the Commission informed Arkla that its PGA filings should be supplemented with information on the emergency purchases included in its filings at rates in excess of those established by Opinion No. 770-A and with tabulations of the prices of new purchases, and that no filing date would be assigned until these data were received. Additional information was filed by Arkla on April 21, 1978. Arkla also filed an answer to Winfield's protest on April 24, 1978. On May 18, 1978, the Mangum Utilities Authority (Mangum) filed a petition to intervene which also joined in support of Winfield's April 6, 1978, pleading.

¹Fifteenth Revised Sheet No. 185 to Arkla's FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No.3.

²Seventeenth Revised Sheet No. 4 to Arkla's FERC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1.

³The difference in the increases in costs of purchased gas results from the difference in delivery pressure. The large surcharge to the G-2 rate schedule reflects the accrual over the fall and winter months of deferred costs to be recovered over the summer and fall months in which total sales are lower.

The proposed PGA rate increases will be accepted for filing as of April 21, 1978, when Arkla submitted the required data to supplement its original filings in these dockets. Waiver of the thirty day notice requirements will be granted to permit a proposed effective date of May 1, 1978. The proposed rate increases will be suspended for one day and permitted to become effective May 2, 1978, subject to refund and the outcome of a pending consolidated proceeding concerning previous PGA filings by Arkla. A hearing will be ordered on one limited issue, the prudence of an emergency purchase from Oklahoma Natural Gas Co.; and Winfield's motion to consolidate will be denied.

In their protests Winfield and Mangum request a one day suspension of the proposed rates in Docket No. RP74-61 (PGA78-2) and consolidation of this docket with the proceedings in Docket Nos. RP77-55 and RP74-61 (PGA77-5). Several issues are raised. First, Winfield and Mangum question Arkla's methodology for computing the specific increase by appending a portion of a prior protest filed October 25, 1977 in Docket No. RP74-61 (PGA77-5).⁴ Next, Winfield and Mangum make similar allegation with respect to the wholesale rates charged to it by Arkla as compared with the retail rates charged by Arkla to its Oklahoma retail customers reiterate the allegation of "price squeeze" caused by price discrimination between Arkla's wholesale rates to Winfield and its retail rates filed with the State Corporation Commission of Kansas. This issue was first presented in an amendment to Winfield's petition to intervene in Docket Nos. RP77-55 and RP74-61 (PGA77-5) which was filed on February 7, 1978 and is pending before the Commission.

Winfield and Mangum further allege that in this filing Arkla has improperly attempted to collect the increased ⁴On September 30, 1977, Arkla tendered proposed PGA rate increases in Docket Nos. RP74-61 (PGA77-5) and RP76-10 (PGA77-5). Following the issuance of a deficiency letter, Arkla submitted additional information on November 1, 1977. Winfield had submitted, on October 25, 1977, a protest, petition to intervene and motion to consolidate these dockets with the pending proceeding on Arkla's general rate increase filing in Docket No. RP77-55. By order issued December 1, 1977, the Commission suspended the proposed increases for one day, until November 2, 1977, ordered a full hearing, and granted Winfield's motion to consolidate.

PGA revenues attributable to the one day, November 1, 1977, during which Arkla's previous PGA filing had been suspended. Winfield and Mangum suggest that Arkla has "treated the Commission's suspension order on that prior filing as merely deferring the date of collection of the PGA costs not collected on November 1, 1977." Finally, Winfield and Mangum request that the Commission Staff be ordered to investigate the PGA costs in excess of the applicable national or area rate levels and " . . . whether Arkla is receiving all of the low cost, flowing gas it is entitled to from its producer suppliers under its contracts and Commission issued certificates." In an answer filed April 24, 1978, Arkla contends that Winfield's numerous allegations are "unsupported or inaccurate" and opposes the motion to consolidate.⁵

Based on a review of Arkla's filing, as supplemented with detailed information on its emergency purchases, and Winfield's protest, the Commission has determined that Arkla's proposed PGA rate increases have not been shown to be just and reasonable and may be unjust, unreasonable, discriminatory, or otherwise unlawful. Accordingly, the proposed rates will be suspended for one day or until May 2, 1978, when they will be permitted to become effective subject to refund. Collection of these rates will be subject to the outcome of the ongoing consolidated proceeding in Docket Nos. RP77-55 and RP74-61 (PGA77-5) where Winfield has already challenged Arkla's methodology in computing its PGA rate increase. A hearing will be ordered in the current PGA dockets, RP74-61 (PGA78-2) and RP76-10 (PGA78-2); and these dockets will be consolidated for hearing and decision. This hearing shall be limited to a determination of the prudence of Arkla's emergency purchase from Oklahoma Natural Gas Co. at $1.90 per MMBtu during the subject period.

We do not find it appropriate or necessary to set for hearing the additional allegations of Winfield and Mangum with the exception of the "price squeeze" issue discussed below. Collection of the proposed increases will be subject to the outcome of the prior proceeding that concerns Arkla's method of computing its PGA rate increases.⁶ Furthermore, the issue of whether Arkla is receiving its full entitlement of "low priced flowing gas" shall be made subject to the outcome of the issue in the previous docket.⁷ Formal consolidation and inclusion of these dockets would complicate and unnecessarily delay that ongoing proceeding. The "price squeeze" allegations of Winfield and Mangum will be considered in a separate order addressing the merits of its amended petition to intervene. It is more appropriate that the "price squeeze" allegations be addressed in the consolidated proceedings in Docket Nos. RP77-55 et al., which involve, among other things, an investigation of a general rate increase.

⁵No response has been received to Mangum's pleading.

⁶As to the new contracts not contained in previous Arkla PGA filings, our review indicates the rates charged are in conformance with the applicable national producer rate orders.

We reject Winfield's and Mangum's suggestion that Arkla is improperly attempting to collect the portion of its PGA rates and charges that was suspended for one day on November 1, 1977. The Commission's regulations permitting PGA tariff provisions provide a mechanism for recovery of all valid costs incurred in purchasing gas supplies.⁸ Through the suspension of Arkla's prior PGA rate filing, Arkla was, in fact, prevented from collecting increased revenues on that day. Arkla was and is permitted to include in its deferred account all valid costs of purchased gas that have not yet been recovered. Later collection of those costs is appropriate unless the charges paid to producers are found to be unlawful or imprudent. We are suspending Arkla's current PGA increases, which include a surcharge to recover the balance in the deferred account. Thus, Arkla's PGA rates can be reduced to reflect the elimination of invalid purchased gas costs. In its protest, Winfield and Mangum have not supported any specific allegation that Arkla is attempting to recover improper costs of purchased gas, except by appending a prior protest of an Arkla filing that was suspended and set for hearing. The current PGA increases will be collected subject to refund upon conclusion of that proceeding. Further, we have reviewed Arkla's current filings, requested and received additional data, and ordered a limited hearing to determine if the costs of one purchase were incurred imprudently.

Last, the Commission finds that Winfield and Mangum have demonstrated an interest in this proceeding within thirty days, in a hearing room on the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, for the purposes of establishing procedures for the investigation and hearing to be held pursuant to this order. The Presiding Judge shall be authorized to modify all procedural dates and to establish further procedures as may in his judgment be required for purposes of the investigation and hearing pursuant to this order. The Presiding Judge shall also be authorized to rule upon all motions except motions to consolidate, sever, or dismiss, as provided for in the rules of practice and procedure.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a limited hearing concerning the lawfulness of the rates proposed by Arkla and that the proposed increased PGA rates be accepted for filing and suspended as ordered below.

⁷The rules governing PGA tariff provisions are set forth in §154.38(d)(4) of the Regulations which begins with the statement that "[A] natural gas pipeline company may submit a purchased gas cost adjustment provision (PGA clause) to flow through changes in the costs of purchased gas." As explained in Order No. 452, 47 FPC 1049, 1051 (1972), this section " . . . provides for deferred accounting for certain supplier rate changes, including those of producers, and thus assures recovery of all purchased gas costs."

The Commission orders: (A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly Sections 4, 5, 8, and 15, and the Commission's rules and regulations, a public hearing shall be held in this proceeding to determine the prudence of the costs of Arkla's emergency purchase from Oklahoma Natural Gas Co. as shown in its filings of March 28, 1978, and April 21, 1978 in these dockets.

(B) Docket Nos. RP74-61 (PGA78-2) and RP76-10 (PGA78-2) are hereby consolidated for purposes of the hearing ordered above and for decision thereupon.

(C) Arkla's proposed PGA rate increases in these dockets are assigned a filing date of April 21, 1978, and waiver of the thirty day notice requirements is granted to permit a proposed effective date of May 1, 1978.

(D) Pending hearing and decision, and subject to the outcome of the pending consolidated proceeding in Docket Nos. RP77-54, RP77-55, RP74-61 (PGA77-5), and RP76-10 (PGA77-5) Arkla's Fifteenth Revised Sheet No. 185 to its FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 3, and Arkla's Seventeenth Revised Sheet No. 4 to its FERC Gas Tariff, First Revised Volume No. 1, are hereby accepted for filing and suspended for one day, until May 2, 1978, when they shall be permitted to become effective subject to refund.

(E) Winfield's motion to consolidate Docket No. RP74-61 (PGA78-2) with Docket Nos. RP77-54, RP77-55, RP74-61 (PGA7705), and RP76-10 (PGA77-5), filed on April 6, 1978, is hereby denied.

(F) A Presiding Administrative Law Judge, to be designated by the Chief Administrative Law Judge pursuant to 18 CFR 3.5(d), shall convene a pre-hearing conference in this proceeding within thirty days, in a hearing room on the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, for the purposes of establishing procedures for the investigation and hearing to be held pursuant to this order. The Presiding Judge shall be authorized to modify all procedural dates and to establish further procedures as may in his judgment be required for purposes of the investigation and hearing pursuant to this order. The Presiding Judge shall also be authorized to rule upon all motions except motions to consolidate, sever, or dismiss, as provided for in the rules of practice and procedure.

(G) Winfield and Mangum shall be permitted to intervene in this proceeding subject to the Commission's rules and regulations; Provided, however, That the participation of intervenors shall be limited to matters affecting asserted rights and interests specifically set forth in their respective petitions to intervene; and Provided, further, That the admission of such intervenors shall not be construed as recognition that they might be aggrieved by any order entered in this proceeding.

(H) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

BOSTON EDISON CO.

Filing

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that on May 11, 1978, Boston Edison Co. ("Edison") tendered for filing a proposed rate schedule for purchase by Reading Municipal Light Department of 23,000 kW of capacity and the energy corresponding thereto, of Edison's New Boston Units 1 and 2 for the period November 1, 1980 to October 31, 1981.

Edison requests that, pursuant to § 35.3 of the Commission's regulations, the 90-day notice period be waived and that the Commission allow the proposed rate schedule described herein to become effective more than 90 days prior to the proposed effective date.

Copies of the filing were served upon Reading, according to Edison.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the subject matter of this notice should on or before June 9, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission petitions to intervene or protests in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.9, 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will not serve to make protestants parties to any proceeding. Persons wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules. The documents referred to herein are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

CENTRAL TELEPHONE & UTILITIES CORP.

Filing

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that Central Telephone & Utilities Corp. (CTU) on May 15, 1978, tendered for filing proposed changes in its Federal Power Commission Electric Service Tariff No. 33.

CTU states that the filing is Service Schedule P, Participation Power Service, which provides electric power and accompanying energy to be supplied June 1, 1978, through May 31, 1979, to Sunflower Electric Cooperative, Inc. (Sunflower). CTU further states that CTU desires to sell Sunflower 50 MW of capacity of a specific 146 MW steam electric generating unit identified as Judson Large Unit No. 4, which is owned by CTU.

CTU proposes an effective date of June 1, 1978, and therefore requests waiver of the Commission's notice requirements.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10. All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before June 5, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Project No. 588]

CROWN ZELLERBACH CORP.

Application for New Major License for Constructed Project

MAY 23, 1978.

Public notice is hereby given that an application has been filed under the Federal Power Act ("the Act") (16 U.S.C. 791(a)-825(r) (1970)) by Crown Zellerbach Corp. ("Crown Zellerbach") for a new major license for its constructed Glines Canyon Project, FERC Project No. 588. The project is located on the Elwha River in Clallam County, Wash., near the town of Port Angeles; it occupies lands of Olympic National Park and Olympic National Forest.

The Glines Canyon Project consists of: (a) a concrete arch dam, 185 feet high and 400 feet long at its crest, equipped with five 20- by 18.67-foot tailor gates; the crest of the dam is at elevation 590.36 feet (sea level datum); (b) a 377-acre reservoir with a usable storage capacity of 40,530 acre-feet at elevation 590.36 feet; the maximum drawdown of the reservoir is 66 feet; (c) water conduits consisting of a tunnel approximately 12 feet in diameter and 350 feet long, a penstock 11 feet 7 inches in diameter and 450 feet long, and a surge tank 135 feet high and 20 feet in diameter; (d) a powerhouse containing one main turbine-generator rated at 12,000 kW and one auxiliary generator rated at 50 kW; (e) a substation adjacent to the powerhouse; and (f) eight miles of 66 kV transmission line from the Glines Project substation to the powerhouse of Crown Zellerbach's Elwha Project, FERC Project No. 2683. All of the power generated by the project is used at Crown Zellerbach's pulp and paper manufacturing plant located in Ediz Hook, Port Angeles, Wash. Crown Zellerbach has not proposed any modification or redevelopment of the project.

Crown Zellerbach has provided a free boat launching ramp on project property near the dam. Other than about 2,500 feet of reservoir frontage at the dam site, the reservoir shoreline is controlled by the National Park Service.

There is also pending before the Commission a contested on-the-record proceeding to determine whether the Commission has jurisdiction over Crown Zellerbach's downstream Elwha Project. One possible basis of jurisdiction being considered in the proceeding is that the Elwha and Glines Canyon Projects are so closely related that they should be licensed as two developments of one project. If that theory is adopted by the Commission the two projects could be licensed under a single license.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make protest with reference to said application should, on or before July 28, 1978 file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, protests or petitions to intervene in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.10 or 1.8 (1977)). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to a proceeding. Persons wishing to become parties to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules. The application is on file with the Commission and available for public inspection.

On October 1, 1977, pursuant to the provisions of the Department of Energy Organization Act (DOE Act), Pub. L. 95-91, 91 Stat. 565 (August 4, 1977), and Executive Order No. 12009, 42 FR 46267 (September 15, 1977), the Federal Power Commission ("FPC") ceased to exist and its functions and regulatory responsibilities were transferred to the Secretary of Energy and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission ("FERC") which, as an independent commission within the Department of Energy, was activated on October 1, 1977.

The "saving provisions" of section 705(b) of the DOE Act provided that proceedings pending before the FPC on the date the DOE Act takes effect shall not be affected and that orders shall be issued in such proceedings as if the DOE Act had not been enacted. All such proceedings shall be continued and further actions shall be taken by the appropriate component of DOE now responsible for the function under the DOE Act and regulations promulgated thereunder. The functions which are the subject of this proceeding were specifically transferred to the FERC by section 402(a)(1) or 402(a)(2) of the DOE Act.

MAY 19, 1978.

Take notice that Duke Power Co. (Duke Power) tendered for filing on May 12, 1978 a supplement to the Company's Electric Power Contract with the town of Forest City. Duke Power states that this contract is on file with the Commission and has been designated Duke Power Co. Rate Schedule FPC NO. 237.

Duke Power further states that the Company's contract supplement, made at the request of the customer and with agreement obtained from the customer, provides for the following increases in contract demand: Delivery Point No. 2, from 9,200 KW to 13,000 KW.

Duke Power indicates that this supplement also includes an estimate of sales and revenue for twelve months immediately preceding and for the twelve months immediately succeeding the effective date. Duke Power proposes an effective date of June 20, 1978.

According to Duke Power copies of this filing were mailed to the town of Forest City and the North Carolina Utilities Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before May 30, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

DUQUESNE LIGHT CO.

Filing

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that on May 15, 1978, the Duquesne Light Company (DLC), tendered for filing a proposed change in its FERC Municipal Electric Resale Service Tariff for Pitsburg, Pennsylvania. DLC indicates that the proposed change would increase revenues from jurisdictional sales by $48,841.00 based on the 12-month period ending May 31, 1979. DLC further indicates that the present rate schedule was filed in 1972 and that it has experienced substantial increases in the cost of service.

DLC proposes an effective date of June 1, 1978, and therefore requests waiver of the Commission's notice requirements.

According to DLC copies of this filing were mailed to the Pennsylvania Utility Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street, NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before June 5, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

EASTERN SHORE NATURAL GAS CO.

Curtailment Credit Adjustment to Rates and Charges

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that Eastern Shore Natural Gas Co. (Eastern Shore) on May 11, 1978, tendered for filing Second Revised Sheet No. 5 and 6, Superseding First Revised Sheets No. 5 and 6, and Second Revised PGA-1: Second Revised Sheets No. 10, 11, and 12, to its FERC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1. These revised Tariff sheets, to be effective June 1, 1978, will increase the commodity or delivery charge of Eastern Shore's Rate Schedules CD-1, CD-E, G-1, E-1, and PS-1 by .033 cents per dekatherm to reflect curtailment credits.

Copies of this filing have been mailed to each of the Company's jurisdictional customers and to interested State Commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO.

Intended Disposition of Refunds

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that on May 4, 1978, El Paso Natural Gas Co. ("El Paso") tendered for filing in the captioned proceedings an intended disposition of producer-supplier refunds received.

El Paso states that certain of El Paso's gas sales contracts, comprising a portion of the special FS rate schedules included as a part of Volume No. 2A of El Paso's FERC Gas Tariff, provide for determination of sales rates collected thereunder based upon the weighted average cost of clean, high pressure gas ("CHPG") purchased by El Paso in the Permian Basin area. On April 3, 1978, pursuant to the Commission Order of March 14, 1978, West Lake Natural Gasoline Co. ("West Lake"), as plant operator of the West Lake Natural Gasoline Plant, made a producer-supplier refund to El Paso representing the outstanding 50% interest in the West Lake Plant production attributable to Atlantic Richfield Company.² Said refund comprised the remaining excess amount collected by West Lake under its FERC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 subject to refund under the provisions of Docket No. AR70-1 and was applicable to residue gas sold by West Lake to El Paso during the period January 1, 1963, through December 31, 1967.

El Paso states that inasmuch as the West Lake Plant is a source of CHPG, the additional refund received from West Lake by El Paso has the corresponding effect of further reducing the CHPG weighted average purchased cost utilized by El Paso in determining the sales rates applicable under certain FS rate schedules during the refund period identified above. Accordingly, El Paso has recomputed the CHPG weighted average purchased cost applicable to such period and has determined that additional refund amounts, aggregating $21,672.32, are now due those resale customers under the provisions of those El Paso FS rate schedules subject to the weighted average CHPG determination. Such $21,672.32 includes principal amounts of $10,606.08, plus interest thereon of $11,066.24.

El Paso further states that in order to equitably distribute that subject refund to all entitled special FS rate schedule customers, El Paso has determined the appropriate amount of refunds due each entitled special FS rate schedule customer receiving service during the refund period, and will dispose of such amounts as follows:

- (i) Make a direct cash flow-through of the applicable subject refund amounts to those seventeen (17) customers whose sales have been transferred or terminated; and
- (ii) Credit to Account 191, in accordance with the applicable provisions of authorization to continue service to 13 direct and 27 resale customers, under separate agreements, previously initiated at numerous points in production areas of El Paso's interstate pipeline system. Such order also accepted for filing Original Volume No. 2A to El Paso's FERC Gas tariff, effective as of the date of said order, which contained the service agreements between El Paso and the said customers as special FS Rate Schedules.

the currently effective PGAC-CHPG, the amounts of refunds due the remaining five (5) customers now being served under special FS rate schedules still in effect.

As to item (i) above, El Paso proposes to make the disposition of the principal and interest refunds to the identified seventeen (17) customers, as set forth herein, within fifteen (15) days following receipt of the Commission's approval of the instant report. With respect to item (ii) above, and in accordance with El Paso's currently effective CHPG-PGAC provisions, the appropriate credit to Account 191, applicable to the said five (5) customers, has been recorded on El Paso's books.³

El Paso has served a copy of the instant report upon each of its affected customers and interested state regulatory commissions as required by ordering paragraph (C) of the said order of March 14, 1978, issued at Docket No. AR70-1.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said tariff tender should, on or before May 30, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make any protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Docket No. CP78-314]

EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO. AND MICHIGAN WISCONSIN PIPE LINE CO.

Joint Pipeline Application

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on May 4, 1978, El Paso Natural Gas Co. (El Paso), a ¹El Paso on February 7, 1978, filed a similar Report of Intended Disposition of Refund in the referenced proceedings involving certain other refunds received from West Lake to be flowed through to the same customers affected by the instant filing. By order issued April 12, 1978, the Commission approved said Report of Intended Disposition of Refunds.

Delaware corporation, whose mailing address is Post Office Box 1492, El Paso, Tex. 79978, and Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. (Michigan-Wisconsin), a Delaware corporation, whose mailing address in One Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. 48226, collectively referred to as "Applicants," filed a joint applicant at Docket No. CP78-314 under Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity for the construction and operation of facilities located offshore Texas, all as more fully set forth in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The application states that by Federal Power Commission (FPC) order issued July 1, 1977, at Docket No. CP77-294, Texas Gas Transmission Corp. (Texas Gas) was issued a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of certain facilities necessary to connect reserves in various fields to the High Island Offshore System (HIOS).¹ Among the facilities to be constructed were approximately 2.80 miles of 16" O. D. pipeline and related facilities extending from Union Oil Co. of California, et al.'s (Union) "A" Platform Block A-334, High Island Area, to an underwater tap on the HIOS 30" O. D. Eastern Trunk in Block A-345. With respect to the gas reserves underlying Blocks A-334 and A-335, Texas Gas has presently under option or gas purchase contract approximately 44.43% of the production from such reserves and at the time of its filing was negotiating with certain producers to acquire additional portions of such production. Texas Gas, in its application at Docket No. CP77-294, advised the FPC that if it was unsuccessful in its negotiations, it would propose to share the ownership in the facilities constructed with the successful producer(s). Further, Texas Gas stated that the estimated total cost of the pipeline and related facilities associated with Blocks A-334 and A-335, pursuant to a Gas Sales Contract dated January 20, 1978, between El Paso and Mobil Oil Corp (Mobil). Michigan Wisconsin has a preferential right from Northwest Mutual Life Insurance Company (Northwest Mutual) for the purchase from Northwest Mutual of its 22.23% interest in the production attributable to Blocks A-334 and A-335. Upon requisite producer certification, El Paso's and Michigan Wisconsin's respective production can be made available for delivery into the aforementioned facilities with that production to be purchased by Texas Gas.

²Michigan Wisconsin, the operator of HIOS, will operate the pipeline facilities the subject of this application pursuant to the terms and conditions of an Operating Agreement between the Applicants and Texas Gas dated April 28, 1978.

The application further states that El Paso and Michigan Wisconsin have entered into arrangements wherein each will share in the ownership, with Texas Gas, of the 2.80 mile, 16" O. D. pipeline and related facilities extending from Block A-334. Accordingly, subject to receipt of the authorizations sought by this application, Applicants have agreed to own undivided interests in such pipeline and related facilities.³ El Paso shall reimburse Texas Gas approximately $1,518,970 and Michigan Wisconsin shall reimburse Texas Gas approximately $1,047,000 as their respective share of such facilities, which amounts are based on the estimated cost of facilities as set forth in Exhibit K to the application of Texas Gas at Docket No. CP77-294. Applicants do not propose any change in the operation of the subject facilities nor in the operator, Michigan Wisconsin. El Paso, Michigan Wisconsin and Texas Gas shall share the cost of operation and maintenance of the jointly-owned facilities, the actual capital investment associated with the subject pipeline and related facilities and capacity rights therein.

The jointly-owned facilities described herein are required by the present and future public convenience and necessity so as to avoid the construction of duplicative and expensive offshore facilities. In this connection, the FPC, by approval of the application of Texas Gas at Docket No. CP77-294, evidenced its agreement with the proposed multiple ownership of the facilities as described herein. For these reasons, Applicants believe that grant of the requested authorization is required by the present and future public convenience and necessity.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application, on or before June 14, 1978, should file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protest filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding, or to participate as a party in any hearing therein, must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

³The parties undivided interest in the pipeline and related facilities will be in proportion to the production each will have available from Blocks A-334 and A-335, i.e., Texas Gas 44.43%, El Paso 33.34% and Michigan Wisconsin 22.23%.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by sections 7, and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[Docket No. CP78-326]

FLORIDA GAS TRANSMISSION CO.

Application

MAY 23, 1978

Take notice that on May 11, 1978, Florida Gas Transmission Co. (applicant), P.O. Box 44, Winter Park, Fla. 32790, filed in Docket No. CP78-326 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act, and §§ 157.7(b), 157.7(c), 157.7(e), and 157.7(g) of the regulations thereunder (18 CFR 157.7(b), 157.7(c), 157.7(e), and 157.7(g)) for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction during the 12 month period commencing July 1, 1978, and operation of facilities to enable Applicant to take into its certificated main pipeline system natural gas which would be purchased from producers or other similar sellers thereof; authorizing the construction, for the same time period, and operation of facilities to make miscellaneous rearrangements on its system; for permission and approval to abandon during the same time period, direct sale service and facilities no longer required for deliveries of natural gas to Applicant's customers; and for a certificate authorizing the construction and for permission for and approval of the abandonment, during the same time period, and operation of field gas compression and related metering and appurtenant facilities, all as more fully set forth in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The stated purpose of this budget-type application is to augment Applicant's ability to act with reasonable dispatch in the construction of gas-purchase facilities to enable Applicant to connect its system with the facilities of an independent producer or other similar sellers, authorized by the Commission to make a sale of gas to Applicant for resale in interstate commerce, or the system of another natural gas company authorized to transport gas for the account of, or for the exchange of gas with Applicant; to augment Applicant's ability to act with reasonable dispatch in making miscellaneous rearrangements which would not result in any material change in the service presently rendered by Applicant; to augment Applicant's ability to act with reasonable dispatch in abandoning service and removing direct sale measuring, regulating, and related facilities; and to augment Applicant's ability to act with reasonable dispatch in the construction, relocation, and operation and abandonment of facilities which will not result in changing Applicant's system saleable capacity or service from that authorized prior to the filing of the instant application.

Applicant states that the total cost of the proposed gas-purchase facilities will not exceed $7,500,000, with no single onshore project expenditure to exceed $1,500,000 and no single offshore project to exceed $2,500,000, and that the total cost of its proposed construction, relocation, removal or abandonment of field compression facilities would not exceed $3,000,000, with no single project to exceed $500,000. Applicant states that these costs will be financed from internally generated funds.

The application states that Applicant would not abandon any direct service unless it would have received a written request or written permission from the customer to terminate service. In the event such request or permission could not be obtained, a statement certifying that the customer has no further need for service would be filed with the Commission, it is said.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before June 14, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.70). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate and permission and approval for the proposed abandonment are required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[Docket No. ER78-325]

FLORIDA POWER & LIGHT CO.

Order Accepting Rate Schedule for Filing, Providing for Hearing, Waiving Regulations, Granting Intervention, and Consolidating Proceedings

MAY 19, 1978.

On April 20, 1978, Florida Power & Light Co. (FP&L) submitted for filing as an initial rate schedule an unexecuted transmission service agreement for service to the city of Homestead, Fla. Although Homestead did not sign the agreement, it requests that the Commission allow FP&L to file it so that the city can receive service within a definite time. FP&L states that under the agreement, it will transmit power and energy for Homestead as is required by the city in the implementation of its interchange agreements with Orlando Utilities Commission, Tampa Electric Co., Florida Power Corp., Fort Pierce Utilities Authority, and the Utilities Commission of the city of New Smyrna Beach, Fla. FP&L requests an effective date of no later than 30 days after the date of the filing. The submittal provides for a yearly charge for transmission service of $14.48/kw.

Notice of FP&L's filing was issued on April 28, 1978, with protests or petitions to intervene due on or before May 8, 1978. On May 8, 1978, Homestead filed a protest, petition to intervene, request for hearing and consolidation.

Homestead states that the lawfulness of FP&L's transmission terms, conditions, and rates are the subject of proceedings in docket No. ER77-175, which concerns transmission service to the city of New Smyrna Beach, Fla. It indicates that it agrees with and adopts the petition to intervene, request for hearing and the direct case of New Smyrna in docket No. ER77-175. Homestead requests intervention, hearing and consolidation with that docket.

Homestead alleges that FP&L's failure to make general transmission service available inhibits power supply transactions in a "severe, unjustified manner". Homestead protests:

(1) FP&L's refusal to file a generally applicable transmission tariff;

(2) FP&L's refusal to file a "joint transmission rate" or to recognize in rates that where transmission service is made over more than one system, FP&L is providing a limited form of service;

(3) FP&L's anticompetitive use of its transmission monopoly;

FP&L's excessive rates and charges; and

(5) The general conditions of service.

Homestead argues that FP&L is not proposing an initial rate but a rate change. Therefore, it states that the rates, terms, and conditions should be made subject to refund pursuant to section 205 of the Federal Power Act.

Homestead requests:

(1) That it be granted intervention in this proceeding;

(2) That a hearing be ordered; and

(3) That such hearing be consolidated with Docket No. ER77-175.

The Commission will deny Homestead's request for the consolidation of this proceeding with docket No. ER77-175. The transmission rate filing for New Smyrna Beach in docket No. ER77-175 is based on a 1976 test year. The instant filing is based on a 1978 test year. Additionally, the hearing in the former docket commenced on May 15, 1978. The advanced state of proceedings in that docket makes consolidation impractical and cumbersome. However, the Commission finds good cause to consolidate the instant docket with the proceeding in docket No. ER78-19, et al.; because 1978 test year data has been utilized by FP&L in both proceedings. The hearing in that proceeding on the reasonableness of the proposed rates has not begun.

FP&L's submittal should be properly filed pursuant to § 35.13 of the Commission's regulations as a change in rates and not as an initial rate. FP&L is proposing to render a supplemental or an additional service to Homestead, since it has been selling partial requirements wholesale power to the city.¹ The Commission shall waive the cost support requirements of § 35.13 for the limited purpose of accepting FP&L's submittal for filing. However, it shall be directed to file such cost support within 20 days of the issuance of this order.

FP&L's proposed rates have not been shown to be just and reasonable and may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, preferential or otherwise unlawful. The Commission shall therefore suspend the proposed rates for one day to become effective May 22, 1978, subject to refund, pending the outcome of a hearing and decision thereon.

The Commission finds: (1) Good cause exists to accept and suspend FP&L's proposed rates for one day, until May 22, 1978 subject to refund, pending the outcome of a hearing and decision thereon.

(2) Good cause exists to waive the cost support requirements of § 35.13 of the Commission's regulations for the limited purpose of accepting FP&L's submittal for filing.

(3) Good cause exists to consolidate the instant docket with docket Nos. ER78-19, et al.

(4) Participation by Homestead in this proceeding may be in the public interest.

The Commission further orders: (A) Pending a hearing and decision thereon, FP&L's proposed rates are hereby accepted for filing and suspended for one day, to become effective May 22, 1978, subject to refund.

(B) The Commission shall waive section 35.13 of its regulations for the ¹Florida Power & Light Co., docket No. ER77-175, corrected order accepting for filing and suspending proposed rate change, granting intervention, and establishing procedures, issued April 12, 1977.

limited purpose of accepting FP&L's submittal for filing. FP&L is hereby ordered to file cost support pursuant to section 35.13 for service to Homestead within 20 days of the issuance of this order.

(C) Docket No. ER78-325 is hereby consolidated with docket Nos. ER78-19, et al., for the purpose of a hearing and decision thereon.

(D) Homestead is hereby permitted to intervene in this proceeding subject to the rules and regulations of the Commission: Provided, however, That participation of Homestead shall be limited to the matters specifically set forth in its petition to intervene; and Provided, further, That the admission of Homestead shall not be construed as recognition by the Commission that it might be aggrieved by any order issued in this proceeding.

(E) The Secretary shall cause prompt publication of this order to be made in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. EL78-14]

KENTUCKY UTILITIES CO.

Order Authorizing the Acquisition of Securities

MAY 22, 1978.

Kentucky Utilities Co. (applicant), on March 6, 1978, filed an application with the Commission pursuant to section 203 of the Federal Power Act, seeking authorization to acquire from Old Dominion Power Co. (Old Dominion) the wholly-owned subsidiary of applicant, during the year 1978, unsecured promissory notes in an amount not exceed $1.5 million.

Applicant is incorporated under the laws of the State of Kentucky, with its principal business office at Lexington, Ky. and is engaged in the generation, transmission, distribution and sale of electrical energy in central, southeastern and western Kentucky.

Old Dominion is incorporated under the laws of the State of Virginia and is engaged in the purchase, transmission, distribution, and sale of electrical energy to about 21,700 customers in 54 communities within that State. Old Dominion is a wholly owned subsidiary of Kentucky Utilities Co. and physically operates as an extension of that system.

The proceeds to be derived from the issuance of the notes will be used by Old Dominion to finance the construction, completion, extension, and improvement of its electric utility facilities. The construction of such facilities will not impair Old Dominion's ability to perform properly its services as a public utility. The proposed construction program will enable Old Dominion to continue to provide reliable service to its customers.

Each such unsecured promissory note (i) shall be dated on the date on which the loan to be evidenced thereby shall be made, (ii) shall bear interest from the date thereof at a rate of interest per annum equal to 1 percent less than the prime rate of interest charged by The First National Bank of Chicago on loans made to its most credit-worthy corporate borrowers as of the date of the loan evidenced by such note, but not less than the average yield for Double A ("Aa") public utility bonds, as reported in Moody's Bond Record, for the latest calendar month preceding the date of the loan for which such average yield has been so reported, (iii) shall mature on a date not more than ten (10) years from the date of such note, and (iv) shall be subject to prepayment by Old Dominion at any time (in whole or in part) without premium or penalty. The rate of interest to be borne by the notes has been determined on the basis of the estimated cost of money (i.e., rate of interest) which would be incurred by Old Dominion were it to seek to obtain such funds on substantially the same terms as the notes through the issuance of its securities in a public offering or through private placement; and the basis upon which such interest rate will be determined as aforesaid will be authorized or approved by the State Corporation Commission of Virginia in its order authorizing the issuance of the notes by Old Dominion.

Written notice of the application has been given to the Kentucky Public Service Commission, the Virginia State Corporation Commission and to the Governor of each of the aforementioned States. Notice has also been given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 20, 1978, stating that any person desiring to be heard or to make any protests with reference to the application shall file petitions or protests on or before April 7, 1978, with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D. C. 20426. No protest, petition or request to be heard in opposition to the granting of the application has been received.

The Commission finds: (1) Kentucky Utilities Co. and Old Dominion Power Co. are public utilities within the meaning of section 203 of the Federal Power Act, and subject to the jurisdiction of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

(2) By the proposed transaction, Kentucky Utilities Co. will acquire the securities of another public utility within the meaning and subject to the requirements of section 203 of the Federal Power Act.

(3) The acquisition of securities by Kentucky Utilities Co., as described above, upon the terms and conditions as set forth in the application, has been and will be consistent with the Public Interest as expressed in section 203 of the Federal Power Act.

(4) The period of public notice given in this matter is reasonable.

The Commission orders: (A) The acquisition by Kentucky Utilities Co. from Old Dominion Power Co. of unsecured promissory notes from time to time during 1978, in an amount not to exceed $1,500,000 in the aggregate, as described above, is authorized and approved upon the terms and conditions and for the purposes set forth in the application, subject to the provisions of this order.

(B) The foregoing authorization is without prejudice to the authority of this Commission or any other regulatory body with respect to rates, service, accounts, valuation, estimates or determinations of cost or any other matter whatsoever now pending or which may come before this Commission.

(C) Nothing in this order shall be construed to imply any guarantee or obligation on the part of the United States in respect to any security to which this order relates.

By the Commission.

KENNETH F. PLUMB,
Secretary.

[Project No. 2741]

KINGS RIVER CONSERVATION DISTRICT

Application for License

MAY 22, 1978.

Public notice is hereby given that an application for a major license was filed on January 31, 1977, under the Federal Power Act (16 U.S.C. 791(a)-825(r)) by the Kings River Conservation District (Correspondence to: Mr. Hugh V. Jones, President, Kings River Conservation District, 4886 East Jensen Avenue, Fresno, Calif. 93725) for the Kings River Hydroelectric Project, FERC Project No. 2741, located on the Kings River in Fresno County, Calif.

Applicant proposes to build a hydroelectric powerplant at the existing Corps of Engineers' Pine Flat Dam. The powerplant would be located at the downstream toe of the Pine Flat Dam and would consist of three generating units at 55 megawatts (MW) each for a total installed capacity of 165 MW. The Applicant would utilize the three existing 13.5-foot diameter penstocks that were installed in the Pine Flat Dam when it was constructed in 1954. Transmission lines connecting the proposed powerhouse to the existing power system grid would be constructed by the California Department of Water Resources under a separate license.

The Applicant is not proposing recreation areas or facilities as part of the project.

The power to be generated would be utilized by the State of California for the State Water Project or by the Pacific Gas & Electric Co. System. The proposed powerplant would utilize the flood control and irrigation releases from the existing Pine Flat reservoir for electric power generation. Applicant states that operation of the powerplant would not change the water releases from the Pine Flat reservoir.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make protest with reference to the subject application should, on or before July 28, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, protests or petitions to intervene in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.10 or 1.8 (1977)). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties ties to a proceeding. Persons wishing to become parties to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing on the application must file petitions to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules. The application is on file with the Commission and available for public inspection.

The public should take further notice that on October 1, 1977, pursuant to the provision of the Department of Energy Organization Act (DOE Act), Pub. L. 95-91, 91 Stat. (August 4, 1977), and Executive Order No. 12009, 42 FR 46267 (September 15, 1977), the Federal Power Commission ceased to exist and its functions and regulatory responsibilities were transferred to the Secretary of Energy and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) which, as an independent commission within the Department of Energy, was activated on October 1, 1977. The functions which are the subject of these proceedings were specifically transferred to the FERC.

[Docket No. RI77-69]

MCGALLIARD & SPARKS, INC.

Amended Petition for Special Relief

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that on December 13, 1977, McGalliard & Sparks, Inc. (Petitioner), 1612 C&I Building, Houston, Tex. 77002, filed an amended petition for special relief in Docket No. RI77-69. On April 27, 1977, Petitioner filed its original petition for special relief, which was noticed on May 12, 1977, requesting authorization to charge 1.75 per Mcf for the sale of its gas to Natural Gas Pipeline Co. from the W. C. Leveridge Gas Unit No. 2T in the East Bernard Field, Wharton County, Tex. In its amended petition for special relief Petitioner seeks approval to charge the reduced price of $1.5642 per Mcf for the sale of its gas to the above named purchaser from the above named well.

It appears reasonable and consistent with the public interest in this case to prescribe a period shorter than 10 days for the filing of protests and petitions to intervene. Therefore, any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before May 30, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to a proceeding.

MICHIGAN WISCONSIN PIPE LINE CO.

Proposed Settlement

MAY 19, 1978.

Take notice that on May 12, 1978, Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. (Michigan Wisconsin) filed in Docket No. RP77-60 a stipulation and agreement, which, if approved, will resolve all issues in the proceeding. Michigan Wisconsin states that it has served a copy of the stipulation and agreement upon all parties to the proceeding, all jurisdictional customers and interested State commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest the proposed settlement should file comments with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, on or before May 31, 1978. Comments will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken. Copies of the agreement are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

NEW BEDFORD GAS & EDISON LIGHT CO.

Application

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that on May 15, 1978, New Bedford Gas & Edison Light Co. (New Bedford) filed a rate schedule governing the sale by New Bedford of a portion of its entitlement to capacity and related energy produced by Canal Electric Co.'s Unit No. 2 ("the Unit").

New Bedford indicates that by the provisions of the tendered rate schedule, New Bedford proposes to sell to the Electric Light Department of the Town of Danvers, Mass. ("Danvers") a portion of the Net Capability of the Unit (as defined at article III of the tendered rate schedule) plus the energy related thereto as shown below:

PERIOD AND PERCENT OF NET CAPABILITY

June 1, through October 31, 1978—0.2397.
November 1, 1978, through October 31, 1979—0.8849.

New Bedford has requested the Commission to waive its notice requirements to allow said rate schedule to become effective as of June 1, 1978.

According to New Bedford a copy of this filing has been served upon Danvers.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before June 5, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

NEW ENGLAND POWER CO.

Compliance Filing

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that New England Power Co. ("NEP") on March 9, 1978, tendered for filing proposed revisions to its FERC electric tariff, original volume No. 1.

NEP states that the revisions were filed in compliance with the Commission's order issued February 27, 1978.

NEP states further that the revisions were filed in order to effectuate the terms and conditions for continuation of contract demand service after October 31, 1981, and that copies of the filing were served on NEP's jurisdictional customers and on the state regulatory commissions of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426 in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before June 2, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this application are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

Certification of Proposed Settlement Agreement

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on April 10, 1978, Presiding Administrative Law Judge Samuel Kanell certified to the Commission for consideration and appropriate disposition a proposed settlement agreement in this proceeding, transcripts of a prehearing conference and hearings held on September 21, 1977, and April 4-5, 1978, and several exhibits and items by reference. The certification document states that approval of the proposed stipulation and agreement would resolve substantially all issues and result in an annual rate increase of approximately $63 million in lieu of the $109 million originally requested.

The certification document further notes that the South Dakota Public Utilities Commission takes issue with the depreciation rates proposed in the settlement agreement, and that the Commission Staff objects to affording rate base treatment for certain phase 2 costs of the Arctic and Northern Border projects.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said settlement agreement should file comments with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, on or before June 5, 1978. Reply comments should be filed on or before June 26, 1978. Comments will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken. Copies of this agreement are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

NORTHERN STATES POWER CO.

Termination

MAY 19, 1978.

Take notice that Northern States Power Co. (NSPC), on May 12, 1978, tendered for filing a termination agreement, dated May 5, 1978, terminating the interconnection and interchange agreement, dated March 1, 1963 between Dairyland Power Cooperative, Northern States Power Co. (Minnesota), and Northern States Power Co. (Wisconsin).

This interconnection and interchange agreement is designated in the Commission's files as NSPC (Minnesota) Rate Schedule FERC No. 169 and NSPC (Wisconsin) Rate Schedule FERC No. 25.

NSPC proposes that the terminated agreement be replaced by new agreements between NSPC and Dairyland Power Cooperative. NSPC proposes that this termination become effective on the same date that the new agreement between the parties becomes effective.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said application should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions and protests should be filed on or before May 30, 1978. [Docket No. RI77-56]

OIL & GAS FUTURES, INC. OF TEXAS, ET AL.

Order Granting Special Relief and Granting Intervention

MAY 22, 1978.

On October 1, 1977, pursuant to the provisions of the Department of Energy Organization Act (DOE Act), Pub. L. 95-91 91 Stat. 565 (August 4, 1977) and Executive Order No. 12009, 42 FR 46267 (September 15, 1977), the Federal Power Commission (FPC) ceased to exist and its functions and regulatory responsibilities were transferred to the Secretary and the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) which, as an independent commission within the Department of Energy, was activated on October 1, 1977.

The "savings provision" of section 705(b) of the DOE Act provide that proceedings pending before the FPC on the date the DOE Act takes effect shall not be affected and that orders shall be issued in such proceedings as if the DOE Act had not been enacted. All such proceedings shall be continued and further actions shall be taken by the appropriate component of DOE now responsible for the function under the DOE Act an regulations promulgated thereunder. The functions which are the subject of these proceedings were specifically transferred to the FERC by section 402(a)(1) of the DOE Act.

The joint regulation adopted on October 1, 1977, by the Secretary and the FERC entitled "Transfer of Proceedings to the Secretary of Energy and the FERC," 10 CFR —, provided that this proceeding would be continued before the FERC. The FERC takes action in this this proceeding in accordance with the above-mentioned authorities.

On April 8, 1977, Oil & Gas Futures, Inc. of Texas, et al.¹ (O & G Futures) filed in docket No. RI77-56 an application for special relief pursuant to order No. 481 and section 2.76 of the Commission's general policy and interpretations (18 CFR § 2.76) with respect to a sale of natural gas to Trunkline Gas Co. (Trunkline) from the Grand Isle block 82 field, offshore Louisiana, in the Federal Domain. The sale covers O & G Futures' 100 percent working interest in gas produced from eight wells drilled from O & G Futures' platform in the Grand Isle block 82 field.

Pursuant to a gas sales agreement dated October 22, 1971, as amended, O & G Futures is currently collecting a total rate of $1.35 per Mcf for the sale to Trunkline. O & G Futures proposes in its application to perform various reworking operations in order to recover additional gas reserves. O & G Futures states that without some form of price relief, it will be forced to abandon the properties since the current price received for gas renders the project uneconomic and does not allow for reworking operation. By virtue of a contract amendment dated February 23, 1977, Trunkline agreed to pay O & G Futures a rate of $2.25 per Mcf or any lesser rate authorized by the Commission for the sale from the Grand Isle block 82 field.

In its original application for special relief, O & G Futures requested authorization to collect a rate of $2.25 per Mcf for the sale. On September 27, 1977, O & G Futures filed in docket No. RI77-56 an application for temporary authorization to make the sale to Trunkline at its requested rate of $2.25 per Mcf, subject to refund, pending final action on its application for special relief, but on December 9, 1977, O & G Futures filed a notice of withdrawal of the application for temporary authorization. On January 31, 1978, O & G Futures filed an amended application for special relief by which it requested authorization to collect a rate of $1.8851 per Mcf for the sale to Trunkline.

Notice of O & G Futures' original application for special relief was issued on April 14, 1977, and appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 21, 1977, at 42 FR 20658. Notice of O & G Futures' amended application for special relief was issued on February 7, 1978, and appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 14, 1978, at 43 FR 6313. Trunkline filed a timely petition to intervene.

O & G Futures proposes to invest $150,000 to perform various reworking and recompletion operations on six of the eight wells drilled from its platform in the Grand Isle block 82 field. O & G Futures proposes no additional investment to recover additional reserves from the two remaining wells, although O & G Futures' application pertains to all gas produced and sold from the platform.

Based upon data submitted by O & G Futures and upon Staff's field investigation of O & G Futures' books and records, Staff accepts as reasonable O & G Futures' remaining net book investment of $1,001,918, its proposed new investment of $150,000, and its estimated production expenses of $3,200,514 over the remaining life of the eight wells. Staff estimates that a total of 2,971,000 Mcf of gas reserves remain to be produced from the eight wells over a period of 3.5 years. After deducting for royalties and compressor fuel, Staff estimates the remaining net working interest reserves to be 2,215,800 Mcf.

Staff used these costs and reserves in a traditional cost study² reflecting a composite cost analysis. O & G Futures' estimated abandonment costs were allocated by Staff on the basis of total gas production over the entire production life of the eight wells. Staff allocated costs between gas and liquids using the modified Btu method. With respect to the six wells on which O & G Futures proposes to perform workover operations, Staff has allowed in its cost analysis a return of, and a 15 percent return on, O & G Futures' remaining net book investment as well as its proposed new investment. Since O & G Futures does not propose any additional investment to recover additional reserves from the two remaining wells, as is required under section 2.76, Staff has included in its cost analysis only O & G Futures' out-of-pocket expenses associated with maintaining production from these wells. Combining the above costs and reserves in a composite cost analysis,³ Staff has determined that the requested rate is cost-supported.

Upon consideration of the data submitted and Staff's analysis thereof, we conclude that it is in the public interest to grant special relief to O & G Futures.

The Commission orders: (A) The application for special relief filed by O & G Futures in docket No. RI77-56 on April 8, 1977, as amended on January 31, 1978, is hereby granted.

(B) O & G Futures is authorized to collect a total rate of $1.8851 per Mcf at 14.73 psia for natural gas sold to Trunkline from Well Nos. A-2, A-4, A-5, A-6, A-7, A-9, A-15, and A-17 on O & G Futures' platform located in the Grand Isle block 82 field, offshore Louisiana, in the Federal Domain, effective as of the date of issuance of this order or the date that all of the proposed work is completed on the six wells on which work is to be performed, whichever is later, subject to the conditions set forth in ordering paragraphs (C) and (D).

(C) Within 30 days of the effective date of the rate authorized herein, O & G Futures shall file a statement signed by Trunkline that the proposed work has been completed to the satisfaction of Trunkline.

(D) Within 30 days of the date of issuance of this order, O & G Futures shall file an appropriate notice of rate change reflecting the rate authorized herein in accordance with section 154.94 of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR § 154.94), and an executed copy of its contract amendment dated February 23, 1977, providing for payment of the rate authorized herein.

(E) Trunkline is permitted to intervene in the above-entitled proceeding, subject to the rules and regulations of the Commission: Provided, however, That its participation shall be limited to matters affecting asserted rights and interests specifically set forth in its petition for leave to intervene; and: Provided, further, That the admission of Trunkline in the manner provided shall not be construed as recognition by the Commission that it might be aggrieved because of any order or orders entered in this proceeding, and that Trunkline agrees to accept the record as it now stands.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

[Project No. 943]

PUBLIC UTILITY DISTRICT NO. 1 OF CHELAN COUNTY, WASH.

Application for Approval of Exhibit R

MAY 23, 1978.

Public notice is hereby given that an application for approval of exhibit R for Project No. 943 was filed on March 1, 1978, under the Federal Power Act, 16 U.S.C. 791a-825r, by Public Utility District No. 1 of Chelan County, Wash. (Applicant) (Correspondence to: P.U.D. No. 1 of Chelan County, Attention: Howard C. Elmore, Manager, P.O. Box 1231, Wenatchee, Wash. 98809; David C. Dorsey, Esq., Davis, Arneil, Dorsey, Kight & Parlette, P.O. Box 2136, Wenatchee, Wash. 98801). Project No. 943, known as the Rock Island Project, is located on the Columbia River in Chelan and Douglas Counties, Wash.

The Applicant proposes to develop six new recreation sites and to set aside two sites for future development as follows:

(a) Site No. 1—Dam Overlook on the south side of Rock Island Dam consisting of small interpretive center and restrooms, a parking area, and 10 picnic sites.

(b) Site No. 2—Douglas County consisting of a boat ramp to replace the existing ramp, a floating dock, additional parking and sanitary facilities and 10 picnic sites with a sanitary facility, access road, and parking.

(c) Site No. 3—the Wenatchee Riverfront, located near the central business district of Wenatchee, comprising a boat ramp and dock, parking, restrooms, 20 picnic sites, and a paved shoreline trail;

(d) Site No. 4—Walla Walla Point, between the Wenatchee Riverfront and Wenatchee Confluence South, consisting of 30 camping sites with restrooms and showers, a day-use area with 120 picnic sites and a bathhouse, boat ramp and dock, a shoreline trail and a parking area, and paved access to the trail;

(e) Site No. 5—Wenatchee Confluence South, to be included to preserve it as a natural area, will contain an interpretive area and a shoreline nature trail;

(f) Site No. 6—Wenatchee River Confluence North, along the north side of the Wenatchee River, consisting of a paved trail connecting the US-2/SR2 highway bridge with Olds Bridge; and

(g) Site Nos. 7 and 8—Olds Bridge on the east bank of the Columbia River and Porter's Pond across the river from the Wenatchee Riverfront to be included in the project boundary for future recreational development.

Applicant proposes to undertake all facility development within a 5-year period at a cost of $6,130,000 in 1976 dollars.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before July 3, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rule of practice and procedure, 18 CFR § 1.8 or § 1.10 (1977). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rule.

The application is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection

[Docket No. RP77-20]

RATON NATURAL GAS CO.

Change in Rates

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that Raton Natural Gas Co. (Raton), on May 12, 1978, tendered for filing, proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, Volume No. 1, consisting of Seventeenth Revised Sheet No. 3a. The change in rates is for jurisdictional gas service. The proposed effective date is June 1, 1978.

Raton states that the instant notice of change in rates is occasioned solely by increase in the cost of gas purchased from Colorado Interstate Gas Co. (CIG). The tracking of CIG gas cost increase results in increased rate from 118.54¢ to 118.66¢ per MCF commodity. The annual revenue increase, by reason of the tracking, amounts to $1,267.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C., 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before May 30, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene.

Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Docket No. CP78-322]

SEA ROBIN PIPELINE CO.

Pipeline Application

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on May 9, 1978, Sea Robin Pipeline Co. (Sea Robin), P.O. Box 1478, Houston, Tex. 77001, filed an application in Docket No. CP78-322, pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, requesting authorization to transport gas for Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Transco), all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission).

Sea Robin states that pursuant to a transportation agreement dated April 12, 1978, between Sea Robin and Transco, Transco will deliver or cause to be delivered to Sea Robin for transportation up to 50,000 Mcf per day at a subsea tap on Sea Robin's offshore pipeline system in East Cameron Area, Block 263, offshore Louisiana. Sea Robin will redeliver equivalent volumes, less fuel and company-used gas to Transco at an existing delivery point located at the terminus of Sea Robin's system near Erath, Vermilion Parish, La.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application, on or before June 14, 1978, should file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding, or to participate as a party in any hearing therein, must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

SEMINOLE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. v.
FLORIDA POWER CORP.

COMPLAINT

MAY 19, 1978.

Take notice that Seminole Electric Cooperative, Inc. on May 8, 1978, tendered for filing a complaint praying that the Commission immediately institute an investigation of Florida Power's purchase of fuel oil in the years 1973-75, that after such investigation the Commission order Florida Power to refund to the Complainant its proportionate share of any unlawful amounts which the Commission finds Florida Power has paid for fuel oil, and that the Commission grant to the Complainant such further relief as to it may seem appropriate in the circumstances.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said complaint should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before June 16, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Docket No. RP73-64; PGA78-2; DCA78-2]

SOUTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

Proposed Changes in FERC Gas Tariff

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that Southern Natural Gas Co. (Southern), on May 16, 1978, tendered for filing proposed changes in its FPC Gas Tariff, Sixth Revised Volume No. 1, to become effective July 1, 1978. Such filing is pursuant to section 17 (Purchased Gas Adjustment) of the general terms and conditions of Southern's FERC Gas Tariff, Sixth Revised Volume No. 1. The proposed changes would increase Southern's rates as a result of the following items:

(1) A current adjustment, pursuant to section 17.3 of the general terms and conditions of Southern's FERC Gas Tariff, for an increase in cost of purchased gas to jurisdictional customers of $44,817,400, or 10.076¢ per Mcf.

(2) A surcharge adjustment for purchased gas costs, pursuant to section 17.4 of the general terms and conditions of Southern's FERC Gas Tariff, for unrecovered purchased gas costs of 7.185¢ per Mcf, which is a net decrease of 2.529¢ per Mcf below the present surcharge adjustment. The total of unrecovered purchased gas costs to be recovered is $19,926,527 and will be collected over the estimated sales for the 6-month period commencing July 1, 1978.

(3) A surcharge adjustment for estimated demand charge credits pursuant to section 9.6(3) of the general terms and conditions of Southern's FERC Gas Tariff of 2.860¢ per Mcf.

Southern states that the balance in Account No. 191, Unrecovered Purchased Gas Costs, as of December 31, 1977, included a credit amount of $3,543,195 which was due to the one-time special PGA rate increase pursuant to ordering paragraph (C) of the Commission's Opinion No. 770-A. Since Opinion No. 770-A provided that the PGA surcharge be collected for only a 12-month period and the 12-month period expired on December 31, 1977, Southern requests permission to credit the above balance plus accrued interest to its regular unrecovered purchased gas costs account pursuant to section 17.4 of the general terms and conditions of Southern's FERC Gas Tariff. Southern says that its proposal will have the net effect of reducing the surcharge adjustment to be effective on July 1, 1978 from 9.236¢ per Mcf to 7.815¢ per Mcf, or by 1.421¢ per Mcf.

Copies of the filing are being served upon the company's jurisdictional customers and interested State commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington D.C. 20426, in accordance with §§ 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before June 2, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

SUN OIL CO.

Petition for Special Relief

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on April 6, 1978, Sun Oil Co. (Sun), 2 Northpark East,

P.O. Box 20, Dallas, Tex. 75221, filed a petition for special relief pursuant to 18 CFR 2.76 requesting a base rate of $1.1351 per Mcf at 14.65 psia, subject to 100 percent State tax reimbursement, gathering allowance and Btu adjustment for the sale of its gas from the Furrh-Cooper Gas Unit, Well No. 1, Panola County, Tex., and a base rate of $1.645 per Mcf at 14.65 psia, subject to 100 percent State tax reimbursement, gathering allowance and Btu adjustment for the Blocker-Fultz Gas Unit, Well No. 1, Panola County, Tex., to United Gas Pipeline Co. This sale is presently being made pursuant to a contract executed May 13, 1977, under Sun's certificate issued in Docket No. CI77-760 and Rate Schedule No. 593 at a base rate of 53.7067¢ per Mcf at 14.65 psia, plus 100 percent tax reimbursement, gathering allowance and subject to Btu adjustment.

Sun states that it submits its petition for the Furrh-Cooper Gas Unit, Well No. 1, for the express purpose of recovering the unit cost of gas in order to keep from prematurely plugging and abandoning the well. Sun further states that the Blocker-Fultz, Well No. 1, is shut-in due to a casing leak and an investment of approximately $25,000 will be needed to put this well back into production, which cannot be economically justified at the current price level.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition should on or before June 14, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any party wishing to become a party to a proceeding, or to participate as a party in any hearing therein, must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

SUN OIL CO.

Petition for Special Relief

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on April 6, 1978, Sun Oil Co. (Sun), 2 Northpark East, P.O. Box 20, Dallas, Tex., 75221, filed a petition for special relief pursuant to 18 CFR 2.76 requesting a base rate of 56.2837¢ per Mcf at 14.65 psia, plus 100 percent State tax reimbursement and subject to Btu adjustment for the sale of its gas from the Bick, Well No. 1, McMinimy, Well No. 1, E. McMinimy, Well No. 1, and Swayze, Well No. 1, Clark county, Kans., to Northern Natural Gas Co. This sale is presently being made pursuant to a contract dated September 14, 1961, under Sun's certificate issued in Docket No. CI62-462 and Rate Schedule No. 395 at a base rate of 29.5¢ per Mcf, plus tax reimbursement at 14.73 psia.

This relief would allow Sun to recover the cost of installing a compressor to compress gas from the Bick, Well No. 1, McMinimy, Well No. 1, E. McMinimy, Well No. 1, and Swayze, Well No. 1, in order to continue gas production from these wells. It is estimated that it will cost $22,622 to install a rental compressor and operating expenses would total $31,176.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition should on or before June 14, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulation Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. SUN OIL CO.

Petition for Special Relief

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on April 15, 1978, Sun Oil Co. (Sun), 2 Northpark East, P.O. Box 20, Dallas, Tex. 75221, filed a petition for special relief pursuant to 18 CFR 2.76 requesting a base rate of 46.12¢ per Mcf at 14.65 psia, plus 100 percent State tax reimbursement and subject to Btu adjustment for the sale of its gas from the Headlee "A", Well No. 1, Harper County, Okla., to Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. This sale is presently being made pursuant to a contract dated April 24, 1959, under its certificate Docket No. G-18630 and Rate Schedule No. 365. Sun has filed for a base rate of 24.5¢ per Mcf, plus 4.312¢ per Mcf tax reimbursement and effective January 1, 1978, for subject gas.

Sun now requests an additional 21.62¢ per Mcf at 14.65 psia to allow the recovery of the cost of additional perforations and drilling out of CIBP and swabbing the Headlee "A", Well No. 1.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition should on or before June 14, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). TEXAS EASTERN TRANSMISSION CORP.

Proposed Changes in FERC Gas Tariff

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., on May 17, 1978 tendered for filing as a part of its FERC Gas Tariff, Fourth Revised Volume No. 1, the following tariff sheets:

Forty-first Revised Sheet No. 14
Forty-first Revised Sheet No. 14A
Forty-first Revised Sheet No. 14B
Forty-first Revised Sheet No. 14C
Forty-first Revised Sheet No. 14D

These sheets are issued pursuant to the Demand Charge Adjustment Commodity Surcharge provision and Purchased Gas Cost Adjustment provision contained in sections 12.4 and 23, respectively, of the General Terms and Conditions of Texas Eastern's FERC Gas Tariff, Fourth Revised Volume No. 1. The change in proposed rates reflects a Cost of Gas Adjustment, a Surcharge Adjustment, and a Demand Charge Adjustment Commodity Surcharge. The proposed effective date of the above tariff sheets is July 1, 1978. Copies of the filing were served on the company's jurisdictional customers and interested state commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). [Docket No. CP78-312]

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

Pipeline Application

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on April 28, 1978, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Applicant), Post Office Box 1396, Houston, Tex., 77001, filed in Docket No. CP78-312 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing Applicant to exchange natural gas with Gulf Oil Corp. (Gulf), all as more fully set forth in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant and Gulf have entered into an exchange agreement wherein Applicant will receive from reserves of Gulf in the High Island Area Block 111 Field, offshore Texas, quantities of gas up to a maximum daily quantity of 20,000 Mcf and a maximum contract quantity of 31 Bcf, and Gulf will receive equivalent quantities of gas purchased by Applicant in the South Timballer Area Block 148 Field, offshore Louisiana.

Applicant states that its proposal will enable it to receive into its system quantities of gas equivalent to those which it purchases in Block 148 Field where it has no facilities, and will enable it to assist Gulf in making quantities equivalent to Gulf's Block 111 Field volumes available to Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. pursuant to a contractual obligation to Gulf.

Applicant further states that volumes exchanged will be thermally equivalent, and that no rate or charge is involved.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application, on or before June 14, 1978, should file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding, or to participate as a party in any hearing therein, must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[Docket No. CP78-313]

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

Pipeline Application

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on April 28, 1978, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Applicant), Post Office Box 1396, Houston, Tex. 77001, filed in Docket No. CP78-313 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Rules and Regulations of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (Commission), for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction, installation and operation of certain natural gas pipeline facilities, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant states that it has acquired rights to purchase approximately 37.3 Bcf of natural gas reserves located in Block 263, East Cameron Area, South Addition, offshore Louisiana in the Federal domain pursuant to advance payment agreements with Transco Exploration Co., McMoran Exploration Co. and Mesa Petroleum Co. Applicant further states that it has arrangements with Sea Robin Pipeline Co. (Sea Robin) and Columbia Gulf Transmission Co. (Columbia Gulf) to transport the gas from Block 263, East Cameron to Transco's system. Applicant proposes to construct and operate a meter and regulatory station on the production platform in Block 263 and 6.83 miles of 16-inch line from the platform to a subsea tap on Sea Robin will receive the gas produced in Block 263 at the interconnection of the proposed pipeline with its system in Block 265, East Cameron and transport the gas to an existing interconnection with Columbia Gulf near Erath, Vermilion Parish, La., and Columbia Gulf will transport Applicant's gas to new interconnection between the Columbia Gulf and Transco system to be installed in Terrebonne Parish, La. It is stated that Applicant proposes to construct, install and maintain the necessary sidetap and value assembly and a meter and regulator station at the new interconnection with Columbia Gulf's pipeline and to reimburse Columbia Gulf for the cost of the sidetap and value assembly which it will install on its line at this point.

Applicant states that the estimated costs of the proposed pipeline, the meter and regulator stations and appurtenant facilities is $5,300,000 which Applicant states will be financed initially from funds on hand or obtained through short-term loans and permanent financing will be arranged later as part of a long-term financing program. It is also stated that Sea Robin's initial rate for the transportation service will be 18.71 cents per Mcf transported and Columbia Gulf's transportation rate will be 2.34 cents per Mcf transported and both transporting pipelines will retain volumes for fuel used and lost and unaccounted volumes in rendering the transportation services.

Applicant also states that initial deliveries of natural gas from Block 263, East Cameron, are estimated to commence in the first quarter of 1979 and that the proposed 16-inch pipeline and the meter and regulator stations must be constructed in the period of normal good weather for construction in the Gulf of Mexico in 1978 in order to have the facilities in place, tested and ready for service when the gas is expected to be available. Applicant, therefore, has requested a temporary certificate to construct the proposed facilities.

Applicant states that the average daily deliverability of the Block 263 reserves is estimated to be approximately 42,000 Mcf a day during the first year of production and that the proposed 16-inch pipeline from Block 263 to Sea Robin's pipeline will have a maximum capability of 50,000 Mcf a day.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application, on or before June 14, 1978, should file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding, or to participate as a party in any hearing therein, must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required hereip, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Secretary.

[Docket No. CP78-334]

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

Application

MAY 23, 1978.

Take notice that on May 10, 1978, Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Applicant), P.O. Box 1396, Houston, Tex. 77001, filed in Docket No. CP78-334 application pursuant to Section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act and Section 2.79 of the Commission's General Policy and Interpretations (18 CFR 2.79) for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the transportation of up to 1,500 Mcf of natural gas per day for two years for Lithium Corp. of America (LCA), an existing industrial customer of Public Service Co. of North Carolina (Public Service), one of Applicant's resale customers served under Rate Schedule CD-2, all as more fully set forth in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Applicant requests authorization to transport up to 1,500 Mcf per day (at 15.025 psia), on an interruptible basis, for LCA pursuant to a transportation agreement dated April 10, 1978, among Applicant, LCA and Public Service. It is stated that LCA has contracted to purchase the subject gas from First Mississippi Corp. (First Mississippi), which gas is to be produced from the No. 1 and No. 1A J. P. Diffrient Wells, the No. 1 Armstrong Well and the No. 1 Olin Geiger Well, Holiday Creek Field, Jefferson Davis County, Miss. LCA would pay First Mississippi a price of $1.61 per Mcf of gas for the first year of the contract, it is indicated. If the contract is extended beyond the initial one-year term, the parties hereto would mutually agree to renegotiate volumes and prices, it is said. It is stated that the subject gas is not available to the interstate market.

Applicant states that LCA would arrange to have such quantities delivered to a mutually agreeable point on Applicant's system in Jefferson Davis County, Miss., and Applicant would redeliver the transportation quantities to existing points of delivery to Public Service for the account of LCA. It is indicated that Public Service would transport such quantities of natural gas delivered to it by Applicant for LCA to LCA's Bessemer City, N.C. plant where LCA would use the subject for high-priority process use.

Applicant states that it would install a tap and valve assembly on its D Line at Mile Post 690.5 in Jefferson Davis County, Miss., and that First Mississippi would reimburse it for the actual cost, which cost is estimated at $7,000.

It is stated that Applicant would charge LCA, initially, 55.08 cents per Dekatherm equivalent of natural gas for all quantities delivered hereunder, which rate is to be applicable to similar transportation services providing for deliveries in Applicant's Rate Zone 2. It is further stated Applicant would retain, initially, 3.8 percent of the quantities received for transportation as make-up for compressor fuel and line loss.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should on or before June 14, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the Regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's Rules.

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission by Sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, a hearing will be held without further notice before the Commission on this application if no petition to intervene is filed within the time required herein, if the Commission on its own review of the matter finds that a grant of the certificate is required by the public convenience and necessity. If a petition for leave to intervene is timely filed, or if the Commission on its own motion believes that a formal hearing is required, further notice of such hearing will be duly given.

Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

[Docket No. RP78-42]

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP.

Notice of Storage Tracking Rate Increase

MAY 19, 1978.

Take notice that Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corp. (Transco) on May 3, 1978 tendered for filing a Second Substitute Alternate Fifth Revised Sheet No. 12 to its FERC Gas Tariff, Second Revised Volume No. 1 to become effective on April 1, 1978. Transco also tendered for filing a Substitute Sixth Revised Sheet No. 12 to its FERC Gas Tariff, Second Revised Volume No. 1, which is proposed to become effective on June 1, 1978, in lieu of the revised tariff sheet (Sixth Revised Sheet No. 12) filed by Transco on April 6, 1978 in Docket No. RM77-14, pursuant to the Commission's Opinion No. 11.

Transco states that the revised tariff sheets reflect an increase in rates for Transco's Rate Schedule GSS (General Storage Service) to track the rate increase to Transco from Consolidated Gas Supply Corp. (Con-Gas) under the latter's GSS rate schedule, which rate increase became effective, subject to refund, on April 1, 1978 in Docket No. RP77-140. More specifically, by a revised filing dated April 4, 1978 Con-Gas has increased its effective GSS rates to Transco by approximately $1.9 million annually.

Transco states that its filing increases only the rates under Transco's Rate Schedule GSS to reflect only the aforesaid increased rates of Con-Gas and is filed to become effective, without suspension, on the same date that the Con-Gas rate increase became effective, subject to refund, April 1, 1978. Transco agrees and undertakes to refund to its Rate Schedule GSS customers any refunds it may receive from Con-Gas pursuant to a final, non-appealable order reducing Con-Gas' Rate Schedule GSS.

Transco further states that copies of its filing have been mailed to each of its jurisdictional customers and interested State Commissions.

Any person desiring to be heard or to protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with Sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before May 30, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

[Docket No. CP78-191]

TRUNKLINE GAS CO.

Petition to Amend

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that on May 18, 1978, Trunkline Gas Co. (petitioner), P.O. Box 1642, Houston, Tex. 77001, filed in docket No. CP78-191 a petition to amend the order issuing a certificate of public convenience and necessity in said docket pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act by authorizing the construction and operation of a natural gas pipeline with certain characteristics other than initially authorized, all as more fully set forth in the petition to amend on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

By order of May 12, 1978, petitioner was authorized, inter alia, to construct and operate 8.4 miles of 24-inch pipeline as described in the certificate application. Said application describes the pipe as having a wall thickness of 0.344 inch and a maximum operating pressure of 1,200 psig. The petition to amend states that, in fact, the 24-inch pipe which is needed only requires a wall thickness of 0.312 inch and a maximum operating pressure of 1,123 psig. Petitioner notes that the proper-sized pipe would cost $77,000 less than that initially specified and authorized. Petitioner requests that the order issuing the certificate be amended by authorizing the construction and operation of facilities using the proper-sized pipe.

Since the facilities have already been authorized, except with respect to the modification proposed in the instant petition, and petitioner is said to be ready to obtain the pipe for immediate installation, it appears reasonable and consistent with the public interest to provide a shortened period for the filing of protests or petitions to intervene. Therefore, any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said petition to amend should on or before June 2, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR 157.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken but will not serve to make the protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

[Project No. 2716]

VIRGINIA ELECTRIC & POWER CO.

Notice of Application For Approval of Revised Exhibit S (Detailed Plan For Mitigation of Impacts on Fish and Wildlife)

MAY 22, 1978.

Public notice is hereby given that an application for approval of revised exhibit S (detailed plan for mitigation of impacts on fish and wildlife) was filed on January 13, 1978, under the Federal Power Act (16 U.S.C. § 791a-825r), by Virginia Electric and Power Co. (licensee) (correspondence to: Mr. W. L. Proffitt, Senior Vice President, Virginia Electric and Power Co., Richmond, Va. 23261) for the Bath County pumped storage project No. 2716. The unconstructed project is located on Back and Little Back Creek in Bath County near the town of Mountain Grove, Va.

The revised exhibit S filed pursuant to article 44 of the project No. 2716 license sets forth licensee's detailed plan to avoid or mitigate expected adverse impacts on fish and wildlife resources in the project area. The plan would include construction of two recreational ponds totaling about 85 acres downstream of the lower reservoir and adjacent to Back Creek; improvement of fish habitat in a 1.6 mile stretch of Back Creek downstream of the lower reservoir; and measures to minimize impacts on wildlife habitat during clearance of transmission line rights-of-way and to restore wildlife habitat altered during construction of project works.

The plan was prepared in consultation with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the U.S. Forest Service and the Virginia Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make protest with reference to said application should, on or before July 10, 1978, file with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, a petition to intervene or a protest in accordance with the requirements of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR § 1.8 or § 1.10). All protests filed with the Commission will be considered by it in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make the protestants parties to a proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party to a proceeding or to participate as a party in any hearing therein must file a petition to intervene in accordance with the Commission's rules.

The application is on file with the Commission and is available for public inspection.

VIRGINIA ELECTRIC AND POWER CO.

Filing

MAY 22, 1978.

Take notice that on May 15, 1978, Virginia Electric and Power Co. (VEPCO) tendered for filing a revised supplement to the contract between VEPCO and Shenandoah Valley Electric Cooperative. VEPCO states that the revised contract supplement has certain items changed as a result of the sale of substation facilities in place at North River delivery point as set forth below:

Delivery point, North River; present FERC No., 84-24; proposed FERC No., 84-44; item corrected, 4, 5 (1), (2), (3), 6, 7, 8, 10, 11.

VEPCO proposes an effective date of April 24, 1978, and therefore requests waiver of the Commission's notice requirements.

Any person desiring to be heard or protest said filing should file a petition to intervene or protest with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, 825 North Capitol Street NE., Washington, D.C. 20426, in accordance with sections 1.8 and 1.10 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8, 1.10). All such petitions or protests should be filed on or before June 5, 1978. Protests will be considered by the Commission in determining the appropriate action to be taken, but will not serve to make protestants parties to the proceeding. Any person wishing to become a party must file a petition to intervene. Copies of this filing are on file with the Commission and are available for public inspection.

Office of Energy Technology

LEGAL AND INSTITUTIONAL SUBCOMMITTEE OF ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON GEOTHERMAL ENERGY

Public Meeting

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92-463, 86 Stat. 770), notice is hereby given that the Legal and Institutional Subcommittee of the Advisory Committee on Geothermal Energy will meet on Tuesday, June 20, 1978, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Suite 285, World Trade Center, 350 South Figueroa Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

The purpose of this subcommittee is to make recommendations to the parent committee with regard to the plans and activities of the Division of Geothermal Energy, Department of Energy, and in particular to provide advice on programs and approaches to effective government-industry cooperation with respect to legal and institutional problems.

The purpose of this meeting is to make specific recommendations for accomplishing the President's directive in his April 20, 1977, energy message that "the Departments of Interior and Agriculture will streamline their leasing and environmental review procedures to remove unnecessary barriers to development of geothermal resources."

The tentative agenda for this meeting is as follows:

- 10 a.m.—Opening remarks—Joseph W. Aidlin, chairman.
- 10:15 a.m.—Streamlining task force, purpose and objectives—task force chairman, Weldon B. Short, Bureau of Land Management, Department of Interior.

11 a.m.—The leasing process—Dale Zimmerman, Bureau of Land Management, Department of Interior.

12 noon—Lunch.

1 p.m.—Post-lease permits—Reid Stone, U.S. Geological Survey, Department of Interior.

2 p.m.—Open discussion.

3:45 p.m.—Public comment (10-minute rule). Adjourn.

The meeting is open to the public. The chairman of the subcommittee is empowered to conduct the meeting in a fashion that will, in his judgment, facilitate the orderly conduct of business. Any member of the public who wishes to file a written statement with the subcommittee will be permitted to do so, either before or after the meeting. Members of the public who wish to make oral statements should inform Georgia Hildreth, Acting Director, Advisory Committee Management Office, 202-566-9969, at least 5 days prior to the meeting and reasonable provisions will be made for their appearance on the agenda.

The transcript of the meeting will be available for public review and copying at the Freedom of Information Public Reading Room, Room 2107, DOE, Federal Building, 12th and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, except Federal holidays. Any person may purchase a copy of the transcript from the reporter.

Issued at Washington, D.C. on May 25, 1978.

WILLIAM P. DAVIS,
Deputy Director of Administration.

ADMINISTRATOR'S TOXIC SUBSTANCES ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Open Meeting

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Notice of open meeting.

SUMMARY: There will be a meeting of the Administrator's Toxic Substances Advisory Committee from 7 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Sunday, June 25; from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Monday, June 26; and if needed for continued discussion from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, Tuesday, June 27, 1978. The meeting will be held in Beekman Parlor, New York Hilton (Rockefeller Center) 1335 Avenue of the Americas, 53rd to 54th Street, New York, and will be open to the public.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Dr. H. Wade Fowler, Jr., Executive Secretary, Administrator's Toxic Substances Advisory Committee, Office of Toxic Substances (TS-788), Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460, telephone 703-557-7560.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION: The agenda for this meeting will include discussions on the following topics:

1. Discussion of major issues involved in setting up premanufacturing notification; and specifically, preliminary discussion regarding rules and regulations for submittal of notices.

2. Organizational activities of the Committee.

3. In addition, the Agency may present status reports on other ongoing programs of the Office of Toxic Substances.

Any member of the public wishing to attend or submit a paper should contact Dr. H. Wade Fowler, Jr., at the address or phone listed above. Interested persons are permitted to file written statements before or after the meeting, and may upon advance notice to the Executive Secretary, present oral statements to the extent that time permits. Persons desirous of making oral statements must notify the Executive Secretary and submit 20 copies of a summary not later than June 21, 1978.

Individuals who wish to file written statements are advised to submit copies of statements to the Executive Secretary in a timely manner to ensure appropriate consideration by the committee.

Dated: May 23, 1978.

SOUTHERN AGRICULTURAL INSECTICIDES, INC., ET AL.

Dibromochloropropane (DBCP); Clarification and Amendment of Suspension Order

On September 8, 1977, a notice of intent to suspend and conditionally suspend registrations of pesticide products containing dibromochloropropane (DBCP) was issued under section 6(c) of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, as amended. The notice is set forth at 42 FR 48915 (September 26, 1977).

On October 27, 1977, after three timely requests for a hearing (on the question of whether an imminent hazard existed) were withdrawn a suspension order was issued suspending the registrations of all pesticide products containing DBCP. This order is set forth at 42 FR 57543 (November 3, 1977).

The suspension order implemented two separate suspension actions: a conditional suspension of all pesticide products containing DBCP to mitigate the hazards to DBCP applicators and an unconditional "specific food use" suspension of DBCP products registered for use on any of 19 food crops, including strawberries, based on determinations of the likelihood of DBCP residues occurring in the edible portions of these crops. Consequently, the unconditional suspension would have prohibited all uses of DBCP on strawberries, including its use on strawberry plants being grown as transplants or nursery stock, which use will not result in DBCP residues in the fruit harvested for human consumption.

Administrator Douglas M. Costle has determined that it was not the intent of the suspension order to unconditionally suspend that minor use, and therefore issues this clarification and amendment as set forth below.

Dated: May 18, 1978.

EDWIN L. JOHNSON,
Deputy Assistant Administrator for Pesticide Programs.
[FIFRA Docket Nos. 398, 399, 400]

SOUTHERN AGRICULTURAL INSECTICIDES, INC., ET AL., PETITIONERS

CLARIFICATION AND AMENDMENT OF THE SUSPENSION ORDER DATED OCTOBER 27, 1977, RELATING TO PESTICIDE PRODUCTS CONTAINING DIBROMOCHLOROPROPANE (DBCP)

On September 8, 1977, I issued a notice of intent to suspend and conditionally suspend registrations of pesticide products containing dibromochloropropane (42 FR 48915, September 26, 1977), as the result of my determination that such action was necessary to prevent an imminent hazard from the use of DBCP. Every registrant of a DBCP product had an opportunity under section 6(c) of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) (7 U.S.C. 136 et seq.) to request a hearing on the question of whether an imminent hazard existed. Only three timely requests for a hearing were submitted, each of which was subsequently withdrawn. Consequently, on October 27, 1977, I issued a suspension order suspending the registrations of all pesticide products containing DBCP (42 FR 57543, November 3, 1977).

The suspension order implemented two separate suspension actions: an unconditional "specific food use" suspension of DBCP products registered for use on any of nineteen (19) food crops, based on determinations of the likelihood of DBCP residues occurring in the edible portions of those crops; and a conditional suspension of all DBCP products, aimed at mitigating hazards to DBCP applicators. With respect to the conditional suspension, registrants were afforded an opportunity to be relieved from the suspension order by obtaining an interim registration amendment implementing certain classification and labeling changes—including the restriction of the product to use only by certified applicators (or persons under their direct supervision) utilizing prescribed protection equipment and respirators. With respect to the specific food use suspension, however, my action was final and unconditional, and no such opportunity for relief was granted.

As indicated above, the unconditional specific food use suspension was aimed exclusively at those uses of DBCP which were identified as involving potential human exposure to DBCP through the consumption of DBCP residues. It was not my intention, as detailed in the notice of intent to suspend, to unconditionally suspend any use which does not present such risks. However, it has come to the Agency's attention that a minor use of DBCP, which does not present such risks of human exposure, appears to have been inadvertently included among the uses which were unconditionally suspended.

The minor use at issue is the use of DBCP as a post-plant sidedressing treatment, to strawberry plants being grown as transplants or as nursery stock. As explained in a letter from the Maryland Secretary of Agriculture, Maryland conducts a strawberry plant certification program which requires two to three post-plant applications of DBCP—the first 4 to 6 weeks after planting, the second 10 to 12 weeks after planting, and the third (when required in certain problem areas) 14 to 16 weeks after planting. However, plants being grown as transplants are not allowed to fruit and the flowers are removed manually to stimulate vegetative growth and increase subsequent plant production. When the plants are removed from the treated soil and prepared for shipment as transplants, all of the soil is removed from the plant roots and most of the leaves are removed before the plants are packaged. Finally, the recommended practice is to remove the flowers again during the first growing (i.e., post-transplant) season, to increase fruit production in the second and subsequent seasons. Thus, in most cases no fruit will be harvested for human consumption until approximately 20-22 months after the last application of DBCP to the soil in which the plants were originally grown as transplants. Agency chemists have determined that under these circumstances, no residues of DBCP will occur in the fruit that is ultimately harvested for human consumption.

As I have indicated, it was not my intention to unconditionally suspend the use of DBCP in strawberry fields for every use, but only for those uses which could be expected to result in DBCP residues in the edible portions of the plants. Accordingly, I am issuing this clarification of the Suspension Order so that it will properly reflect the action which I initially intended to implement.

Paragraph One of my suspension order of October 27, 1977, is therefore amended to read:

1. "The registrations issued under the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), as amended, 7 U.S.C. 136 et seq. (Supp. V, 1975), of all pesticide products containing dibromochloropropane ("DBCP") registered for use on broccoli, brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, eggplant, endive, lettuce, melons, parsnips, peanuts, peppers, radishes, squash, strawberries (except for use on strawberry plants which are being grown as transplants or nursery stock and which are not allowed to fruit until after being transplanted), tomatoes and turnips are hereby suspended and the sale, distribution or other movement in commerce, and the use of all such pesticide products for the foregoing uses is prohibited."

Finally, it is important to emphasize that this clarification and amendment does not affect the status of the minor use at issue under the provisions of Paragraph Two of the suspension order (i.e., the conditional suspension). Registrations of DBCP products for that use are still conditionally suspended and relief from that conditional suspension can only be achieved in accordance with the provisions of Paragraphs Two and Three of the Suspension Order.

"The Agency has also been informed that an identical program is conducted by the State of Delaware and that other states also conducted similar or identical programs.

"Even if the recommended practice of removing the flowers during the first growing season is not followed by the purchaser of the transplant, no fruit will be harvested for human consumption until approximately 8-10 months after the last application of DBCP to the soil in which the plants were originally grown as transplants. Since the strawberry plants will have been removed from the treated soil long before the edible portions are formed, the possibility of residues occurring in those edible portions will still be eliminated.

Dated: May 10, 1978.

DOUGLAS M. COSTLE, Administrator.

AMBIENT AIR MONITORING REFERENCE AND EQUIVALENT METHODS

Receipt of Application for a Reference Method Determination

Notice is hereby given that on May 11, 1978, the Environmental Protection Agency received an application from Thermo Electron Corp., 108 South Street, Hopkinton, Mass., to determine if its Model 14 B/E Chemiluminescent NO-NO₂-NO_x analyzer should be designated by the Administrator of the EPA as a reference method under 40 CFR Part 53, promulgated February 18, 1975 (40 FR 7044) and amended December 1, 1976 (41 FR 52692). If, after appropriate technical study, the Administrator determines that this method should be so designated, notice thereof will be given in a subsequent issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

H. M. BILLS,
(Acting) Assistant Administrator for Research and Development.

PESTICIDE REGISTRATION

Receipt of Application; Data to be Considered in Support of Applications

On November 19, 1973, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (39 FR 31862) its interim policy with respect to the administration of section 3(c)(1)(D) of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), as amended ("Interim Policy Statement"). On January 22, 1976, EPA published in the FEDERAL REGISTER a document entitled "Registration of a Pesticide Product—Consideration of Data by the Administrator in support of an Application" [41 FR 3339]. This document described the changes in the Agency's procedures for implementing Section 3(c)(1)(D) of FIFRA, as set out in the Interim Policy Statement which were effected by the enactment of the amendments to FIFRA on November 28, 1975 (Pub. L. 94-140), and the regulations governing the registration and reregistration of pesticides which became effective on August 4, 1975 [40 CFR Part 162].

Pursuant to the procedures set forth in these FEDERAL REGISTER documents, EPA hereby gives notice of the applications for pesticide registration listed below. In some cases these applications have recently been received; in other cases, applications have been amended by the submission of additional supporting data, the election of a new method of support, or the submission of new "offer to pay" statements.

In the case of all applications, the labeling furnished by the applicant for the product will be available for inspection at the Environmental Protection Agency, Room 209, East Tower, 401 M Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20460. In the case of applications subject to the section 3 regulations which utilize either the 2(a) or 2(b) method of support specified in the Interim Policy Statement, all data citations submitted or referenced by the applicant in support of the application will be made available for inspection at the above address. This information (proposed labeling and, where applicable, data citations) will also be supplied by mail, upon request. However, such a request should be made only when circumstances make it inconvenient for the inspection to be made at the Agency offices.

Any person who (a) is or has been an applicant, (b) believes that data he developed and submitted to EPA on or after January 1, 1970, are being used to support an application described in this notice, (c) desires to assert a claim under section 3(c)(1)(D) for such use of his data and wishes to preserve his right to have the Administrator determine the amount of reasonable compensation to which he is entitled for such use of the data, or (d) wishes to assert confidential status under section 10 for his data, must notify the Administrator and the applicant named in the notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER of his claim by certified mail. Notification to the Administrator should be addressed to the Product Control Branch, Registration Division (WH-567), Office of Pesticide Programs, Environmental Protection Agency, 401 M St. SW., Washington, D.C. 20460. Every such claimant must include, at a minimum, the information listed in the Interim Policy Statement of November 19, 1973.

Specific questions concerning applications made to the Agency should be addressed to the designated Product Manager (PM), Registration Division (WH-567), Office of Pesticide Programs, at the above address, or by telephone as follows:

PM 11, 12, and 13—202-755-9315;
PM 21 and 22—202-426-2454;
PM24—202-755-2196;
PM31—202-426-2635;
PM33—202-755-9041
PM15, 16, and 17—202-426-9425;
PM23—202-755-1397;
PM25—202-426-2632;
PM32—202-426-9486;
PM34—202-426-9480.

The Interim Policy Statement requires that claims for compensation be filed on or before July 31, 1978. EPA will not delay any registration pending the assertion of claims for compensation or the determination of reasonable compensation. Inquiries and assertions that data relied upon are subject to protection under section 10 of FIFRA, as amended, should be made on or before June 30, 1978. Registration will be delayed pending resolution of section 10 claims.

Dated: May 22, 1978.

DOUGLAS D. CAMPT,
Acting Director
Registration Division.

FEDERAL PREVAILING RATE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

OPEN COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92-463), notice is hereby given that meetings of the Federal Prevailing Rate Advisory Committee will be held on:

Thursday, June 15, 1978

Thursday, June 22, 1978

Thursday, June 29, 1978

The meetings will convene at 10 a.m., and will be held in Room 5A06A, Civil Service Commission Building, 1900 E Street NW., Washington, D.C.

The Federal Prevailing Rate Advisory Committee is composed of a chairman, representatives of five labor unions holding exclusive bargaining rights for Federal blue-collar employees, and representatives of five Federal agencies. Entitlement to membership on the committee is provided for in 5 U.S.C. 5347.

The committee's primary responsibility is to review the prevailing rate system and other matters pertinent to the establishment of prevailing rates under subchapter IV, chapter 53, 5 U.S.C., as amended, and from time to time advise the Civil Service Commission thereon.

These scheduled meetings will convene in open session with both labor and management representatives attending. During the meeting either the labor members or the management members may caucus separately with the chairman to devise strategy and formulate positions. Premature disclosure of the matters discussed in these caucuses would impair to an unacceptable degree the ability of the committee to reach a consensus on the matters being considered and disrupt substantially the disposition of its business. Therefore, these caucuses will be closed to the public on the basis of a determination made by the chairman of the Civil Service Commission under the provisions of section 10(d) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (Pub. L. 92-463) and 5 U.S.C. section 552b(c)(9)(B). These caucuses may, depending on the issues involved, constitute a substantial portion of the meeting.

Annually, the committee publishes for the Civil Service Commission, the President, and Congress a comprehensive report of pay issues discussed, concluded recommendations thereon, and related activities. These reports are also available to the public, upon written request to the committee secretary.

Members of the public are invited to submit material in writing to the chairman concerning Federal Wage System pay matters felt to be deserving of the committee's attention. Additional information concerning this meeting may be obtained by contacting the Secretary, Federal Prevailing Rate Advisory Committee, Room 1338, 1900 E Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20415, 202-632-9710.

JEROME H. ROSS,
Chairman, Federal Prevailing
Rate Advisory Committee.

GENERAL ACCOUNTING OFFICE

REGULATORY REPORTS REVIEW.

Receipt of Report Proposals

The following requests for clearance of reports intended for use in collecting information from the public were received by the Regulatory Reports Review Staff, GAO, on May 22, 1978 (FMC), and May 23, 1978 (ICC). See 44 U.S.C. 3512 (c) and (d). The purpose of publishing this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER is to inform the public of such receipts.

The notice includes the title of each request received; the name of the agency sponsoring the proposed collection of information; the agency form number, if applicable; and the frequency with which the information is proposed to be collected.

Written comments on the proposed FMC and ICC requests are invited from all interested persons, organizations, public interest groups, and affected businesses. Because of the limited amount of time GAO has to review the proposed requests, comments (in triplicate) must be received on or before June 19, 1978, and should be addressed to Mr. John M. Lovelady, Assistant Director, Regulatory Reports Review, United States General Accounting Office, Room 5106, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C. 20548.

Further information may be obtained from Patsy J. Stuart of the Regulatory Reports Review Staff, 202-275-3532.

FEDERAL MARITIME COMMISSION

The FMC requests an extension without change of Part 510 of Chapter IV, Title 46, CFR, General Order 4, and Form FMC-18, Application for a License as an Independent Ocean Freight Forwarder. The rule in section 510.3(c) requires that the application be submitted to provide the information necessary for the FMC to determine an applicant's eligibility to be licensed as an independent ocean freight forwarder pursuant to section 44 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended. This is a one-time application. The rules also require in sections 510.23(k) and 510.25 that each licensee maintain records and books on accounts correctly and orderly for five years and make such records available upon request of any authorized representative of the FMC, and that copies of special arrangements or contracts be maintained and made available upon request of any authorized representative of FMC and bona fide shippers upon reasonable request.

Section 510.26(a) requires that agreements subject to section 15 of the Shipping Act of 1916, be filed with the FMC for approval. Section 510.24(e) requires a certification which business must incorporate on one copy of the shipping papers and endorse. The FMC estimates that there is a universe of approximately 600 respondents per year filing for a license and that burden for respondents averages one-half hour for each respondent.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

The ICC requests clearance of revisions to Form Ex Parte No. 305, require to be filed by Class I line-haul railroads by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission dated July 22, 1974, in Ex Parte No. 305, Nationwide Increase of Ten Percent in Freight Rates and Charges, 1974, and subsequent orders. By order of December 28, 1977, the increase granted in Ex Parte No. 305 was made permanent. No substantial change is made in the data requirements; however, the revisions are that the items to be reported reflect changes in the Uniform System of Accounts for Railroads adopted by the Commission's order of June 13, 1977. The filing frequency is also revised from quarterly to semi-annual. Reports are used by the ICC to insure that respondents are properly expending the required funds to reduce deferred maintenance of plant and equipment, and capital improvements. Reports are mandatory and available for public use. The ICC estimates that respondents number approximately 42 and that reporting burden will average 520 hours per report.

Bureau of Reclamation

SAN JUAN NATIONAL FOREST

Order of Transfer of Administrative Jurisdiction of Land of Vallecito Reservoir, Pine River Project, Colo.

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of the Interior by section 7(c) of the Act of July 9, 1965 (79 Stat. 216), and his delegation of authority to the Commissioner of Reclamation dated February 25, 1966, published March 4, 1966 (31 FR 3426), jurisdiction over the following-described lands, which lie within and adjacent to the San Juan National Forest, Colo., and which were acquired by the Bureau of Reclamation in the development of the Vallecito Reservoir, Pine River Project, is hereby transferred to the Secretary of Agriculture for recreational and other National Forest System purposes.

Pursuant to said section 7(c) of the aforesaid Act of July 9, 1965, the above lands shall become National Forest lands. This order shall be effective May 31, 1978.

All lands within the flow lines of the reservoir, or otherwise needed or used for the operation of the project or other purposes, shall continue to be administered by the Secretary of the Interior through the Bureau of Reclamation, to the extent he determines to be necessary for such operation.

Dated: May 23, 1978.

R. KEITH HIGGINSON,
Commissioner,
Bureau of Reclamation.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

CF&I STEEL CORP.

Proposed Consent Decree in Action to Enjoin Discharge of Air Pollutants

In accordance with Departmental Policy, 28 CFR § 50.7, 38 FR 19029, notice is hereby given that on May 3, 1978, a proposed consent decree in United States of America v. CF&I Steel Corporation, Civil Action No. 76-A-670, was lodged with the United States District Court for the District of Colorado. The proposed consent decree establishes emission limitations, performance standards, and testing and reporting procedures for various aspects of the operation of the defendant's coke plant at its iron and steel producing facility in Pueblo, Colo. The proposed consent decree also establishes a schedule of compliance for installation of a new pushing emission control system at the coke plant. The defendant is required to achieve compliance with Colorado Air Pollution Control Commission Regulation 1-I.A.1 by October 15, 1979. If compliance with the regulation is not achieved by that date, the defendant is required to pay to the United States the sum of $5,000 for each day that compliance is delayed, unless the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the defendant.

The proposed consent decree may be examined at the office of the United States Attorney, Civil Division, 6001 Federal Building, C-330 U.S. Court House, Drawer 3615, Denver, Colo. 80294; at the Region VIII office of the Environmental Protection Agency, Enforcement Division, 1860 Lincoln Street, Denver, Colo. 80295; and at the Pollution Control Section, Land and Natural Resources Division of the Department of Justice, Room 2625, Ninth and Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D.C. 20530. A copy of the proposed consent decree may be obtained in person or by mail from the Pollution Control Section, Land and Natural Resources Division of the Department of Justice.

The Department of Justice will receive written comments relating to the proposed consent decree for a period of thirty (30) days from the date of this notice. Comments should be addressed to the Assistant Attorney General, Land and Natural Resources Division, Department of Justice, Washington, D.C. 20530, and should refer to United States of America v. CF&I Steel Corporation, D. Colorado, Civil Action No. 76-A-670, D.J. Ref. 90-5-2-1-39.

CONSOLIDATED PACKAGING CORP.

Proposed Consent Decree in Action to Enjoin Discharge of Water Pollutants

In accordance with Department Policy, 28 CFR § 50.7, 38 FR 19029, notice is hereby given that on May 15, 1978, a proposed consent decree in United States of America v. Consolidated Packaging Corporation, Civil No. 77-113-1, was lodged with the United States District Court for the Southern District of Iowa. The proposed decree provides for new interim and final effluent limitations with which the defendant must comply at its plant in Fort Madison, Iowa. These limitations will be incorporated into a revised NPDES permit.

The proposed decree sets forth a schedule for achieving compliance with the final effluent limitations by July 1, 1979, and provides for a basic penalty of $100,000. Violation by the defendant of interim deadlines contained in the proposed decree will result in a penalty of $1,000 per day, and failure to achieve the final limitations by July 1, 1979 will result in payment of a penalty of $250,000 plus $10,000 per day until compliance is achieved.

The proposed consent decree may be examined at the office of the United States Attorney, 122 U.S. Courthouse, Des Moines, Iowa 50309; at the Region VII office of the Environmental Protection Agency, Enforcement Division, 1735 Baltimore, Kansas City, Mo. 64108; and at the Pollution Control Section, Land and Natural Resources Division of the Department of Justice, Room 2630, Ninth and Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20530. A copy of the proposed consent decree may be obtained in person or by mail from the Pollution Control Section, Land and Natural Resources Division of the Department of Justice.

The Department of Justice will receive written comments relating to the proposed consent on or before June 30, 1978. Comments should be addressed to the Assistant Attorney General, Land and Natural Resources Division, Department of Justice, Washington, D.C. 20530, and should refer to United States of America v. Consolidated Packaging Corporation, D. J. Ref. 90-5-1-1-838.

NATIONAL COMMISSION ON EMPLOYMENT AND UNEMPLOYMENT STATISTICS

PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the National Commission on Employment and Unemployment Statistics will hold a public hearing on June 20, 1978, in Room 9022, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, Calif. 94102.

The National Commission on Employment and Unemployment Statistics was established under section 13 of the Emergency Jobs Program Extension Act of 1976, Pub. L. 94-444. Its purpose is to advise the President and the Congress on reliable and comprehensive measurements of employment and unemployment by examining the procedures, concepts and methodology involved in employment and unemployment statistics, and suggesting ways and means of improving them.

Both producers and users of employment and unemployment statistics are invited to testify regarding the adequacy of current concepts and methods involved in producing these statistics for the nation, regions, states, and local areas. Testimony is invited on the usefulness of current statistics to policymaking and the specific needs of users.

The hearing will begin at 9:30 a.m. The public is invited to attend. Persons desiring to testify should submit a written request at least seven days before the hearing date. Written statements should be provided 24 hours in advance of the scheduled appearance. These materials and additional questions regarding the hearings or the National Commission on Employment and Unemployment Statistics may be addressed to:

Marc Rosenblum, Staff Economist, National Commission on Employment and Unemployment Statistics, 2000 K Street NW., Suite 550, Washington, D.C. 20006.

Signed at Washington, D.C. this 15th day of April, 1978.

SAR A. LEVITAN,
Chairman.

APPENDIX—NATIONAL COMMISSION ON THE INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE CHILD

In the event that a system of records maintained by this agency to carry out its functions indicates a violation or potential violation of law, whether civil, criminal or regulatory in nature, and whether arising by general statute or particular program statute, or by regulation, rule or order issued pursuant thereto, the relevant records in the system of records may be referred, as a routine use, to the appropriate agency, whether federal, state, local or foreign, charged with the responsibility of investigating or prosecuting such violation or charged with enforcing or implementing the statute, or rule, regulation or order issued pursuant thereto.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a "routine use" to a Federal, State or local agency maintaining civil, criminal or other relevant enforcement information or other pertinent information, such as current licenses, if necessary to obtain information relevant to an agency decision concerning the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the letting of a contract or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to a Federal agency, in response to its request, in connection with the hiring or retention of an employee, the issuance of a security clearance, the reporting of an investigation of an employee, the letting of a contract, or the issuance of a license, grant or other benefit by the requesting agency, to the extent that the information is relevant and necessary to the requesting agency's decision in the matter.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to an authorized appeal grievance examiner, formal complaints examiner, equal employment opportunity investigator, arbitrator or other duly authorized official engaged in investigation or settlement of a grievance, complaint, or appeal filed by an employee. A record from this system of records may be disclosed to the United States Civil Service Commission in accordance with the agency's responsibility for evaluation and oversight of Federal personnel management.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of a federal agency for purposes of audit.

The information contained in this system of records will be disclosed to the Office of Management and Budget in connection with the review of private relief legislation as set forth in OMB Circular No. A19 at any stage of the legislative coordination and clearance process as set forth in that Circular.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed as a routine use to a Member of Congress or to a Congressional staff member in response to an inquiry of the Congressional office made at the request of the individual about whom the record is maintained.

A record from this system of records may be disclosed to officers and employees of the General Services Administration in connection with administrative services provided to this agency under agreement with GSA.

(the licensee), which revised the Technical Specifications for operation of the Palisades Plant (the facility) located in Covert Township, Van Buren County, Mich. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment changes the Palisades Technical Specifications relating to the limits on primary coolant pressure and temperature for normal reactor operation, heatup and cooldown operations and tests.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this action was not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

The Commission has determined that the issuance of this amendment will not result in any significant environmental impact and that pursuant to 10 CFR § 51.5(d)(4) an environmental impact statement or negative declaration and environmental impact appraisal need not be prepared in connection with issuance of this amendment.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated February 22, 1978 and supplement thereto dated March 7, 1978, (2) Amendment No. 41 to License No. DPR-20, and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. All of these items are available for public inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. and at the Kalamazoo Public Library, 315 South Rose Street, Kalamazoo, Mich. 49006. DUQUESNE LIGHT CO. ET AL.; BEAVER VALLEY POWER STATION, UNIT NO. 1Order for Modification of License*I.

The Duquesne Light Co., Ohio Edison Co., and Pennsylvania Power Co. (the licensees), is the holder of Facility Operating License No. DPR-66 which authorizes the operation of the nuclear power reactor known as Beaver Valley Power Station, Unit No. 1 (the facility), at steady reactor power levels not in excess of 2,652 megawatts thermal (rated power). The facility consists of a Westinghouse Electric Co. designed pressurized reactor (PWR) located at the licensees' site in Beaver County, Pa.

II.

In accordance with the requirements of the Commission's ECCS Acceptance Criteria 10 CFR § 50.46, the licensees submitted on November 30, 1976 an ECCS evaluation for proposed operation using 17 x 17 fuel manufactured by the Westinghouse Co. This evaluation included limits on the peaking factor. The ECCS performance evaluation submitted by the licensees was based upon an ECCS evaluation developed by the Westinghouse Electric Co. (Westinghouse), the designer of the Nuclear Steam Supply System for this facility. The Westinghouse ECCS Evaluation Model had been previously found to conform to the requirements of the Commission's ECCS Acceptance Criteria, 10 CFR Part § 50.46 and Appendix K. The evaluation indicated that with the peaking factor limited as set forth in the evaluation, and with other limits set forth in the facility's Technical Specifications, the ECCS cooling performance for the facility would conform with the criteria contained in 10 CFR § 50.46(b) which govern calculated peak clad temperature, maximum cladding oxidation, maximum hydrogen generation, coolable geometry and long-term cooling.

On March 23, 1978 Westinghouse informed the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) that an error had been discovered in the fuel rod heat balance equation involving the incorrect use of only half of the volumetric heat generation due to metal-water reaction in calculating the cladding temperature. Thus, the LOCA analyses previously submitted to the Commission by licensees of Westinghouse reactors were in error. The staff promptly determined that no immediate action was required to assure safe operation of these plants.

The error identified would result in an increase in calculated peak clad temperature, which, for some plants, could result in calculated temperatures in excess of 2,200° F unless the allowable peaking factor was reduced somewhat. Westinghouse identified a number of other areas in the approved model which Westinghouse indicated contained sufficient conservatism to offset the calculated increase in peak clad temperature resulting from the correction of the error noted above. Four of these areas were generic, applicable to all plants, and a number of others were plant specific. As outlined in the attached SER, the staff concurs that some of these modifications would be appropriate to offset to some extent the penalty resulting from correction of the error. The attached SER sets forth the value for each modification applicable to each facility.

Revised computer calculations correcting the error, noted above, and incorporating the modifications described in the SER have not been run for each plant. However, the various parametric studies that have been made for various aspects of the approved model over the course of time provide a reasonable basis for concluding that when final revised calculations for the facility are submitted using the revised and corrected model, they will demonstrate that with the peaking factors set forth in the SER operation will conform to the criteria of 10 CFR § 50.46(b). Such revised calculations fully conforming to 10 CFR § 50.46 are to be provided for the facility as soon as possible.

As discussed in this order and in the SER, operation of the Beaver Valley facility at the peaking factor limit specified in this order will assure that the ECCS will conform to the performance requirements of 10 CFR § 50.46(b). Accordingly, such limits provide reasonable assurance that the public health and safety will not be endangered. Upon notification by the NRC staff, the licensees committed to provide a reevaluation of ECCS performance as promptly as practicable and to limit operation to achieve a peaking factor not exceeding the value specified herein. Such commitments were confirmed by the licensees' letter of April 5, 1978. The staff believes that the licensees' action, under the circumstances, is appropriate and that this action should be confirmed by NRC Order.

IV.

Copies of the Safety Evaluation and the following documents are available for inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room at 1717 H Street, Washington, D.C. 20555, and are being placed in the Commission's local public document room at the Beaver Area Memorial Library, 100 College Avenue, Beaver, Pa.:

(1) Letter from Westinghouse to NRC dated April 7, 1978.

(2) Letter from Duquesne Light Co., to Mr. A. Schwencer, Operating Reactors Branch No. 1, dated April 5, 1978.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Commission's Rules and Regulations in 10 CFR Parts 2 and 50, it is ordered, That Facility Operating License No. DPR-66 is hereby amended by adding the following new provisions:

(1) As soon possible, the licensees shall submit a reevaluation of ECCS cooling performance calculated in accordance with the Westinghouse Evaluation Model, approved by the NRC staff and corrected for the errors described herein.

(2) Until further authorization by the Commission, the Technical Specification limit for total nuclear peaking factor (F_p) for the facility shall be limited to 2.31.

DUQUESNE LIGHT CO., ET AL.

Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 13 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-66, issued to Duquesne Light Co., Ohio Edison Co., and Pennsylvania Power Co. (the licensees), which revised the license and its appended Technical Specifications for operation of the Beaver Valley Power Station Unit No. 1 (the facility) located in Beaver County, Pa. The amendment is to be effective upon startup following the refueling outage scheduled to start about November 1978.

This amendment deletes satisfied License Condition 2.C.(4) and adds Technical Specifications relating to the automation of the Emergency Core Cooling System transfer from the injection mode to the recirculation mode.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment was not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

The Commission has determined that the issuance of this amendment will not result in any significant environmental impact and that pursuant to 10 CFR § 51.5(d)(4) an environmental impact statement, or negative declaration and environmental impact appraisal need not be prepared in connection with issuance of this amendment.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) the application for amendment dated December 16, 1976, (2) Amendment No. 13 to License No. DPR-66, and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. PHILADELPHIA ELECTRIC COMPANY, ET AL.

Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 42 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-44 issued to Philadelphia Electric Co., Public Service Electric and Gas Co., Delmarva Power and Light Co., and Atlantic City Electric Co., with revised technical Specifications for operation of the Peach Bottom Atomic Power Station, Unit No. 2. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment consists of temporary changes to the Technical Specifications which will allow implementation of a testing program of reactor stability response. During the tests compensatory changes will be made that will assure that reactor safety margins will be the same as those established by transient and accident analyses for cycle 3 operation.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment was not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

The Commission has determined that the issuance of this amendment will not result in any significant environmental impact and that pursuant to 10 CFR § 51.5(d)(4) an environmental impact statement, negative declaration or environmental impact appraisal need not be prepared in connection with issuance of this amendment.

REGULATORY GUIDE

Issuance and Availability

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission has issued a new guide in its Regulatory Guide Series. This series has been developed to describe and make available to the public methods acceptable to the NRC staff of implementing specific parts of the Commission's regulations and, in some cases, to delineate techniques used by the staff in evaluating specific problems or postulated accidents and to provide guidance to applicants concerning certain of the information needed by the staff in its review of applications for permits and licenses.

Regulatory Guide 8.21, "Health Physics Surveys for Byproduct Material at NRC-Licensed Processing and Manufacturing Plants," identifies the types and frequencies of surveys acceptable to the NRC staff in plants licensed by the NRC for processing byproduct material or for manufacturing such material for distribution.

Comments and suggestions in connection with (1) items for inclusion in guides currently being developed or (2) improvements in all published guides are encouraged at any time. Public comments on Regulatory Guide 8.21 will, however, be particularly useful in evaluating the need for an early revision if received by July 28, 1978.

Comments should be sent to the Secretary of the Commission, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Branch.

Regulatory guides are available for inspection at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. Requests for single copies of issued guides (which may be reproduced) or for placement on an automatic distribution list for single copies of future guides in specific divisions should be made in writing to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Director, Division of Technical Information and Document Control. Telephone requests cannot be accommodated. Regulatory guides are not copyrighted, and Commission approval is not required to reproduce them.

METROPOLITAN EDISON CO. ET AL.; (THREE MILE ISLAND NUCLEAR STATION, UNIT 2)

Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment 4 to Facility Operating License No. DPR-73, issued to the Metropolitan Edison Co., Jersey Central Power & Light Co., and Pennsylvania Electric Co., for operation of the Three Mile Island Nuclear Station Unit 2 (the facility), located in Dauphin County, Pa. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The license is amended by revising certain Technical Specifications.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment.

The Commission has determined that the issuance of this amendment will not result in any significant environmental impact and that pursuant to 10 CFR § 51.5(d)(4), an environmental statement of negative declaration and environmental impact appraisal need not be prepared in connection with issuance of this amendment.

AVAILABILITY OF STAFF TECHNICAL REPORT "SAFEGUARDING A DOMESTIC MIXED OXIDE INDUSTRY AGAINST A HYPOTHETICAL SUBNATIONAL THREAT" (REPORT NO. NUREG-0414)

On November 14, 1975, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (40 FR 53056) its conclusions regarding the scope, procedures, and schedule for the Generic Environmental Impact Statement on the Use of Recycle Plutonium in Mixed Oxide Fuel in Light Water Reactors (GESMO). This notice set forth a determination by the Commission that safeguards issues should be fully assessed before reaching a decision on the wide-scale use of mixed oxide fuel in the light water reactor fuel cycle. (Safeguards are measures employed to prevent the theft or diversion of special nuclear materials and to prevent the sabotage of nuclear facilities.)

On December 30, 1977, the NRC published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (42 FR 65334) its decision to terminate the GESMO proceedings and to publish the Draft Safeguards Supplement to the GESMO document as a staff technical report.

Notice is hereby given that the staff technical report entitled "Safeguarding a Domestic Mixed Oxide Industry Against a Hypothetical Subnational Threat" has been prepared by the Commission's Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards. On May 31, 1978, the report, designated NUREG-0414, will be available for inspection by the public at the NRC's

GEORGIA POWER CO., ET AL

Issuance of Amendment to Facility Operating License

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (the Commission) has issued Amendment No. 55 to facility Operating License No. DPR-57 issued to Georgia Power Co., Oglethorpe Electric Membership Corp., Municipal Electric Association of Georgia and City of Dalton, Ga., which revised Technical Specifications for operation of the Edwin I. Hatch Nuclear Plant, Unit No. 1, located in Appling County, Ga. The amendment is effective as of its date of issuance.

The amendment revised the Technical Specifications to incorporate requirements for establishing and maintaining the drywell to suppression chamber differential pressure to maintain the margins of safety established in the NRC staff's "Mark I Containment Short Term Program Safety Evaluation," NUREG-0408. Operation in accordance with the conditions specified in NUREG-0408 has been previously authorized in 43 FR 13108, March 29, 1978.

The application for the amendment complies with the standards and requirements of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended (the Act), and the Commission's rules and regulations. The Commission has made appropriate findings as required by the Act and the Commission's rules and regulations in 10 CFR Chapter I, which are set forth in the license amendment. Prior public notice of this amendment was not required since the amendment does not involve a significant hazards consideration.

The Commission has determined that the issuance of this amendment will not result in any significant environmental impact and that pursuant to 10 CFR section 51.5(d)(4), an environmental impact statement or negative declaration and environmental impact appraisal need not be prepared in connection with issue of this statement.

For further details with respect to this action, see (1) application for amendment dated November 1, 1976, as supplemented April 15, 1977, (2) Amendment No. 55 to License No. DPR-57, and (3) the Commission's related Safety Evaluation. [Docket Nos. 50-466, 50-467]

HOUSTON LIGHTING & POWER CO. (ALLENS CREEK NUCLEAR GENERATING STATION, UNITS 1 AND 2)

Intervention Procedures

On December 28, 1973, there was published at 38 FR 35521 a notice that Houston Lighting & Power Co. had filed an application with the Atomic Energy Commission for a permit to construct Allens Creek Nuclear Generating Station, Units 1 and 2 (Station) at a site in southern Austin County, Tex., west of the Brazos River and about 45 miles west of the center of Houston. The notice provided that petitions for leave to intervene in the proceeding could be filed by January 24, 1974. The only petition filed was by the Attorney General of the State of Texas.

A hearing was held on the application by an Atomic Safety and Licensing Board (Board) on March 11 and 12, 1975. Following that hearing the Applicant notified the Board that its plans for the construction of the Station were indefinitely deferred. The Board, notwithstanding, issued a decision in which certain findings of fact were made, and in which it was concluded that the findings "have demonstrated no reason why the (Station) site is not a suitable location for nuclear reactors of the general size and type proposed"

On August 19, 1977, the Applicant advised the Board that it wished to resume licensing of only one of the two units previously planned and that it had amended its Preliminary Safety Analysis Report to show only one unit at the same site. The amendments also included (among others) changes in plant layout and orientation, changes in the circulating water intake and discharge structures, and a reduction in the size of the cooling lake from 8,250 to 5,120 acres. These new plans for the proposed Station may raise concerns that did not exist with respect to the former ones.

For the reasons set forth above, petitions for leave to intervene with respect to matters that have arisen because of the changes in the proposed plans for the Station may be filed on or before June 30, 1978.

Any person who wishes to intervene as a party to this proceeding must file a written petition for leave to intervene in accordance with the provisions of 10 CFR 2.714. A petition for leave to intervene shall set forth the interest of the petitioner in the proceeding, how that interest may be affected by the results of the proceedings, and any other contentions of the petitioner including the facts and reasons why he should be permitted to intervene, with particular reference to the following factors: (1) The nature of the petitioner's right under the Act to be made a party to the proceeding; (2) the nature and extent of petitioner's property, financial, or other interest in the proceeding; and (3) the possible effect of any order which may be entered in the proceeding on the petitioner's interest. Any such petition must be supplemented (by the time set forth in 10 CFR 2.714(b), as amended) by a list of the contentions arising from the proposed changes in the plant design, which the petitioner seeks to have litigated, with the bases set forth for each contention in reasonable specificity.

Those permitted to intervene become parties to the proceeding, subject to any limitations in the order granting leave to intervene, and have the opportunity to participate fully in the conduct of the hearing, including the opportunity to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses.

Any petitions shall be filed by mail or telegram addressed to the Secretary of the Commission, United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission, Washington, D.C. 20555, Attention: Docketing and Service Section, or may be filed by delivery to the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. Pending further order of the Board, parties are required to file, pursuant to the provisions of 10 CFR 2.708, an original and twenty (20) conformed copies of each such paper with the Commission. A copy of any petition for intervention should also be sent to the Executive ¹This section, and other sections of 10 CFR Part 2, have been amended by changes effective May 26, 1978. See 43 FR 17796, April 26, 1978.

Subcommittee on Safety of Life at Sea Meeting

The Working Group on Radiocommunications of the Shipping Coordinating Committee's Subcommittee on Safety of Life at Sea (SOLAS) will conduct an open meeting at 1:30 p.m. on Thursday, June 15, 1978 in Room 8442 of the Department of Transportation, 400 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C.

The purpose of the meeting is to prepare position documents for the Nineteenth Session of the Subcommittee on Radiocommunications of the Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization (IMCO), to be held September 4-8, 1978 in London. In particular, the SOLAS Working Group will discuss the following topics:

Code of safety requirements for mobile offshore drilling units;

Operational standards for shipboard radio equipment;

Revision of Resolution A.283(VIII) regarding the Maritime Distress System.

Requests for further information on the meeting should be directed to Lt. F. N. Wilder, U.S. Coast Guard (G-OTM/74), Washington, D.C. 20590, telephone 202-426-1345.

The chairman will entertain comments from the public as time permits.

RICHARD K. BANK,

Chairman,
Shipping Coordinating Committee.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON THE 1979 WORLD ADMINISTRATIVE RADIO CONFERENCE

Notice of Meeting

The Department of State announces that the Advisory Committee on the 1979 World Administrative Radio Conference (WARC) will meet on June 21, 1978 at 2:30 p.m. in the East Auditorium, Department of State, 21st and Virginia Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. This will be the first meeting of the Committee.

The committee will assist in the formulation of U.S. Government positions for the conference which will be held in Geneva in September 1979. It will report to its chairman, Mr. Glen Robinson, who also serves as chairman of the U.S. delegation to the WARC; on occasion it will consult with the delegation itself.

The main purpose of the meeting will be:

a. Review of the committee's purposes and duties.

b. Briefing on the WARC, and on U.S. Government preparations for the Conference.

c. Establishment of working subgroups within the committee.

Members of the general public may attend the meeting and join in the discussions subject to instructions of the chairman. Admittance of public members will be limited to the seating available. In that regard, entrance to the Department of State building is controlled and entry will be facilitated if arrangements are made in advance of the meeting. It is requested that prior to June 21, members of the general public who plan to attend the meeting inform their name and address to Mr. Wilson Dizard, Office of International Communications Policy, Department of State; the telephone number is area code 202-632-2631. All non-Government attendees must use the 21st and Virginia Avenue entrance to the building.

Dated: May 22, 1978.

GORDON L. HUFFCUTT,
Acting Executive Secretary,
Advisory Committee on the 1979
World Administrative Radio Conference.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON TRANSNATIONAL ENTERPRISES

Meeting

The Department of State will hold meetings on June 15 for two of the working groups of the Advisory Committee on Transnational Enterprises. The Working Group on Transfer of Technology will meet from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. in Room 1107 of the State Department, 2201 C Street NW., Washington, D.C. The Working Group on Restrictive Business Practices will meet from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. in Room 1107. Both meetings will be open to the public.

The purpose of the meeting of the Technology Transfer Working Group will be to continue discussions of current efforts within the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD) to negotiate a Code of Conduct on Transfer of Technology. In particular, the group will discuss preparations for U.S. participation in the June 26-July 7 meeting on this subject of the UNCTAD Intergovernmental Group of Experts. The first meeting of the Technology Transfer Working Group was held January 18, 1978.

The purpose of the meeting of the Restrictive Business Practices Working Group will be to discuss the present status of work in international fora on the subject of restrictive business practices (RBPs), particularly the UNCTAD negotiations by the Third Ad Hoc Group of Intergovernmental Experts aimed at multilateral agreement on a set of general REP "principles and rules". The group will review the June 7-9 discussions of RBPs by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) Group of Experts and will also consider RBP aspects of the Code of Conduct on the Transfer of Technology. This will be the first meeting of the Advisory Committee's Working Group on Restrictive Business Practices.

Requests for further information on these meetings should be directed to Richard Kauzlarich, Department of State, Office of Investment Affairs, Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs, Washington, D.C. 20520. He may be reached by telephone on area code 202-632-2728.

Members of the public wishing to attend the meeting must contact Mr. Kauzlarich's office in order to arrange entrance to the State Department building.

The chairman of each working group will, as time permits, entertain oral comments from members of the public attending the meetings.

Dated: May 23, 1978.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON TRANSNATIONAL ENTERPRISES

Meeting

The Department of State will hold meetings on June 27 for two of the Working Groups of the Advisory Committee on Transnational Enterprises. The Working Group on Accounting Standards will meet from 9:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. and the Working Group on the UN/OECD Investment Undertakings will meet from 2 to 5 p.m. Both meetings will be held in Conference Room 1205 of the State Department, 2201 C Street, NW., Washington, D.C. The meetings will be open to the public.

The morning meeting on accounting standards will review developments on the standardization of accounting practices within the UN, OECD, and international and national professional groups.

The afternoon meeting on OECD/UN investment matters will review the results of the Fourth Session of the UN Commission on Transnational Corporations, and discuss preparations for the July 3-4 meeting of the OECD's Committee on International Investment and Multinational Enterprises.

Requests for further information on these meetings should be directed to Richard Kauzlarich, Department of State, Office of Investment Affairs, Bureau of Economic and Business Affairs, Washington, D.C. 20520. He may be reached by telephone on 202-632-2728.

Members of the public wishing to attend the meeting must contact Mr. Kauzlarich's office in order to arrange entrance to the State Department building.

GREAT LAKES "TRIGGER PRICES" FOR IMPORTED STEEL MILL PRODUCTS

Adjustment of Handling Charges and Hearing

Notice is hereby given that the handling charges used to calculate trigger prices of steel mill products entering through west coast ports will be increased to $7 per metric ton, effective for shipments exported on or after May 31, 1978. It has been determined that this adjustment is necessary to reflect more accurately actual Japanese handling costs.

The Treasury Department is also hereby inviting public comment on its program for monitoring imports of steel mill products as it affects the Great Lakes region. A hearing will be held to consider allegations that a secondary effect of the trigger price mechanism has been or will be to divert steel imports from Great Lakes to east, west, and gulf coast ports. As a result of its preliminary review of these claims, the Treasury Department is considering an adjustment in the Great Lakes freight rates used to calculate trigger prices for steel plate and cold and hot rolled sheets to reflect more closely actual Japanese freight costs. The hearing will consider these proposed adjustments, together with other proposals to correct this claimed diversionary effect.

Background: Under the trigger price mechanism, import specialists at every port of entry monitor the prices of all imported steel mill products to gather information on possible sales at "less than fair value" within the meaning of the Antidumping Act. As guidelines for the gathering of such information, trigger prices have been calculated from data on the costs of production of the Japanese basic steel industry. Information on sales below trigger prices is forwarded to customs headquarters in Washington where it is tabulated and compared to other available data to determine whether an antidumping proceeding should be initiated. If, as a result of such an investigation, sales at less than fair value are found by the Treasury Department and injury is found by the International Trade Commission, a dumping finding will be made.

Trigger prices reflect the Japanese cost of producing steel mill products plus the cost of transporting such products to each of the four major importing regions: The west coast, gulf coast, east coast, and Great Lakes. As freight costs increase, trigger prices increase. For example, the current trigger prices for cold rolled sheet¹ for each of the four regions are:

¹For the third quarter, trigger prices on this product will be increased by 5.5 percent. (43 FR 20070)

	Charges to CIF
	Base price	Freight	Handling	Interest	Total
West coast.....	$297	$23	$3	$7	$330
Gulf coast.....	297	23	5	8	333
East coast.....	297	27	4	9	337
Great Lakes.....	297	35	4	11	347

¹Subject to the increase announced in this notice.

It is asserted that both the absolute and relative level of the trigger prices for the Great Lakes region will lead to the diversion of steel from the Great Lakes to west, gulf, and east coast ports. Serious economic dislocations for the Great Lakes region would allegedly follow from such a diversion, particularly for those longshoremen, stevedores, warehousemen, and terminal operators whose work depends on imported steel. Moreover, backhaul cargo, such as grain, would allegedly be diverted to other coasts. Finally, it is claimed that the Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., whose annual revenues are dependent on steel imports, will suffer substantial losses.

A number of proposals have been offered to correct this alleged anomaly:

1. Equalize the Great Lakes importation charges with those of the east coast.

2. Adjust the trigger price importation charges to reflect more closely actual freight differentials for Japanese steel imports as recorded in official U.S. Census tabulations.

3. Adjust the Great Lakes importation charges to reflect the least cost route for the Japanese, even where that involves an inland route such as the Mississippi River.

Those who contest the need for any change in the current Great Lakes trigger prices point out that the trigger prices were based upon both the production costs and the transportation costs for the Japanese. As such, they provide appropriate guidelines for the Treasury Department to gather information on sales which warrant further scrutiny in light of the fair value standard in the Antidumping Act. The Antidumping Act does not permit equalizing the different freight costs associated with shipping merchandise from the country of export to various parts of the United States. For example, if the west coast trigger prices were applied across the board, the trigger prices would provide a standard for identifying sales at potentially less than fair value only at West Coast ports. On the other hand, if the Great Lakes trigger prices were applied to nation-wide entries, the trigger prices would identify far too many sales as potentially at less than fair value. Under the Antidumping Act Japanese sales to the west coast can properly be made at a lower price than sales to the Great Lakes.

It has also been pointed out that the actual evidence of diversion may be difficult to document. However, if the diversion has occurred, or will occur, it should be evident from a variety of sources. For example, Great Lakes grain trade offsets freight costs for imported steel into the Great Lakes by providing shippers with a backhaul cargo. Has this trade been affected? Have seaway tolls declined? Since the St. Lawrence Seaway opened in mid-April, clear evidence of a significant diversionary effect has not been presented to the Treasury Department.

The Treasury Department, in cooperation with officials of the Saint Lawrence Seaway Development Corporation, has reviewed the trigger price freight rates in light of Bureau of the Census data concerning actual shipments to the Great Lakes in 1977. From this review, it appears that adjustments in some of the freight rates may be appropriate as follows:

	(Per metric ton)
	Great Lakes	Adjusted Great Lakes
Steel plates.....	$40	$30 to $32.
Hot rolled sheets.....	35	$31 to $33.
Cold rolled sheets.....	35	$29 to $31.

*Trigger price freight rate.

Subject to comments received from the public, it is the intention of the Treasury Department to adjust the Great Lakes freight rates within the ranges indicated above and to apply the adjusted rates to trigger prices for all shipments to the Great Lakes exported on or after July 1, 1978.

Public comment. The public is invited to comment on the issues outlined above. In particular, the Department is interested in any factual data which would affirm or disaffirm any of the contentions made. In considering the possible diversion of steel shipments from Great Lakes ports of entry, the department will be interested in receiving factual evidence concerning steel and related shipments, such as:

1. The experience of common and charter carriers since the TPM became effective with respect to (a) orders for shipping space to Great Lakes ports as compared to east or gulf coast ports for the balance of the current year, (b) number of cancellations of prior orders to Great Lakes ports, (c) number of diversions from the Great Lakes to east or gulf coast ports requested, and (d) volume of traffic now on order compared to prior years.

2. The extent of the infrastructure at Great Lakes ports for handling return or onward cargo by vessels delivering steel and the effect, if any, of the availability of such cargo on inward freight rates and on outbound shipping space at Great Lakes ports.

3. The experience of infrastructure facilities (e.g. grain elevators, marine terminals) since the TPM became effective with respect to (a) cancellations of space or services; (b) level of orders or volume of transactions; and (c) communications to customers concerning possible shipping space that will be available at Great Lakes ports for the balance of the year.

Procedures. 1. Written submissions: Written submissions which are received before the close of business on Thursday, June 12, 1978, will be considered. To be included in the record, written submissions must be submitted in five copies. Each submission should designate clearly the name and address of the party making the submission.

2. Requests to present oral testimony: All requests to present oral testimony, and an outline of the proposed testimony, must be received in writing not later than the close of business, Thursday, June 8, 1978.

Requests to present oral testimony should include the following information: (a) The name, address, telephone number, and official position (if applicable) of the party submitting the request, and the person or persons who will present the oral testimony (if different from the party submitting the request);

(b) The position to be taken by the party; and

(c) The amount of time requested for the presentation of oral testimony, and, if more than 10 minutes is requested, the reasons therefore.

Treasury might find it useful to organize oral testimony into panels of witnesses so that specific issues can be explored in depth among persons who bring to the discussion varying experience and points of view.

3. Oral Testimony: If sufficient interest is expressed, oral testimony will be heard on Monday, June 12, 1978. Each person scheduled to testify will be notified of the date and the amount of time allotted for his presentation.

4. Communications: All communications with regard to written submissions or oral testimony should be addressed to: Peter D. Ehrenhaft, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Tariff Affairs, Room 3424, Department of the Treasury, Washington, D.C. 20220. Telephone: 202-566-2806.

Dated: May 25, 1978.

STEEL WIRE STRAND FOR PRESTRESSED
CONCRETE FROM JAPAN

Antidumping; Withholding of Appraisement

AGENCY: U.S. Treasury Department.

ACTION: Withholding of Appraisement.

SUMMARY: This notice is to advise the public that there are reasonable grounds to believe or suspect that there are or are likely to be sales of steel wire strand for prestressed concrete from Japan at less than fair value within the meaning of the Antidumping Act of 1921. (Sales at less than fair value generally occur when the price of merchandise sold for exportation to the United States is less than the price of such or similar merchandise sold in the home market or to third countries). Appraisement for the purpose of determining the proper duties applicable to entries of this merchandise will be suspended for 6 months. Interested persons are invited to comment on this action.

EFFECTIVE DATE: May 31, 1978.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION
CONTACT:

David R. Chapman, Operations Officer, Duty Assessment Division, United States Customs Service, 1301 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20229, telephone 202-566-5492.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On October 17, 1977, information was received in proper form pursuant to sections 153.26 and 153.27, Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.26, 153.27), from counsel acting on behalf of domestic producers alleging that steel wire strand from Japan is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than fair value within the meaning of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 160 et seq.) (referred to in this notice as the "Act"). The concerned domestic producers of the subject merchandise are: Armco Steel Corp., Middletown, Ohio; Bethlehem Steel Corp., Bethlehem, Pa.; the American Spring Wire Corp., Bedford Heights, Ohio; C.F. & I. Steel Corp., Pueblo, Colo.; and Florida Wire & Cable Co., Jacksonville, Fla. An "Antidumping Proceeding Notice", indicating that there was evidence on record concerning injury to, or likelihood of injury to, an industry in the United States, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 23, 1977 (42 FR 60034). An amendment to that notice was published on December 8, 1977 (42 FR 62113) clarifying the description of the merchandise and correcting the TSUSA item number.

For purposes of this notice the term "steel wire strand" means steel wire strand, other than alloy steel, stress-relieved and suitable for use in prestressed concrete, provided for in item number 642.1120 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, Annotated (TSUSA).

TENTATIVE DETERMINATION OF SALES AT LESS THAN FAIR VALUE

On the basis of the information developed in Customs' investigation and for the reasons noted below, pursuant to section 201(b) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 160(b)), I hereby determine that there are reasonable grounds to believe or suspect that the purchase price of steel wire strand from Japan is less, or likely to be less, than the fair value, and thereby the foreign market value, of such or similar merchandise.

STATEMENT OF REASONS ON WHICH THIS DETERMINATION IS BASED

a. Scope of the investigation. It appears that approximately 92 percent of the imports of the subject merchandise from Japan is sold for export to the United States by Shinko Wire Co., Ltd. (Shinko), Amagasaki; Sumitomo Electric Industries, Ltd., (Sumitomo), Osaka; Suzuki Metal Industry Co., Ltd. (Suzuki), Tokyo; Kawatetsu Wire Products Co., Ltd. (Kawatetsu), Tokyo; and Tokyo Rope Manufacturing Co., Ltd. (Tokyo Rope), Tokyo. The investigation therefore was limited to sales by these five manufacturers.

b. Basis of comparison. For the purposes of considering whether the merchandise in question is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than fair value within the meaning of the Act, the proper basis of comparison appears to be between the purchase price and the home market price or the sales price for exportation to countries other than the United States, of such or similar merchandise. Purchase price, as defined in section 203 of the Act (19 U.S.C. 162) was used since the great preponderance of export sales to the United States appears to be made to non-related customers.

Home market price, as defined in section 153.2, Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.2), was used for four manufacturers since such or similar merchandise appears to have been sold by those manufacturers in the home market in sufficient quantities to provide a basis for fair value comparisons. In the case of Kawatetsu, sales for exportation to countries other than the United States were used in accordance with section 153.3, Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.3), since such or similar merchandise does not appear to have been sold in the home market in sufficient quantities to form an adequate basis of comparison.

In accordance with section 153.31(b), Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.31(b)), pricing information was sought concerning imports, sale to countries other than the United States and home market sales during the period June 1, 1977, through November 30, 1977.

c. Purchase price. For purposes of this tentative determination of sales at less than fair value, purchase price has been calculated on the basis of the C&F price to United States customers or the price to unrelated trading companies for export to the United States. Deductions have been made for inland freight, shipping expenses and, where applicable, ocean freight. In the case of certain sales by Kawatetsu and sales by Sumitomo, a relationship to the importer within the meaning of section 207 of the Act may exist. Pending receipt and analysis of further information, purchase price will be used as the basis of value for these sales.

d. Home market prices. For the purpose of this tentative determination of sales at less than fair value, the home market prices have been calculated on the basis of the delivered prices in the home market to related and unrelated purchasers. Sales to related customers were used because the prices do not appear to be lower for related customers than the price for unrelated customers. Adjustments have been made for differences in inland freight, packing, and interest expenses between home market sales and export sales. Deductions have been made, where applicable, for rebates made on home market sales which are directly related to the sales under consideration.

A claim made by Shinko for an adjustment for warranty expenses was denied because the particular expenses were not incurred on the sales under consideration. A claim made by Shinko for an adjustment for technical service costs was not allowed because a direct relationship to the sales under consideration has not been shown. A claim made by Shinko for an adjustment for interest expenses on home market inventory has not been allowed because there is no evidence that such expenses were actually incurred relative to specific sales of merchandise. A claim by Suzuki for an adjustment for interest expenses based on the weighted-average cost for long term loans, short term loans, and discounted promissory notes has been partially denied because available evidence indicated that such costs directly related to sales were only incurred on discounted promissory notes. Claims by the manufacturers for adjustments due to differences in the costs of producing the merchandise sold in the home market and that sold in the United States have been denied because verification has not been allowed or sufficient documentation has not been furnished to permit proper analysis.

e. Sales price for exportation to countries other than the United States.

For the purposes of this tentative determination, the sales price for exportation to countries other than the United States has been calculated on the basis of the f.o.b. price to an unrelated trading company. Deductions have been made for inland freight and shipping expenses.

1. Result of fair value comparisons. Using the above criteria, comparisons were made on 98.9 percent of sales to the United States by the five manufacturers investigated. Margins were tentatively found ranging from 0.4 to 4 percent on sales by Kawatetsu on 70.1 percent of the sales compared, ranging from 1.4 to 20.4 percent on sales by Suzuki on 100.0 percent of the sales compared, ranging from 0.04 to 12.2 percent on sales by Tokyo Rope on 87.5 percent of the sales compared, ranging from 7.1 to 44.7 percent on sales by Sumitomo on 100 percent of the sales compared and from 1.7 to 36.5 percent on sales by Shinko on almost 100 percent of the sales compared. Weighted-average margins over the total sales compared for each firm were approximately 1.26 for Kawatetsu, 11.04 percent for Suzuki, 4.82 percent for Tokyo Rope, 30.0 percent for Sumitomo, and 22.94 percent for Shinko.

In accordance with section 153.40, Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.40), interested persons may present written views or arguments, or request in writing that the Secretary of the Treasury afford an opportunity to present oral views.

Any request that the Secretary of the Treasury afford an opportunity to present oral views should be submitted to the Commissioner of Customs, 1301 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20229, in time to be received by his office no later than June 15, 1978. Such requests must be accompanied by a statement outlining the issues wished to be discussed, which issues may be discussed in greater detail in a written brief.

All written views or arguments likewise should be submitted to the Commissioner of Customs in ten copies in time to be received in his office no later than (30 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER). All persons submitting views or arguments should avoid repetitious and merely cumulative material. Counsel for the petitioner and the respondents are also requested to serve all written submissions on all other counsel, including nonconfidential summaries or approximated presentations of all confidential information.

This notice, which is published pursuant to section 153.35(b), Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.35(b)), shall become effective on the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. It shall cease to be effective 6 months from the date of publication, unless previously revoked.

STEEL WIRE STRAND FOR PRESTRESSED CONCRETE FROM INDIA

Antidumping; Withholding of Appraisalment Notice and Determination of Sales at Less Than Fair Value

AGENCY: United States Treasury Department.

ACTION: Withholding of Appraisalment and Determination of Sales at Less Than Fair Value.

SUMMARY: This notice is to advise the public that an antidumping investigation has resulted in a determination that steel wire strand for prestressed concrete from India is being sold at less than fair value under the Antidumping Act, 1921. Sales at less than fair value generally occur when the price of merchandise for exportation to the United States is less than the price of such or similar merchandise sold in the home market or to third countries. Appraisalment for the purpose of determining the proper duties applicable to entries of this merchandise will be suspended for 3 months. This case is being referred to the United States International Trade Commission for a determination concerning possible injury to an industry in the United States.

Leon McNeill, Duty Assessment Division, U.S. Customs Service, 1301 Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D.C. 20229, 202-566-5492.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Information was received in proper form on October 17, 1977, from counsel acting on behalf of five domestic producers alleging that steel wire strand from India was being sold at less than fair value, thereby causing injury to, or the likelihood of injury to, an industry in the United States, within the meaning of the Antidumping Act, 1921, as amended (19 U.S.C. 160 et seq.) (referred to in this notice as "the Act"). The five domestic producers are American Spring Wire Corp., Bedford Heights, Ohio; Armco Steel Corp., Middletown, Ohio; Bethlehem Steel Corp., Bethlehem, Pa.; CF & I Steel Corp., Pueblo, Colo.; and Florida Wire & Cable Co., Jacksonville, Fla. On the basis of this information and subsequent preliminary investigation by the Customs Service, an "Antidumping Proceeding Notice" was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on November 23, 1977 (42 FR 60034). An amendment to that notice was published on December 8, 1977 (42 FR 62113) clarifying the description of the merchandise and correcting the TSUSA item number.

For purposes of this notice the term "steel wire strand" means steel wire strand, other than alloy steel, stress-relieved and suitable for use in prestressed concrete, provided for in item number 642.1120 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, Annotated (TSUSA).

DETERMINATION OF SALES AT LESS THAN FAIR VALUE

I hereby determine that, for the reasons stated below, steel wire strand from India is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than fair value within the meaning of section 201(a) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 160(a)).

STATEMENT OF REASONS ON WHICH THIS DETERMINATION IS BASED

The reasons and bases for the above determination are as follows:

a. Scope of the investigation. It appears that 100 percent of the subject merchandise from India was manufactured by Special Steel Ltd., Bombay, India, and exported to the United States through its exclusive agent, New India Exports, Bombay, India. Therefore, the investigation was limited to sales by Special Steels Ltd.

b. Basis of comparison. For the purposes of considering whether the merchandise in question is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than fair value within the meaning of the Act, the proper basis of comparison is between the purchase price and the home market price of such or similar merchandise. Purchase price, as defined in section 203 of the Act (19 U.S.C. 162), was used since all export sales to the United States were made to a non-related importer. Home market price, as defined in section 153.2, Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.2) was used since such or similar merchandise was sold in the home market in sufficient quantities to provide a basis for comparison.

In accordance with section 153.31(b), Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.31(b)), pricing information was obtained concerning imports and home market sales during the period January 1 through June 30, 1977.

c. Purchase price. For the purposes of this determination, since all merchandise was purchased or agreed to be purchased prior to the time of exportation, by the persons by whom or for whose account it was imported, within the meaning of section 203 of the Act, the purchase price has been calculated on the basis of the C&F price to an unrelated U.S. purchaser. Deductions were made for ocean freight, inland freight, insurance/inspection charges, stamp duty, and a commission. Additions were made for duty drawback and a tax rebate (cash compensatory support) granted by reason of export to the United States, in accordance with section 203 of the Act.

The deductions for ocean freight, inland freight, insurance/inspection charges and stamp duty were based on charges, which were included in the price, from the point of shipment to the point of delivery in accordance with section 203 of the Act. The deduction for the commission was made to reflect charges paid to the export agent. The additions for taxes which were refunded or not collected upon exportation, were related to various indirect taxes incurred in the production of the subject merchandise.

d. Home market price. For purposes of this determination, the home market price has been calculated on the basis of a weighted-average price to unrelated purchasers in India. No adjustments were made to the home market price. A claim for a credit cost adjustment was disallowed because it was inadequately documented during the investigation. Also, although there was a difference in certain merchandise sold to the United States relative to that sold in the home market, no adjustment was made because the difference was negligible.

e. Results of fair value comparisons. Using the above criteria, comparisons were made on 90 percent of steel wire strand which was sold to the United States during the representative period. Those comparisons indicate that the purchase price was less than the home market price of such or similar merchandise. Margins were found ranging from approximately 31 to 43 percent on 100 percent of the sales compared. The weighted-average margin of those sales on which comparisons were made amounted to approximately 35 percent.

The Secretary has provided an opportunity to known interested persons to present written and oral views pursuant to section 153.40, Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.40). However, no parties have elected to present such views.

Based on the reasons noted above, Customs officers are being directed to withhold appraisalment of steel wire strand from India in accordance with section 153.48, Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.48).

This withholding of appraisalment notice, published pursuant to section 153.35(a), Customs Regulations (19 CFR 153.35(a)), shall become effective May 31, 1978. It shall cease to be effective at the expiration of 3 months from the date of this publication, unless previously revoked.

The United States International Trade Commission is being advised of this determination.

This determination is being published pursuant to section 201(d) of the Act (19 U.S.C. 160(d)).

ROBERT H. MUNDHEIM,
General Counsel of the Treasury.

REPORT ON OTHER AGENCIES

On June 2, the Office of Management and Budget will publish a listing of agencies that have determined their regulations are not covered by the provisions of the Executive Order.

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY

(FRL 897-4)

DRAFT REPORT ON IMPROVING ENVIRONMENTAL REGULATIONS

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Notice that the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will publish within two weeks a final Report on its proposed plan to improve its regulation development process.

SUMMARY: The document below is a draft Report which describes EPA's proposed plan to implement Executive Order 12044, "Improving Government Regulations." We are printing this draft for your information. We plan to publish the final report within two weeks.

The approach we have taken in preparing the Report on our proposed plan is very similar to the procedures we follow in developing regulations. The procedure emphasizes broad-based, agencywide participation and consensus building. During the final stages of the process the document under review is sent to our senior management, including the persons who run our ten regional offices around the country. We believe the extensive review process leads to better decisionmaking.

The draft Report is undergoing the final stages of review by EPA's senior managers. When the review is complete within about two weeks we plan to publish a final Report in the FEDERAL REGISTER. A sixty day public comment period will follow publication. At the time we publish the final Report we will also announce the location and time of public hearings in the proposed plan described in the Report.

ORGANIZATION OF THIS REPORT:

Preface.
A. Agency Administrator's Oversight.
B. Public Participation.
C. Analysis.
D. Reporting Burdens Reduction.
Appendices.

PREFACE

EPA is now using an efficient system for drafting and reviewing regulations, parts of which have served as models for the President's Order. This report presents ways in which that system is being updated and modified to comply with the Order. EPA's internal and external review procedures will ensure that new EPA regulations meet the Order's standards for quality of analysis of regulatory impacts, openness to participation by outside parties and avoidance of undue regulatory burdens.

Part A of this report describes EPA's internal procedures for writing regulations. Key features are the priority classification for all EPA regulations and the use of management controls that systematically focus attention on the most important regulations. Part B describes how EPA will involve interested citizens and outside groups (both private and public organizations and local, State and Federal agencies) in developing regulations, and announces EPA's plan to formulate a new agency-wide policy for external participation in regulation development. Part C sets out guidelines for economic analysis of regulations in each of three priority classes. It also proposes a 1-year project to screen all existing EPA regulations to identify those that require revision to reduce unnecessary burden and improve effectiveness. Part D describes how EPA will avoid unnecessary paperwork burdens on the public in the reporting and recordkeeping requirements of new and existing regulations.

The parts of this report describing EPA's mechanism for public participation are printed in italic.

EPA has arranged five public meetings on this Report. We will assess the results of these meetings and other comments submitted in June and July and prepare a final report for approval by the Office of Management and Budget. We will adopt a revised EPA Manual for our regulation development process that incorporates all changes and implements our response to the Order.

The process proposed in this report meets all requirements of the Order. Table 1 lists sections of the Order and shows where to find a description of our plan to implement it. As indicated in its Section 7, failure to comply with the terms of the Order does not provide new grounds for judicial review of EPA regulations. Procedures described in this report will not apply when they conflict with the requirements of environmental statutes.

PART A: AGENCY ADMINISTRATOR'S OVERSIGHT

This part describes how EPA will strengthen top management oversight for the development of new regulations. It emphasizes EPA's internal processes and only touches on (see italicized parts) the way the Agency will involve outside parties in its decisions. Part B is entirely devoted to external participation in EPA regulation development.

In outlining the steps for EPA's process the following definitions may be useful:

- Lead Office: The Assistant Administrator for the relevant program (the Office of Air and Waste Management, the Office of Enforcement, the Office of Toxic Substances, or the Office of Water and Hazardous Materials) has the lead responsibility for initiating and writing most new regulations.
- Work Group: This is a group of specialists drawn from various offices within EPA to advise and assist the lead office in preparing each important regulation and its support materials.
- Steering Committee: This is a continuing group representing the six Assistant Administrators and the Office Directors on the Administrator's staff. It oversees the mechanics of the process and conducts the first internal review of materials from the lead office.
- Red Border Review: This is an internal review conducted by all Assistant Administrators along with chief Office Directors and the heads of EPA's ten regional offices (Regional Administrators). A full review takes three weeks.
- Senior Management: This group includes the Administrator, Deputy Administrator, Assistant Administrators, Regional Administrators, the General Counsel, and Staff Office Directors.
- The Administrator: As Agency head, the Administrator provides the final level of internal review.
- Interagency Regulatory Liaison Group (IRLG): This includes: EPA, the Consumer Product Safety Commission, the Food and Drug Administration, and the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

EPA produces regulations in a four stage process: (1) starting work on a regulation, (2) preparation of a development plan, (3) preparation of a decision package, and (4) conducting a three-part internal review prior to publication. Each regulation goes through the third and fourth stages twice, first as a proposal and again in final form. (See Figure 1.) The stages of the regulation drafting will be explained in detail below.

EPA plans to update this process in response to the President's Executive Order along two general principles. First the system will identify and attach priorities to all EPA regulations and the Agency will use management controls that reflect those priorities. Priorities, and different degrees of attention, are essential at EPA because of the large volume of regulations. More than 400 regulations are already in one stage or another of the drafting process.

EPA plans to use the label "Significant" (as recommended in the Executive Order) for its most important regulations. Those regulations will be subject to the formal EPA procedures outlined in this report. All other regulations (not subject to the Executive Order) EPA will classify as "Minor."

CHART I

CRITERIA FOR SIGNIFICANT REGULATIONS

EPA will classify all regulations as Significant except those which meet the criteria below. Those will be classified as Minor. Significant regulations will follow the uniform development process. Minor regulations will not.

1. Regulations that are administrative or procedural in nature and do not alter the stringency, burden of compliance or the environmental (health) benefits of a regulation.
2. Minor amendments to existing regulations when the amendment does not affect the stringency, burden of compliance, or the environmental (health) benefits of the regulation.
3. Approval or disapproval of revisions to State Implementation Plans under the Clean Air Act.* Although the approval of a SIP with national policy implications is not subject to full regulation development procedures, additional EPA review is required. All SIP revisions are subject to separate EPA review procedures that require public participation.
4. Water Quality Standards set by States.* These standards are subject to separate EPA review procedures that include public participation.
5. Pesticide registrations, tolerances, experimental use permits, emergency exemption and regulations to exempt pesticides from the provisions of the pesticide statute (FIFRA) under its section 25(b) because of a determination that (i) the pesticide is adequately regulated by another agency, or (ii) it is of a character which need not be subject to FIFRA in order to carry out the purposes of FIFRA.* These pesticide actions follow separate requirements for public notification and comment.
6. Regulatory actions resulting from direct Congressional mandates that are not subject to interpretation.
7. Regulations classified by a lead office Assistant Administrator in the Notification Form. Any Senior Manager may request a change in the classification.

*These Minor actions do not require the notification forms described in Part A(1). EPA will publish regular listings of Minor actions taken in these three categories.

Significant regulations will be further subdivided as "Routine" and "Major" for EPA purposes. Routine regulations will include most of the Significant actions in the drafting process. Major will mean those Significant regulations (from 40 to 60 per year) receiving special attention from Senior Management, allowing EPA and the public to focus their attention on the most important policy areas.

CHART 2

CRITERIA FOR "MAJOR" REGULATIONS

EPA will divide all Significant regulations into two classes, Major and Routine. Both types will follow the uniform regulation development process. However, Major regulations will receive special attention from senior Agency management. We will classify a regulation as Major if it is likely to:

1. Address a major health or ecological problem.
2. Result in a major health, ecological, or economic impact.
3. Cause severe urban impact.
4. Cause a substantial change in industry practice.
5. Initiate a substantial regulatory program or change in policy.
6. Cause a substantial impact on another EPA program or another Federal agency program.
7. Result in a substantial change in the scope of a State program or in the relationship between EPA and States.
8. Cause a disproportionate impact on a particular region of the United States.

The criteria we will use in classifying regulations appear in Charts 1 and 2. Figure 2 shows how the categories are related.

Some of EPA's Major regulations will require Regulatory Analyses as specified in Section 3 of the Executive Order. This requirement will be the only factor distinguishing these regulations from other Major regulations for purposes of management oversight.

The second general principle of the internal process is extensive and continuous participation by various EPA offices. Participatory decision-making will continue to be important at EPA because systematic review by other offices provides several types of valuable input. Scientists and economists will check data and analyses, lawyers will check procedures and clarity, and managers will know how proposed regulations would affect their programs. This process starts when the lead office invites Assistant Administrators, Regional Offices and Staff Offices to send representatives to a work group to participate in writing any Significant regulation. In addition, the lead office will seek consensus at each stage, in work groups, Steering Committee review and senior management review. The lead office retains primary responsibility for new regulations, and when consensus is not reached at a particular level, the disagreement is spelled out and the matter is taken to a higher level for review. Final decisions will remain with publicly responsible appointed officials at the top of the Agency. Under certain conditions and subject to the consent of the Administrator, the lead office may withdraw a regulation from parts of the formal process as long as the need is justified and it meets requirements of the Executive Order and legal requirements.

The four stages of regulation writing and review are as follows:

STAGE #1: STARTING WORK ON A REGULATION

When the Assistant Administrator for a lead office wants to start work on a new regulation he will send a Notification Form to senior management. This brief standard form requires no analysis.

The Notification Form will tell interested persons that a regulation is contemplated and allow them to plan accordingly.

FIGURE 1
DECISION POINTS IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF SIGNIFICANT EPA REGULATIONS

FIGURE 2

PRIORITY CLASSIFICATIONS FOR EPA REGULATIONS

*Some major regulations will meet economic criteria requiring preparation of a regulatory analysis.

The Notification Form classifies the new regulation as Minor or Significant (based on criteria in Chart 1). At the request of another office the Administrator may reclassify a Minor regulation as Significant. Submitting this form will place Significant regulations on EPA's Regulatory Agenda, which is printed semi-annually in the FEDERAL REGISTER and distributed to the public.

Note.—Minor regulations are not subject to the requirements described below for a development plan and a decision package. Minor regulations do not pass through Steering Committee review. When published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, these regulations will carry a disclaimer that they do not meet criteria for Significant EPA regulations.

Notification Forms will invite interested offices to assign appropriate personnel as work group members. (See Chart 3 for a list of EPA offices with formal responsibilities for regulation development. These offices will receive a Notification Form.)

Notification Forms will set a date for submitting a development plan for Significant regulations to the Steering Committee.

Actions initiated outside EPA, such as revisions in State Implementation Plans, State water quality designations and many pesticide actions, will not require Notification Forms.

STAGE #2: PREPARATION OF A DEVELOPMENT PLAN

The Assistant Administrator for the lead office appoints a chairperson for the work group assigned to a specific Significant regulation. In the event that special expertise exists in a Regional Office, the lead office Assistant Administrator should consider asking the Regional Administrator to serve as chairperson. With the advice and assistance of the work group, the lead office then starts putting together a development plan. The first step in this process is deciding whether the Significant regulation falls into the Routine or Major class (see Chart 2 for criteria).

Development plans for Routine regulations must be approved by the lead office and reviewed by the Steering Committee before work can proceed. These development plans are sent to senior management for their information.

Development plans for Major regulations are reviewed by the lead office and the Steering Committee but must be approved by the Assistant Administrators and Administrator before work can proceed.

The format for the development plan will vary according to the type of regulation and will include a discussion of the following items when they are applicable.

- Priority Classification: This notes whether the Significant regulation is Routine or Major according to EPA criteria (Chart 2).
- Purpose: This is a brief description of the possible need to regulate and the consequences of no regulation.
- Alternatives: This is a summary of the major options to be evaluated, including a discussion of whether alternatives or supplements to direct regulation (such as economic incentives) are feasible.
- Issues: This is a list of issues to be resolved including effects on other EPA, Federal and State programs, and analyses of environmental, economic, energy, urban and community impacts.
- External Participation: This is a plan to involve those parties outside the Agency in the rulemaking process. It indicates how persons interested in and affected by the regulation will be identified, notified and brought into discussions. It notes any interest by the Interagency Regulatory Liaison Group members or other Federal agencies and lists contact persons. It lists actions planned for coordination with State and local governments.
- Internal Participation: This is a list of offices within EPA whose expertise and assistance will be needed, and a plan for coordination with EPA Regional Offices.

Office of Enforcement
Office of Federal Activities
Office of General Counsel
Office of Legislation
Office of Planning and Management
Office of Public Awareness
Office of Regional and Intergovernmental Operations
Office of Research and Development
Office of Toxic Substances
Office of Water and Hazardous Materials

The Office of International Activities and Office of Civil Rights will serve on appropriate work groups.

- Public Notice: This is the text of a Federal Register notice (usually an Advance Notice of Proposed Rule-making) that asks for public comment and for any information that is needed.
- Resources: This is an estimate of EPA money and personnel needed to produce the regulation, with a specific estimate of resources coming from EPA offices in addition to the lead office.
- EIS: This states whether an Environmental Impact Statement will be required.
- Regulatory Analysis: This reports on the need for a Regulatory Analysis (criteria in Chart 4, Part C). If needed, this section will identify the alternatives to be evaluated in the Regulatory Analysis and the major costs and benefits to be analyzed. The Administrator may require a Regulatory Analysis even if the quantitative criteria are not met.
- Schedule: This is a timetable with target dates for: completion of the initial draft, internal and external review of drafts, awarding and completing contracts, any required progress reports, Steering Committee review, publication of the proposed regulation, end of the public comment period, and promulgation of the final regulation.
- Exclusions: This is a list of any normally required materials that the work group expects to omit from the decision package, with a brief explanation.

STAGE NO. 3: PREPARATION OF A DECISION PACKAGE

When the development plan is approved, the lead office with the advice and assistance of the work group begins analyzing alternatives, writing the regulation and collecting support materials. These make up the decision package.

Members of the work group may, in some cases, write portions of the document. They review drafts as they are prepared and keep in close touch with their offices' senior management and Steering Committee representatives.

The chairperson has overall responsibility for regulation drafting and for communicating with lead office superiors (Division Director, Deputy Assistant Administrator, and Assistant Administrator) and with the Steering Committee representative. Those superiors provide guidance on the substance, procedures and policy of the regulation.

The chairperson is responsible for resolving any issues or problems that may arise during the drafting process. This may be done through progress reports to senior management or by consultation with lead office superiors and other appropriate EPA managers. For Major regulations the lead office has an affirmative duty to keep EPA senior management periodically informed of issues which the work group has under consideration and to seek their policy guidance.

The Lead Office will actively seek the views of outside groups and consult with them prior to formal publication. These include those persons directly affected by the regulation, environmental and consumer groups, industry representatives, other Federal agencies and State and local governments. This last group, State and local governments, will have a major role in the process because they implement and enforce many EPA regulations and have special knowledge of local conditions and available program resources. Whenever possible, the lead office will provide an opportunity (and adequate time) for the outside parties to review draft regulations and support documents, including the Regulatory Analysis when one is required.

The decision package will contain the following items:

- Action Memorandum: This is a brief summary of the regulation, including alternatives considered, environmental, economic, and resource impacts, unresolved issues and recommended action. The alternatives should include the realistic options that the lead office and work group have considered seriously. A summary of the incremental environmental and economic effects should accompany the analysis of each alternative.
- Federal Register Documents: This will include a preamble describing the facts and rationale for the decision to regulate and how the regulation fits into the larger regulatory program. The regulation itself will be written in plain English, and comply with the FEDERAL REGISTER handbook. The name and address of an EPA contact will be included.

—Analysis: These are support documents that lay out the major issues and show how alternatives were analyzed. The analyses will identify and quantify (where possible) the regulation's environmental effects, economic (including incremental) impacts, energy impacts, technical feasibility, anticipated barriers to implementation, alternatives and supplements to direct regulation, and, for Major regulations, urban and community impacts. The analyses will show why the recommended option is the least burdensome of the acceptable alternatives and how unnecessary duplication with other EPA or Federal programs has been avoided. The Regulatory Analysis, when one is required, will include several of these analyses. The support documents will be available to the public.

—EIS: An Environmental Impact Statement will be included when required.

—Resource Requirements Summary: This is a summary of money and personnel that EPA, State and local governments will need to implement the regulation. (Affected officials will have an opportunity to review a draft of this assessment.) Where possible this will include (or refer to) portions of Agency program guidance and zero based budgeting documents that show necessary adjustments in EPA resources.

—Reporting Impact Statements: This will detail the impacts of reporting and record-keeping on those subject to the regulation, with manpower projections and required expertise. New EPA reporting and record-keeping requirements will have expiration schedules. (See Part D).

—Public Participation Summary: This is a summary of public comments, including comments from other Federal agencies, received during the process and the Agency's response to each major issue the comments addressed.

—Evaluation Plan: This is a plan for subsequent evaluation of the effects of the regulation with a timetable. (See Section C.2.)

STAGE NO. 4: CONDUCTING INTERNAL REVIEWS

When the work group completes a decision package, the lead office Assistant Administrator will submit it for pre-publication review. This process has three parts: Steering Committee review, Red Border review and final review by the Administrator.

The Steering Committee will review all Significant regulations to help resolve any differences on matters for which the work group does not reach consensus and to make sure the decision package meets standards of completeness, quality and comprehensibility. The Steering Committee will make sure all components of the decision package are prepared and that material to be published is clear and understandable. It is this Committee's responsibility to see that the regulation meets the eight specific requirements set forth in Section 2(d) of the Executive Order.

For Routine regulations, EPA's senior management will rely on the Steering Committee to see that decision packages are in order. They will be notified when the Steering Committee reviews Routine regulations. Unless a senior manager requests a full Red Border review period, any Routine decision package that has received a consensus approval from the Steering Committee will be scheduled for a ten calendar day Red Border review. At the end of the tenth day it will go to the Administrator for signature. If the Steering Committee does not reach a consensus the package will enter full Red Border review. In all cases a copy of the decision package (and the Steering Committee's summary review) will be sent to senior managers for their information.

The EPA senior management will review all Major regulations regardless of concurrence at lower levels. For Major regulations, the Steering Committee will check the completeness of decision packages and make sure any unresolved issues are clearly and fairly presented to senior management.

Red Border review of Major regulations will not exceed three weeks. The Lead Office will report to the senior management on how formal objections or comments by individual Assistant Administrators have been resolved.

When all top-level reviews are complete, the regulation goes to the Administrator. When he has signed it, it will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Part B. Public Participation

I. OVERVIEW

Traditionally, EPA has placed a high priority on public participation in its decisionmaking processes. EPA managers realize that when knowledgeable and interested outside parties scrutinize Agency work, the result is more effective regulation.

EPA's current regulatory practices seek to give the public "an early and meaningful opportunity to participate" as requested in the President's Executive Order. EPA practice already includes the specific suggestions in the Order. These include: regular Federal Register publication of Regulatory Agendas, routine use of Advance Notices of Proposed Rulemaking, public participation plans for each regulation, 60-day public comment periods, frequent public meetings and hearings, and certification that public responses have been carefully considered in the development of each regulation.

EPA intends to write a comprehensive policy for public participation in regulation development. We have three primary goals. First, EPA will identify and notify the range of people and organizations who can contribute to regulations, including private citizens; consumer, environmental and minority associations; trade, industrial and labor organizations; public health, scientific and technical societies; and local, State and Federal officials. Second, EPA will encourage their involvement by removing, where possible, the obstacles to participation, such as lack of resources or time, and unfamiliarity with technical issues or EPA statutes. Finally, EPA will show how all the major points raised by the public have been given careful consideration in making policy decisions.

EPA has four major projects already underway: a high level task force, an office reorganization, an extensive review in the water office and a pilot project under the new toxic substance law. The results from each of these will be used in developing the new Agency-wide policy on public participation.

(1) Administrator's Special Assistant and Task Force: EPA Administrator Costle has appointed a new Special Assistant to the Administrator for Public Participation who chairs an Internal Task Force. This group will work with public representatives to evaluate current programs, develop new ways for the public (including grass-roots organizations) to take part in decisions, and investigate the use of staff training systems.

(2) Office of Public Awareness: This office, formerly the Office of Public Affairs, has been reorganized. It is preparing Public Awareness Plans to cover the next two years. These plans call for producing informational materials on all the laws EPA now administers, as well as new ways to help the public take part in hearings and meetings around the country.

(3) Water Program Review: Since late 1977 a work group led by the Office of Water and Hazardous Materials has been reviewing public participation requirements in the water quality, drinking water, and solid waste programs. The work group developed preliminary proposals for overall public participation requirements in water programs and specific requirements for the construction grants program. These preliminary proposals were widely circulated for public comment and were the subject of two public meetings in Washington, D.C. The work group is now revising the preliminary proposals for publication as proposed regulations in the Federal Register in June or July.

(4) Pilot Project in Reimbursing Participants: This project to help reimburse the expenses for certain participants in the toxic substances rulemaking process was announced late last year. EPA has started to develop regulations on phasing out polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB's) under the Toxic Substances Control Act, and people may apply for reimbursement of their reasonable expenses for taking part in the hearings. EPA will reimburse people who can "substantially contribute to a fair determination of the issues," whose economic stake in the issue is small, and who do not have sufficient resources to participate. The Agency will use the results of this pilot test to guide the expansion of the concept to their programs.

II. AGENCY PARTICIPATION POLICY

In accordance with the Executive Order, EPA plans to set up a standard policy for public participation in the regulation writing process. There will be variations as required by individual programs and statutes, but the basic ground rules will be the same for all Agency programs. We plan to work with interested groups and members of the public in formulating this policy.

Although it is too early to anticipate the details of the policy, the following elements are expected to be part of it.

The Administrator will continue to approve Regulatory Agendas and see that they are published twice a year (the most recent appeared April 6 in the Federal Register). Each Regulatory Agenda will list the title and status of all Significant regulations, cite the appropriate statutory authority, say whether a Regulatory Analysis is required and give the name and telephone number of a person to contact at EPA. The Agenda will show the status of regulations removed from the list since the last Agenda publication, it will indicate existing regulations picked for review (see Section C-2) and list reporting requirements that will reach their sunset date (see Section D). EPA will continue to supplement publication of this Agenda with direct distribution to interested parties.

For specific regulations, EPA work groups will take the following steps to further public involvement:

(1) Draw up a plan for external participation as part of the development plan that shows how interested parties will be identified and notified.

(2) Prepare the text of a Federal Register notice (usually an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking) to inform the public before drafting begins.

(3) Schedule open conferences, hearings, meetings, and direct mailings, and keep a mailing list of those interested in draft regulations and other materials.

(4) Publish and distribute a draft of the Regulatory Analysis (when one is required) no later than publication of a Notice of Proposed Rulemaking. The Federal Register preamble will have a summary of the Regulatory Analysis and information on how the public can obtain it. (Note: EPA will make public a final Regulatory Analysis when it publishes the final rule.)

(5) Provide at least 60 days for public comment, measured from publication of proposals to postmarked date of replies, and ask commenters to supply only a single copy of their comments.

(6) Summarize outside comments, indicate EPA's response to major points and distribute both to interested individuals and groups.

(7) Consult with State and local governments, individually and through major national organizations of State and local officials along with associations of environmental policy officials. Summaries of this consultation will accompany publication of regulations having major intergovernmental importance.

(8) Write the regulation in plain English. To help lead offices write regulations that people can understand, EPA will develop a style book for regulation writers, select one or more regulations and develop them as models of good writing, and hire an editor to assist in the review of regulations before they are published.

(9) Track any Agency overlap or joint interest with other members of the Interagency Regulatory Liaison Group. The preamble for regulations of interest to other IRLG members will describe coordination efforts and how they have affected the substance and procedure of the regulation.

(10) Communicate with other Federal agencies affected by a planned regulatory action. EPA's lead office will contact another Federal agency when (a) it has a statutory mandate in the area to be regulated, (b) it has a program established or authorized in the area to be regulated, (c) EPA action will require additional resources for that agency, or (d) the agency has important expertise relevant to the matter to be regulated. (Note: Where possible, these interagency issues will be resolved at the staff level.)

PART C. ANALYSIS

The Executive Order calls for careful analysis of available regulatory alternatives. In this Part we propose criteria and procedures for EPA analysis of (1) the economic effects of new Significant regulations and (2) regulations the Agency has already issued.

(1) ECONOMIC ANALYSIS FOR NEW SIGNIFICANT REGULATIONS

Other parts of this report [see Part A(3)] describe the range of analyses that EPA will provide for all Significant regulations; EPA will assess the health, ecological, economic, urban, energy, and program resource impacts. This subpart provides further detail on EPA's economic analysis requirements. In each economic analysis the lead office will indicate by reference the parts of the decision package that analyze the benefits the regulation will generate. This will provide a clear comparison of the regulation's costs and benefits.

The extent of analysis of the economic impact of new Significant regulations will depend on whether the regulation is Routine, Major, or subject to the "Regulatory Analysis" Requirements of the Executive Order. Guidelines based on our current internal requirements are presented for each of these categories. The guidelines in section (a) apply to Major regulations that meet the criteria (Chart 4) that trigger a Regulatory Analysis. Not all regulations requiring a Regulatory Analysis will lend themselves to the analytic approach in the guidelines. In these cases, the lead office with the advice and assistance of the work group may amend the approach to suit the circumstances. For other Major regulations a less intensive analysis is sufficient, as described in section (b). For Routine regulations the basic guidelines in subpart (c) apply.

CHART 4

CRITERIA FOR REGULATORY ANALYSIS

The lead office will prepare a Regulatory Analysis of potential economic impacts for any regulation that triggers one of the following criteria:

1. Additional annualized costs of compliance, including capital charges (interest and depreciation), will total $100 million (i) within any one of the first five years of implementation, or (ii), if applicable, within any calendar year up to the date by which the law requires attainment of the relevant pollution standard.
2. Total additional cost of production of any major industry product or service will exceed 5 percent of the selling price of the product.
3. Net national energy consumption will increase by the equivalent of 25,000 barrels of oil per day (equal to 50 quadrillion Btu per year, or 5 billion kilowatt hours per year).
4. Additional annual demand increase or annual supply decrease by more than 3 percent for any of the following materials by the attainment date, if applicable, or within five years of implementation: plate steel, tubular steel, stainless steel, scrap steel, aluminum, copper, manganese, magnesium, zinc, ethylene, ethylene glycol, liquified petroleum gases, ammonia, urea, plastics, synthetic rubber, or pulp.

(a) Guidelines for Regulatory Analysis

The lead office will base its Regulatory Analysis on the general approach described below. EPA now uses this approach in determining the costs of such regulations as effluent guidelines and new source performance standards. Some types of regulations may require a modified approach. For example, regulations such as the sewage treatment plant regulations and some solid waste regulations affect primarily other government agencies and do not require industry segmentation as part of the analysis. In such cases, the lead office may amend the approach as needed.

General Approach

1. Prepare an economic profile of the affected sectors (producers and/or consumers), including the industry structure (e.g., degree of concentration, the way prices are determined), the mode of competition on the supply and demand sides of the affected sectors, and performance trends (e.g., financial rates, growth trends) of the affected sectors.

2. Segment the industry (or other affected groups) into categories of economic units that will be similarly impacted (e.g., according to size distribution, pollution control process, age).

3. Develop marginal (incremental) cost effectiveness curves for each process/strategy for each affected industry segment.

4. Determine the economic impact of proposed standards and of alternatives. A discussion of alternatives appears below. It may not be necessary to analyze all alternatives in the same level of detail. Moreover, for grant programs, some impact categories below are not applicable, although user charges (as an analogue to price), effects on communities (affordability, employment, growth), and energy effects may be applicable.

- (a) price effects
- (b) production effects
- (c) industry growth, profitability, capital availability effects
- (d) employment effects
- (e) community effects
- (f) balance of trade effects
- (g) energy effects

EPA has developed more detailed internal working guidance to assist program offices in conducting their economic analyses, which is available upon request from (insert name and address).

The analysis will cover important alternatives that EPA has considered. Such alternatives may include:

1. Alternative types of regulations
 - no additional regulatory action (e.g., reliance on market forces, if allowed by law).
 - an informational requirement where applicable (e.g., product labeling).
 - approaches that specify performance levels (e.g., an allowable level of emissions) but allow those regulated to achieve attainment by whatever means they prefer.
 - engineering design approaches that specify how a proposed outcome is to be achieved.
2. Alternative stringency levels
 - making the standard or regulation either more or less stringent.
 - specifically tailoring the degree of stringency to stages of processing, particular industries or other pertinent groups.
3. Alternative timing, as allowed by law
 - using different effective dates.
 - phasing in the requirement more or less gradually.
4. Alternative methods of ensuring compliance
 - use of economic incentives.
 - various enforcement options (e.g., on-site inspections vs. periodic reporting, sharing implementation responsibilities variously with the different levels of government).
 - use of different compliance methods for different industry segments or types of economic activity where costs of compliance vary sharply (e.g., treating small firms and large firms differently).

(b) Other Major Regulations

For Major regulations that do not require a Regulatory Analysis, the lead office will conduct an analysis for EPA purposes. This will follow the same general approach as outlined above, although it will not require the same level of detail as in a formal Regulatory Analysis.

(c) Routine Regulations

EPA will continue to analyze all Routine regulations for insights into the potential effects on the economy and on those who are subject to the regulation.

To minimize the burden on lead offices, this is expected to be a less sophisticated analysis. It will include the following estimates:

- the number of establishments that will be affected
- an estimate of the total costs that will be borne by each affected industry segment
- an estimate of the price increases under an assumption of full cost pass-through
- an estimate of lost revenues for each segment if costs are not passed through

- an estimate of job losses
- an estimate of total energy losses for each affected industry segment

This analysis will cover both the proposed regulation and, if applicable, the alternatives considered; however some alternatives may be analyzed in less detail.

(2) Review of Existing Regulations

Section 4 of the Executive Order calls for the review of existing regulations. To comply with Section 4, EPA must establish a set of criteria that will be used to select regulations for review, and identify a list of possible regulations for review. Section 2 of the Executive Order requires that each new Significant regulation include a plan for its future evaluation.

(a) Selection Criteria and Process

Many of EPA's most important regulations are already scheduled for review in response to statutory or judicial direction:

- Air Program—
 - Ambient Air Quality Standards (40 CFR Part 50)
 - New Source Performance Standards (40 CFR Part 60)
 - Approval of Implementation Plans.
 - Monitoring and Reporting (40 CFR Parts 51.7, 51.17)
- Water Program—
 - Best Available Technology for Primary Industries
 - Water Quality Management Regulations
 - NPDES Permit Regulations

These reviews will be the first scheduled. To make the review of existing regulations a comprehensive program, EPA proposes to screen all of its existing regulations for the purpose of selecting regulations for more detailed review. The screening will occur during the first year following the adoption of this report. The EPA program office responsible for each subchapter of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations (which contains almost all of EPA's regulations) will form a work group to conduct the screening.

The lead office, with the advice and assistance of the work group, will rely on currently available data in its initial screening. The selection criteria are:

- Estimated high actual costs to the public of implementation and maintenance of the regulation;
- Estimated low actual benefits;
- Existence of overlap with other regulations (issued by EPA or another agency);
- Existence of preferable alternatives;
- Low degree of compliance;
- Low enforceability;
- High reporting burden;
- Lack of clear language;
- Length of time since the regulation became effective or was last substantively amended;
- Intensity of public sentiment in favor of changing the regulation;
- Availability of adequate data for analysis of the effectiveness and cost of the regulation.

The lead office will summarize its assessment of each regulation and designate appropriate regulations for formal review. It will prepare a plan to review all regulations selected within five years.

The review plan will include an estimate of the necessary dollar resources and identify data needed for the reviews. Where there is insufficient data for review, the plan will include provisions for acquiring it. The lead office will request any additional or reprogrammed resources necessary to carry out its review plan through the zero base budget process.

The lead office will submit designated regulations and review plans to the Steering Committee for review and to senior management for approval.

(b) Nature of the Review

Once it has selected a regulation for review, the lead office will form a work group to conduct the review at the time scheduled in the five year plan.

The review of existing regulations will follow the procedures for the development of new regulations.

(c) Development of Evaluation Plans

Section 2(d)(8) of the Executive Order requires that each Significant regulation have a plan for evaluation of its effectiveness. In compliance with this requirement, the lead office for each Significant regulation, in consultation with EPA's Program Evaluation Division, will develop an evaluation plan. Evaluation plans will indicate the resource needs, data requirements, and a schedule for subsequent review and evaluation. Evaluation plans are intended to improve the relevance and adequacy of data collected over time to support the analysis of regulatory effectiveness.

D. REPORTING BURDENS REDUCTIONS

To carry out its statutory mandates, EPA must obtain a significant amount of data from the public, from industry and from State and local governments. We often request data on environmental (health) effects, economic costs, pollutant discharge and emission rates, and much more. EPA's permit and grant programs also require submission of applications that often contain detailed requests for information.

While this information remains essential, EPA is designing mechanisms to minimize paperwork and reporting burdens wherever possible. These devices will comply with Section 3(d) of the Executive Order, which requires an analysis of new reporting or recordkeeping burdens before Significant new regulations are adopted; and with Section 4 which requires a review of burdens imposed by existing regulations.

First, EPA will establish a "sunset" policy on reporting requirements contained in new regulations. This will terminate automatically those reports that cannot be justified after a set period, usually five years. If a lead office requests renewal of a reporting requirement, EPA will conduct an internal review of the burden, its costs and its benefits. The review process will include an early opportunity for public comment. Only after this review, and upon an order of the Administrator, will a reporting requirement be extended beyond its sunset date. (See the Appendix for details of this policy.)

Second, EPA will require a "reports impact analysis" for all new Significant regulations. This analysis will be part of the decision package as it moves through the stages of regulation development described in Part A. The analysis will describe the reason for the reports, evaluate major alternatives (including the use of existing sources of information), outline the information requested and the form of the report, and estimate the costs for the Agency and for those reporting to collect, prepare and use the data. EPA will consider public comments on the analysis prior to proposing the regulation.

Third, EPA will continue to include a request for public comment on reporting burdens in the FEDERAL REGISTER preambles or proposed new regulations. In the past, EPA has sent these comments to the Office of Management and Budget when seeking OMB clearance for the report. The lead office and work group will consider these comments drafting in the final regulation.

Fourth, as part of its review of all existing regulations (according to Part C(2) of this report) EPA will review the reporting and recordkeeping requirements. These reviews will follow the public participation measures used for new regulations.

APPENDIX

PROPOSED SUNSET POLICY FOR NEW REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

I. BACKGROUND

The Administrator has stated his intention to adopt a sunset policy for reporting requirements in new EPA regulations. Such a policy will force a cyclical review of the burdens and benefits of reporting requirements and will repeal automatically those that can not be justified.

II. COVERAGE

New regulations that impose a reporting requirement will contain a provision for repeal of that requirement on a specific date unless action is taken by EPA to renew or modify it.

We will establish a review process to place the burden of proving the regulation's desirability on those advocating its retention. The process will include participation by affected parties and the general public.

Each lead office proposing a new regulation that would impose a reporting requirement must include a sunset provision.

The lead office will have three options:

(1) To set as a termination date the semiannual sunset date (April 1 or October 1) that falls at least 5 years after reporting begins (e.g., a reporting requirement taking effect on January 1, 1979 would expire on April 1, 1984).

(2) To set an earlier or later sunset date, depending on such factors as the lifespan of the program for which the information is being sought; the time needed to evaluate the usefulness of the report; or the burden that frequent changes in the reporting requirement might impose.

(3) To exempt the reporting requirement from the sunset process if the resources that would be needed for a sunset review are significantly greater than the burdens imposed by the report itself, or if the report is required by statute.

III. REVIEW

The review process will begin six months before the scheduled sunset date. At that time, EPA will publish in its Regulatory Agenda a list of reporting requirements due to expire on the next semiannual sunset date. This notice will invite public comment on the need to review, modify or terminate any of the requirements scheduled to expire. The EPA lead office administering the requirement and any outside party affected by the program may request renewal of any item on the sunset list.

After 60 days, another public notice will list those reporting requirements for which renewal has been requested. It will invite further public comment to be included in a public docket for each requirement.

The program office that administers the requirement will evaluate it, inviting other interested EPA offices to participate on a work group. The evaluation will resemble the reports impact analysis for new regulations, but will reflect the actual costs, burdens, and usefulness of the reporting requirement. The program office and work group must either provide a justification for reviewing the requirement or recommend that it be modified or terminated. EPA's Program Reporting Division will review the assessment and make a recommendation.

The Steering Committee will review the assessment along with public comment and Agency responses to those comments and decide whether to retain, modify, or terminate the reporting requirement. Upon his approval the Administrator will sign an order implementing the decision.

On the sunset date, a FEDERAL REGISTER notice will list those regulations repealed and those retained. In the case of a regulation for which modification is proposed, EPA will announce its retention until a rulemaking procedure is completed to implement the modified regulation.

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION IMPROVING FEDERAL CREDIT UNION REGULATIONS

Response to Executive Order No. 12044: Improving Government Regulations

AGENCY: National Credit Union Administration (NCUA).
ACTION: Request for public comments.

SUMMARY: NCUA is issuing this draft report to obtain public comments on its proposed procedure for improving the development of significant regulations and for reviewing existing regulations in accordance with the policy and objectives of Executive Order No. 12044: Improving Government Regulations (43 FR 12661, March 24, 1978) (the "Executive Order").

DATE: Comments requested by July 31, 1978.

ADDRESS: Send comments to the office of General Counsel, National Credit Union Administration, 2025 M Street NW., Room 4202, Washington, D.C. 20456, telephone 202-632-4870.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Beatrix Fields, Attorney-Advisor, at the above address and telephone number.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The President has indicated on many occasions his desire to insure that Federal regulations are effective, reasonable, and understandable, and to insure public participation in and agency head oversight of the development of significant regulations. In furtherance of these goals, the President has issued Executive Order No. 12044, requesting that agencies review and reform their process for rulemaking. Additionally, agencies are to review existing regulations and, where necessary, revise regulations to achieve the goals of the Executive Order. This publication comprises the National Credit Union Administration's draft plan for implementation of the Executive Order.

1. STATEMENT OF POLICY

Regulations issued by the National Credit Union Administration shall be in language which is as clear and simple as possible and understandable by those who are subject to the rules. Regulations should impose minimum burdens upon the credit unions or other parties subject to them, consistent with the effective and efficient achievement of legislative requirements.

2. DEFINITIONS

a. Regulation—Any rule or interpretation (including those Manuals incorporated by reference into the National Credit Union Administration rules and regulations) promulgated in accordance with 12 CFR 720.8: Promulgation of Rules and Regulations of the NCUA, with the force and effect of law.

b. Significant regulations—Every regulation will be identified as a significant regulation, unless its purpose is merely to update, clarify, simplify, or eliminate redundancies in provisions of existing regulations. Regulations not considered significant shall be accompanied by a statement to that effect at the time of proposal.

c. Regulatory analysis—An analytical statement related to certain significant regulations which sets forth the following:

- (i) A justification for the analysis, including identification of the staff's forecast of the potential consequences of the proposed regulation;
- (ii) An analysis of the alternatives available, and their economic and competitive effects; and
- (iii) An explanation of the reasons for choosing one alternative over another.

d. Semiannual agenda—Public notice setting forth and describing regulations, considered "significant" or of manifested public interest, under development or review. Existing regulations selected for review shall also be included. This agenda will be supplemented and updated as necessary. The Administrator shall approve the agenda before it is published.

3. INITIATION OF THE DEVELOPMENT OF A REGULATION

Initiation statement. The initiation, from the sources listed below, of issues felt to be in need of regulation or amendment should begin with a succinct statement outlining the issues involved, the views of the source regarding these issues, and any relevant data to support these views. This statement should be forwarded to the Office of General Counsel, Attention: Regulatory Development Coordinator (the "GC Coordinator"). The preparation of this statement will help facilitate the centralization and processing of issues in need of regulation or amendment and, subsequently, the evaluation and monitoring of a regulation's effectiveness.

GC Coordinator.—The GC Coordinator will review and record the issues raised by initiation statements. In addition, the GC Coordinator will be responsible for preparing the semiannual agenda and supplements thereto. Statements will be forwarded by the GC Coordinator to the appropriate intra-agency office for consideration of whether or not a regulation shall issue. The intra-agency office shall advise the GC Coordinator accordingly. If regulatory development evolves from a statement received from the public, the public initiator will be advised and, if appropriate, the initiator will be encouraged to participate in the development of that regulation.

Potential initiating sources.—Initiation statements usually will originate from the following sources:

(i) Intra-agency—Statements from the various offices or the National Credit Union Board ("Board") should be informally approved (initialed) by Assistant Administrators, Division Chiefs, Regional Administrators, or the Chairman of the Board.

(ii) Intergovernmental, interagency, Presidential requests or congressional legislation—These matters should be directed to the GC Coordinator who will, in cooperation with other interested intra-agency offices, determine the responsible office for evaluation of the initiation statement and appropriate action.

(iii) The public—Initiation statements from the public should also be directed to the GC Coordinator. In addition to the statement requirements outlined above, the person or group submitting the statement should indicate others in support of the statement's recommendations and the interest the person or group has in the action requested.

4. STAFF SCREENING

The Office of the General Counsel will coordinate, through the GC Coordinator, the rulemaking process. The office of General Counsel and other interested intra-agency offices shall jointly determine the intra-agency office responsible for developing a regulation or a group of related regulations. The designated staff member or intra-agency office shall be responsible for insuring that the tasks listed below have been incorporated into the rulemaking process.

a. Administrator approval. In the event the proposed regulation is considered significant in nature, informal approval by the Administrator or his designee is required prior to its development. The responsible intra-agency office shall provide for the review of the Administrator or his designee a summary of the issues to be considered, the alternative approaches to be explored, a tentative plan for obtaining public comment and the target dates for completion of the development of the regulation(s).

b. Coordination with other NCUA offices. If the implementation or enforcement of a regulation under consideration or development directly affects the operations of another intra-agency office (See 12 CFR 720.2, Central and Regional Organization, NCUA rules and regulations), the designated Staff member or intra-agency office shall assemble a work group composed of designated representative(s) of the office(s) involved. The purpose of the work group will be to respond to intra-agency comments and to develop a workable regulation.

c. Solicitation of public participation. The means by which public participation will be solicited will depend upon the issue, expressed interest and the specific public sector affected by the proposed issues. Some methods available for solicitation of public participation include: Advance notice of proposed rulemaking, dissemination of questionnaires, hearings, conferences, notices, or articles in trade magazines or the Administrator's Letter or direct contact with interested parties. Additionally, specific consultative procedures shall be arranged with State and local government officials concerning issues which have been identified by national organizations as having intergovernmental significance.

d. Preparation of a draft regulatory analysis of significant regulations. A regulatory analysis will be prepared when it is determined that the regulation will result in: (1) An annual effect on the economy of $100 million or more, or (2) a major increase in costs or expenses for all or a significant portion of Federal or federally insured credit unions with assets under $1 million (including those within a particular geographic area) or for other financial institutions. The draft regulatory analysis will be prepared by the appropriate intra-agency office(s). Although a regulatory analysis generally applies to significant regulations, the Administrator or his designee may request that a regulatory analysis be performed on any proposed regulation.

5. PROPOSED REGULATIONS

Administrative procedures. The approval of the GC Coordinator is required before a proposed regulation is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The GC Coordinator shall review all drafts of proposed regulations to determine compliance with administrative procedures prior to affixing his/her approval.

Advanced notice. Advance copies of proposed "significant" regulations shall be forwarded to persons identified on the NCUA regulatory mailing list. This mailing list consists of persons who have expressed an interest in the promulgation of NCUA regulations. To be included on the mailing list, persons should contact the Assistant Administrator for Administration.

Regulatory approach. The public notice of proposed significant regulations will include a brief discussion of the regulatory approach utilized and the alternatives considered. If a regulatory analysis has been prepared, it should be stated as well as indicating its availability for public comment.

Public comment. The public should be given at least 60 days to comment on a proposed significant regulation. If this comment period is less than or extended beyond 60 days, a statement of the reasons for the change will be published. Requests for an extension of the comment period will be considered.

Public hearing. If, at any time during the regulatory process, it appears that a regulatory action will be of major consequence to parties of significantly varying interests, the GC Coordinator or designated intra-agency office or staff member will consider recommending an informal public hearing on the matter. The final decision on such a recommendation shall be made by the Administrator.

6. FINAL REGULATIONS

Approval prior to publication. Final regulations must be approved by the General Counsel and the Administrator. The GC Coordinator shall review all final regulations to determine compliance with administrative procedures prior to approval by the General Counsel and the Administrator. Simultaneous with approval of any final significant regulation, the Administrator shall determine that the following have been considered:

- (i) The need for the regulation;
- (ii) Alternative approaches to achieve the purpose of the regulation;
- (iii) The least burdensome of the acceptable approaches was chosen;
- (iv) All potential effects of the regulation have been adequately assessed, including an estimate of the reporting burdens and recordkeeping requirements necessary for compliance;
- (v) Public comments were considered and adequately responded to;

(vi) The regulation is written in "plain English" and is understandable to those who must comply; and
(vii) The name, address, and telephone number of a knowledgeable staff person has been provided.

Submission of a final significant regulation to the Administrator shall be accompanied by a memorandum, set of comments or other explanation establishing the basis for the above determinations.

Acknowledgment of the Administrator's approval should be addressed in the preamble to the final regulation.

Plan of evaluation. Each final draft of a significant regulation submitted to the GC Coordinator should be accompanied by an outline for evaluating that regulation after its issuance. Additionally, the GC Coordinator will insure that all significant regulations are reviewed for clarity and efficiency every 3 years from the regulation's effective date.

Revised regulatory analysis. The revised regulatory analysis shall be prepared and made available to the public at the same time that the final regulation is published. The revised analysis will reflect the effect of and the Administration's response to public comments on the proposed regulation and the initial regulatory analysis.

7. COVERAGE

The procedure outlined above will not apply to the development of:

- (i) Significant regulations prepared in response to an emergency or governed by short-term statutory or judicial deadlines;
- (ii) Regulations in which the process outlined is unnecessary or contrary to the public interest;
- (iii) Matters relating to Administration management or personnel (including Federal Government procurement issues).

The publication of the above types of regulations will be accompanied by a statement of the reasons for not following the Administration's outlined regulatory development procedures. The name of the Administration official responsible for deciding that the regulation is not covered by this procedure shall be stated.

8. REVIEW OF EXISTING REGULATIONS

Purpose of review. NCUA's existing regulations will be reviewed and revised where necessary to insure that they are achieving the policy goals of the Executive Order. In addition, existing regulations shall be amended to update, clarify, simplify, and eliminate redundant provisions.

Initial plan for review. After the publication of its final report implementing the Executive Order, the GC Coordinator will establish staff teams to participate in a multi-phased review of its existing regulations.

The first review phase of the team effort will involve amending the manuals incorporated by reference into NCUA's rules and regulations in §701.14. These manuals were selected as a result of the number of their provisions which have been to date subjected to review and revisions. The second review phase will involve a review of rules related to organization, operation, and investments of Federal credit unions. The third review phase will involve a review of share insurance regulations.

Future review. Following the initial review of existing regulations, these regulations will be reviewed for clarity and efficiency every 3 years. This continuous review process will be systematized by the GC Coordinator.

LORENA C. MATTHEWS,
Acting Administrator.

URBAN HOMESTEADING PROGRAM

Proposed Rulemaking

AGENCY: Department of Housing and Urban Development.

ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY: HUD is soliciting comments on this proposed regulation which prescribes the requirements for the Urban Homesteading Program authorized by Title VIII, section 810 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.

DATE: Comments are due by June 30, 1978.

ADDRESS: Comments and suggestions should be addressed to the Rules Docket Clerk, Room 5218, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Hugh Allen, Community planning and Development, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 7th Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410, telephone: 202-755-6330.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. GENERAL BACKGROUND

Urban homesteading is a simple concept: provide a vacant, unrepaid house to a homesteader who agrees to rehabilitate the house, maintain it, and occupy it for a designated period of time in exchange for legal title to the property.

Cities led the way in the late 1960's in applying homesteading to the growing phenomenon of housing abandonment in deteriorating urban areas. The increasing number of abandoned houses, gradually being acquired by local governments through tax foreclosures and by the Federal Government through foreclosures of its insured mortgages necessitated solutions.

II. FEDERAL GOVERNMENT'S ROLE IN URBAN HOMESTEADING

The Federal Government's involvement in urban homesteading was officially established with the passing of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. Title VIII, Section 810 of this Act authorizes the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to transfer one- to four-unit residential properties to States, units of general local government or their designated public agencies for use in urban homesteading programs approved by HUD. The localities receiving these properties are not required to pay for them. Instead, Section 810 authorizes the appropriation of funds to reimburse HUD's housing loan and Federal Housing Administration's mortgage insurance funds for the properties transferred.

URBAN HOMESTEADING DEMONSTRATION

In the Fall of 1975, HUD designed the Urban Homesteading Demonstration as a cooperative effort between the Department and units of general local government. Agreements were executed with 23 demonstration cities which were competitively selected from numerous applications. In May 1977, 16 additional demonstration cities were selected, again as a result of open competition.

To provide program flexibility, HUD developed administrative guidelines rather than program regulations for the demonstration. Most of the key decisions regarding program design and administration, therefore, were left to the Demonstration Cities.

The Urban Homesteading Demonstration permits local governments to test a number of approaches to homesteading and allows HUD to evaluate:

(1) The characteristics of neighborhoods that can be assisted with homesteading;

(2) The kinds of accompanying services, public and private, necessary to make the concept of homesteading workable;

(3) The socio-economic characteristics of recipients capable of becoming successful homesteaders; and

(4) The different administrative and financial techniques useful in a homesteading program and the conditions under which each of these mechanisms can best function.

In accordance with HUD guidelines, demonstration cities were to designate neighborhoods in which their urban homesteading programs would be carried out and to implement a coordinated neighborhood improvement plan to upgrade public services and facilities. The cities were also required to convey properties acquired under Section 810 of the 1974 Act to selected homesteaders "without any substantial consideration." In selecting homesteaders, due consideration was to be given to the "recipients' need for housing" and to his or her "capacity to make or cause to be made the repairs and improvements required . . ." The homesteaders would receive title to the property if they completed the needed repairs and lived in the property for three years.

Each of the Demonstration Cities selected to participate received a reservation of funds under the Section 312 Rehabilitation Loan Program. These funds could be used to finance either the repair of urban homesteads or the rehabilitation of other properties in the urban homesteading neighborhoods.

As a result of the enthusiastic and favorable response to the Urban Homesteading Demonstration, HUD proposes to conduct an expanded, fully operational program of urban homesteading. The proposed regulations in this Part will govern the expanded program. The 39 Demonstration Cities, however, will continue to conduct their present programs under the Demonstration guidelines. To the extent that the provisions of any Demonstration Agreement signed with HUD is inconsistent with these regulations, the pertinent provision of the Agreement will take precedence.

The following paragraphs address the various sections of the proposed regulations for the expanded urban homesteading program.

PROGRAM PURPOSE

The purpose of the urban homesteading program is to provide another community development "tool" to communities that will assist them in upgrading deteriorating neighborhoods. In accomplishing this purpose, § 590.2 indicates that home ownership opportunities will be provided to individuals and families through the rehabilitation of existing, vacant houses in specified neighborhoods. Such action will encourage and stimulate public and private investment in these neighborhoods, thereby assisting in their preservation and revitalization.

In addition to providing unrepaid, unoccupied, one- to four-family HUD properties, the Department will encourage the use of locally-owned properties, including locally-owned multi-family units, in approved urban homesteading programs.

DEFINITIONS

An applicant, as defined in § 590.3(b) is a State or unit of general local government which may apply for the approval of a local homesteading program. A State or unit of general local government may designate, however, a public agency to undertake and carry out the local homesteading program.

Section 590.3(d) defines locally-owned properties as a one- to four-family residence or multifamily residence to which the participating community has title.

Throughout this proposed rule the term Local Urban Homesteading Agency is also used. In § 590.3(e) it is defined as a State or unit of general local government or their designated public agencies which must have authority to accept the transfer, without payment, of Secretary-owned property.

Secretary-owned properties defined in § 590.3(h) are limited to HUD's unoccupied one- to four-family residences. These properties have been acquired by the Department through foreclosure of insured mortgages by HUD/Federal Housing Administration.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Section 590.4 addresses the urban homesteading program requirements that States, or units of general local government must provide in order to be approved by HUD. These requirements will allow participating communities much of the same flexibility in local program design and operation that was experienced in the Urban Homesteading Demonstration. For example, local programs may be designed to attract low or middle income persons. They may emphasize self-help rehabilitation ("sweat equity") or contracted rehabilitation. Some programs may aid the homesteaders in obtaining rehabilitation financing or encourage homesteaders to obtain private financing.

The Department will encourage communities to incorporate their homesteading programs within the overall local Community Development Program being implemented with Community Development Block Grant funds authorized by Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended and thereby coordinate with other federally assisted programs that support the revitalization of deteriorating neighborhoods. In § 590.4(a), therefore, the Department is encouraging applicants to designate urban homesteading neighborhoods that are coterminous with Neighborhood Strategy Areas (NSA) as defined by the Community Development Block Grant regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), Title 24, Chapter V, Part 570, Subpart D—Entitlement Grants, § 570.301(c), published March 1, 1978. An NSA is an area which is selected by a recipient of CDBG entitlement funds and designated in its Community Development and Housing Plan for a program of concentrated community development activities. The program is a comprehensive, coordinated strategy for stabilizing and upgrading the area which:

(1) Provides for a combination of physical improvements, necessary public facilities and services, housing programs, private investment and citizen self-help activities appropriate to the needs of the area;

(2) Coordinates public and private development efforts;

(3) Provides sufficient resources to produce substantial long-term improvements in the area within a reasonable period of time; in determining the size of the area the applicant shall take into account the severity of its

APPLICATIONS

Section 590.6(a) requests the applicant to provide information about its neighborhood improvement plan for the urban homesteading neighborhood(s). A community Development Block Grant entitlement applicant that is also designating NSA as the urban homesteading neighborhood meets the coordinated neighborhood improvement plan requirement and may cite the appropriate cross reference in its block grant application. Additional information is requested for the number of local and Secretary-owned property proposed for homesteading, the administrative and program management plan and a description of the rehabilitation financing plan. The Department encourages communities to use a variety of sources (Federal/State, local and private) for the financing of the rehabilitation work and not depend solely on the availability of Section 312 rehabilitation loans.

In § 590.6(b), the applicant will make certain assurances to the Department which include that it possesses legal authority to accept Secretary-owned property, without payment to HUD, convey this property to homesteaders without substantial consideration and assist in or provide the financing of the homesteading rehabilitation. These assurances are, in summary, requiring that a local urban homesteading program will be conducted in accordance with State and local law.

Other assurances in this subsection also relate to the management of a local urban homesteading program.

In § 590.6(c), applicants are required to comply with the procedures for OMB Circular A-95, Part II. Applications which may be submitted any time on or after the effective date of these regulations must include any A-95 clearinghouse comments or indicate that no comments were received.

URBAN HOMESTEADING AGREEMENT

Section 590.7 provides that HUD will approve an applicant's urban homesteading program if it complies with the requirements of this proposed rule and other applicable laws and regulations. In § 590.8 the appropriate HUD Area Office will sign an agreement with a community whose proposed urban homesteading program is approved. This agreement will set forth the terms for transferring Secretary-owned property. The agreement will be for one year and will generally be renewable on an annual basis if progress is satisfactory and the local program is being carried out as proposed and approved.

TRANSFER OF SECRETARY-OWNED PROPERTIES

Section 590.9(a) sets forth the procedure that HUD will use to assist in problems and the amount of resources to be provided so that this requirement can be met.

This comprehensive strategy implemented in NSA satisfies the Urban Homesteading Program requirement that an applicant develop and implement a coordinated neighborhood improvement plan. Other areas, however, may be designated if (1) the applicant meets the program requirements of § 590.4, but does not receive Community Development Block Grant entitlement funds, or (2) the neighborhood selected for urban homesteading does not require the concentrated treatment as defined by NSA or (3) the required neighborhood improvements will be funded by sources other than Community Development Block Grants. In these other areas, an applicant is required to describe its community development needs and its coordinated improvement plan for meeting these needs.

Applicants which also are applying for Community Development Block Grants should include in their housing assistance plans the number of units proposed to be assisted under the homesteading program if it is intended to meet the rehabilitated housing needs of low and moderate income households.

Section 590.4(b) outlines the minimum requirements for the development of a local urban homesteading program. A local homesteading program that could be approved by HUD must include: (1) An equitable procedure for selecting homesteaders which gives special consideration to their need for housing and their capacity to make or cause to be made housing repairs. The proposed rule does not define "need for housing" but leaves that responsibility to the locality; (2) the execution of an agreement between the homesteader and the local urban homesteading agency which addresses the repair, occupancy, and inspection of the homesteader property and the conditions for revocation of the agreement; (3) a conditional conveyance of the property title for no more than a nominal charge with fee simple title conveyance upon satisfactory completion of the homesteader agreement; and (4) a coordinated neighborhood improvement plan which provides for the upgrading of public services and facilities and encourages private investment in the homesteading neighborhood.

LIST OF SECRETARY-OWNED PROPERTIES

To facilitate the preliminary planning of a potential urban homesteading program applicant, § 590.5 requires HUD to provide, upon written request, a list of all Secretary-owned, unoccupied one- to four-family residences within the geographic jurisdiction of the applicant. This listing will include the street address of each property.

transferring Secretary-owned properties to the local urban homesteading agency. When an applicant's proposed homesteading program is approved, it may request HUD to suspend its property disposition activities up to 45 days in the designated urban homesteading neighborhood, giving the local agency an opportunity to select Secretary-owned properties. When future acquisitions of unoccupied, one- to four-family properties by HUD occur in an approved homesteading neighborhood, § 590.9 (a)(3) provides that HUD will notify the local homesteading agency and give it a maximum of 30 days to decide whether or not it wants to use the property for homesteading. These proposed procedures insure that HUD's property disposition activity in an approved urban homesteading neighborhood will be conducted in a manner to support the local homesteading program objectives.

In § 590.9(b), there are several conditions set forth that must be met, including a determination of property suitability by the HUD Area Office, before HUD will transfer its one- to four-family property to a local urban homesteading agency. Only those Secretary-owned properties which are unoccupied, unrepaid and for which there are no repair or sale contracts will be eligible for transfer. Section 590.9(b)(5) provides that any eligible Secretary-owned property requested by a local urban homesteading agency will be suitable for transfer if its "as-is condition" fair market value does not exceed $15,000 for a one unit single family residence or an additional $5,000 for each unit of two- to four-family residences and the estimated cost of repairs does not exceed $27,000. The Manager of the HUD Area Office may waive the property value restrictions if the benefits to the community and the decrease in difficulties and delays such as vandalism to property that HUD encounters in the sale of property merit the transfer of the higher priced property. The Manager may also waive the costs in excess of $27,000 if they are to be provided by the homesteader or local resources other than Section 312 rehabilitation loans.

Section 590.9(c) sets forth four (4) conditions under which a HUD Area Office can use a property otherwise eligible for transfer to a local urban homesteading agency for another purpose. These conditions include requiring a local urban homesteading agency to take title to a property within 30 days after HUD's notification of approval for transfer and meeting HUD's legal obligations for such demands as emergency housing.

IMPLEMENTING FUNDS

of 1974, as amended, authorizes funds to reimburse HUD's housing loan and mortgage insurance funds for the Secretary-owned properties transferred to a local homesteading agency and to provide technical assistance to local urban homestead agencies and to homesteaders. In order to make more housing available for homesteading purposes, the Department's policy, as stated in Section 590.10 will be to use the funds authorized by section 810 only to reimburse HUD's housing loan and mortgage insurance accounts for Secretary-owned properties transferred for use in approved local urban homesteading programs.

Available § 312 rehabilitation loan funds which have an interest payment of three percent on the principal, will also be provided to assist in the financing of the repairs of homesteaded properties and for the repair of other properties in the urban homesteading neighborhoods. As expressed in § 590.11, HUD may reduce its commitment for any of the housing reimbursement or rehabilitation funds for an approved urban homesteading program, if the local urban homesteading agency does not comply with the statutory and regulatory requirements of this Part or does not carry out the program as approved.

RETENTION OF RECORDS AND AUDITS

Section 590.3 requires retention for three years of all pertinent records, information and documents relating to the local urban homesteading program. Section 590.14 says that the Secretary and the Comptroller General of the United States shall have access to all of this information for the purpose of making audits, surveys, examinations and other relevant summaries.

APPLICABLE FEDERAL LAWS AND REGULATIONS

Section 590.15 cites the laws and regulations applicable to an urban homesteading program. These laws include nondiscrimination, environmental requirements, historic preservation, lead-based paint requirements and relocation assistance and real property acquisition policies.

The 1973 Rehabilitation Act, Section 504, which protects the rights of handicapped persons from discriminatory practices will apply to HUD approved local urban homesteading programs. Also, the Department's regulations in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 24, Part 42, that govern relocation and real property acquisition will apply to any Secretary-owned property acquired by a local urban homesteading agency for use in its HUD approved homesteading program.

REVIEW OF LOCAL PERFORMANCE

Section 590.16 sets forth the criteria for an annual review by HUD of each local urban homesteading program. These criteria include compliance with the program's statutory and regulatory requirements, implementing its homesteading program as approved and a continuing capacity to carry out the program in a timely manner. Based upon this review, if a local program deficiency is identified, § 590.17 lists the appropriate, corrective action that HUD will take. In each case, the Department will seek to (1) prevent the deficiency from continuing; (2) mitigate the adverse consequences resulting from the deficiency and (3) prevent the deficiency from recurring.

EVALUATION

In § 590.18, local urban homesteading programs are to provide necessary data that HUD may require to complete its annual evaluation of the national urban homesteading program.

SPECIAL INFORMATION

A Finding of Inapplicability with respect to Environmental Impact has been prepared in accordance with HUD Handbook 1390.1. Copies of the Finding are available for inspection and copying during business hours in the Office of the Rules Docket Clerk, Room 5218, Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 Seventh Street SW., Washington, D.C. 20410.

Accordingly, an amendment to 24 CFR is proposed by adding a new Part 590 which reads as follows:

PART 590-URBAN HOMESTEADING

- Sec.
- 590.1 Scope of regulation.
- 590.2 Purpose of program.
- 590.3 Definitions.
- 590.4 Program requirements.
- 590.5 Listing of secretary owned properties.
- 590.6 Applications.
- 590.7 HUD review and approval of application.
- 590.8 Urban homesteading agreement.
- 590.9 Transfer of Secretary owned properties.
- 590.10 Implementing funds.
- 590.11 Reduction of funds.
- 590.12 Program close out (Reserved)
- 590.13 Retention of records.
- 590.14 Audit.
- 590.15 Applicable Federal laws and regulations.
- 590.16 HUD review of local urban homesteading agency's performance.
- 590.17 Corrective and remedial action.
- 590.18 Evaluation by HUD.

§ 590.1 Scope of regulation.

(a) The policies and procedures in this regulation are applicable to the approval of urban homesteading programs authorized by Section 810 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.

(b) This part includes the functions and responsibilities of HUD and units of general local government and States or a designated public agency of a State or unit of general local government with regard to program requirements; application requirements; submission of applications; review and approval of applications; transfer of Secretary-owned properties; property disposition assistance; HUD program evaluation; performance review and other applicable Federal laws and regulations.

§ 590.2 Purpose of program.

The purpose of the urban homesteading program is to utilize existing housing stock to provide homeownership, thereby encouraging public and private investment in selected neighborhoods and assisting in their preservation and revitalization. The program will provide for the transfer without payment to States or units of general local government or their designated public agencies Secretary-owned, unoccupied one- to four-family residences requested by such unit, State or agency for use in an approved urban homesteading program. Reservations under the Section 312 Rehabilitation Loan Program are available to finance rehabilitation of single or multifamily properties, as well as other properties, within the urban homesteading neighborhoods.

§ 590.3 Definitions.

(a) "Act" means Title VIII, Section 810 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.

(b) "Applicant" means any State or unit of general local government. The applicant may designate a public agency, including an existing local public agency, to carry out the homesteading program, but only the State or unit of general local government may be the applicant.

(c) "Homesteader" means an individual or family who participates in a local urban homesteading program by accepting a property pursuant to the requirements of § 590.4.

(d) "Locally-owned property" means any real property which is improved with a one- to four-family residence or a multifamily residence not obtained from the Department of Housing and Urban Development and to which the local urban homesteading agency holds title.

(e) "Local Urban Homesteading Agency" means a State, a unit of general local government, or a public agency designated by a unit of general local government or a State, which must have the authority to accept the transfer, without payment, of Secretary-owned property.

(f) "Local Urban Homesteading Program" means the operating procedures, and requirements developed by a local urban homesteading agency in accordance with the provisions of § 590.4.

(g) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development or any person to whom the Secretary has delegated authority for the urban homesteading program.

(h) "Secretary-owned property" means any real property:

(1) Which is improved with a one- to four-family residence;

(2) To which the Secretary holds Title;

(3) Which is not occupied.

(i) "Section 312 Rehabilitation Loan Funds" means loan funds authorized by Section 312 of the Housing Act of 1964, as amended to finance the rehabilitation of urban homesteaded property, as well as other property within the designated urban homesteading.

(j) "Section 810 Funds" means the money authorized under Title VIII, Section 810 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended to reimburse the Department of Housing and Urban Development's housing loan and mortgage insurance funds for the fair market value of Secretary-owned properties transferred to local urban homesteading agencies.

(k) "State" means any State of the United States, or any instrumentality thereof approved by the Governor; and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(l) "Unit of general local government" means any city, county, town, township, parish, village, or other general purpose political subdivision of a State; Guam, the Virgin Islands, and American Samoa, or in a general purpose political subdivision thereof: The District of Columbia; the Trust Territories of the Pacific Islands; and Indian tribes, bands, groups, and nations of the United States, including Alaska Indians, Aleuts, and Eskimos.

(m) "Urban homesteading neighborhood" means a geographic area(s) approved by HUD for conducting a local urban homesteading program that meets the requirements of § 590.4.

§ 590.4 Program requirements.

An applicant shall meet the following requirements to qualify for assistance under this Part:

(a) Designation of Urban Homesteading Neighborhood. It shall designate neighborhood(s) for carrying out urban homesteading. An urban homesteading neighborhood shall be:

(1) A Neighborhood Strategy Area designated pursuant to the Community Development Block Grant regulations published March 1, 1978, in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 24, Chapter V, Part 570, Subpart D—Entitlement Grants, § 570.301(c); or

(2) Another area designated by the applicant, where:

(i) The applicant is not a recipient of community development block grant entitlement funds authorized by Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974;

(ii) The required public improvements and services will be provided from sources other than community development block grants; or

(iii) The neighborhood selected for urban homesteading does not require the concentrated treatment required for a neighborhood strategy area.

(b) Development of Local Urban Homesteading Program. It shall develop a program to convey unoccupied residential structures to qualified individuals or families. The program shall provide for the following:

(1) Homesteader Selection. It shall provide equitable procedures for homesteader selection giving special consideration to the homesteader's:

(i) Need for housing; and

(ii) Capacity to make or cause to be made necessary repairs and improvements.

(2) Conditional conveyance. It shall provide for the conditional conveyance of unoccupied, unrepaid residential property to homesteaders without substantial consideration.

(3) Homesteader Agreement. It shall provide for execution of a Homesteader Agreement between the local urban homesteading agency and the homesteader which shall require the homesteader:

(i) To make or cause to be made any repairs required to meet minimum local health and safety housing standards prior to occupying the property;

(ii) To make or cause to be made additional repairs and improvements necessary to meet the applicable local standards for decent, safe, and sanitary housing within 18 months after occupying the property and to comply with energy conservation measures designated by the local urban homesteading agency as part of the repairs;

(iii) To occupy the property as principal residence for not less than three consecutive years from a date determined by the local urban homesteading agency;

(iv) To permit reasonable inspections at reasonable times by employees of the local urban homesteading agency; and

(4) Revocation Upon Breach of Agreement. It shall provide for the revocation of the conditional conveyance upon any material breach of the agreement by the homesteader.

(5) Fee Simple Title. It shall provide for the conveyance of the property from the local urban homesteading agency to the homesteader in fee simple title upon full compliance with the terms of the agreement between the agency and the homesteader.

(6) Coordinated Neighborhood Improvements Plan. It shall provide a plan for needed public improvements and services, and community facilities in the Urban Homesteading Neighborhoods.

(i) If the Urban Homesteading Neighborhood is a Neighborhood

Strategy Area, then the coordinated neighborhood improvement plan for the area described in the applicant's Community Development Block Grant entitlement application, pursuant to 24 CFR 570.304(b)(1)(i) (Community Development and Housing Plan) will satisfy this requirement. Such an applicant will cite the appropriate cross reference in its applications.

(ii) For designated urban homesteading neighborhoods that are not Community Development Block Grant Neighborhood Strategy Areas, the coordinated neighborhood improvement plan shall include:

(A) A brief description of the area's need for revitalization, community facilities, public services and improvements and housing problems;

(B) A description of the plan that will be implemented to meet the identified needs for upgrading and improving the area; and

(C) A description of the actions to mitigate any adverse effects on low- and moderate-income persons that may result from implementing an urban homesteading program in the designated neighborhood.

§ 590.5 Listing of Secretary-owned properties.

(a) To facilitate the local planning and program development in accordance with the program requirements of § 590.4 a potential applicant may submit a written request to the Manager of the appropriate HUD field office for a listing of all Secretary-owned properties defined in § 590.3(h) within the applicant's jurisdiction.

(b) After receipt of such request HUD shall provide to the potential applicant a list of those Secretary-owned properties for which repair or sale contracts have not been executed.

§ 590.6 Applications.

(a) Submission Requirements. Applications shall be submitted to the HUD Area Office which has jurisdiction over the applicant and shall consist of the following:

(1) Standard Form 424, prescribed by OMB Circular No. A-102;

(2) A description of the coordinated neighborhood improvement plan as required by § 590.4(b)(6). An applicant that is applying for Community Development Block Grant entitlement (CDBG) funds may cite the appropriate cross reference in its community development plan pursuant to 24 CFR 570.304(b)(1)(i) (Community Development and Housing Plan).

(3) A map of each proposed urban homesteading neighborhood with geographic boundaries indicated, census tracts or enumeration lines shown. The map shall include:

(i) An estimate of the number and the location of locally-owned properties to be conveyed to homesteaders during the program's first year and for the program's duration;

(ii) An estimate of the number and the location of the Secretary-owned properties requested for use in the proposed urban homesteading program during the program's first year and for the program's duration;

(4) A description of the rehabilitation financing plan to be used in the urban homesteading neighborhood(s) which shall include:

(i) An estimate of the Federal, State and/or local public funds and any private funding sources that are to be made available for interim and permanent financing or rehabilitation;

(ii) The total number of residential properties for rehabilitation;

(iii) An outline of the applicant's proposed schedule(s) and time periods for committing rehabilitation loan funds in its urban homesteading program.

(5) An implementation plan which includes:

(i) The description of the entity that will carry out the program;

(ii) A timetable and methods to accomplish the program which includes:

(A) Transferring properties from HUD to local urban homesteading agency;

(B) Advertising residential properties for homesteading purposes;

(C) Conveying unoccupied, unrepaid residential property to homesteaders; and

(D) Implementing the coordinated neighborhood improvement plan.

(b) Certifications. The applicant shall submit certifications in such form as HUD may prescribe, providing assurances that:

(1) Its governing body has duly adopted or passed as an official act, resolution, motion, or similar action authorizing the filing of the application including all understandings and assurances contained in the application;

(2) It possesses the legal authority to:

(i) Accept the transfer without payment of Secretary-owned property;

(ii) Convey residential property to homesteaders without any substantial consideration, and

(iii) Assist in or undertake the financing of the rehabilitation for residential property conveyed to homesteaders.

(3) It has:

(i) A form for conditional conveyance as required by § 590.4(b)(2);

(ii) Equitable procedures for selecting homesteaders as required by § 590.4(b)(1); and

(iii) An urban homesteader agreement required by § 590.4(b)(3).

(4) It will convey the residential property in fee simple title without consideration to the homesteader upon full compliance with the terms of the agreement required in § 590.4(b)(3).

(5) It has, prior to submission of its application:

(i) Provided citizens an adequate opportunity to express preferences about the proposed location of urban homesteading neighborhoods; and

(iii) Provided citizens with adequate information regarding the amount of rehabilitation loan funds, and the number of existing houses requested and the neighborhood improvement plan required by § 590.4(b)(6).

(6) It will submit any environmental information that may be requested by HUD in meeting the Department's environmental responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

(7) It will: (i) Not discriminate upon the basis of race, creed, color, handicap, sex, or national origin in the sale, lease, or rental or in the use or occupancy of the property conveyed in accordance with this Part;

(ii) Comply with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968; and

(iii) Comply with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 which prohibits discrimination against the handicapped in any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.

(8) It will comply with the lead-based paint procedures set forth in 24 CFR Part 35 agreeing to:

(i) Assure the elimination of the lead-based paint hazards for which HUD will not expend funds in residential structures transferred under this Part; and

(ii) Make notification to potential homesteaders of the hazards of lead-based paint poisoning in residential units constructed prior to 1950.

(9) It will submit any information that may be requested by HUD meeting the Department's Responsibilities under the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 (Pub. L. 89-665) and the Preservation of Historic and Archaeological Data Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-291), including the procedures prescribed by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation in 36 CFR Part 800, and Executive Order 11593 on Protection and Enhancement of the Cultural Environment.

(10) It will, upon conveyance of Title from HUD assume liability for injury and damage to persons or property by reason of a defect in the dwelling, its equipment, its appurtenances, or any other reason.

(11) It will give HUD and the Comptroller General through any authorized representatives access to and the right to examine all records, books, papers, or documents related to the urban homesteading program.

(12) It will maintain in writing and on file a description of its approved local urban homesteading program for the purposes of public information and review.

(c) OMB Circular A-95, Part II. (1) In order to provide early advance notice for coordination purposes, at least sixty (60) days prior to the submission of an application to HUD, the applicant shall transmit a notice of intent to file an application to the appropriate State and areawide clearinghouses. Standard Form 424 may be used for the following information unless clearinghouses have developed specific instructions:

(i) Identity of the applicant community;

(ii) The geographic location of the project to be assisted. A map shall be provided if appropriate;

(iii) A brief description of the project by purposes, general size or scope, estimated cost, beneficiaries or other characteristics which will enable the clearinghouses to identify agencies of State or local government having plans, programs or projects that might be affected by the proposed project; and

(iv) The estimated date by which the applicant expects to formally file an application.

(2) Unless the requirement is waived by a clearinghouse, the applicant shall provide the clearinghouse a period of thirty (30) days to review the completed application and transmit to the applicant any comments or recommendations.

(3) Clearinghouses will be of assistance to the applicant and to HUD if their reviews address the impact of the proposal in revitalizing the designated urban homesteading neighborhood, the relationships of the proposal to community and areawide planning and any other considerations not reflected in the application which would bear on the viability of the proposal as well as the "subject matter of comments and recommendations" in Part I, Attachment A of OMB Circular No. A-95, Item 5, with emphasis on consistency among State, areawide, and local plans and compliance with environmental and civil rights laws.

(4) The applicant shall transmit all comments to HUD with the application. If comments are not received by the applicant within the thirty-day period, the applicant shall include a statement indicating that the State and areawide clearinghouses were notified and no comments were received.

(5) If the A-95 review comments contain any findings of inconsistency with State, areawide, or local plans or non-compliance with environmental or civil rights laws, the applicant must state how it proposes to resolve the finding or state its justification for proposing to proceed with the project despite the findings developed through the A-95 review process.

(6) HUD shall notify the clearinghouses of actions taken on all applications reviewed within seven working days by use of Standard Form 424. When HUD makes approval following clearinghouse recommendations against approval or approval only with specific and major substantive changes, the clearinghouse will be provided an explanation for such approval with the HUD submittal of SF 424.

(d) Application Submission. Applications shall be submitted, at anytime, to the HUD Area Office which has jurisdiction over the applicant.

§ 590.7 HUD review and approval of application.

The appropriate HUD Area Office will review the application and will approve the proposed local urban homesteading program, unless the HUD Area Office determines that it does not comply with the requirements of this Part and other applicable regulations and laws. Approval of the application does not, however, obligate HUD to transfer a specific number of properties or particular properties identified in the application. If the application is disapproved, the applicant shall be informed in writing of the specific reasons for the disapproval.

§ 590.8 Urban homesteading agreement.

(a) Upon approval of the proposed local urban homesteading program, the appropriate HUD Area Office will sign an urban homesteading agreement with the local urban homesteading agency. The regulations of this part become a part of the agreement.

(b) The agreement is renewable on an annual basis: Provided, That:

(1) The local urban homesteading agency has carried out its program substantially as proposed and approved; and

(2) The local urban homesteading agency has a continuing capacity to carry out the approved program in a timely manner including the selection of homesteaders, the conveyance of residential property to homesteaders, the implementation of its interim and permanent financial plan(s), the completion and quality of the housing rehabilitation and the implementation of its neighborhood improvements plan.

§ 590.9 Transfer of Secretary-owned properties.

(a) Property Disposition Assistance. HUD's property disposition activity shall support the urban homesteading program as follows:

(1) Upon the signing of the urban homesteading agreement as required in § 590.8 but prior to the selection of any Secretary-owned property, a local urban homesteading agency may request HUD to suspend its routine property disposition activity for 45 days or less in the designated urban homesteading neighborhood(s). Based upon this request, HUD shall state in writing the starting and closing dates of the suspension of property disposition activity for all Secretary-owned properties except those for which there are repair or sales contracts.

(2) The HUD Area Offices shall develop and implement a property disposition plan for Secretary-owned and other HUD-owned properties in the designated urban homesteading neighborhood which is consistent with the local urban homesteading program. This plan shall include the following procedure:

(i) As soon as feasible, but in any event not later than ten days, after receipt of notice of property transfer and application for insurance benefits to HUD for an unoccupied, one- to four-family residence in an approved urban homesteading neighborhood, the HUD Area Office shall notify the local urban homesteading agency of the potential availability of the property for homesteading. The notification shall be in writing and shall include the street address and zip code and shall inform the local urban homesteading agency that it has thirty days from the date of the notice to inform the Area Office if it wishes to use the property for homesteading.

(ii) The Area Office shall not approve a property disposition program for that property until the local urban homesteading agency has informed that Area Office, in writing, whether or not it intends to use the property in the urban homesteading program or until 30 days have expired from the date of HUD's notice to such agency, whichever comes first. Any property requested in accordance with this procedure shall be transferred to a local urban homesteading agency if such property meets the conditions for transferring Secretary-owned properties listed in § 590.9(b).

(b) Conditions for Transferring Secretary-Owned Properties. Except as provided in § 590.9(c) below, HUD shall transfer Secretary-owned properties to a local urban homesteading agency, without receiving payment from such agency, if the following conditions are met:

(1) The local urban homesteading program has been approved by HUD;

(2) The properties requested by the local urban homesteading agency are in a designated urban homesteading neighborhood(s);

(3) The HUD Area Office has reserved the necessary Section 810 funds to reimburse HUD's housing loan mortgage and insurance accounts for the residential property to be transferred;

(4) The requested property is unoccupied, unrepaid and a repair or sale contract has not been signed;

(5) The requested property is determined to be suitable for the approved local urban homesteading program by the Area Office. In making this determination the Area Office will take into account the following factors:

(i) The value of the property. The value of the property shall not exceed $15,000 for a one unit single family residence or an additional $5,000 for each unit of two- to four-family residences. To compute this value, HUD shall estimate and deduct from the appraised as is fair market value of the property the cost of continued care and handling for the average length of time for that area that such property might remain in HUD's inventory if it were not transferred to a local urban homesteading agency;

(ii) The estimated cost of housing repairs required. The cost of required repairs shall not exceed $27,000 per unit;

(iii) The Area Office Manager may authorize on a property by property or program by program basis the transfer of Secretary-owned property:

(A) Whose value exceeds the limitations, cited in paragraph (b)(5)(i) of this section, if the benefit to the community, expected from the expedited occupancy of the property and the reduction of difficulties and delays (such as vandalism to property) that HUD typically encounters in the disposition and sale of property, warrant the additional cost to the Federal Government;

(B) For which the value of housing repairs exceeds the limitation, cited in paragraph (b)(5)(ii) of this section, when the value of such repairs in excess of $27,000 per unit will be provided by the homesteader or through other local resources other than Section 312 rehabilitation loan funds.

(c) Exceptions. (1) If within thirty (30) days of notification by HUD that a property meets the requirements of § 590.9(b)(1)-(5) and is available for transfer, the local urban homesteading agency does not take title of the offered property, the Area Office may approve an alternative disposition plan for the property.

(2) Property otherwise eligible for transfer to a local homesteading agency may be used for other legally authorized purposes if so requested by the local urban homesteading agency and approved by the Area Office Manager.

(3) A property otherwise eligible for transfer to a local urban homesteading agency may be used to meet higher priority needs if the Area Office Manager makes a determination in writing that such property is essential to meet an existing legal obligation such as the following:

(i) Settlement of Sales Warranty claims;

(ii) Settlement of section 518 claims for critical structural defects in one- to four-family dwellings with certain mortgages insured by HUD;

(iii) Emergency housing needs: (disaster housing and urgent public housing needs);

(iv) Reconveyance for noncompliance with regulation 203.363;

(v) Reconveyance pursuant to Civil Frauds Act settlement; and

(vi) Reconveyance where the mortgage was never insured.

(4) A property otherwise eligible for transfer to a local urban homesteading agency may be made available to a neighborhood nonprofit organization if the Area Office Manager determines in writing that such transfer will serve the community's best interest and is consistent with the goals of the local urban homesteading program. Such transfer does not require concurrence of the local urban homesteading agency or the local government.

§ 590.10 Implementing Funds.

HUD will reserve or otherwise provide available Section 810 funds and Section 312 rehabilitation loan funds necessary to assist in implementing an approved local urban homesteading program. The Section 810 funds may not be used to reimburse local homesteading agencies for administrative costs nor may they be used to acquire local residential property.

§ 590.11 Reduction of Funds.

The Secretary reserves the right to reduce any Section 810 Secretary-owned property acquisition allocation or Section 312 rehabilitation loan funds earmarked, reserved or targeted for a local urban homesteading agency should such agency not meet the schedules for use of such funds required in §§ 590.6(a)(4)(iii) and 590.9(a)(6)(ii)(A), (C), and does not comply with the statutory and regulatory requirements of this part or fails to carry out its program as approved.

§ 590.12 Program Close Out [Reserved]

§ 590.13 Retention of Records.

Financial records, property disposition documents, supporting documents, statistical records, and all other records pertinent to the urban homesteading program shall be retained by the local urban homesteading agency for a period of three years from the date of the program closeout.

§ 590.14 Audit.

The Secretary, the Comptroller General of the United States, or any of their duly authorized representatives, shall have access to all books, accounts, records, reports, files, and other papers or property of local urban homesteading agencies pertaining to funding assistance related to this part and Secretary-owned property transferred under this part for the purpose of making surveys, audits, examinations, excerpts, and transcripts.

§ 590.15 Applicable Federal Laws and Regulations.

(a) Nondiscrimination. Every phase of an approved local urban homesteading program is to be implemented in accordance with the requirements of title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968. Approved local urban homesteading programs shall also comply with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 which prohibits discrimination against the handicapped.

(b) National Environmental Policy Act. In implementing and administering the Urban Homesteading Program, HUD shall comply with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 and all rules, regulations, and requirements issued pursuant thereto.

(c) National Historic Preservation Act. In implementing and administering the Urban Homesteading Program, HUD shall comply with the National Historic Preservation Act (Pub. L. 89-665), the Preservation of Historic and Archeological Data Act of 1974 (Pub. L. 93-291), including the procedures prescribed by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation in 36 CFR Part 800, and Executive Order 11593 on Protection and Enhancement of the Cultural Environment.

(d) Lead-Based Paint Poisoning Prevention Act. Local urban homesteading agencies shall comply with the Department's Lead-Based Paint Regulations (24 CFR Part 35) issued pursuant to the Lead-Based Paint Poisoning Prevention Act (42 U.S.C. 4831 et seq.) requiring prohibition of the use of lead-based paint; elimination of immediate lead-based paint hazards in any residential structure transferred under this part; and notification of the hazards of lead-based paint poisoning to potential homesteaders in residential units constructed prior to 1950 and assisted under this part.

(e) Acquisition and Relocation. If a local urban homesteading agency acquires real property for an urban homesteading program approved under the regulations in this part, it shall comply with HUD relocation and acquisition regulations at 24 CFR Part 42.

§ 590.16 HUD Review of Local Urban Homesteading Agency's Performance.

(a) HUD will review each local urban homesteading agency's performance at least annually to determine whether:

(1) The program complied with the requirements of Title VIII Section 810, of the 1974 Act, as amended, the implementing regulations, and other applicable laws and regulations;

(2) The local urban homesteading agency has carried out its program substantially as proposed and approved; and

(3) The local urban homesteading agency has a continuing capacity to carry out the approved program in a timely manner.

(b) In reviewing a local urban homesteading agency's performance, HUD will consider all available evidence which may include, but need not be limited to the following:

(1) Records maintained by the local urban homesteading agency;

(2) Results of HUD's monitoring of local urban homesteading agency's performance;

(3) Audit reports whether conducted by the local urban homesteading agency or by HUD auditors;

(4) Records of comments and complaints by citizens and organizations, or litigation.

§ 590.17 Corrective and Remedial Action.

(a) When HUD determines on the basis of its review that there is a deficiency in the local urban homesteading agency's performance, the HUD Area office shall take one or more of the following corrective or remedial actions that are appropriate for the circumstances:

(1) Issue a letter of warning that advises the local urban homesteading agency of the deficiency and put it on notice that more serious corrective and remedial actions will be taken if the deficiency is not corrected or is repeated;

(2) Advise the local urban homesteading agency to suspend, discontinue or not incur costs for the defective aspect(s) of the local program;

(3) Condition the renewal of the urban homesteading if there is substantial evidence of a lack of progress, noncompliance, or a lack of a continuing capacity. In such cases, the reasons for the conditional renewal and the actions necessary to remove the condition shall be specified;

(4) Cancel the urban homesteading agreement and explain the reasons for such action.

§ 590.18 Evaluation by HUD.

Local urban homesteading agencies shall supply data or make available such records as are necessary for the completion of HUD's annual evaluation of the Urban Homesteading Program.
